The newly established Londonderry Town Pool Study Committee met for the first time last week and has been charge with researching and making recommendations to the Town Council on the feasibility, interest and need for a town pool in the community.

The town had 12 residents apply to be on the committee and the spots were filled based on the order in which those residents contacted the town.

Town Looks for Input From School District on Old Office

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

During the public comment section of the Town Council meeting on Monday evening, Oct. 1, Town Manager Kevin Smith read a statement he had prepared about the future of the now vacant Londonderry School District office building that adjoins the Town Hall.

The statement was in regards to a meeting that he and Town Council chairman John Farrell had last Friday.

He read, "On Aug. 30, the Town Council requested that the Londonderry School Board join them in taking steps to renovate and put to productive use the building on town land formally occupied by the School District. Last Friday the School Board Chair and the School Superintendent met with the town council me and to discuss the possibility on working together on this goal."

He continued, "Some of you may know that the voters at the annual town meeting and school district meeting in 1984 approved warrant articles to allow the school district to construct space on town-owned land for the purpose of use as the district's administrative offices. After the voter gave their approval, both the town and the school district made an agreement, whereby the school district could use the space as its offices until the voters choose to rescind the warrant article."

"With the school district deciding to vacate the building for health and space reasons, and signing a ten-year lease at Kitty Hawk Landing, the town would like to take over the space, making any renovations that are necessary, and use it for the purposes of something that will benefit the

Conservation Reviews Wallace Farm Plan, Kendall Pond Condition

MIKE BYERLY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Conservation Commission reviewed two proposed developments including a change to the previously approved Wallace Farm workforce housing development on Perkins Road to convert the form of ownership to condominium.

The Wallace Farm projected was approved by the Planning Board in 2015 with development planned in three phases. The updated plan from the developer does not make any changes to the size of buildings, number of housing units or the layout of the buildings on the property. The development remains a workforce housing project and as such must meet the associated conditions.

The developer is seeking to switch the ownership model to a condominium approach to take advantage of tax credits. Individual units would still be rentals; however, each building would be treated as a condominium complex with requirements for common areas for each building. The Commission's only concern to pass to the Planning Board is that with this new model, if there are issues in the common areas it could be challenging to determine which of the condominium associations is responsible for dealing with them.

The Commission also reviewed a planned single-family subdivision that would be on a new cul-de-sac known as Braeburn Drive. The new road would connect to High Range Road across from 181 High Range Road. The development will have 10 lots ranging in size from 1.05 to 2.82

Town Sign Ordinance Addressed by Resident and Council

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

During the Monday night, Oct. 1 Town Council meeting, resident Dennis Martin came before members during Public Comment to discuss an issue he had over the summer with the town's sign ordinance.

Martin, who has organized a Blues Festival over the past four year's, told the council that a number of his signs promoting the event were taken away by code enforcement and never returned.

He expressed his disappointment with the way the town handled the situation, since, as a non-profit group trying to help veterans, he felt event like his should be treated differently than local businesses trying to advertise on the side of the road.

Martin told members, "This year I lost about half of my signs that were never returned." He hoped that there could be some way that the law be amended, so the same thing doesn't happen next year.

Town Council acting chair, Joe Green asked the Town Manager Kevin Smith if there would be some way to amend the ordinance through the town attorney.

Smith told Green that, "The reason why the signs were pulled was because any sign on a town right of way is going to be pulled, it's not legal to be there."

He continued, "If you're looking for a fix, what kind of fix are you looking for?"

Green responded, "Maybe it can be an allowance for the first 30-days, and for groups that will benefit non-profits."

Council member Tom Dolan added that maybe there would be some way to insert some language that would leave it up to the town manager to make the call, so that it's more of a guideline, and not a hard and fast rule.

It was also pointed out that these signs differ from contractor signs that are placed on the lawns of the homes they're doing business at. Those signs can only be used while contractors are working on the home, after the job is complete, they must be removed.

Smith also mentioned "One of the reasons why we are enforcing the ordinance is because we often get complaints about too many advertising signs around town. Political signs are a completely different animal, those are governed by state law."

In the end, a decision was made to look at the law and see if there could be some flexibility worked into it. To allow a 30-day grace period for non-profits.

Details of the decision will be made by the town attorney and will be addressed at a later date.

ZBA Plows Through Long List Of Variance Requests

MIKE BYERLY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

On Sept. 19, the Zoning Board of Adjustment (ZBA) worked through a heavy agenda.

One of the items on the busy evening involved CC Properties, owner of historic property at 2 Litchfield Road. The request was for a variance to allow the property to be used as a single-family residence. Since it is in a Commercial-3 district the variance was required.

Owners of this property had earlier made multiple attempts to get approval from the ZBA and Planning Board to convert the property into a credit union. The ZBA granted the approval for the property to be used as a residence. This decision is aligned with a special town ordinance passed several years ago that restricted the allowed use of the property with residential being an allowed use.

In another case, they reviewed a variance request from Londonderry Baptist Church (LBC) to permanently keep a portable storage container on their property. The church also sought permission for a 40 foot container when zoning regulations limited containers to 20 feet.

They were before the ZBA because a Londonderry building inspector noticed the container and pointed out that Londonderry limited the size of such containers and the duration they are allowed on a property. LBC had been given a six-month approval for the container after which they had to remove it or get a variance from the ZBA.

Pastor Jonathan Roe presented the case for LBC. He shared that LBC has had the container on their property for many years and that is used to store lawn care equipment and seasonal supplies such as those used during Old Home Days and vacation Bible study. In the past, LBC had problems with vandalism and theft of the lawn care equipment, so they bought the container for secure storage.

He said that only one side of the container was visible from Mammoth Rd. and that use of the container prevented vandalism and theft. He also stated that it would be a financial burden for LBC to build a permanent storage building.

ZBA members asked about converting the container into a permanent structure by putting it on a foundation which would then make it allowable, but LBC did not think that was feasible economically. Members also asked about moving the container behind the church building to fully block its view from Mammoth Rd.

In the end the ZBA voted 4-1 to deny the variance citing the fact that it was twice as large as allowed as one of several reasons.

In the next case, the ZBA was asked to grant a variance to allow construction of a two-car garage within the required 40-foot setback in front of the existing house at 34 Brewster Rd. As proposed, the corner of the garage would have been only 6 feet from the edge of the road.

The applicant was hoping to get approval so that the garage would be aligned with the current driveway and because they felt that their options for placement of the garage were limited by the location of their septic system. Citing safety concerns with the garage being that close to the road, the ZBA unanimously denied the variance request.

Nicholas and Ashley Cuzzupe came before the ZBA seeking permission to construct a fence at their 2 State Tree Circle property that otherwise would not be allowed. Normally, fences in the front of a house can be no higher than four feet and no closer than to the roadway than 40 feet.

Because their property is at an intersection, both the front of their house and one side of it are considered frontages.

They sought the variance to construct a 6-foot high privacy fence 5 to 10 feet from the roadway along Moulton Drive.

The ZBA granted the variance subject to the conditions that the fence not obstruct, impede, encroach or otherwise interfere with an existing slope easement; the required sight distance profile (northerly direction) at the State Tree/Moulton intersection; and the stopping sight distance at State Tree Circle. These conditions would be verified by the town public works and engineering department.

MADE IN AMERICA

OFFER EXPIRES 10/31/18

Editorial In 1492...

Whether you have the day off, or it's business as usual this Monday, chances are you're in the majority if you decide to observe the upcoming federal holiday, Columbus Day.

Despite the less than favorable aspects of his history, Christopher Columbus, the 15th Century Italian explorer credited with discovering America, apparently still has some admirers.

Columbus Day, the second Monday in October, is a nationally recognized holiday. President Franklin Roosevelt made Columbus Day a federal holiday in the 1930s. However, opposition to its observance has grown over time.

While there is plenty to criticize about Columbus, and what followed his arrival, there are some things that are salvageable about the October observance.

It's a fact that the conquest of the Americas by Europeans, which arguably starts with Columbus, was very ugly, and involved a lot of needless violence. But violence and conquest, for better or worse, is much the same for history the world over for thousands of years.

History, in many ways, is the story of conquest. Though the majority of us deplore it, it is our shared heritage.

While there is only limited knowledge of what pre-Columbus America was like, it is inferred that many indigenous civilizations had their own versions of war, slavery, torture and brutality.

It's not the intention of the observation to make excuses for the worst that happened, but rather to understand it. Many of the atrocities that took place were not solely the essence of Columbus, but rather part of the times.

With all that said, there are still good reasons to observe Columbus Day.

Many Italians see Columbus Day as an opportunity to recognize what Italians have contributed to America, and to the world.

It can be said that Columbus Day should be seen as a celebration of exploration. It took tremendous bravery to sail off into the unknown. One of the best parts of humanity is our drive to discover, and for that reason Columbus Day deserves recognition.

More and more people have been moving towards forgoing Columbus Day in favor of "Indigenous Peoples' Day," to reflect and honor the Native Americans who had suffered during the time of European exploration. This version also celebrates the culture and traditions of indigenous America, and the best parts of our shared history.

This year, while we celebrate Columbus Day, Indigenous Peoples Day, or both, we can take this time to learn from our shared history and to move forward into a better future. Whichever side you take, it can be agreed that both sides offer something to celebrate about the human spirit.

With all of this in mind, the second Monday in October is indeed a significant observance, and should be seen for what it is - a reflection of our history and a chance to learn and grow from it.

Response to Pitre Letter

To the editor,

Please know I do not wish to mention individuals by name either. However, it seems the cats out of the preverbal bag, as they say. It was not necessary to admit you are a FOX (Fake) news viewer. Unfortunately, it was painfully obvious. I see many of the same tag lines usually associated with one who is infected: Socialism, Big Government, etc.

I find it amazing you wish to back 40 years. Moreover, seem to have a full knowledge of the Clinton's history? One could call this a Derangement syndrome as well?

As far as the Magnisky Act, this was passed by the Congress and Signed by the President in 2012. So??? Would that have been a statement for your favorite network?

You may be right that No Trump associates have been "convicted" of Russian Collusion. I would say just need to add "Not Yet" ! I have a saying for you, Cowboy: If it walks like a duck, quacks like a duck, It a DUCK! (Despite what FOX new would tell you).

Thanks for furthering the Sequestration discussion. Let's continue it. I would prefer to take a piece from what TIME Magazine wrote, as it is spot on:

"The sequester is here, with an initial $85 billion worth of haphazard and economically destructive spending cuts, a Washington wound almost universally described as "self-inflicted." Let's be clearer: It's Republican-inflicted. It is a direct result of the insistence by GOP leaders in the summer of 2011 that they would not raise the federal debt ceiling unless President Obama agreed to dramatic spending cuts. One can argue that the growth of the debt or the size of the government justified that insistence; I'd disagree. But it's simply a fact that every budget crisis of the last two years—the downgrade of the U.S. credit rating, the failure of the "supercommittee," the fiscal cliff, and now this—stems from Republican debt-limit brinkmanship." As far as the "Sir, get you facts straight", right back at you.

Honestly, I do not know how this morphed into all cuts for Social programs and not for Military? It was initially intended, that if enacted, it would be "Across the Board" cuts? However, it is one that rare time lately that I can say: I was proud to be Catholic! As it took a coalition of Catholic Bishops, whom met with Paul Ryan, to convince him to change it!

Although, I do find it nothing short of hilarious, that today with our Debt up ~ 2 Trillion since 2016, and our Deficit spiraling out of control again, up 327 Billion, no one seems to care at all? Perhaps you would like to expound on this? I mean for heaven's sake; we HAD to have Sequestration when our debt was 15.6 Trillion, right? Now were banging on 22 Trillion and what? Can you see now?

Hopefully, in ~ 6 weeks there will be monumental change, civilly or not.

I'm Voting for Fillio

To the editor,
I am voting for State Representative candidate Roger Fillio because:

I have known Roger for at least 45 years and he has been, and is a conservative Thinker.

Roger has a proven record of successful businesses, a retail store, real estate and direct sales, as well as 30 years of service in the army. The knowledge gained from that experience together with serving on the Conservation Commission, Heritage Commission, Planning Board and Historical Society, will make Roger Fillio a great State Representative.

Plastic Bags Are Contaminating Our Curbside Recycling

To the editor,

Recent audits of Londonderry's curbside recycling program have found that residents frequently place plastic bags filled with recyclables in their blue carts. Unfortunately, this contaminates the recycling process.

In our spring column on recycling plastic film, we described how plastic bags and film, when mixed in with our curbside recyclables, "gum up" the mechanical sorting process at Material Recovery Facilities. This causes operations to be shut down for hours for cleaning, increasing labor costs and reducing the value of our recyclables.

If our Waste Management hauler notices plastic bags in your blue cart he will attempt to remove them and collect the remaining recyclables. If he notices many small plastic bags in the cart, he will not pick up the recyclables. Let's avoid that!

I'm Voting for Thomas

To the editor,
I'm voting for Representative Doug Thomas because I know he has supported policies to keep us safe, keep taxes low, and has worked hard to ensure Londonderry's best interests.

He responds to constituent's emails and provides his reasons to support his views. He has even stopped by the house to ask questions about issues that concern our family. He truly cares about our community.

Doug sits on the Senior Resources Committee and was on the Old Home Day Parade Committee up until this last year. He attends most of the Town Council meetings and is ever vigilant on proposed state bills that could affect Londonderry.

One such bill was HB-324. In its original form, it would have resulted in less property tax revenue from the electric utility for the town. It would have caused a significant increase in our property taxes according to the town assessor.

He fought against it in committee and was successful in changing it for further study. We need a representative that is active and involved in town events who can represent our interests in Concord.

That is why I fully support Doug Thomas in his bid for re-election as our State Representative in November.

Let's Talk - by Listening

To the editor'
The political climate in this country has devolved into nothing more than unbridled, ranting vitriol. Everything seems to center around picking a side, or a candidate, or most troubling to me, a political party. When did supporting a political party turn into seek and destroy missions against anyone who dared to disagree with your opinion? I have been increasingly discouraged by the fact that both of my "choices" for political affiliation are usually no choice at all. I suspect many people feel this way, but they feel strongly about their core values, and thus may feel compelled to choose "the lesser of two evils" regarding a party. I believe that these false choices are contributing to the overall problem. So what to do?!

Simply put, we need to begin by being willing to engage in conversation with people particularly people with whom we may disagree with. In doing so, we need to make an honest effort to understand the other person's viewpoint by listening to them without trying to "win" or change their mind. First, listen. Only then can we attempt to find some common ground.

There is so much anger out there today it seems like discussion and debate have been almost completely drowned out by shouting, insults, accusations, etc. A recent letter, to this newspaper ended by saying that a sitting United States President "has to go. By any means necessary!" Seriously? I'm not sure what the writer meant to convey with those words, but they are irresponsible at best, and at worst (for him) could prompt a visit from the United States Secret Service. Is this what it has come to regarding political discourse today? Make no mistake there is ample blame for both political party leaders to take ownership of.

Let's try the reset button. Let's try talking again. Talking without anger. Talking without fear of being shouted down, called names, being threatened (or worse). In order to do this "talking" thing, we need to be willing to LISTEN. Real change starts with us, at the street level. I believe that we agree on so much more than we disagree on, regardless of party affiliation. Let me put this out there: if you want to see a healthy environment, quality schools, modern infrastructure, elite first responders, and a vibrant economy with responsible growth plans, then just look at how much we AGREE on! If we start there, I'm confident we can find the path that gets us there together. On the flip side, I can confidently promise you this - if you think for one second that a political party (or your affiliation with/support of) alone will get any of those things for you, you will be sadly and consistently disappointed. We will never agree on everything, and that is OK. But we must be able to discuss and debate without personal attacks. True freedom of speech depends on it!

Trump Afraid of Mueller Investigation

To the editor,
Why is President Trump afraid of the Mueller investigation? Is Trump guilty of obstruction of justice, or collusion with the Russians in the Presidential election, or guilty of some other crime that Mueller is investigating?
President Trump continues to bash Mueller's investigation via twitter and Trump continues to refer to the investigation as a "witch hunt" or "hoax". Trump's attorney, Rudy Giuliani, said of Mueller's investigation - "In this case, the investigation was much worse than the no crime". Giuliani keeps trying to discredit the investigation.

If Trump is not guilty of any crime, then why doesn't he and his legal team let Mueller's investigation proceed unhindered to a conclusion? After all, Mueller is highly regarded as an impartial and reputable counsel with impeccable credentials. Typically, when people try to discredit or hinder or sidetrack an investigation it indicates they fear there is incriminating information coming out of the investigation.

Mueller and his team should bring the investigation to a conclusion and publish the results long before the mid-term elections.

Writer's Note: I have to limit my letters to 200 words to meet many newspaper publishing requirements across the country.

Sununu Gets Professional Fire Fighters Endorsement

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

On Wednesday morning, Sept. 26, the Professional Fire Fighters of New Hampshire (PFFNH) official endorsed Gov. Chris Sununu at the Londonderry Fire Station One on Grenier Field Road.

Bill McQuillen, PFFNH president, introduced the governor by stating, "Chris Sununu has our backs in Concord, and we have his back this election, his continued commitment to keeping Granite Staters safe is a priority we all share, and only deepens our resolve to back him."

"The working men and women of New Hampshire sent Chris Sununu to Concord to fight for them, and that's exactly what he has done," McQuillen continued. "From championing legislation that keeps our communities safe to recognizing there is more work to be done in fighting the opioid epidemic, the Professional Fire Fighters of New Hampshire shares the governor's vision for a safer, stronger New Hampshire."

McQuillen also said, "Sununu has signed 10 pieces of Fire Fighter-friendly legislation and has sought our input on state issues."

Over the summer, Sununu signed the Prescription Law bill, which will allow firefighters cancer treatment benefits to be funded through worker's compensation.

Also present, was the Vice President of the Third District International Association of Fire Fighter, Jay Colbert, who stared the rally by stating, "On behalf of the 22,000 fire fighters across New England and the 315,000 across the United States and Canada we are honored to support Gov. Sununu. We support those who support us."

Colbert continued, "When fire fighters go out on a call, we don't ask people if they are Republican or Democrat, and we in out politics do the same."

Gov. Chris Sununu, who was surrounded by members of the PFFNH, said, "It is an honor to be here, and humbling to get the endorsement of the Tebbetts, Laura Pallotta, who will act as Secretary, Noelle Bristol, Cheryl Haas and Debbie Johnson. Jen Kenney is the alternate member and Londonderry Assistant Town Manager/Personnel Director, Lisa Drabik, will be the chair of the committee. Al Sypek will represent the Planning Board and Glenn Douglas will be representing the Recreation Committee.

During the first meeting, those in attendance were asked to research town's in the state that have pools. The towns are Bedford, Amherst, Milford, Dover, Goffstown and Merrimack.

Of those towns, they were also tasked with obtaining information about:

- Town Population.
- Is the pool town-owned and town-run, or managed by another organization (i.e., local YMCA).
- Initial cost? How was it funded? (Warrant article, grants, etc.).

- Ongoing costs-what is/are the annual budget line(s) (maintenance, utilities, employees, etc.)
- Size of pool. Is it indoor or outside?
- Capacity of pool.
- Dates of use (when does it open and close for the season?)
- Is the pool heated?
- Operating hours during the season.
- Residents only, or open to non-residents? What are the rules in that regard (i.e. non-resident must be accompanied by resident, etc.)?
- Any public usage data.

(Totals; Resident vs. Non-resident, etc.)

- Usage fees. How do they work? (Pay-per-use, season passes, family passes, etc.)
- Do you employ life-guards? How many? Are they Town employees? Starting hourly rate?
- What else borders the pool - i.e., changing rooms, restrooms, concessions, park(s)
- Is the pool just "the pool" or is part of a larger athletic or town complex?
- Do you also have a kiddie pool or designated "kiddie pool area" in the larger pool?

- Do you derive any income from the pool in addition to resident usage fees- i.e. swim lessons, swim teams/meets, etc.?
- Concessions?
- How big is the parking lot adjacent to the pool area?

During the Town Council meeting on Monday night, Oct. 1, Drabik mentioned to the council that a number of $2.5 million was somehow associated with the cost of pool construction in Londonderry through an article in the Londonderry Times. She wanted to point out that there has yet to be any construction costs associated with the town pool yet.

The next meeting will be Oct. 18.

Editors note: The number that was reported in the Sept. 27 issue of the Londonderry Times was a number brought up at the Recreation Commission meeting, it was actually $3.5 million and was in reference to a possible new pool in Goffstown.

Heritage Commission Tackles Several Agenda Items

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Deputy State Historic Preservation Officer Nadine Miller came to last week's Heritage Commission meeting to discuss Londonderry's status as a Certified Local Government and to share opportunities for state grant funding available to Londonderry for historic preservation activities.

According to a state website, the "Certified Local Government (CLG) program is designed to provide an opportunity for local governments to become more directly involved in identifying, evaluating, protecting, promoting and enhancing the educational economic value of local properties of historic, architectural and archeological significance."

Londonderry is one of twenty-four NH communities to receive the CLG designation. Part of the CLG requires the formation of a Heritage Commission or similar entity that is active in community preservation. Londonderry has been a CLG for many years. Miller shared that Londonderry is doing well but needed to establish a set of by laws for the Heritage Commission.

The CLG program requires that the Division of Historical Resources designate at least 10 percent of its annual Historic Preservation Fund allocation from the Department of the Interior to local governments that have become Certified Local Governments.

Miller told the Commission that $65K in grants are available this year. Grants could be used for such things as surveys, National Register of Historic Places nominations, preservation planning and educational projects. Some grants are outright grants, while others are funding to 60% with town having to kick in the remaining 40%.

Fire Chief Darren O'Brien showed visuals of the upcoming changes to Central Fire Station. The Commission was happy with the plans. The expanded station will be approximately three times the size of the current station. O'Brien shared that the recent federal import tariffs and a tight labor force are putting cost pressures on the project, but he vowed to stay within the budget set by the voters.

Maillet & Associates came back to the Commission after getting conditional approval from the Planning Board to move the Everything Essential spa to new space at 6 Mohawk Drive. The proposed two-story building will have 5,840 square feet including the spa and leasable office space on the second floor.

In an earlier review of plans the Commission expressed concerns about the design. The Planning Board took that feedback into consideration and made it a condition of approval that Maillet & Associates come up with a design that satisfies the Commission. The Commission thought the new design was much better and granted their approval.

Next up, the Commission reviewed a plan from RESCOM Environmental Corporation on behalf of Sprint to add cellular equipment to an abandoned smokestack located at 516 Mammoth Road. The tower would be strapped to the smokestack and would not protrude any higher than the smokestack.

The Commission requested more information about the condition of the smokestack and pictures of the associated shed that would accompany the tower. They also asked to see a maintenance plan for the smokestack.

Kent Allen provided an update on the work in the town forest. A variety of work has been done by Kent and other helpers. In addition, he shared that over $4,000 in donations had been raised from 22 donors to support ongoing improvements.

School Board Discusses High School Overnight Field Trips

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

A big part of high school involves students transitioning into becoming full-fledged adults. Aside from learning about more adult content and taking on more responsibilities during and after school, there is also the matter of learning independence. One way of doing this is overnight field trips. Typically taken by sports teams and music groups, Londonderry High School

(LHS) is preparing for a number of these trips for the 2018-2019 school year. This was discussed by Principal Jason Parent during the Londonderry School Board's latest meeting on Sept. 25.

According to Parent, with 75% of students at LHS involved with music, athletics, or other co-curricular activities, he feels that field trips of all kinds can enhance the experience gained in these groups. Furthermore, Parent feels that they have more than enough chaperones for the trips, with one chaperone being assigned for every 12 students on each trip. Also, he noted that the $618,400 needed for the trips this year, are all funded through student fundraisers and or supplemented by their parents. "We feel that the field trips, including the overnight field trips, are beneficial to their educational experience", noted Parent.

Board Member Steve

Young asked "Whether or not there would be any new proposed trips for this year"? Parent noted that students participating in Chorus, Orchestra, and Jazz would like to visit Orlando, Florida once every four years from now on. The music department staggered the amount to 4 years due to the high costs of putting such a trip together. The Robotics team also plans on visiting Detroit, Michigan, as the World Championships for Robotics recently moved from St. Louis, Missouri to Detroit. All other trips will remain the same as years prior. Young also mentioned how roughly 50% of these trips take place on weekends or holidays; something which Parent noted has been in the works as of late. "People that host these events are starting to realize that we really wanna keep our kids in school and build around the weekends," Parent stated.

Board Chair Jenn

Ganem followed up by supporting the idea of overnight field trips, mentioning an experience where a past student had to stay behind on a trip another night. This was due to delayed flights. Despite her mother worrying, the student handled herself quite well. This convinced Ganem that these trips can actually be multi-faceted learning experiences. LHS's requests for overnight field trips were approved unanimously.

acres and will be served by wells and septic systems.

The 15.6 acre site had been used by the Manchester-Boston Regional Airport to host aviation guidance equipment. It was purchased from the City of Manchester by Belize Real Estate Holdings earlier this year for $325K.

Following recent updates to the parking area at the Kendall Pond Conservation Area, Commissioner Bob Maxwell provided an update on activity at the area and ongoing trail improvements. Maxwell walked the trails and found a small amount of litter and trails in need of work. He removed a couple of small downed trees and cut back some undergrowth that was crowding the trails. More work is needed to open the trails and the Conservation Commission planned to complete the work on September 30.

Maxwell also shared that he had reviewed all the images from the surveillance camera that was added as part of the updates to discourage use of the area for inappropriate activities. Maxwell estimated that there were 300 visits over a 30 day period with a lot of people there to walk dogs.

While no inappropriate activities were noted, Maxwell did forward two sets of images that he deemed suspicious to the Londonderry Police Department.

Commissioner Mike Speltz shared that he is preparing a grant application for a state brownfield program to fund a review of a site on Gilcreast Road where the town holds an easement. A brownfield site is a property that contains a hazardous substance, pollutant, or contaminant, which hinders the potential to reuse or redevelop the site.

The site is 23 acre parcel along Gilcreast across the street from Albany and Boston Avenue and is the site of former apple orchard. If issued the grant, it could cover just assessing the current state of contamination or that plus a clean up of the areas. Speltz plans to seek approval to apply for the grant at the November 5 Town Council meeting.

Chairperson Marge Badois told the commission that the Request for Proposal for a water quantity study had been posted. She planned to brief the Town Council on Oct. 2 on the proposal which also includes formation of a working group to oversee the study.

As a result, the town has asked the school to rescind the 1984 warrant article that allowed the space to be used as school district office space. The Town Council also plans on placing a similar article on its ballot.

The school district is with other members, and they will, "Get back to us."

Council member Jim Butler asked if was as simple as buying their portion of the building back from the school.

Smith replied, "It's not that simple."

The meeting then moved on to other matters and hopes to address the issue at a later date.

Residents Swap Out Car Seats During Free Safety Program

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Over the weekend, residents had the opportunity to make sure their children are as safe during a child passenger safety check-point held on Saturday, Sept. 29 at the Walmart parking lot in Derry.

The checkpoint was free, and hosted by Safe Kids New Hampshire and the Injury Prevention Center at Dartmouth, the Derry Police Department, the Buckle Up New Hampshire Coalition.

Although residents can have their safety seats checked throughout the year, this drop-in event, was intended to raise awareness of the dangers of improperly installed car seats and to provide an opportunity for parents to bring their used car seats for proper disposal.

Technicians at the event determined whether your car seat is still safely usable by checking its expiration date. The date is stamped onto the seat, and seats are usually good for six years.

During the two-hour event, there were about 16 vehicles that ran through the four stations set up with 21 seats inspected, and 22 seats recycled by technicians for disposal.

Over the morning, there were five seats given to residents to replace those expired.

If you missed the event, and wish to have your seat checked for safety, contact the Derry Police department at 432-6111. Jeffery Pike or Erin Sullivan will be able to assist those in need of the service throughout the year.

LHS Football Regains Winning Ways by Besting Windham

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

There are times when statistics bear out exactly what happened in a sporting event. And there are other times when the stats don't give a true indication of what occurred on a field.

And the Londonderry High football squad's 35-23 victory over the visiting Windham High Jaguars at LHS Saturday afternoon provided an example of the latter case.

A 12-point margin of victory doesn't sound like a lopsided success, but it never really felt as though the now 4-1 host Lancers were going to lose control to the 2-3 Jags despite the fact that at one point their lead sat at an overwhelming 35-9 before the Windham crew battled back to get within two touchdowns of a full comeback.

What's more, the final offensive stats show that Londonderry was held below 200 total yards (199) while Windham tallied 315 in a losing effort. The Lancers' offensive forays were economical and productive much of the time, and a couple of rare mistakes put the ball in Windham's hands during the second half.

Several LHS gridders had excellent games for their side, with versatile senior Jake Holland blocking and running back a punt for points, sprinting a kick-off 75 yards to pay-dirt, and intercepting a pass to help lead the locals' impressive weekend charge.

The Lancers rebounded nicely from their Mack Plaque loss to Pinkerton with a Saturday afternoon win which left coach Jimmy Lauzon and his charges feeling pretty darn good about themselves. And what's even more, several LHS gridgers had excellent games for their side, with versatile senior Jake Holland blocking and running back a punt for points, sprinting a kick-off some 75 yards to pay-dirt, and intercepting a pass to help lead the locals' impressive weekend charge.

"I'm very proud of our defense, our special teams were outstanding except for a couple of plays, and our offense was strong except for the fact that I was too conservative about running time off the clock. I take the blame for that," said Lauzon.

Londonderry, which will have its mettle tested this Friday night when it plays host to the defending Division I champions from Winnacunnet High of Hampton, led 14-3 after one period and 28-9 at the halftime break. At the conclusion of three stanzas the locals were up 35-23, and that's precisely where the final score would wind up.

The hosts would nab a 7-0 lead three minutes into the game when Holland blocked a Windham punt attempt, chased the football down to the Jaguars' 28-yard-line, and sprinted the pigskin into the end zone.

The Jags got three of the points back on a 26-yard field goal with 5:31 to go in that opening quarter, but Londonderry went up 14-3 thanks to a four-play drive which featured a 38-yard run by quarterback Evan Cormier and culminated with an 8-yard scoring sprint by Jeff Wiedenfeld with 3:41 to go in the first.

That skilled LHS junior running back would be another of the bright lights for the Lancers, finishing up with 111 rushing yards on 17 carries with two touchdowns.

Windham would manage to slice its deficit down to five points at 14-9 with a 23-yard touchdown pass followed by a two-point conversion with just under six minutes left in the half. But 14 seconds after the Jags finished their scoring celebration the Lancers began one of their own when Holland ran the ensuing kickoff back 75 yards to the opposite end zone to make it a 21-9 contest.

And the hosts would give their sizable crowd more about which to cheer with just 1:04 left in the half when quarterback Cormier and his offense capped off a seven-play drive with a 23-yard scoring toss to Cole Keegan. LHS kicker Zack Chau's fourth successful point-after kick of the game would make it a 28-9 game, and the Lancers had many reasons to be grinning as they adjourned to their locker room for halftime.

At the break, Londonderry had its command-

Lancer Golfers Continued Surge Toward a State Tourney Berth

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High boys' golf squad rolled into this week with several strong recent performances in its rear-view mirror and distinct hopes of making the final cut for a Division I team tournament berth.

The Lancers enjoyed considerable success at beautiful Campbell's Scottish Highlands in Salem last Wednesday, Sept. 26, with the locals putting up a team score of 209 to narrowly best Hanover (212) and the host Salem High Blue Devils by a larger margin (228).

Freshman James Griffin continued to show all sorts of prowess as a newcomer to high school golf by pacing his squad with an individual score of 40. Just behind him were his teammates Brian Boyle, Matt Anderson, and Josh Traynham (all at 42) and Zach Malcolm (43).

And the Lancers continued their push toward a position in the forthcoming state tournament with another strong effort on their home links at the Passaconaway Country Club in Litchfield the next afternoon.

The hosts finished right in the middle of a three-team competition, with the Exeter High Blue Hawks winning with a score of 196 to Londonderry's 215 and Winnacunnet's 217.

"Today's match was outstanding," said coach Dan Grant. "We beat Winnacunnet to get our eighth win, which puts us on the bubble for the state tournament."

Battle-tested senior Tom Marcantonio was superb in his final home match, tying rookie Griffin for the best individual score among the Lancers with a 41. Boyle bagged a 43 for the locals, and his teammates Sam Seibert and Traynham each managed a 45.

Londonderry then completed its regular season with a road match at the Exeter Country Club this past Monday, Oct. 1, facing off with those tough Blue Hawks again as well as the superb and only recently-defeated Bedford High Bulldogs. In the wake of that match coach Grant and his group were hoping for the good news that they'd qualified for the state team tourney, which was to be held this Thursday, Oct. 4 - after Londonderry Times press time - at The Oaks Golf Links in Somersworth.

Stepping into that final regular season match the Lancers were - in coach Grant's own words - "on the outside looking in by one win." Alas, they didn't get another victory in finishing third out of the three teams in Exeter.

Bedford edged out Exeter by a 206-207 tally in a tiebreaker, with Londonderry third with a 226.

"Not a good day for the Lancers," lamented Grant. "Unless Spaulding gets swept today and tomorrow we are out of tournament. Great group of kids and we had a lot of fun this year. Just came up short."

Zach Malcolm, James Griffin, and Brian Boyle all shot a 45 for their Lancers.

Senior Boyle and freshman Griffin advance to the state individual tourney late this week.

Londonderry Volleyball Crew Struggles To Hit .500 Mark

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High girls' volleyball team's up-and-down 2018 campaign continued recently with a downer followed by a far more positive outcome, then another loss as the locals saw their overall record move to 5-7.

The Lancers were blanked by the tough Bedford High Lady Bulldogs on that opponent's home court on Wednesday, Sept. 26, with the hosts collecting their fifth straight victory in bouncing their 2018 record up to 7-1.

But the LHS contingent rebounded beautifully at home against the scuffling Goffstown Lady Grizzlies on Friday the 28th in bagging a 3-0 blanking of that opponent. The loss was Goffstown's fourth in its last five matches and that squad slid to 4-7 overall.

But with its record now sitting one win below the .500 mark at 5-6, the Londonderry crew had its hands all kinds of full this past Monday with a host Nashua South contingent which came into its home match with a perfect record and only four set losses in 10 matches.

And the host Nashua crew kept its winning ways rolling along with a 3-0 shutout success over the local spikers.

Lancer Boys' Soccer Steps Above .500 With a Tight Home Win

LONDONDERRY TIMES

Two goals from Tyler VanAvery - including a dramatic late one - wound up being keys to the 2-1 victory over the visiting Goffstown High Grizzlies last Friday, Sept. 28 which enabled the Londonderry High boys' soccer squad to bump its record over the .500 mark.

In bagging that success, the Lancers advanced to 5-4-1 and pushed their undefeated streak to a modest three games as they bounded into a two-match week this week. Goffstown slid to a lowly 2-7-1 with yet another defeat despite the fact that the Grizzlies battled hard.

VanAvery was set up by James Cranmer for goal number one in the 26th minute of the contest, and the Lancer standout tickled the twine inside the Goffstown net a second time thanks to a set-up by Hunter Smith with just a minute to go in regulation time to bust a 1-1 deadlock.

Londonderry goalie Alex Hufford contributed some 16 saves to his squad's successful effort, and the Lancer offense finished up with 12 shots directly on the Goffstown cage.

"Goffstown came out and put a lot of pressure on us right from the start," said LHS coach Todd Ellis. "We did a better job in the second half of moving off of the ball and communicating to help better handle that pressure. It was nice to see Tyler rewarded with two goals today. He has really been working hard off of the ball lately. Another hard-fought high school game again today by both teams."

The LHS crew was then away from competitive play until this Tuesday, Oct. 2, when it played host to Salem after Londonderry Times press time. The squad's slate then moved to a Friday road haul over to Dover.

Londonderry Field Hockey Advances to 7-3 With a Besting of Bedford

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High field hockey team rebounded beautifully from its 3-1 Mack Plaque loss to tough Pinkerton by handing a struggling opponent the same type of defeat last week.

The Lancers collected a 3-1 victory over the winless Bedford High Lady Bulldogs by besting that opponent on its own home field last Wednesday, Sept. 26.

That success made the victorious locals 7-3 overall and provided them with their third win in their last four matches.

LHS field hockey star Courtney Shay scored twice in the recent win over Bedford.

The local squad potted all three of its goals in the first half via the work of Courtney Shay (unassisted), Grace Chicko (from Alivia Proulx), and Shay again (from Lauren Doherty). LHS goalie Morgan Brutus contributed five saves to the success, allowing just a single second half shot to get past her.

This week's slate had the Lady Lancers traveling to the seacoast for an important battle with another 7-3 contingent - the Winnacunnet High Warriors of Hampton - on Wednesday, Oct. 3 after Londonderry Times press time. The winner of that match was looking at gaining a bit of upward mobility in the always-tight Division I standings.

Then the next afternoon the Londonderry High crew was looking at a potentially easier time of it in Nashua against a North Lady Titans' troop which came into this week still seeking its first victory of 2018. But nothing is ever guaranteed in high school sports, a message which the Londonderry High athletes have certainly heard before and are bearing in mind as their season advances.

Londonderry Girls' Soccer Gets Back to Winning Ways

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

While it's safe to say that the Londonderry High girls' soccer team's first loss of the 2018 campaign - a stunning 2-1 overtime downer in Mack Plaque play against Pinkerton - on Saturday, Sept. 22 was a real punch to the gut for the Lancers, it's also safe to state that the LHS crew wasn't about to go into any sort of swoon over that defeat.

And the Lady Lancers proved that statement last week by defeating both Manchester Central and then Goffstown in moving to an absolutely stellar 9-1 in tough Division I.

The locals advanced their season mark to 8-1 - and bagged their second straight victory since the Mack loss - with a 2-1 edging of the Manchester Central Little Green at LHS last Thursday, Sept. 27.

The hosts netted the lone goal of the first half when Olivia Stowell took a pass from Katie McCudden and put a shot past the Central keeper with just two minutes to go.

The visitors tallied the equalizer eight minutes into the second half, but the Lady Lancers bagged the game-winner in minute number 75 when Stowell set up Ashley Manor.

Londonderry received nine saves from Jasmine Richards, who saw her teammates smack some 13 shots on Manchester keeper Jessica Lewis. The Queen City side slipped to 5-2 with the defeat.

And the Lady Lancers bounced their season record mark up to 9-1 with a dominant performance in a 4-0 blanking of the host Goffstown High Grizzlies on Saturday, Sept. 29.

The LHS contingent scored twice in each half, with Alyssa Anderson being set up by Abbie Ellis in minute 14 and Ellis scoring an unassisted marker on a free kick five minutes later.

The local ladies then put the match and their opponent away with second half tallies from Ashley Manor (assist to Anderson) early in half number two and then point machine Anderson herself in minute 50 on a direct boot off of a corner.

The Lady Lancers pelted an astounding 24 shots on shell-shocked Goffstown goalie Emma Strong, and LHS keeper Richards contributed four stops to her squad's fifth shutout of 2018.

The LHS contingent then bounded into this week seeking a fourth straight win in a Monday road match at Salem High against a weak Salem Lady Blue Devils' bunch which had only won once this season.

ing lead on the scoreboard but an advantage of just one more offensive yard than the visiting Jags (152-151).

The Lancers' lead bulged to 35-9 less than two minutes into the second half when junior lineman Michael Watts knocked the football out of the hands of a Windham running back and then dove on the fumble to set up his team's offense at the Jags' 20. And just two plays later the locals were celebrating Wiedenfeld's second touchdown jaunt of the afternoon - a 16-yard gallop - as the score moved to a truly lopsided 35-9.

Windham, which drew considerable praise from the LHS coaching staff for its skills and effort, climbed toward a comeback on the right arm of quarterback Cody Potter (19-for-31 passing, 216 yards, one touchdown) and wildly-athletic receiver Cody Stevens (eight catches, 92 yards, one score). But the Jaguars never got closer than a dozen points down.

The Londonderry

squad now holds a 4-1 record, matching tough Pinkerton and Salem in the Division I South standings.

Dixie is a 2 year old, 55 pound, all around great pup! She has good kennel manners and has shared her kennel with many different dogs. She loves the water and a good game of fetch. Cross-Country Crews Trounce Timberlane in Home Meets

CHRIS PANTAZIS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Timberlane Regionals Owls' cross-country contingents proved utterly unable to get off the ground at Londonderry High School last Thursday, Sept. 27.

Londonderry's boys' and girls' squads both pummeled their Timberlane opponents in enjoying overwhelming successes on their home course.

The Lancer males absolutely routed the visiting Owls, notching a perfect score of 15 while the visiting Owls finished with a 50.

Londonderry claimed nine of the top 10 spots including the first seven thanks to the performances of race winner Ben Palumbo (time of 17 minutes and 45 seconds), Eric Nowak in second (17:45), Kyle Hoglund in third (17:45), Will Heenan in fourth place (17:46), Kerry Daley in fifth (17:46), Matt Griffin in the sixth spot (17:46), and Dylan Hotter in seventh place (17:46). Christian Smith bagged ninth (18:03) and Chris Burpeau in the 10th spot (18:10).

And longtime coach Ed Burgess' Lady Lancers were every bit as impressive as the boys in absolutely pounding the Timberlane troop, with that Londonderry bunch also taking nine of the top 10 places.

Grace McDonough was the first runner across the finish line, completing the LHS course in 19 minutes and 54 seconds. She was followed by teammate Caitlin Boufford in second just a second later and Cailey McDonough in third in 21:23.

Bagging the fifth through 10th places for Londonderry were Jazzy Brown (22:12), Cailin Borovicka (22:20), Abby Rollinson (22:59), Alea Millis (23:35), Gabby Page (23:56), and Delaney Root (24:07).

The LHS contingents then returned to competitive action this Tuesday, Oct. 2 - after Londonderry Times press time - at Salem High School against the host Blue Devils and the Winnacunnet High Warriors' crews from Hampton.

Lancers Twirl

Morgan Torre, left, and Emily Cowette performed during the end of the Lancer Marching Band and Color Guard half-time show on Saturday afternoon. The Lancer Twirlers have been entertaining crowds at sporting events for a number of years now, but this was the first time they teamed up with the band.

Helping Local Veterans

When Londonderry football players settled on a fundraising cause for their Third Annual White-Out Game, they decided that helping local veterans would be a great way of contributing to the community. During the Sept. 7 game against the Salem Blue Devils which the Lancers won 28-21, T-shirts were sold to spectators with the logo "White out for Warriors." Fundraising came through the combined efforts of the Londonderry Lancer Gridiron Club, the Londonderry High School athletic department, and community and local business donations. Commander Bob Stuart and Londonderry resident Frank Torre, a Vietnam veteran, represented the American Legion on the field before the LHS Lancer marching band played the national anthem. The Londonderry athletic department generously donated proceeds from the gate that night. A benefit check in the amount of $3,860 was presented to Commander Stuart by the Londonderry football team captains, seniors, and coach Jimmy Lauzon on Sept. 28.

READERS ARE CAUTIONED that we occasionally run ads that require an initial investment or money in advance. We urge our readers to "do their homework" before responding to any ad, check out the advertiser thoroughly and verify their claims to your total satisfaction. But these efforts are no substitute for your own investigation, and we don't endorse or guarantee any claims made in any of the ads we publish. If you want more information about claims made in ads on subjects such as work at home opportunities, travel or vacation specials, purchasing land or vehicles from government surplus or below wholesale, loans or other credit opportunities (including credit repair), or weight loss and other health products and services, we urge you to contact the Office of Attorney General, Consumer Protection Bureau, 33 Capitol Street, Concord, NH 03301 (603-271-3641) or the Better Business Bureau at 603-224-1991.
