Town Council Approves Elderly Exemption Changes

RACHEL CISTO
LONDONDERRY TIMES

After a public hearing on Monday, Feb. 4, Town Council voted 5-0 to update the town's "elderly exemption" policy, which allows seniors over the age of 65 to have their property taxes reduced. According to the town, the policy has been in effect since 1997 and was in need of an update.

Town Assessor Rick Brideau presented the revisions to Council at the Jan 21 meeting. He said there had been a "cost of living" increase in Social Security benefits, and it would be a good time to look at the policy and ensure that the increase in Social Security income did not cause otherwise eligible residents to lose their exemption.

"I want to ensure people don't lose their benefits," he said. "There won't be a cost to the town, but it would be a good time to

Deliberative Sessions: A Great Way To Get Involved

MIKE BYERLY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

When you go to the polls in March to vote in the local town and school elections, you will see a long list of items on the ballot. Every year there are several months long public processes conducted by the Town Council and School Board to put together what ends up in front of voters.

Between the time that the warrant articles on the ballot are drafted by these bodies and voters go to the polls in March, Deliberative Sessions are held. While lightly attended recently, with under 100 people at each session, this meeting is a powerful opportunity for the public to influence what shows up on the ballot.

At these sessions, a simple majority of voters can modify most of the warrant articles, sometimes in major ways. In 2016, the Town Council proposed reducing the portion of the revenue from the Land Use Change Tax that went into the Conservation Fund, looking to put more in the general operating budget.

The Council voted 5-0 in favor of the change, but at the Deliberative Session, voters amended the warrant article in a way that guaranteed that the revenue split between Conservation and the general operating budget remain unchanged.

According to guidance from Town Moderator, Tom Frieda, amendments cannot introduce new subjects into a warrant article. However, amending an article to change its intent or purpose may be permissible.

In a case from Deerfield, the New Hampshire State Supreme Court ruled in an instructive

Town's Design Review Process For Development Projects Explained

MIKE BYERLY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Unless you have been living under a rock, you know that there is a lot of development going on in Londonderry. Have you ever wondered how these projects get reviewed and approved by the town? This is the first in a series explaining the town's processes.

This article provides an overview of the process and drills into a part of the process called the Design Review Committee (DRC). Ultimately, proposed subdivisions, commercial and industrial developments are approved or rejected by the Planning Board.

While in theory an applicant could just go straight to a formal submission of a plan to the planning department and Planning Board, almost always the plan goes through one or more pre-application review processes to identify potential issues and concerns early on.

The first optional review is a Conceptual Review with the Planning Board at one of their public meetings. Usually, only larger potential projects avail themselves of this option to get general feedback on how desirable such a type of development is and how well it aligns with the town's Master Plan. Very few projects take this step.

The second optional step is to engage the town's DRC to get feedback. The DRC process includes advisory reviews by the following town boards and departments: Assessing, Building, Fire, Police, Tax Collector, Sewer Division, Conservation Commission, and Heritage Commission.

The Planning Department and Town Engineer also review and prepare technical comments on the project plans during this review period with consultation from one of the town's 3rd party engineering reviewers. Consultants and other outside services engaged by the town to review plans are paid for by the applicant.

According to Town Planner Colleen Mailloux, "99.8% of site plan and subdivision applications go through the DRC process, because [town planning] staff strongly encourages all applicants to do so. Skipping design review and going straight to formal would very likely wind up in a project that is not accepted as complete, or which is not ready for conditional approval.

Once the applicant submits their plan for DRC, each reviewing group has 30 days to review the proposed plan and get feedback to the planning department. At their option, the applicant can meet with the various groups to present their plan and answer questions. The feedback from each group is non-binding, but generally developers try to address most of the concerns to increase the likelihood of eventual approval by the Planning Board.

Each review group looks at the plans for different reasons. Conservation tends to focus on wetland and wildlife impacts. Heritage looks to make sure the development fits with the town's character. Police and Fire look at public safety issues.

Sewer looks at, well, sewer and septic issues. The Building department looks at adherence to town codes. Assessing looks at whether the property is under Current Use, verifies that addresses are correct and assigns map and lot numbers for parcels. The Tax Collector checks to see if outstanding taxes are due on the property.

At the same time that the DRC process starts, the planning department also posts the plans on their section of the town website, and sends a notice, via first class mail, to all abutters to the project informing them that a design review application has been submitted.

At the end of the review, town planning staff compiles all of the DRC comments received from the Boards and Commissions and works with their third-party reviewer to finalize the engineering review comments. They then provide all of the DRC and engineering review comments to the applicant.

According to Mailloux, "depending upon the content and complexity of the comments, it is not unusual for an applicant to go through a second (or third... or fourth) round of design review to make sure that all of the technical review comments have been addressed before an applicant files a formal application and is placed on a Planning Board agenda."

"The process is intended to make sure that, before a project goes in front of the Planning Board, any items of a technical nature have been addressed in compliance with the standards of the Zoning Ordinance, Subdivision Regulations and Site Plan Regulations."

Once ready, the applicant files their formal application three weeks prior to the meeting, which allows time for the town to notify abutters again, this time by certified mail, and to post notice of the public hearing in the Londonderry Times.

The formal application is reviewed by Planning and Engineering staff, to make sure that all DRC comments have been addressed, and the plans are sent out again to the third-party reviewer for review. Because of the time constraints from the submission deadline to the Planning Board meeting, there is no more back and forth with the applicant and no additional information can be submitted.

At this point the application is presented to the Planning Board and if deemed complete, they start the review of it. By statute, the Planning Board has 65 days to render their decision. In a future article, the decision-making process of the Planning Board will be covered.

way. Residents there created a warrant article there to change the Police Chief position from an appointed to elected position. The original warrant article read "We the undersigned registered voters of [Town] petition the [Town] Police Chief be an elected position as of March, 2017 to be paid $65,000 per year with cost of living increases each year if voted by the taxpayers."

At their deliberative session it was amended to "Shall we express an advisory view that the position of [Town] Police Chief be an appointed position as it is at the present time?" The court ruled that the intent and purpose was the same after the change.

Also, an amendment that would change the dollar amount of an appropriation is not considered eliminating its subject matter. Voters at the deliberative session may move to amend any amount in any article either up or down, except as it affects costs items in collective bargaining agreements.

The School District deliberation session will be on Friday, Feb. 8 at 7 p.m. The town deliberative session is the next day, Saturday, Feb. 9 at 9 a.m. The length of the meetings varies based on the number of articles on the warrant and the amount of discussion engendered by each. In recent years, the meeting has run for about three hours.

For the town deliberative session, roughly the first 30-45 minutes of the meeting is taken up by the Town Manager's presentation of the state of the town and a variety of awards for volunteer and other service. After that, the Town Moderator explains the meeting processes and the warrants start being addressed.

On the school side, eleven articles will be discussed including ones that fund network upgrades across the district and create a Security Systems Technician.

The town warrant is more extensive with twenty-seven articles to be discussed. Topics of note include Rail Trail funding, allowing Keno in Londonderry, school resource officer funding, creation of a conservation ranger/land steward position, Nutfield 300th celebration funding, drainage improvements for the town common, and improvements to the Grange Hall.

Prior to 2011, when the town charter was amended, the town used to vote at the polls for elective offices and bonds and then hold a town meeting to vote on the budget and warrant articles. The change was made because of dwindling participation in the town meeting. As a result, a small populous who attended the town meeting were deciding issues for the whole of the town.

The current form of deliberation and voting as described in the town charter is very closely aligned with SB2, which, starting in 1995, introduced an alternative to the town meeting. As of the end of 2017, 70 of the 234 New Hampshire cities and town use the SB2 approach. Eight-four of the 167 school districts use the SB2 process.

It Starts with Respect

What exactly is respect? It's the sense of worth or personal value that you attach to someone. Respect is an overall evaluation you give someone based on many factors – what that person is doing with their life, how they treat you and others, whether they are honest or not and if they seem to consistently do good things, large or small, for other people.

Showing Respect for Others: Just like with yourself, when you demonstrate respect for others, you give value to their being and ideals. In addition, you'll make someone feel good by granting them respect, provided, of course, that it's something that they deserve.

One of the best ways to show respect for someone is to truly listen to another's point of view. Obviously, we'll not always agree with one another on every topic and you should never adopt a point of view with which you do not agree, but we should allow each other to have and express our own views – regardless of whether we agree with them or not.

Try to keep this in mind: you owe everyone a basic level of respect for being a fellow human being, but your level of respect for others will vary from person to person. Just like your self-respect will grow as you master the ideals discussed above, your level of respect for others will vary depending upon your view of them and their own self-respect.

There's nothing wrong with affording some people greater respect than others. You should be kind and polite to everyone – no question about that. But for obvious reasons, some of us simply deserve more respect than others. For example, I think we would all agree that a consistently honest person deserves more respect than a habitual liar. So, always be kind, polite and afford a basic level of respect for your fellow man, but you shouldn't afford beyond basic respect to those who aren't working on ideals you believe to be important.

Respect is one of mankind's most noble sentiments. The highest levels of respect are always earned – never given. This is true of self-respect as well as respect for others. Before granting the highest level of self-respect or respect for others, make sure the person is worthy of the honor.

Newly Appointed Planning Member Declines Position

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The recent appointment of an alternate on the Planning Board by the Londonderry Town Council was rejected by longtime member Leitha Reilly.

Reilly, who had been a full member of the Planning Board for nine years was appointed has an alternate position in January.

During that meeting, Jake Butler and Scott Benson were appointed as full members, while Reilly was given the alternate seat.

During the Public Comment portion of the Town Council meeting on Monday night, Feb. 4, Chairman John Farrell and Councilor Tom Dolan tried to clarify the issue that arose from that appointment.

Dolan commented, "We ended up overlooking one of our harder-working volunteers, Ann Chiampa, upon reflection, it is disappointing and regretful we did not find a spot for her, even though she wanted to continue to serve. For that, I personally apologize."

Dolan then asked to make a motion to appoint Chiampa to the spot that was previously given to Reilly.

Farrell made sure to correct Dolan by saying that the Reilly's position had expired, so he didn't have to except a resignation from the Planning Board, but he would be accepting the resignation from the Southern New Hampshire Planning Commission (SNHPC) which Reilly was on.

Chiampa was then appointed to the alternate position and Reilly's resignation from the SNHPC was accepted.

Information Regarding the School District's Bargaining Agreements

SUBMITTED BY
JENN GANEM

First and foremost, on behalf of the Board, I would like to express our gratitude to our teachers who demonstrate undying dedication to our community and who share their educational expertise with our students each day. With the passage of the Londonderry Education Association [LEA] Bargaining Agreement, our district will see some beneficial changes, such as an additional 16 minutes of instructional time to each of the 180 school days. This will be used in grades 1-5 for a dedicated writing period, at LMS to improve the 'flex block' of academic support, and at LHS to focus instructional time at a more productive time of year. The additional time will also permit the first five snow days to be absorbed into the calendar. This benefits students by engaging them in valuable instruction at a more productive time of year. In addition, it solidifies a more reasonable last day of school and permits families to arrange their summer plans with more confidence. The contract also provides greater flexibility for the Fall Parent Conferences at LHS, as teachers will offer conference times at night in addition to school hours. The faculty gains additional Professional Development time, a salary schedule that is more attractive for recruiting qualified faculty, and an adjustment to the step table to encourage faculty to remain with our District after they obtain their Master's degree.

The Londonderry Association of Allied Health Professionals [LAAHP] Bargaining Agreement mimics the teacher's contract, although it covers a much smaller number of employees (34 full time equivalents). This association includes the school nurses, occupational therapists, certified occupational therapy assistants, physical therapists, and speech and language pathologists.

If the LEA and LAAHP Bargaining Agreements are defeated, then Article 5 authorizes the governing body to call one special meeting to address the two collective bargaining agreements. It is the School District's desire to see both agreements pass, as it benefits our students and teachers, and the working families in our district.

Correction: In the last week's paper, it was noted that the Londonderry Budget Committee voted unanimously against recommending a warrant article that would allow Keno603 games to be held in town. It was also incorrectly reported in the previous issue, in the article on page one that Town Council members recommended all Warrant Articles. Neither the Budget Committee nor the Town Council made any recommendations on Article 26 - the Keno603 article. Since the article itself did not have a specific money amount tied to it, neither Town Council nor the Budget Committee were required to make a recommendation one way or the other.

Celebrate American Presidents, First Ladies and Apple Pie

MACK LEATHURBY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

What would the February Presidents holiday be without Apple Pie! Why Apple Pie? Because there's nothing more American than apple pie - except freedom and Presidents like Washington and Lincoln.

Washington's Birthday is a federal holiday celebrated on the third Monday of February. In N.H. we celebrate his birthday during our President's Day celebration. The February day evolved from Washington's birthday (Feb. 22, 1732) and Lincoln's birthday (Feb. 12, 1809) and has been established to recognize contributions from all Presidents of our great country.

Mack's Apples in Londonderry is celebrating February as Presidents month with their Apple Pie Contest. If you are looking for lots of fun and to take a goodtime break from winter, head over to Mack's Apples on Mammoth Road on Saturday, Feb 9th before 1pm to see the contest and partake of some of the tasty snacks. You might even get a taste of some of the winning pie recipes and many of the pie bakers will share "award winning" recipes with the audience.

Better yet, sign up to bake your own pie for the contest. The contest has a fun competitive spirit for the bakers and typically, more than 50 apple pies are entered. This year the pies need to be at Mack's Apples on Sat. Feb. 9 by 12:30 p.m. as the judging stars at 1 p.m.

The Mack family will be present at the contest, with Carol Mack overseeing the 12 judges who will decide for the best recipes based on appearance and taste. Andrew Mack will be the MC for the festivities.

There are ribbons and "goody bag" prizes for the 2nd and 3rd place runner ups and the winners get a special commemorative, decorative plate for the first prize. The contest has been going since 1991 and there are 2 categories for the judging. One is the "traditional" with 2 crusts and with just apples and the other is the "non-traditional" which can be either one crust or two and with anything you want to put into the recipe.

This year the pies need to be at Macks by 12:30 p.m. as the judging starts at 1 p.m. Last year the contest had so many pies close to the top, and it took the judges awhile to decide the winners. You can come on in to sign up for the contest, it is a lot of fun. If you think your pie is the greatest then this is the contest for you!

And Presidents day holiday starts with the nation's first President Washington who loved both cherry and apple pies. So if you want to know more about the George and Martha Washington, Leach Library is presenting Anne Barrett for an evening performance of "The First First Lady" at 7 p.m. on Feb. 21. Barrett has developed her performances over 10 years, while working with her local historical society in Massachusetts.

There is a lot more to know and admire about Martha Washington than many Americans may have learned. In 1759, the beautiful and wealthy widow, Martha Dandridge Custis married the handsome and successful soldier

George Washington. This decision led her from the battlefields of the American Revolution to the highest echelons of the infant American republic. Later eulogized as "the worthy partner of the worthiest of men," she used her acute social sense to meet the expectations of her country and she defined the role of First Lady.

Barret truly bring her historical presentations to life and transforms herself to a mirror of the first first lady. Her years of historical research based on the Martha's extensive writings as well as Washington's peers, have helped Barrett portray Martha Washington realistically, to bring forward her spirit while sharing her private family delights and sorrows.

Barret truly takes her audience on Martha's life journey. She transforms the historical time back 1792 for her presentation and tells about her experiences as the President's wife: Her extensive research details everything from her social obligations to the historical political climate, as well as her concerns for her husband in the challenges he faces in guiding the new country at that time.

As Martha Washington, she reminisces about winters spent near Revolutionary war battlefields, while discussing the soldiers she met and comforted, overlooking the songs they sang and relates to the hardships they faced.

This program at the Leach Library is free and open to the public with seating limited to the first 90 individuals. It will be held in the library's lower-level meeting room. Light refreshments will be served.

School Board Chair Explains District's Operating Budget

SUBMITTED BY
JENN GANEM

In an effort to help voters understand the School District's Warrant Articles, I will be writing a series of brief summaries about them. My hope is that this will assist any taxpayer who is unable to attend the Deliberative Session on Friday, Feb. 8 at 7 p.m. at the Londonderry High School Café.

The most significant warrant article is the General Fund - Operating Budget. The School District's operating budget funds all the necessary salaries, contracts, and operating costs for the District, excluding any separate article. It provides the funds necessary for the delivery of classroom instruction; optimum class size; the supplies and equipment for the classroom; wide-array of co-curricular and extracurricular activities; the day-to-day facility maintenance and repairs; and the technology used by our students, faculty, and administrators. This is a responsible budget which maintains funds for a wide array of programs and only increases spending in those areas where the demand was obvious and the return on investment is clear.

For example, this past year, with the support of our community, the District was able to address the urgent space issue at Moose Hill School. With the recent growth in housing opportunities in town, there has been a steady increase in the Londonderry Early Education Program (LEEP) at Moose Hill School. This program, as well as the classroom space needed for the program, is regulated by law. With the continuation of residential building in town, we will need to closely monitor student enrollment in K-5. Presently, we are able to maintain adequate class sizes, however, Moose Hill and the elementary schools are nearing their functional capacity, given the programs and services currently offered.

Our District is committed to keeping core instructional programs intact, however, any reduction in funding the operating budget would require the board and the administration to review the breadth of programs currently offered. As you may or may not be aware, the law for calculating the default budget changed this year. We are no longer permitted to include in the Default Budget any increases in existing contracts that were not voted on directly - in other words, in maintenance contracts, transportation contracts, and other such agreements that have annual increases built into them, the increases can not be included. This presents a unique and timely challenge to administrators because the default budget actually requires a significant reduction in funding from the current budget. In order to compare apples to apples, if the default budget was calculated in the manner in which it used to be - the default budget would have been about $325,000 more. If the default budget were to pass, it would require the Board and the administration to look for immediate reductions of $325,000 in an already financially prudent and educationally sound budget. Therefore, it is the District's sincere hope that you will support the School Board Budget as amended.

Leach Library Resources Survive Destructive Water System Burst

MACK LEATHURBY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Tuesday Jan. 22 in Londonderry was the coldest day of the winter so far, and at about 5:10 p.m., a water sprinkler pipe elbow burst at Leach Library. As the water opened up on the main library front room area that faces Mammoth Road, an immense library area began to receive a steady, growing stream of water from the ceiling, that began flowing across the walls and onto carpeted floors and furniture heading toward to book shelves.

While a torrent of liquid began pouring out, for the library staff and patrons there was a giant silver lining; good luck was at hand as the library was open at the time of the pipe burst and the staff were on hand to report the accident to the right people immediately.

Had that not been the case, and the water burst had occurred when no one was in the building or was not found for even a small time longer, library resources might have been extensively damaged and lost forever. As it was, the library lost only a bit of replaceable furniture and the library staff was able to save the most precious library resources.

What had happened was that the Library Director Barbara Oster-tag-Holtkamp and the library staff had immediately called the fire department at first signs of the water leak; they also diverted the water, moving furniture and books on lower shelves, and then moving some of the artwork collection on the walls out of harm's way - as the flooding rose higher on the rugs, flooring and to areas throughout the front of library.

The Londonderry Fire Department, next door to the library, was there in flash with helpful expertise and proper equipment including portable siphons to begin sucking up the water as it poured out. The sprinkler plumbing system and its flooding waters were finally shut off, though there was a substantial amount of water all around the leak area - greater than 600 gallons was estimated to have poured out - and that was dumped from the ceiling across a large area the library including a large office and spaces where the library staff works.

The library had to close its doors for a couple of days during the last week of January while the restoration contractor, Insurcomm was there to evaluate, demolish the damaged areas, cordon off spaces that are not ready for public usages and begin work to restore the library rooms.

According to Insurcomm, the company helping repair the damaged area, the water sprinkler system froze and burst as a result of the deep cold that was exacerbated by a funky wind direction. Evidently the broken sprinkler elbow plumbing had thawed enough by late afternoon to reek mayhem from ceiling to the areas below.

Insurcomm has some intricate work to do as some of the custom wall and post molding needs to be replaced to form fit certain areas within the library. Insurcomm reported that the elbow and water sprinkler system parts are being properly retrofit with insulation specifically in the original construction design - and that may have contributed to the bursting problem.

While the library will remain open and functional, areas of the library will undergo restoration until approximately the end of February 2019 and will be posted as off limits. The insurance company for the Library has put a placeholder for the cost of the restoration at this time at about $100,000. While the insurance company is evaluating details, the library restoration is expected to cost a $1000 deductible and about $500 for the tables destroyed by the water damage.

Another silver lining about the incident, according to Insurcomm workers and the library staff is that due to the quick actions of Ostertag-Holtkamp and the library staff, the wall to wall rug in the leak area was saved. This was done with immediate attention after the flooding to prevent damage to the rug, using specialized equipment and environmental treatments to prevent mold and mildew from penetrating the rugs and expanding further.

If this had not been accomplished, the rug would likely have had to been completely taken out of the building and the library would have been shut down for an extended period of time; all the shelving, and stacks would have had to have been moved and reinstalled - which would have a "big time" complex and costly project.

The best news is that library is open as normal and the library's diverse book collection for children, young adults, and adults and the extensive audio-visual collection including audiocassettes, CDs, DVDs, playaways as well as audio and e-book downloading infrastructure, shelving, computers, document portfolios and more were not damaged - so the resources are intact, and are available to patrons. The library staff is looking forward to seeing you.

She was born in Green Township, Indiana on March 28, 1931 and was one of three children of Honor and Blanche (Beech) Wilson. Pat grew up and attended school in Bryant, IN. She met her husband of 67 years, Martin L. (Bud) DePoy, II at a local Rural Youth meeting. Bud followed the "ladies first" rule while Pat lagged behind the others to be the "last" lady in, in order to meet Bud. She stole his heart and the two were inseparable until her death.

After marriage, Pat and Bud lived in Indiana, Naples, Italy (while Bud was stationed during the Korean War), Huntsville, AL, Ontario, Canada and Milford, NH, where they raised their four children. They later moved to Cleveland, NY for many years where they were very active in Immanuel Lutheran Church in Pat had a successful, respected career in insurance, working for many years with the Holt Insurance Agency in Milford. In life she enjoyed cooking, gardening, genealogy, playing and teaching Bridge and their dog Leon.

She was predeceased by her father and mother, sisters Madonna (Donnie) Overmyer, and Kathleen (Kate) and daughter Marjorie (Marge) Trombly. She leaves behind her husband Bud, daughter Cynthia Caswell (Cindy) of New Boston, NH; son Martin (Marty) and his wife Sandra (Sam) of Washington DC, and son Samuel (Sam) and his wife Dana, of Newport Beach, CA. In addition, she leaves behind four grandsons, Nicholas Caswell, Jonathan DePoy, Andrew DePoy and Mason DePoy. Pat will long be remembered as a devoted wife, a mother who loved and cared for her children deeply and for her quick laugh and sweet smile.

At the request of the family, services were held privately. The Peabody Funeral Homes and Crematorium, 15 Birch St., Derry, NH is assisting the family with arrangements. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to The Greater Derry Humane Society (www.derryhumanesociety.com).

Exemption

town or an increase in benefits or anything. We're just making sure the numbers line up."

The new income cap is $40,800 for a single or widowed person, or if married, a combined net income of not more than $50,300 with assets not more than $137,000.

The exemptions would stay the same - $98,900 for those between 65 and 74 years old, $123,600 for those between 75 and 79 years old, and $164,800 for residents 80 years old or older. According to the town, the changes will take effect on April 1.

Council also voted 5-0 to approve $7,933 in expenditures from the Expendable Maintenance Trust Fund.

The biggest expense was $3,060 for plowing, sanding, salting and other winter maintenance activities at town buildings between Jan. 5 and Jan. 10.

The request also included $2,273 to repair the town hall dry fire sprinkler system.

A dry fire sprinkler system is one that has pressurized air in the pipes. When a fire is detected, the air pressure in the system drops and a valve releases water into the pipes to be sprayed on the flames.

According to the town, the town hall system was leaking air from the pipes. The $2,273 will pay for 11 feet of pipe, fittings, the labor costs and the costs of bringing the system back online.

The remaining $2,600 in the maintenance trust fund request will go toward the boiler repairs at the Londonderry Police department. According to the request, it was discovered after inspection that three more sections of the boiler need to be repaired.

At the next meeting, Council will hold public hearings on two articles being discussed at the Feb. 9 deliberative session - the dissolution of the Sewer Fund, and a citizen-petitioned article to allow Keno games in town.

Council will also go over the development contract for The Baldwin at Woodmont Commons, a community designed for those 62 and older slated for development as part of the Woodmont Commons multi-use development.

The next Town Council meeting will be held on Feb. 11 at 7 p.m. in the Moose Hill Council Chambers at Town Hall.

The council often produces free events to lead Londonderry residents in a deeper appreciation for how local arts can enrich our community by directly connecting with artists and performers.

Town Council Discusses Land Donation

RACHEL CISTO
LONDONDERRY TIMES

At the Feb. 4 Town Council meeting, members discussed a plot of land being donated along the Rail Trail.

The land, currently owned by a firm called Twenty Associates, sits off Liberty Drive, directly along the Londonderry Rail Trail.

The property is a three-acre plot that is about two-thirds wetland, has an overall value of about $19,000, and according to Mike Speltz, who presented the donation to Council, offers little development value because it is mostly wetlands.

Speltz said the parcel was one of four purchased by Twenty Associates in 1961, and the firm no longer wanted to own it.

The plot abuts other conservation land owned by the state and by Ever-source.

Speltz said because the land has rail trail frontage, it could be used to create additional amenities for those walking the trail, including by adding benches and interpretive signage on the upland portion of the property to help bring more people to the trail.

There was some discussion about what recreational uses to open the property for, if Council accepted the donation. Speltz said they likely would not open the property to uses like camping since that may cause issues with sanitation.

Councilman Tom Dolan said he liked the idea of creating a "rest area" along the rail trail by adding amenities like picnic tables and signage. "People tend to appreciate conservation land more if they can use it," he said.

Council voted 5-0 to accept the donation and work with the Conservation Commission to find a use for the parcel.

LHS Boys Hoops Beats Pinkerton for Fifth Straight Win

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

There is nothing better in sports than beating a rival, especially on the road. The Londonderry High School Boys' Varsity Basketball team had the chance to enjoy that feeling last Friday (Feb. 1), when they got a comfortable 63-39 win over Pinkerton Academy. That was also the fifth straight victory for Nate Stanton's team, who now holds an 8-2 record, with less than a month to play in the regular season.

Before the Pinkerton game, the Lancers hosted Merrimack High School on Wednesday, Jan. 30, and were able to pull off another wild, down to the buzzer win, one of many this season. The visitors led 12-9 at the end of the opening quarter and the game was tied at halftime, 19-19. The Lancers had a great third quarter that helped them enter the last eight minutes of the game with a 35-27 lead, but Merrimack never gave up, and with 15 seconds on the clock, it was 41-40 for the home squad. Max DesRosiers scored twice from the free throw line and Merrimack had a decent last second look, but the three-point attempt was no good, and Londonderry escaped with the win. Ethan May scored 15, Cole Keegan 12, James Buttafuoco had seven points, DesRosiers five and Jackson Cox four.

Then, the Lancers had a much easier win against the Astros. LHS started slow again, but a 10-0 run in the first quarter made it 15-8 and some great minutes by May in the second quarter were enough to open a 34-20 lead at the break. From there, the Lancers never looked back, led 48-29 after three quarters and finished the game without any trouble, for a change. May led again, this time with 19. DesRosiers scored 13, Cox 11 and Dean Haggett had 10 points. Keegan finished with four and Will Reyes, Luke Marsh and Alex Crutcher with two each.

"We needed that. We had some crazy games this year", told Stanton to the Londonderry Times after the game, "We started slow but guys stepped up and we were able to break their zone defense. It was nice to get everyone in and we need everyone prepared as we continue our second half of the season. It is always nice to play Pinkerton. The kids really wanted this one."

Max DesRosiers fights his way to a lay-up during the LHS vs. PA Friday night game last week.

Lancer Patrick Hagearty Wins State Title in Shot Put

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Senior Patrick Hagearty knew exactly what was expected out of him last Sunday, Feb. 3, at the Indoor Track and Field State Meet, held at Dartmouth College. And he did not leave any room for mistakes.

The Shot Putter, who was clearly the best in the business this season, had the only two attempts that crossed the 50 feet line in the entire competition, and was crowned as state champion for the second straight year. Hagearty was the 12th and last to throw and he opened with a 50'9" throw and took the lead quickly, before getting his best result of the day - 51'4.5".

He gained ten points for the Lancers, who finished ninth overall, with 15 points. Moments after his victory, Hagearty, who was also announced as a member of the All-State team, told the Londonderry Times: "It feels pretty good. It is nice to be back up in the 50's. I was focused, trying to do my best and beat my personal record. I did not feel any pressure as favorite. Now? Hopefully the New England's and we will see how I do there".

Londonderry's boys got four more point through the efforts of 4x800 Relay team, where Kerry Daley, Kyle Hoglund, Matthew Griffin and William Heenan finished fourth (8:40.29). Another point came from Justin Cassidy's, who took sixth place in the 300-Meter Dash (37.23).

Cassidy, who also finished tenth in the 55-

Meter Dash (6.91), missing the final by four hundredths of a second, told the Londonderry Times after his great 300 meter race: "It is my favorite race, it just takes so much energy of you. But I set my PR today, so I am very proud". In the 1,500-Meter Run, Heenan was eighth (4:20.72) and Griffin tenth (4:21.88) and in the 3,000, Hoglund finished ninth (9:41.73) and Daley tenth (9:43.28).

The Londonderry girls finished the day with four points and the 13th place overall. Those points belong to junior Gia Komst, who performed well in the Shot Put, taking the fourth place with a throw of 31'11.75". Freshman Grace McDonough ran the 1,000-Meter and finished seventh (3:13.03), just outside the points. The 4x400 Relay team of Caitlin Boufford, Cailin Borovicka, McDonough and Brynn Foster was 11th that day with a time of 4:31.59.

Lancer senior Track and Field star Patrick Hagearty put another exclamation point on his career by winning the Division I Shot Put event with a 50-plus foot launch on Sunday. Photo by Idan Vinitsky

Alpine Ski Season Winds Down For Lancer Girls and Boys Squads

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

As the Alpine Skiing gets closer to finishing off its season, last Thursday, Jan. 31, the Lancer teams competed at Gunstock Mountain against five others schools.

Facing Keene, Winnacunnet, Spaulding, Dover and the event hosts Goffstown, the Lancer skiers took second place in the girls' event with 368 points, 13 less than winners Keene, and the sixth in the boys' with 325 points.

GIRLS

The girls' team had Bryeton Evarts finishing, again, in the first place overall and getting the one hundred points for the team. Julia Deschamps finished ninth, Rylee McGrath 16th and Juliette Loiselle 19th, good for 87 points. Other finishers were Emma Donnelly (40th place), Alexandra Tufts (41st), Elizabeth Fish (42nd), Rease St. Gelais (43rd) and Erika Barnes (48th).

BOYS

The fastest Lancer among the boys was Drew Gruchot, who took the 14th place overall and received 87 points. Brandon Fish was 20th, Jimmy Fitzgibbons 31st and Evan Dugas 35th. Others to cross the finish line were Sam Palumbo (37th), Owen Gingrow (40th), Ethan Green (42nd), Tyler Kraics (44th) and Kevin Brown (47th).

The Alpine Skiing season will reach its peak for the LHS squad on Tuesday, Feb. 5, after the Londonderry Times went to print, when the Londonderry High School Varsity Alpine Skiing teams hosted their annual meet at Mt. Sunapee, for the last meet of the regular season.

Lancer Girls Basketball Team Suffers Two Tough Losses

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Girls' Varsity Basketball's aspiration of entering this year's tournament took a hit in the past week, when the team lost two more games, for the three losses in a row. The Lady Lancers' record is now 5-8 and they will probably have to keep fighting for position until the end of the regular season.

On Wednesday, Jan. 30, Londonderry dropped an away game against Merrimack, 45-36. After trailing by just four points at the end of the opening quarter (13-9), the Lancers' offense was not in synch, and helped their opponent make a run to a 26-13 lead at the half.

Londonderry improved after the teams came back from the locker rooms, but it was not enough to make the comeback and Merrimack led 36-22 after three quarters and secured the win in the last minutes. In the loss, Courtney Shay had 12 points and Michelle Marino had 10. LHS coach Nick Theos knew: "We can't rely on two or three kids to do all the scoring for us. If we can be more balanced and consistent, we will be OK".

On Friday night, the Lancers team faced an even harder challenge and although they put up a good fight, they lost 61-44 to the very strong Pinkerton Academy team, who had only lost one game this season.

Lancer senior forward Michelle Marino heads for the bucket.

The Lancers trailed 12-8 after eight minutes of basketball and 29-17 at the half. They were able to cut PA lead to four points during the third quarter (34-30), but two quick "and-ones" by the Astros were enough for the hosts to reopen that lead and get the win. Coleen Furlong scored 15 for Londonderry, Shay had 11, Marino and Paige Velie finished the game with four points each, Madison Haggett had three, Katie Sullivan, Kylee McGurn and Delaney McGurn scored two points each and Ashley Schmitt had one.

After the game Theos said, "We came close at some point, but they are a good team. We had some breakdowns defensively and they have the player of the year on their team, Brooke Kane. Consistency has been a problem for us all year; we play one good quarter and struggle the next one. It is something we are working on and it is all about practice. This group always works hard. You can question some of our decision making, but not the effort and I tell that to the girls on a daily basis. Colleen Furlong had a very nice fourth quarter. She can score and it is all about making the right decisions. Courtney Shay has been outstanding for us all year long. She has been our rock. We ask her to do everything and she does an amazing job".

The Lancers hosted Winnacunnet on Tuesday and play an away game against Dover on Friday, Feb. 8.

Lancer junior forward Coleen Furlong scored 15 to lead the team at the Friday night game against Pinkerton Academy.

Lancer Gymnastics Win Last Meet, Ready for States

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

With the only loss suffered by the Lancers at the hands of Pinkerton, they will be entering the Division 1 championship meet next weekend with a great head of steam, after winning on Thursday, Jan. 31, at their last regular season meet.

The LHS team traveled to Salem for a seven-school meet, and although coach Heather Tuden was unable to attend the meet, her kids still manage to perform well, and win with a total score of 126.7. The Bishop Guertin Cardinals finished second with 121.75.

On Vault, Ashley Griffin took second place with an 8.2. Seana Kelly won the Bars event with an 8.3, while Makenna Lord placed third in that event with a 7.55, before leaving the meet due to illness. Kelly and Griffin later tied for second on Beam, both scoring 8.0, and Sophia Hagymas placed third with a 7.8. Griffin was also placed second on Floor with an 8.8.

Kelly finished second in the All-Around with a score of 32.7 and Griffin was third, with a 31.7.

"The hardest part about it was not being able to be there", Tuden said after the meet, "My assistant coaches Rachel Blais and Emily Panacopoulos did an amazing job, bringing the girls together. They were able to keep the girls focused and pull out the win. Our main goal this week is to get the team healthy and ready for states".

The states Gymnastics season will reach its pinnacle this Saturday, Feb. 9, at Pinkerton Academy's Hackler Gym, where the Londonderry High School Varsity Gymnastics squad will compete in the State Meet, where they were crowned as winners in 2016 and finished second in 2017 and 2018.

Londonderry Hockey Team Splits with Two Home Games

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

With a loss and a win in their two home games last week, the Londonderry High School Varsity Ice Hockey team now holds a 5-7-1 record, as they keep fighting for position with five more games left in the regular season.

The Lancers were not able to stop Exeter on Wednesday, Jan. 30, at the Tri-Town Ice Arena, losing 6-1. The visitors scored once in the first period and twice more in the second, to build a 3-0 lead. They put the final touches on their win in the last 15 minutes, with Cole Ferguson scoring the LHS sole goal, thanks to an assist by Anthony Federico. It was career win 500 for Exeter's coach, Jim Tufts, on his 42nd year as the Blue Hawks coach.

The Lancers were able to quickly recover on Saturday, Feb. 2, with a 4-1 home victory over Nashua South. First period goals were scored by Brandon Savage (assisted by Mathew Naso and Noah Malcolm) and Federico (with a Nicolas Pitarys and Zachary Rheault assist). Londonderry entered the final period still up 2-0, and they were able to find the net two more times. First it was Ferguson, thanks to Pitarys' second assist of the game and then Drew Nutter, with Londonderry's final goal of the game.

The team will travel to Nashua this weekend, to play North at the Conway Arena, Saturday, Feb. 9, puck drops at 3:40 p.m.

Lancer Wrestling Squad Sweep at Alvirne Meet in Hudson

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Last week, the Londonderry High School's Varsity Wrestling team was able to sweep a dual meet against the Broncos at Alvirne High School, winning each of the five matches held in the meet. Sean Wilson, 120 lbs, Aiden O'Loughlin, 126, Brandon Drake, 132, Dylan Barnes, 145 and Vincent DelSignore, 170, all pinned their Bronco opponents. The final score at the meet was 72-12, thanks to some forfeits by both sides.

The Lancers then headed to Connecticut to participate in the New Fairfield Duels, on Saturday, Feb. 2, and won one of their four match-ups.

Londonderry beat Woodbury, Connecticut's Nonnewaug High School 48-30. Johnny

McKinnon at 152 pinned his rival, which was all the Lancers needed for the victory in that meet, most other wins came by way of forfeit.

The team lost 52-27 to Westhill High School from Stamford, Conn., with three points coming from DelSignore, who won his 170 lbs match 4-2, and the other points coming thanks to forfeits. Then, The Lancers got two individual wins against Simsbury, one by Josh Bean (182) and the other by Nicholas Walter (220), but lost the dual 71-6. In the 51-30 loss to hosts New Fairfield, wins came from Drake (132), McKinnon (152), Bean (182), Justin Miller (195) and Walter (220), all by pins.

The Lancer Wrestling team hosted its final meet of the season on Wednesday, Feb. 6, against Nashua South where they will be honoring the nine seniors on the squad, after the Londonderry Times went to print. They will then make their preparations for the Division I Championships on Feb. 16 which they will be hosting again this year.

Focus On Your Heart's Health For February This Year

MELISSA BETH RUIZ
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The short month of February is dedicated to cardiovascular health in the form of American Heart Month. These 28-29 days are set aside each year with the hope of educating and promoting awareness of heart disease.

According to the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute, heart disease is the leading cause of death in the United States. Heart disease is a condition in which a waxy substance called plaque builds up inside of the coronary arteries, which are responsible for delivering oxygen-rich blood to the heart muscle.

This buildup of plaque in the arteries is called atherosclerosis, and can occur over many years. Over time, this plaque can harden or rupture. Hardened plaque causes the arteries to narrow, reducing the flow of oxygen-rich blood to the heart. If it ruptures, a blood clot can form on its surface, which can mostly or completely block blood flow through an artery.

When the flow of oxygenated blood to the heart is reduced or blocked, this can cause angina or even a heart attack.

Angina is chest pain or discomfort, which may feel like a pressure or squeezing in the chest, and can even feel like indigestion. This pain can also radiate into the shoulders, arms, neck, jaw, or back.

When the flow of oxygen-rich blood is cut off from a section of heart muscle, a heart attack can occur. If this blood flow is not restored quickly, this section of heart muscle will begin to die. If not treated promptly, a heart attack can lead to serious health problems and even death.

The American Heart Association lists the most common heart attack warning signs as chest pain or discomfort, lightheadedness, nausea, or vomiting, jaw, neck, or back pain, discomfort or pain in the arm or shoulder, and shortness of breath. Furthermore, the AHA states that symptoms can vary between men and women, as women are somewhat more likely than men to experience the shortness of breath, nausea/vomiting, and back or jaw pain symptoms.

The AHA urges those who suspect they or someone they know may be experiencing symptoms of a heart attack to call 911 immediately so that an experienced emergency specialist services team can begin treatment and fast transport to the emergency room. According to the AHA, patients with chest pain who arrive via ambulance typically receive faster treatment in the hospital.

If a heart attack or angina never occurs, but excessive plaque buildup persists, it can weaken the heart muscle and lead to heart failure and arrhythmia.

Heart failure means that the heart is not able to pump enough blood to meet the body's needs, and arrhythmia affects the rate or rhythm of the heartbeat - the action which pumps blood throughout the body.

The thought of heart disease and other cardiovascular ailments is frightening, but simple lifestyle changes go a long way in preventing such conditions from developing.

The American Heart Association's "Healthy For Good" campaign encourages those at risk for developing heart problems to make three lifestyle changes - Eat Smart, Move More, and Be Well.

Making good choices when it comes to food can make a huge difference in heart health. Replacing saturated fats with unsaturated fats, found in fish, nuts, avocado, and olive oil, is a big step towards prevention. These unsaturated fats can help to lower cholesterol and triglyceride levels, along with providing the body with essential nutrients, says the AHA. The AHA also emphasizes limiting trans fat, sodium, and refined sugars and the importance of eating a healthy, balanced diet.

Getting more exercise is one of the best steps (literally and figuratively) in preventing future heart ailments. Regular physical activity helps with weight maintenance, which reduces a person's risk of heart disease. Exercise can be obtained throughout the day by making simple changes, such as parking farther away, taking the stairs, etc.

Finally, the AHA stressed the importance of "Being Well" by taking actions such as getting proper sleep, practicing mindfulness, managing stress, stopping the use of tobacco and limiting alcohol, connecting socially, etc. All of these things keep the mind and body healthy, which in turn creates a healthy heart.

This February, along with the traditional assortment of chocolates in a heart-shaped box, give your Valentine and yourself the gift of a healthy heart through heart health awareness.

For further information and resources on heart diseases and heart health, visit the American Heart Association at www.heart.org, and the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute at nhlbi.nih.gov.

Fish Fry-Days Getting Started Soon

MELISSA BETH RUIZ
LONDONDERRY TIMES

What started as a mission to help widows and orphans has grown over the past century or so, thanks to a group called the Knights of Columbus.

The Knights of Columbus Council 3023 will be holding a "Lenten Fish Fry" dinner the Fridays of March 8, March 15, March 29, April 5, and April 12. Dinner will be served from 5 - 7 p.m. at the St. Thomas Aquinas Church in Derry.

Dinner will consist of fried haddock with french fries, cole slaw, and tartar sauce, with fish sticks and macaroni and cheese being offered for children.

The Knights of Columbus organization was founded in the late 1800's in New Haven, Connecticut by Father Michael McGivney of St. Mary's Church. Through this organization, the men of the Parish would seek out and help meet the needs of widows and orphans all over. Today, the Knights support a variety of causes that help to better their communities through monies raised by their dinners and other fundraisers.

"All money goes into our charity account and is one way or another given back to the community," said Council 3023 Knight, Steve Emanuelli.

Council 3023 helps support the National Kidney Foundation, the Special Olympics, and the people of the community through all of their various fund-raising endeavors.

Emanuelli recounted one example in which the Knights came to the aid of a young student at the St. Thomas Aquinas School. This young girl was at risk for not being able to stay in school due to blindness, as she required the use of an aide to continue her studies, and her family was having difficulty paying for this assistance.

Thanks to the Knights of Columbus, the family was able to afford help for their daughter, and she was able to continue with her classes.

Aside from this year's Fish Fry, the Knights of Columbus also raise money through Tootsie Roll Drives in the Fall, selling barbecue food at Derryfest, and other dinners throughout the year.

Emanuelli stated that the Knights' fundraisers also help to support the food pantry right at St. Thomas Aquinas church.

"We probably donate close to three thousand (dollars) a year, if not more," said Emanuelli. "We go out and buy food to stock the shelves of the pantry, as well as donate time at the pantry."

The Knights of Columbus are offering a fish themed dinner during the Fridays of Lent, the Catholic observance which takes place for the 40 days between Ash Wednesday and Easter. These 40 days represent the days that Christ spent in the desert before he started his missionary work, said Emanuelli, and is a time of penance, reflection, prayer, and good works.

During Lent, those in the Catholic faith are to abstain from eating any meat as a way of offering penance, but are permitted to eat fish on Fridays, as their flesh is not considered "meat" in the sense that they are not warm-blooded land creatures, according to a source from catholicism.org.

Regardless of faith, all of the community is welcome to participate in the Knights of Columbus Fish Fry.

For more information on the Knights of Columbus Council 3023 and for a list of their other upcoming events, visit www.kofc3023.org.
