Council Approves Wastewater Services Agreement With Derry

JOHN SEIDENBERG
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Town Council has approved an Inter-Municipal Agreement between the towns of Derry and Londonderry for wastewater services. The vote was 5-0 at the council's Feb. 1 meeting.

Council Chairman John Farrell and Town Manager Kevin Smith will sign the new agreement on behalf of Londonderry.

The IMA pertains to the area in the vicinity of Exit 4 where the sanitary flow from Londonderry goes to Derry, said Assistant Public Works Director John Trottier. Currently about 125,000 gallons daily flow from Londonderry to Derry which has a wastewater treatment plant with a capacity of 4 million gallons a day.

The current agreement was signed in 1981 and provided for a flow of 200,000 gallons a day allocated for Londonderry. Subsequent changes to the IMA allowed for an additional 129,600 gallons per day though the town never reached that point and therefore has never paid for it, Trottier said.

The current IMA, which set payment and renewal terms, includes a calculation that if used today would result in a daily cost of $10.69 per gallon for purchasing additional capacity from Derry.

Discussions between both towns resulted in a decision to revise and update the existing IMA to increase the flow limits and simplify purchasing additional flow. In the negotiations Londonderry asked for more flow than it was given, Smith said.

Terms of the new IMA allocate 500,000 gallons per day as an average daily flow based on Derry's capacity needs, Trottier told the council. "That's their system, that's their plant, they have no other place to go."

The new agreement has a provision that after that amount Lon-

Conservation Commission Grapples With Improper Material Storage

JOHN SEIDENBERG
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Members of the Londonderry Conservation Commission questioned the operational practices of a company cited for previous storage violations at its recent meeting.

CSI, a supplier of concrete structures on Independence Drive, and was found to have too much commercial material stored on its site as well as on the abutting property.

Some commissioners at their Jan. 26 meeting wondered if the town may have been too lenient in its prior response to the violations. Member Mike Byerly said this had been an "egregious case" with materials stored all over, including on the roadway and in a conservation area.

Commission Chair Marge Badois termed the company a "repeat offender" for past encroachment on its boundary and favored having a durable fence around the boundary to prevent placement of materials on conservation easement land.

Member Mike Speltz

urged the removal of gravel on the land, a return to native soil, and favored having trees in the reclaimed area.

Member Susan Malouin, while noting a backlog in removing concrete tunnels due to covid,

Heritage Commission Discusses Applications for Design Review

HENRY GREENBAUM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Heritage Commission met for their monthly meeting on Thursday, Jan. 18, and the first order of business was the discussion of applications for design review for plans in the town.

One application put forward was the construction of an elderly housing development with 45 townhouses and site improvements. It will be located by 8 Gilcrest Road and is currently owned by Property Possible, Inc, but the application was placed by N.H. Sustainable Communities, LLC.

Wetlands and soil scientist Chris Guida of Fieldstone Land Consultants, PLLC presented the potential new project to the Heritage Commission. The main concern of the Commission was the lighting for the development's sign. They are worried that having up-lighting on the sign will be distracting for local residents as it would light up the whole sky.

Associate planner Laura Gandia was asked about the sign being part of the recommendations sent to the Planning Board.

"He can't have up-lighting on this sign," said Gandia. "The size of this is larger than what's allowed, I believe. I think you should look at more of the design for it. If you like the design, then I would just add in your notes that it needs to conform to all of the town's regulations for size and lighting."

The Heritage Commission decided that they have no further comments to make on the application for design review until the sign meets Londonderry's requirements in terms of size and lighting.

The other application placed for design review was a site plan amendment for outdoor storage and changes to the parking layout on 15 Independence Drive.

George Chadwick of Bedford Design Consultants, Inc. presented the project to the Heritage Commission. He is representing CSI Shelter Technologies which is a manufacturer of heavy and large equipment like sheds or concrete vaults.

"In this instance what they're building is parts to a tunnel," said Chadwick. "The tunnel will be in New York and another job in Connecticut... Because of delays in the construction of the tunnel in New York, [CSI] still had to meet a certain schedule. So, they were still producing these tunnel parts."

CSI was hired to build parts of a tunnel that will go from New York to Connecticut but because they can't ship the parts off, they have been forced to store these large objects on their own lot as well as in the road on Independence Drive which is blocking the right of way.

The company ended up receiving a letter from the town telling them that they have to clear up the road and submit a site plan.

CSI has been working hard at moving the tunnel parts to safer locations and the Heritage Commission approved the new site plan but advised Chadwick to speak with the Planning Board on the lighting for the lot.

The next order of business were the staff reports. The first report was about the application for design review of a consolidation and subdivision of two lots into three for Five Greeley Road and Nine Greeley Road. The owners essentially want to combine the lots and then split them up into three new lots. The commission accepted the application with no comments.

The second report was about an application for a condominium conversion at Two Button Drive. The site is already built but the owner just wants to convert ownership from duplexes to 14 condominium units. The commission accepted the owner's application to convert the ownership of the building.

The rest of the meeting was spent discussing an Eagle Scout project involving the Londonderry Town Common. The project would be a mapping to scale that would identify the structures and features of the Londonderry Common. The commission was ecstatic about the project and Vice Chairman Arthur Rugg is working on the next steps for it.

satellite images shown to the commission revealed the facility "bursting at the seams" with encroachment occurring even before the pandemic.

The encroachment goes back to at least 2018, said George Chadwick, a senior project manager with Bedford Design Consultants whose firm represents CSI. He appeared before the commission at the meeting.

Referencing some of the history, Chadwick said in 1998, before he was there, Bedford Design had a site plan conditionally approved for the facility with some conditions. However, all the conditions were not fulfilled and the town of Londonderry never had a site plan on file, he noted.

The firm was hired to get an approved site plan for the town for requested allowable storage of materials and to curtail the amount of storage on the lot. It also conducted an existing conditions survey of the site.

Some material that was pulled into wetlands has since been removed. Chadwick said CSI has shipped some material to Connecticut and New York for construction though it has no other location in New Hampshire for storage.

The materials removed from Independence Drive were done as part of code enforcement.

The company also increased its building size since 1992 and was in the buffer without having an approved occupancy permit. The state can impose a fine for violations in a wetland.

Chadwick told the commission he doesn't know the future of CIS and acknowledged the owners had taken improper actions before on the property regarding where materials were stored. He said no more manufacturing is taking place in the facility and reiterated that materials are being hauled away from the site.

GIS Manager/Comprehensive Planner Amy Kizak said the company must show progress on a resolution of the storage issue as part of the enforcement process.

Speltz expressed concern over being asked to approve a new site plan that paves part of the buffer though the commission could recommend that provision be taken out. He noted if the pavement was removed, CSI would lose access around the building.

Byerly would favor a conditional use permit, and said the business has had the financial advantage over the years of storing materials where they didn't belong instead of leasing land elsewhere for that purpose.

Speltz added a conditional use permit can't be for only a limited number of uses.

In their comments, the commission members recommended a fence along the northwest boundary, removing compacted gravel, planting trees in the reclaimed area, and inquiring whether a conditional use permit should be required.

Malouin asked Chadwick, regarding the previous encroachment in the conservation easement, if the area on CIS property would be reseeded and not used for further storage. He answered affirmatively for both instances.

A new site plan should require signage designating the buffer boundary, Speltz said.

CSI wants the sand and gravel enclosure to remain despite it sitting entirely in the buffer. The commission recommended that it be moved.

Your Town Needs You & You Need Your Town

Is the town where you live important to you? Did you grow up in the town or did you move here? Either way, you made a choice based on the quality of life issues that matter to you. Yet, without your involvement the things that you like about your town can subtly—even dramatically change. Every town needs civic minded individuals to step up, speak up, and serve to keep a town vibrant, i.e. sustain the town's core values of the community and environment while embracing those modernization improvements that will best serve the inevitable changes in the town's demographics and its population needs. When residents are not informed and allow elected officials and key top town managers to do what they think best without conversations and involvement in the decision making processes and serving on boards and committees, then a town can easily lose its identity and become a cookie cutter municipality controlled by an elite group.

The least most of us can do is be an "informed" voter. Know whom you are voting into office and keeping into elected office. Do your research talking to the officials, asking questions through your local newspaper, talking with neighbors, reviewing online. I have found most people do not even remember who they voted for and who are in office. Do you know who is on the school board, how many children are in school, what the school budget is, how it compares to other towns of like size, how the school ranks in the state? Do you know who serves on the town council, town budget committee, zoning board, and who is the town manager and what his interests and goals are for the town? If you want to be an informed voter, this newspaper can help you.

The next most important thing we can do is to participate and to serve. Attending and participating town and committee meetings is essential to ensure the Town make sound decision for all its people. Also, if you have a few hours once a month you can give to serving your community, again do a little research with the help of the town clerk and your local newspaper to learn what you might do to help your community remain vibrant.

Lastly, but as importantly, you can run for elected office. Give twenty hours plus a month to the town. Allow other long-term sitting elected officials to serve in other ways including to move on to other important positions.

Your involvement in your community at whatever level will make a huge difference.

Letters

Thank You School Finance Staff

To the editor,

Hello, my name is Amy Finmore, I am a member of Londonderry's School Board, but speak only for myself in this letter.

Recently, the school district completed its annual audit and received an "unmodified" opinion. This means that the financial records are accurate and comply with all accounting and regulatory requirements. For a district with a $78 million dollar budget, earning this "unmodified" designation is an accomplishment, and speaks to the professionalism and fidelity of all of our finance staff at Londonderry School District.

On a daily basis, our finance staff monitor our accounts and overall budget. They are dedicated, hard workers who are dependable agents of the public money for which they are responsible. The work is not glamourous, and all too often not acknowledged. Thank you to Peter, Lisa and all of the finance staff at the school district for your hard work.

my campaign by reaching out to you, my community, to ask for your support.

A little about me; I am 48, I'm a Retail Store Manager and a certified Pharmacy Technician Immunizer (I give COVID-19 vaccinations) and I have a BS in Business Administration from the University of New Hampshire. My loving wife is Cara and we have 3 wonderful dogs, a German Shepherd named Slate, a Great Dane named Moose and a Bulldog named Tank.

I grew up in NH and lived here for the first 21 years of my life. Then I moved to Boston for work. I met the love of my life, my wife Cara. After many years of city life, my wife and I decided that we wanted to move back to NH for a better lifestyle and community. We returned to NH in 2013 and have lived in Londonderry ever since.

COVID-19 has hit our community hard causing economic instability. As a tax paying citizen, I know the importance of keeping the property tax low. Many in our community are struggling and having a large tax bill only adds to the pain. We must reduce spending to reduce the tax burden.

To the editor,

The PFAS issue has personally affected myself and my family. We are one of the many households that are on bottled water. Unfortunately, many still are not aware of this serious health issue. In speaking with other residents, not enough of our community is aware of the PFAS issue and how it impacts their health. This issue is finally being addressed after much delay, but it is important for the entire community to be aware of the issue. I will bring new fresh ideas to the council and will ensure that the entire community knows about the important issues that affect their health and economic situation.

I know COVID-19 makes this challenging, but I look forward to meeting many more people in our community to get firsthand experiences of issues that affect us that we can work to solve.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter. We appreciate your time and support.

Town Manager Rebukes Newspaper Editorial at Town Council

LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry Town Manager Kevin Smith took strong issue with an editorial in last week's Londonderry Times, accusing the newspaper of "inflammatory characterizations" about town employees that he termed entirely unwarranted.

Speaking at the Feb. 1 Londonderry Town Council meeting, he noted that Deb Paul, the paper's owner and publisher, is also a member of the council. In that capacity, Smith said, she "is essentially one of their bosses."

The approximately 200 town employees expect they will sometimes receive "constructive criticism." But he faulted the editorial for insinuating those who work for the town are unresponsive to concerns of residents and offer them excuses for inaction.

"It's just a gross and false distortion of the great work the employees do day in and day out to meet the needs of the residents who we come into contact with every day."

Smith said the editorial's description of employees as "behaving like spoiled children with platinum credit cards" amounted to bullying.

In addition, since Paul's election to the council, the numerous times she's contacted town staff – whether it was the police, planning or finance departments, assessing office, or the town manager – her inquiries were consistently met with a timely response and often with follow-ups, he added.

Smith further objected to the editorial's implication that the employees should not receive pay raises or health benefits. "But it fails to point out that most of the employees fall under fairly bargained for negotiated contracts which were approved by previous town councils as well as the taxpayers."

Another inaccuracy, he said, was the claim that taxes have increased each year. Rather, the town tax rate has fallen three times in the past seven years "during non-revaluation years."

During the ongoing pandemic of the past year, town employees had no days off. Smith commended the first responders, DPW workers, town clerks on the front line, and everyone at the town hall.

Paul responded to Smith that her editorial "wasn't based towards Londonderry totally" and regretted he drew that conclusion. The newspaper covers five towns and the editorial pointed to issues in another town which when asked she subsequently identified as Hampstead.

"I'm a strong believer that if you're not guilty of something you shouldn't take it that it's toward you," she told Smith. Paul said she wished the town manager had called her to discuss his disagreements with the editorial.

Because she couldn't write five separate editorials she "kind of spoke in generalities. I'm sorry it hit a vein for you but it wasn't geared towards you or Londonderry." The same editorial appears in all her papers.

She acknowledged "tax rates" might not have been the words to use in what she wrote but that the amount citizens pay on their tax bill every year does increase in some fashion. "The rate may not, it may stay the same but the tax dollar amount that I pay...does go on a constant move upwards" each year.

That was the point of the editorial, Paul said, which she believes was accurate.

Citizens expect someone who holds an office to be held to a higher standard, Smith emphasized. "Everyone needs to try to achieve that level," he said. "What I do want to make sure is that the residents of the town get a clear picture of what's going on."

She acknowledged "tax rates" might not have been the words to use in what she wrote but that the amount citizens pay on their tax bill every year does increase in

Fellow council member Jim Butler had more pointed words for Paul saying her being the publisher and a town council member posed "a definite conflict of interest." Others think that too, he added.

"You should have been sensitive enough to qualify that statement" that the reference was to Hampstead, Butler said to her. "I haven't heard any complaints [from town residents] the way Ms. Paul says that we have complaints."

She told him she has received such calls. He then accused her of using her paper "as a platform and it's a disgrace."

Paul replied that Butler was welcome any time to have his opinion published in the paper. He said his preference was to express his views publicly at the council. "I hope the town employees know...that's not the way this council feels" about their work.

Arrest Made After Suspicious Vehicle Report

According to a Press release provided by the Londonderry Police Department, on Tuesday, Jan. 26, at approximately 11:20 p.m., Londonderry Police Officers responded to the area of Yellowstone Drive after a report of a suspicious vehicle on the side of the road.

The reporting party, who was a concerned resident of that area, stated that the vehicle was a grey Toyota SUV.

Arriving on the scene, officers located a grey Toyota Rav4 parked on the side of Yellowstone Drive near the intersection of Teton Drive.

Officers approached the vehicle and found it to be occupied solely by a female, who was in the driver's seat. The occupant was identified as Shauna Gonet, 28 of Manchester.

Upon identifying the female subject, officers learned that Gonet had a suspended license and registrations, three Electronic Bench Warrants, and an active arrest warrant out of Manchester, NH. Officers also learned that the Toyota Rav4 that Gonet was in had been reported stolen out of Manchester on Jan. 17, 2021.

Gonet was placed under arrest and upon a search of her person, the report indicates that officers found drug paraphernalia and several packets of Suboxone, a controlled drug. Suboxone (buprenorphine/naloxone) is a brand-name prescription drug and is used to treat dependence on opioid drugs Gonet was booked and released on $1,500 Personal Recognizance bail. She was transferred to Manchester Police for booking on their charges.

Londonderry Arts Council to Host Annual Arts Café Online

The Londonderry Arts Council has announced a web-based exhibit, showcasing artists and musicians with Londonderry connections will be taking place throughout February.

The Londonderry Arts Council invites everyone to take a break from the Winter doldrums to enjoy Art and Music through a month-long Web based exhibition that can be accessed at <https://londonderryarts.org/arts-cafe-2021>.

Arts Council Treasurer, Karen Giguere, did not want to miss out on

In past years, the groups "typical" Arts Café has been a winter's day-long event held at a local venue filled with fine art, crafts and music by area artists, artisans, and acoustic musicians.

This year's seventh annual Arts Café will have a much different look due to COVID restrictions, so the Arts Café will be hosted virtually.

According to Karen, "I've enjoyed putting together the Arts Café show each February and wanted to come up with an idea for this year's event. With help from many Arts Council members - and a special thanks to Stephen Lee for preparing the "Arts Café 2021" Web page - we are able to continue bringing art and music to the community in some fashion this winter and looked for a creative way to make that happen."

According to Karen, "I've enjoyed putting together the Arts Café show each February and wanted to come up with an idea for this year's event. With help from many Arts Council members - and a special thanks to Stephen Lee for preparing the "Arts Café 2021" Web page - we are able to continue this tradition even with COVID. We hope people will enjoy exploring the page and consider making purchases to support the artists and musicians."

To enjoy this experience, visit <https://londonderryarts.org/arts-cafe-2021>

While musicians normally perform live at the Arts Café, that can't happen this year. Instead, arrangements have been made to stream several previously recorded performances by musicians who were featured during last summer's UnCommon Concerts on the Common series. This video can be accessed via YouTube here: www.youtube.com/watch?v=QzBDWYzX0bU&feature=youtu.be interest in extracurricular activities and providing opportunities for our children to grow and express themselves.

I have lived in Londonderry for 35 years. I have children in the schools and my goal will be to ensure every student has access to the same high-quality education no matter the grade level or the educational need. I currently serve on the Londonderry Basketball Club (LBC) board as secretary and the Londonderry Athletic Field Association (LAFA) board as tournament director. I have been involved in youth coaching for 15 years where I have met many parents and students from our community.

I have a master's degree in education and am currently taking advanced graduate renewals.

As to the new IMA's costs, the town of Londonderry will be billed a quarterly user charge at the same rate as any other Derry user for its actual flow. Starting in July 2021, Londonderry will be charged annually for 25,000 gallons a day in addition. That cost per course in athletic administration. I am a lifelong learner and will continue to devote my time to our community.

I would love to hear from you, whether it be questions or concerns. Please feel free to send me an email at scloughlin@gmail.com or visit my Facebook page. Thank you for considering me for your vote on March 9th.

gallon at the time of payment will be applied to the 25,000 gallons per day.

The current rate is $3.40 per gallon. This year Londonderry anticipates an invoice from Derry of around $85,000.

The IMA also sets a schedule for capacity purchases. From 2021 to 2032, the town will have purchased an additional 300,000 gallons a day bringing Londonderry's total allocated flow to 500,000 gallons per day.

Over time the town will be purchasing more capacity, Trottier told the council.

The additional cost comes from an enterprise fund that handles sewer bills and not from the general fund, said Environmental Engineer Bob Kerry. The entirety of that added expense will be funded by septic system users and new connections.

User charges for the time being are expected to remain the same as the rates now in place. A slight increase might occur in a few years.

After the formal adoption with Derry, Londonderry will present a revised facilities plan for its sewer system, Smith said. Any revised costs would be part of that plan.

The division between Derry and Manchester as to the volume of flow is considerably different. Londonderry sends about 1.5 million gallons a day to Manchester and about 125,000 gallons to Derry, Kerry noted. "Manchester will always be taking more flow than Derry would [in] just the way the sewers are and where the buildups are."

In rates per gallon, Derry is generally more expensive for the quarterly user rate than is Manchester which has a more advanced technology.

Londonderry's wastewater services IMA with Manchester was updated in 2012. It can be opened every 5 years if issues arise.

In other action, the council also approved Order 2021-04 for an expenditure of $1350 from the Maintenance Trust Fund for projects at the senior center and at the town hall, fire and police departments, library, Morrison House Museum, and the Access Center.

Lancer Girls Hoops Team Bounces Back with Wins Against Salem

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

After two tough losses at the hands of the reigning state champion Bishop Guertin Cardinals, the Londonderry High School Girls Varsity Basketball squad rebounded quite nicely, with two wins over the Salem High School Blue Devils (0-3), one in dramatic fashion.

The Lady Lancers are now just a game under the .500 mark, at 2-3, with wins at home and away against Salem.

In the first game, in Londonderry on Tuesday, Jan. 26, the Lady Lancers won 40-38 over Salem for their first victory of the COVID-19 shortened season. The Lancers outscored the Blue Devils in three of the four quarters for the win, but with a dismal two-point start in the first period, Salem lead most of the game.

The Londonderry team managed to close the gap by tying the score at the end of the third quarter.

The game ended in exciting fashion, with six second left in game, Ashley Rourke missed a three, but crashed the board and ripped the ball from a Salem player, ball flew into the air and Kylee McGurn caught it, then flipped up a shot near the hoop with .2 sec left on the clock, the ball went in for the two-point LHS win.

The Lady Lancer's leading scorers were: Sophomore Jordan Furlong with 11; senior Ashley Schmitt with eight; and senior Ashley Rourke with seven.

Furlong scored all of her points in second half.

The next game against Salem wasn't quite as close, and the Lady Lancers enjoyed a 43-34 win for their second win of the season.

Ashley Rourke and Olivia Chau were the team leaders in points with 13 points. Kylee McGurn and Jordan Furlong both contributed seven.

According to Lady Lancer head coach, Nick Theos, "It was a very strange game, we took a large lead out the gate getting steals and fast break points of our press and taking a 19-5 lead after one quarter. Then it flipped and Salem presses and turned us over in the second and cut the LHS lead to two going into the second half."

For the second half Theos said, "We finally balanced the game out, Theos added, "This and slowed things down. We regained the lead thanks to a McGurn's three and a pair of baskets from Ashley Rourke. Once we got the lead back up to 10, we started bleeding the clock and Olivia Chau had jump shot and a pair of foul shots down the stretch to keep the game out of reach."

The Lady Lancers were scheduled to play Nashua North (0-2) on Tuesday, Feb. 2, in Nashua and again on Thursday, Feb. 4 at home.

Londonderry Basketball Wins Two Against Blue Devils

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Boys Hoops Team won two consecutive games against the Salem Blue Devils to bump its season record up over the .500 mark to 3-2.

Coming off two tough losses at the hands of the Bishop Guertin Cardinals, last week's wins against Salem at home and away were just what the team needed.

In the first game, which took place on the road at Salem High School the LHS squad

LHS freshman,
Tyler Brown

walked away with a fairly easy 63-54.

In that nine-point victory, the Lancer team scored 15-points to start in the first quarter followed by 20-points in the second.

Production dropped a bit in the third, with only 10-points tallied, the team finished with a strong 18-points in the fourth for the win.

Senior star guard, Jackson Cox, once again lead the team in scoring with 19-points. Kevin Rouke and Tyler Miles both added six-points in the win, with Tyler

Brown contributing five-points. Manny Waters had three, while Brian Gould, Wil Reyes, Zach Fawcett and Aiden Warren all had two-points in the game.

The second meeting between the two teams took place at home on Friday night, Jan 29, and wasn't nearly as close as the first contest.

The Lancer boys outscored their opponent in each of the four quarters and came away with a commanding 30-point, 76-46 victory.

The game started out rather even through the first period of play, finishing 13-12, but has things progressed, the Lancers lead became insurmountable.

After the first half, LHS outscored Salem 36-25, and in the second half, there was a 40-21 scoring difference.

Cox had another massive game, with 29 total points and Brown added 14 to the total.

Other contributors were Fawcett with seven; Rouke with 6;

Lancer Hockey Squad Suffers Two Losses Against Blue Devils

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School varsity Hockey team is still looking to put a notch in the win column after two weeks of play in a season of COVID-19 uncertainty.

The Lancer squad had two games against the Salem High School Blue Devils last week and although the game was extremely close, and went into an overtime period, it resulted in the third loss of the season for LHS, with a 3-2 final score.

In the second meeting between the two teams, at the IceCenter in Salem, on Saturday, Jan. 11, the outcome wasn't nearly as close.

Sophomore Sam Neville scored the only goal in the 5-1 loss.

The team will now have to wait a week to see if they can get their first win against rival Pinkerton Academy. Provided that PA restarts its season after the two-week shutdown.

The Lancers were scheduled to play Bedford High School in a pair of games this week, but both were postponed.

As of press time, the meetings with the Astros were scheduled to take place on Wednesday, Feb. 10, and Thursday, Feb. 11 provided the school resumes its winter sports season.

Londonderry Wrestling Squad Gets Season Underway

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

After a somewhat extended off season, due to the fact that the COVID-19 Pandemic had schools closed over the month of December, and a number of meet cancellations, the Londonderry High School Wrestling team final got its season started last Wednesday, Jan. 27, in Salem on the Blue Devil's home mats.

Unfortunately for the Lancer squad, the outcome was far less than they hoped for, taking a 60-18 Dual Meet loss.

Right from the start, LHS was down 12 points due to that fact that three of their weights were unable to be filled to Salem's one weight, the 113 weight class was forfeited by both schools.

In the other weight classes, Londonderry was only able to capitalize on three of the 12 weights.

Three Lancer seniors were able to get pins for their team in this Dual Meet.

Dylan Barnes pinned Michael Williams at the 160 lbs weight class for the first six points of the season.

Johnny McKinnon (170 lbs.) followed with six more points in the next match with a pin over Joseph Colecchia.

The final LHS points were scored by Josh Bean, 195 lbs., over Trevor Darissee.

Things were a bit tighter for Londonderry when they traveled to Nashua for their second meet of the season against Bishop Guertin on Saturday, Jan. 30.

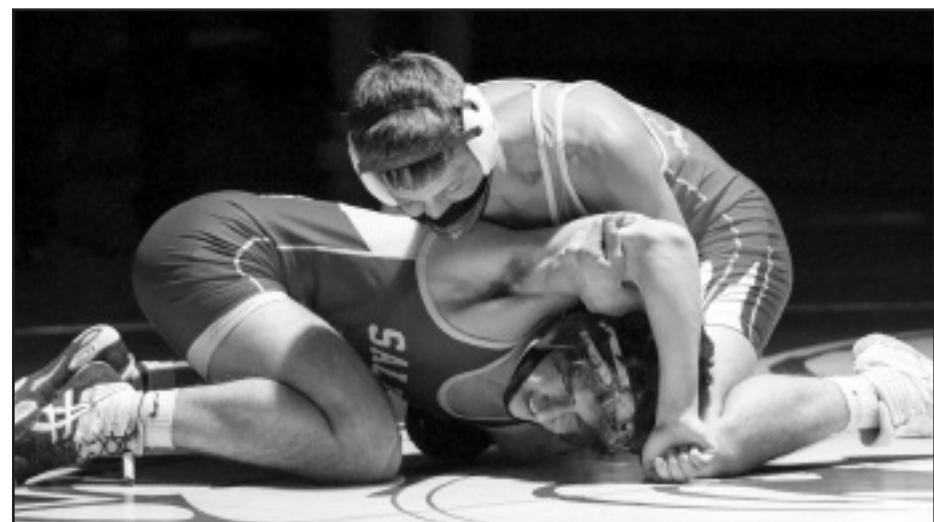

The following Dual Meet, against the Cardinals, finished with a 48-30 Londonderry loss. Once again the Lancers gave up 12-points due to two weight forfeits.

Sophomore Nicolas D'Alessandro had a pin over BG's Avery Gallagher at 120 lbs.

Junior Kaden Stone followed with a pin at 126 lbs.

Fellow junior, Evan Madigan, won by fall at 132 lbs.

O'Loughlin (145 lbs.) got a fall over BG's Benjamin Stawasz for six team points.

Senior Josh Bean tacked on the final six points of the night for the Lancers with a pin at 195 lbs. was just recently postponed.

The team was scheduled for a Dual Meet against Concord High School on Wednesday, Feb. 3, but that event

The Lancers will have their first home meet on Saturday, Feb. 6, against the Nashua North Titans.

Londonderry Skiers See Success in First Two Meets

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Varsity ski Teams have taken to the slopes of Pats Peak in two Division I competitions this season, and despite issues brought on by the COVIS-19 Pandemic have muscled through both.

The first took place on Thursday, Jan. 21 against teams from Bedford, Central, Timberlane and Memorial. The following week, on Thursday, Jan. 28, they took on teams from Portsmouth, Concord, Nashua South, Nashua North and Timberlane.

According to head coach for the boys and girls teams, Stephen Tufts, "A lot of COVID-19 restrictions this year have limited the number of racers we can take to each Division I race, and the restrictions will have an impact on both State Competitions, but we are pushing through it like all other high school sport teams."

In the Jan. 21 event, the girl's team placed second with 371 points behind Bedford with 390. Central came in third with 362 points.

Top Londonderry finishers were: Juliette

Louiselle, in sixth, with a combined time of 1:15.52. Julia Deschamps was eighth (1:17.22); Laurel Guthrie placed 11th (1:18.92); and Rylee McGrath got the 13th spot (1:20.82).

The boys placed third in that competition with a score of 367. Bedford was first with 390 and Timberlane was second with a 376 total.

Top Londonderry finishers were: Owen Gingrow, seventh (1:18.92); Ryan Griffan, tenth (1:22.36); William Louiselle 12th (1:23.55); and Tyler Kraics, 13th (1:26.82).

At the Jan. 28 meet, the girls came in third, with 360-points, behind Portsmouth High School with 389 points, who managed the win and Concord with 373 points.

Top Londonderry finishers were: Laurel Guthrie, ninth (1:19.16); Julia Deschamps, 11th (1:19.81); Rylee McGrath, 13th (1:20.77); and Juliette Louiselle, 17th (1:24.93).

The boys placed fourth in that event with 353 points. Concord was first with 393; Timberlane scored 360 for second and Portsmouth took third with 356.

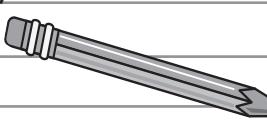

Londonderry's top finishers were: Ryan Keenan, fourth (1:03.11); Owen Gingrow, tenth (1:11.94); William Louiselle, 21st (1:26.44); and Evan Dugas, 22nd (1:27.10).

The team was scheduled to have an "All Day" race on Tuesday, Feb. 2, at Mount Sunapee and one last Division I race on Thursday, Feb. 4, before taking part in the Girl's State Competition on Wednesday, Feb. 10, and the Boys State Competition the following day, on Thursday, Feb. 11.

Lancer Gymnasts Take First at Plymouth Meet

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

In lieu of the fact that the Londonderry Gymnastics team's meet against Pinkerton Academy was cancelled due to coronavirus concerns, the team had the opportunity to compete at an alternative event on Sunday, Jan. 30 where they wound up finishing in first place.

In that last minute competition, the team faced squads from Exeter and Plymouth High School's at Top Gun Gymnastics in Holderness with Plymouth as the host school.

As a team, the Lancers girls got their second consecutive win by finishing in first place with 127.9 points. Exeter placed second with 118.5 and Plymouth scored 116.5 for third.

In the Vault, Ella Houghton grabbed the top spot scoring a 9.15. Lilly Haggett placed third with a score of 8.9.

On the Bars, Amanda Robinson was the highest Lancer to score with a 7.55.

The Beam delivered solid routines from Lilly Haggett with a 7.9 and Jess Bolduc with a 7.4.

The Lancers swept up the top spots in the Floor competition. Ava Ruppel placed first with an 8.8, Lilly Haggett took the second spot with an 8.75 and Ella Houghton rounded things out in third with an 8.7.

In the All-Around, Lilly Haggett placed first with a 32.95.

After the meet, head coach Heather Lennon commented, "Overall we had a great meet, considering we had to add this meet on last minute. Having a spring floor definitely helps to boost our scores along with having Lilly Haggett back from injury."

Lennon added, "We still have places to make even more improvements on which includes beam and we have yet to all hit our bar routines."

The team will pay tribute to their seniors in the last home meet on Wednesday, Feb. 3, against the same Plymouth and Exeter teams.

Winners Announced in the “Rotary Saves Christmas” Raffle

The Rotary club of Londonderry is pleased to announce the winners of its recent “Rotary Saves Christmas” raffle. The club had offered three prizes through the raffle; two each of $500 and the top prize of $2,000. Winners of the $500 prizes were The Nashua Soup Kitchen and Ms. Lisa Viau of Merrimack. The top winner of the $20000 prize was Londonderry resident and local radio personality. Neil White. The Rotary Club congratulates each of the winners and thanks them for their support of Rotary and its charitable work.

The Club also wishes to thank all of those who supported its multi-faceted “Rotary Saves Christmas” activities. Support from local town managers and the Londonderry Fire Department allowed the club to bring Santa and Mrs. Claus directly to the neighborhoods in town a few weeks before Christmas. Special thanks go to former fire chief Al Sypek, Shady Hill Nursery, and Londonderry Alert for donating Christmas trees and making sure they were in place and ready for decoration on the town common. Also in partnership with Kirby Brown from the town manager's office, the team was able to help direct hundreds of letters to Santa and make sure that each child received a personalized letter back from Santa in the North Pole. Hopefully these letters brought smiles to those children who had great anticipation for the joy of Christmas. The raffle was very successful. Over 1,000 tickets were sold for either $10 or 3 for $25. In total, the raffle raised a bit over $9,300, which will be directed back into local charities, scholarships and those in need. Several tickets purchasers asked that their tickets be assigned to a deserving charity, rather than to themselves. The first ticket pulled was just one of those tickets and the beneficiary was the Nashua Soup Kitchen. Many thanks go out for the generosity of those tickets purchases whom, through their purchase, wished to directly help those who help others.

Clarity Community Connections is running a shoe drive fundraiser and asking for help from their community. They will be collecting new and gently worn shoes until March.

By partnering up with Angel Bins, Clarity Community Connections will get paid for what they collect and plan to use the funds to help individuals that need guidance with starting their life over. Including mental health services, case management, and mentorship.

Shoe Drive Fundraisers are a fun and safe way to keep up your fundraising this year, while keeping socially distant! Shoes can be all sizes, but must be pairs and still wearable. No heels, fuzzy slippers, or metal cleats.

After Angel Bins collects the shoes, they are sorted and cleaned, then sent to micro-entrepreneurs in developing nations which allows people to create both businesses and jobs for people in local communities. Their income supports their families, and the inventory shoes the communities.

Make a difference in your community at home and overseas today. Donate your shoes to Clarity Community Connections at 1D Commons Dr. in Londonderry, Monday - Thursday from 10 a.m. -
