Work Begins on Phase Five of Rail Trail Project

Work on Phase 5 of the Rail Trail in Londonderry began last week.

The on-going project has been going on since 2014, when the first phase was opened to the public and the organization that is operating the project in Londonderry, Trail-ways, adds phases whenever it can be afforded. The grand scheme, according to Trailways member Pollyann Winslow, is for 106-miles of rail trail to go from Lebanon N.H. to Salem, Mass.

Each town is in charge of its own part of the trail and Trailways, the local volunteer organization, had a

Mammoth Road Lot Owner Claims Pavement Trouble After Roadwork

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Steve Trefethen, the owner of a property at 516 Mammoth Road, had a rather length discussion with Town Council members and town officials during the Aug. 19 Town Council meeting, regarding an issue with a pavement work he had recently made on his property, just before the town did some roadwork there.

Trefethen said he had met with Town Manager Kevin Smith, who invited him to take a look at the masterplan for ideas for property developments. He said that his lot on Mammoth Road has different businesses operating in it and is about 380 feet long. He has been experiencing a problem with his parking area on the front side of the lot, since trucks use its width to turn around, tearing up the paving as they do so, according to Trefethen. He added that he was even able to obtain photos and a video of one of the trucks and contacted the driver's company.

The lot owner informed the Town Council that several months ago he decided to have an eight-foot strip, all the way down Mammoth Road, paved on his property. Since some trucks turn around on it at night, when there is no one there to stop them. Trefethen explained that he was hoping that after this fix, the trucks will at least not tear up the pavement anymore.

He said that 250 feet had been paved and the driveway was sealed, but early in August, shortly after the job was done, the town came in and started doing roadwork on that strip of Mammoth Rd., tearing the paving, including everything that was just put in. Trefethen said that the work he did cost him $8,000 and claimed that neither he nor the tenants on 516 Mammoth Rd. received any kind of notice before the town's work has begun.

The town did publish on its website on Aug. 1 that Mammoth Rd. will be closed later that day due to road reconstruction and that it will be open

Member of the Hall of Fame Committee at Londonderry High School have announced eleven new members to the school's Hall of Fame. The eleven inductees of the Class of 2019 will be honored at an induction ceremony and banquet scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 28, in the Londonderry High School Cafeteria starting at 6 p.m.

The Londonderry High School Hall of Fame, established in 1986, recognizes students, faculty, staff, administrators, and community members that have brought recognition to themselves and Londonderry High School through their efforts both during and after their time at the Londonderry High School.

The Hall of Fame was recently revived in 2016 when the first class in 20 years was inducted.

"This year's class of inductees into the Londonderry High School Hall of Fame is incredibly deserving of enshrinement," remarked Principal Jason Parent. "With their accomplishments before, during and after their time at Londonderry High School, these inductees set an example for what can be accomplished as part of the LHS community. We congratulate them all on their selections to the Hall of Fame."

Apple Picking Season Gets Off to Late Start at Local Orchards

The local apple crop is a bit late this year because of a slow spring, but pickers at Mack's Apple Orchards have been busy gathering some of the earlier varieties such as Zesters, shown in picture. The hired pickers have also been doing some pruning on the trees to allow sun to ripen the apple crop. The U-pick stands will be open soon.

Lieutenant Gordon Joudrey Retires from the Fire Department After 39 Years

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

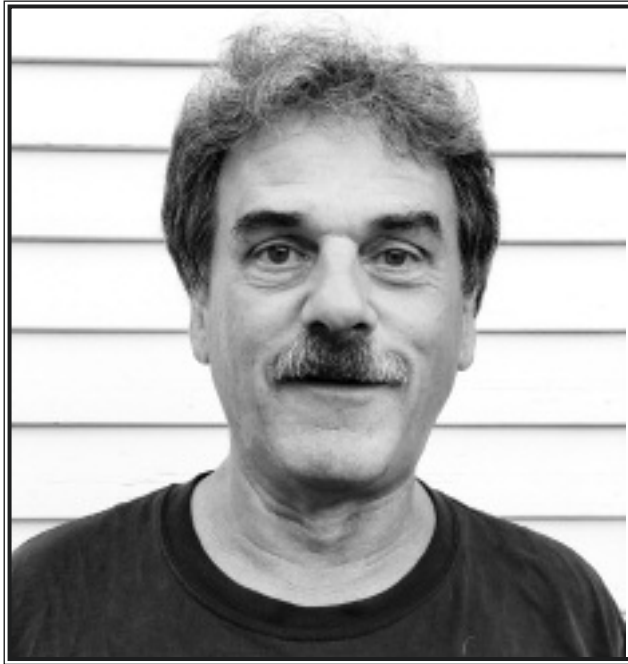

Lieutenant Gordon Joudrey retired on Jul. 31 from the Londonderry Fire Department after 39 years of service. "It was just enough for me. 39 years is a long time, for everything in life", he explains. "It's just me and the wife in our house now. The kids grew up and left, so this was the right time for me."

The department's Central Station on Mammoth Rd., in front of the high school, is in its final stages of a massive renovations project, but Joudrey remembers times when the building was brand new. Central Station was opened on 1978, just two years before he joined the Fire Department. Back then, there were only about 15 people working full time and Joudrey was part of the "Call Department". The difference?

"There used to be around 600-700 calls every year. Now there are 4,000."

He found himself joining the department in May 1980 kind of by mistake, as he explains: "I studied Automotive Technology in college and never thought about being in the Fire Department." That was despite the fact that his father, grandfather and uncle were all firefighters. "On my first day back home in Londonderry after college there was a big forest fire in Litchfield's Town Forest", he recalls.

Joudrey went there with a friend; "just to see what was happening" and the local Fire Department Chief from Litchfield saw them and asked if they could help. They agreed and worked the entire day, helping the firefighters get control over the situation. "A few days later, I got a call from the Londonderry Fire Department. They told me that the state had some money for me, for my work that day. I didn't really care about that money, but I went to pick it up."

When he was there, being done there: "We would not be able to solve all the drainage problems there", he said, explaining that the road was not fixed for a long time. He promised Trefethen that the new pavement, following the work, will be "ten times better" than what he just paid $8,000 for.

Trefethen ended his part of the discussion by saying that every couple of days, he has to go to the parking lot and sweep the rocks that the turning trucks leave behind. He said that since the town made the cut on the pavement, there is nothing holding the road and the trucks crush the rocks into the pavement, creating holes and destroying ment, Joudrey has seen everything, from gasoline tanks that rolled over, to the big fire in Woodmont that caused five buildings to burn, multiple small plane crashes and "many other things that we didn't want but had to see", he said.

One of the things he saw was a horse that fell into a local well. It happened on the northern side of the town, where Stonyfield Farm stands these days. "There was a cover on the well, but over the night, the horse got on it and I guess it wasn't strong enough, so he fell inside", Joudrey tells this amazing story. "Early in the morning, his owner was looking for the horse and found it on the bottom of the well. It turned out the well was too full, so the poor thing didn't even reach the bottom to stand there. He was just in the water for the entire night."

First, they dried up the well, to let the horse stand on his feet. Then, they brought a tow truck and tried to lift the animal out, but it was too painful for the horse. They stopped and called a veterinarian, who gave the horse something to calm him down. Finally, someone suggested to fill the well with water again, so the horse could float closer to the ground, so they did that and lifted the horse for the final 10-15 feet. "The horse was perfectly fine after that." Joudrey laughs, "it took us a whole day".

His final day with the department was of course, very emotional. "It was the last day of the month, so I was only allowed to stay half-shift, until midnight. The chief told me I could leave whenever I wanted, but I told him I want to stay. They did a big cookout for me and everyone came and wished me well, which was very nice."

At 6 p.m., he was given a ride home on Engine 1, his truck: "We got to my house and the entire yard was filled with people, the whole crew from the Fire Department. It was great. I still have to take everything in, it still doesn't feel real."

He plans on working part time as a mechanic, his original profession from school and says: "I just want to thank everyone for 39 wonderful years. I am happy I was able to help some locals. If you are an adrenaline junky, the Fire Department is definitely something that you should check out when you finish studying."

only for local traffic. It also asked the public to use two detours to get to Hall Rd. and Grenier Field Rd.

Janusz Czyzowski, the town's Director of Public Works and Engineering then approached Trefethen and the Town Council members and said that he personally went to the post office to send the notice in advance to Trefethen's company and that he was also on the site and spoke to the operators of the garage there, explaining to them the construction plan and the access roads.

Czyzowski added that he drove on that road several times before construction started and believed that the work that was done there by Trefethen would not last for too long. He then continued to show pictures he took of the road before the town started working on it and told Trefethen: "We did not drive on the parking lot and did not damage it after the paving." The photos show the town's equipment on the roadside and not on the parking lot and the cut the town made in the pavement. "Everything is falling apart there and it was difficult to find a spot to cut", said Czyzowski.

The Director told the council members about the kind of work that is

Never Forget

Seventeen years. This Wednesday marks the day since the hijacking of four planes changed the lives of every American. This year it falls on Patriots Day.

As the generation that remembers what they were doing when they heard of the attack on Pearl Harbor is leaving us. Those of us who remember where we were when we heard that President Kennedy had been shot are getting on in years. But most Americans easily recall what we were doing on that ordinary day when almost everything we took for granted was lost.

Most of us will hold forever the images of the twin towers collapsing on themselves and on those trapped within. Most of us still marvel at the bravery of the firefighters and police and ordinary citizens who became unplanned participants in a disaster of epic proportions.

But most of us no longer think about the many emergency personnel who responded to the collapsed towers and who are ill some still not getting treatment because insurance companies fail to link their illness to the poisons in the air at the tower site. And most of us don't spend a lot of time thinking about the security of our borders not the demonized undocumented workers from Mexico, but cargo containers uninspected in our largest ports.

In the wake of the Sept. 11 tragedy, Americans came together. Political party, religion, personality - all disappeared, as strangers become neighbors and offered help and comfort in the midst of the questions that no one can still answer - why, how come, how is this possible.

Unity was the operative word after Sept. 11, 2001. Still we are a nation that is bitterly disunited and divided.

A lot of things have change over the years, and a lot remain the same. We understood the importance of coming together as one nation. We must remember that today.

Unity is not a sign of weakness. No firefighter asked whether the workers on the top floors of the towers were Republican or Democrat, liberal or conservative, Arab or Jew. None of that mattered. Human beings rushed into the unknown to help out other human beings. They were doing their jobs. And they were emblematic of the humanity we all share - and the opposite of the lack of humanity exhibited by the terrorists.

No one wants to remember tragedy, but this year, on Sept. 11, we urge you to think about what we lost that day, and what is important for us to remember in the future.

Senior Housing in Town NOT Affordable

To the editor,

Back in December 2018 both state and local government officials gave themselves a pat on the back for bringing forth the much needed "low income elderly" housing to Londonderry. I can state emphatically, from firsthand personal experience, that it does not pertain to Sanborn Crossing apartment complex under current construction on Sanborn Road by Steven Lewis, Inc. based in Atkinson, New Hampshire.

I recently submitted the required financially detailed preliminary rental application required by Lewis Builders to reserve an apartment at Sanborn Crossing on behalf of my 78-year-old mother.

According to Lewis, my mother's annual income (which consists of a very modest social security and pension benefit) disqualifies her from renting the quoted $1,225 or $1,450 per month rent for a one or two-bedroom units respectively at his new property being built on a 15 acre plot of land purchased by Lewis for $10 by the Town of Londonderry.

How ironic that I was informed by Lewis in a written response that they would accept my mother's rental application if I or another family member submitted to them in writing that WE would agree to subsidize her rent payment obligation if so required. Based upon Lewis' own calculations, my mother should not be paying more than $762.71 per month in rent based upon Lewis' tenant selection policy.

Based upon this experience, affordable rental housing in Londonderry for fixed low-income elderly folks whose income is slightly above the poverty level does NOT exist.

The rental units being constructed on Sanborn Road with government financial assistance will do very little to alleviate the affordable housing crisis facing low income seniors in southern New Hampshire.

This new rental community needs to be reclassified for what it really is - workforce housing.

The quoted rents coupled with the income requirements are not going to assist those low fixed income elderly who crucially need subsidized rental housing in Londonderry.

Respectfully,
Lee Jeffers
Londonderry

Please Don't Forget Military Families

To the editor,

Just a brief letter to remind everyone that there are partners in the defense of America, that frequently do not get recognized. I am talking about the military families that stand with our active duty and veteran troops.

They are there when a soldier, sailor, or airman is deployed, maintaining the family, being both parents, all the while living with the uncertainty of their spouse's deployment. When the service member returns, they must readjust the family dynamics, only to repeat the process when they are deployed again. This is hard on the family and as every veteran knows the biggest family or homeowner emergencies will occur while they are away and unreachable.

So, if you know a family member of a service member or veteran, it's ok to thank them too. It's also ok to see how they are doing and offer any help you can. This also applies after the service member has left the service. Sometimes there are wounds we can not see, but which are very real. Reintegrating into civilian society can sometimes be a challenge.

About 20 veterans a day across the country take their own lives, and veterans accounted for 14 percent of all adult suicide deaths in the U.S. in 2016, even though only 8 percent of the country's population has served in the military. Anything we can do to reduce this number is important. Help is available through a Veteran's Crisis Line 1-800- 273-8255.

Couple Enjoying Position and Community as New Leaders of Salvation Army

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Two months after Lt. Katie Mayes left the Greater Derry Salvation Army and was transferred to Sidney, Ohio, the branch's new officers, Sojourney and Tyler Adcox are enjoying every moment in their new community.

They arrived to Derry on Jul. 1, the day after Mayes left town and since then have been very busy: "Our hope is to increase the family ministries here in town", says Tyler in a phone interview. "We noticed that there is a need to do this and we want to reach out to the families. It is important to us that people will know that kids are welcomed here and that there is no need to keep them quiet. Our kids are very loud."

The couple moved into town with Henry, almost three years old and Samuel, who was born seven months ago: "The community here was very welcoming, great and lovely", says Sojourney. "We feel really safe here and there is always something going on for the kids. So many activities."

She grew up in the suburbs of Philadelphia, one of nine siblings: "I always attended the Nazarene Church and that led me to Eastern Nazarene College. I studied Elementary Education, went back home after graduation and worked at a preschool."

She also met Tyler during her college days and they were married in Ohio, five years ago and moved to New York, to study for two years at The Salvation Army College for Officer Training, where they had religion classes, bible classes, Christmas Kettles and more. Upon graduating from that college, they became officers of the Salvation Army and were placed in Derry.

They have never lived in New Hampshire before, but for Tyler, moving here was a blessing: "I grew up in a small town in Maine and Derry kind of reminds me that place. It is very comforting for me to be in a small town again. It is perfect for our family and exactly what we have been looking for."

In May, shortly before

New officers at the Greater Derry Salvation Army, Tyler and Sojourney Adcox, display some of the many back packs collected during a recent campaign.

Mayes left and the Adcox family arrived, the Salvation Army was informed by the state that the property they have recently purchased after trying to do so for many years will be seized for a project on Exit 4A on I-93. Nothing happened yet, but Tyler and Sojourney know that this is something that they will have to deal with at some point. Tyler says: "There are a lot of things in the air with 4A right now, but eventually we will have to find a new building for all our activities and worship services. It is in the future and we don't know how much in the future or how fast will it happen, so this is a challenge."

In the meantime, they are organizing this year's Christmas Kettles operation and are making sure they have enough manpower organized. They are also leading the 10th annual Chili Chowder Cook-off on Sep. 28 and are inviting people who wish to cook or have a booth: "We are looking for vendors to help make this event a success", says Tyler. The cook-off will be held at MacGregor Park in Derry between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. and people who want to either cook or have a booth can stop at the Salvation Army's offices at 18 Folsom Rd. and pick up a registration packet.

The Salvation Army recently had the "Back Pack program", where the Police Department, Fire Department and other donated essential products for kids who are going back to school these days. The kids received a full back pack for the school year.

Getting Outdoors Safely During Hunting Season

MIKE BYERLY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Fall is upon us and it is a wonderful season to get out in the woods to walk or bike. The mosquitoes are disappearing, the temperature is cooler and soon the leaves will be changing colors.

Fall is also one of the busiest hunting seasons in New Hampshire and some conservation properties that host trail networks are also good areas for hunting. Some people choose not to go into the woods during hunting season for fear of being accidentally shot; however, many others continue hiking following some basic guidelines to stay safe.

Here's what you need to know to hike safely this Fall. First, learn about timing of the allowable hunting season for various species. While there is hunting at various points all throughout the year for a variety of animals, the ones that apply most in southern New Hampshire are deer, turkey and pheasant.

The archery season for deer and turkey runs from Sept. 15 through Dec. 15. A lot more people hunt with guns than bows, so the risk is lower than during firearms season, which for deer runs from Nov. 2 to Dec. 8 and for turkey from Oct. 14-20. For more details about the hunting season, check out the NH Fish and Game website.

To avoid you or your dog being mistaken for a deer or other animal, wear bright colors, ideally blaze orange. If you don't have blaze orange, then use another bright color. Definitely avoid earth tones.

And get some color on your dog. Speaking of dogs, it is best to leash them during hunting season even if at other times you let them run off leash.

The next tip is to stay on established trails. People on hiking trails can spook wildlife, so hunters generally stick to deeper, quieter woods. Stick to well-used trails for safety.

Next, if possible, avoid hiking at dusk and dawn. It is better to go during the middle part of the day. Deer and hunters are most active at dusk and dawn. Hiking at midday will reduce your chances of encountering hunters.

Lastly, make noise

while hiking to make your presence known to hunters, and to differentiate yourself from the sounds made by animals. You can talk, whistle, sing or shout out periodically. When you hike with dogs, place bells on their collars.

Another strategy is to walk on properties where hunting is forbidden by town ordinance. In Londonderry, hunting is prohibited at the Kendal Pond Conservation Area, the Town Center Trails and Adams Pond/Moose Hill Orchards. Hunting is permitted at other areas including the very popular Musquash Conservation Area and Bockes-Ingersoll Forest.

Derry Conservation Commission Updates Residents on Hazardous Collection

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Conservation Commission met on Aug. 26 for one of their regular meetings. James Degnan, Commission Chair, communicated that the commission wants the public to know about the upcoming household hazardous collection day logistics.

Degnan said, "There are two of these household hazardous collection days each year. For the second one of this year, Derry residents will be allowed to go to Londonderry on Nov. 23, - so this is close to Thanksgiving holiday - from 9 a.m. to noon. The location is behind the central fire station in Londonderry at Nelson Fields off of Sargent Rd. If you have any questions about what you can or cannot bring, the e-mail address is Rkerry@LondonderryNH.org or Derry residents may call the Department of Public Works in Londonderry at 432-1100 x137."

Residents should mark their calendars for this event as there are only two times during the year that household hazardous waste is collected in Derry and Londonderry. The towns of Derry and Londonderry have a reciprocal partnership regarding household hazardous waste collection. Household hazardous waste collection days are held in each town and are open to residents of both towns. They are held in May of each year in Derry at West Running Brook Middle School and at Nelson Fields in Londonderry in the Fall.

It can be complicated to know exactly what hazardous waste can be collected, in addition to where to bring it, and when to bring it there. And Derry residents are reminded not to throw away toxic products with their regular trash! Putting toxic waste in the trash may cause fires, while at the landfill they contaminate soil and groundwater. The idea is to bring toxic products to fall hazardous collection area at Nelson Fields - off Sargent Rd. - during the collection times of 9 a.m. to noon on Nov. 23.

Hazardous products from the yard that are acceptable to bring include fertilizers with pesticides, fungicides, insect sprays, lighter fluids, pest strips and traps, pesticides, poisons and pool chemicals. Residents can also dispose of stuff from the garage including acids, anti-freeze, car waxes and polish, creosote, driveway sealer, flea powder, gasoline, radiator flush, and roofing tar.

Products that are acceptable to bring from the house include bathroom cleaners, disinfectants, furniture polish, metal polish, mothballs, oven cleaner, photo chemicals, rug cleaners, and thermometers.

Finally from the workbench the collection pile will accept brush cleaners, corrosives, oil based paint and stain, rust preventatives, solvents, turpentine, wood preservatives, and would strippers.

The Derry and Londonderry Department of Public Works prohibit the disposal of batteries, latex paints, explosives, radioactive substances, infectious waste, and no asbestos on this hazardous disposal waste day.

Alkaline batteries produced since 1996 are safe to dispose of in the household trash but can also be recycled. The Rechargeable Battery Recycling Corporation is a non-profit organization that collects these and other kinds of batteries at no charge to consumers. New Hampshire residents with explosives that are no longer wanted are recommended to contact New Hampshire State Police.

More information about those items is available from the New Hampshire Department of Environmental Services (NHDES) and from the town's public works department.

Up-to-date information about hazardous waste disposal is also available from the NHDES website at www.des.nh.gov/index.htm. This website contains an A to Z listing of environmental topics of concern to New Hampshire residents, including the responsible way to dispose of sharps (needles) used by people with certain medical conditions. If a hypodermic needle of unknown origin is found, Derry Police advise that it not be touched and that you call their dispatch number at (603) 845-5601. A police officer will retrieve the syringe and dispose of it properly.

There are some useful tips about dealing with toxic products to consider. Follow and use the safety instructions on the label and give product leftovers to friends and neighbors if they might use them. Keep the product intact in its original container and do not mix toxic products. Be sure to use toxic products in well-ventilated areas while keeping them away from heat, sparks and flames

NH DHHS Identifies First Horse with Eastern Equine Encephalitis

The New Hampshire Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) announced that a horse from Northwood has been identified with the Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE) virus infection. This is the first finding of EEE in a horse this year, though a mosquito batch from Pelham tested positive for EEE two weeks ago.

The arboviral risk level for the town of Northwood will be increased to high. The surrounding towns of Barnstead, Barrington, Deerfield, Epsom, Nottingham, Pittsfield, and Strafford will increase from low to moderate.

"We have had multiple positive tests for mosquito-transmitted viruses already this season in New Hampshire, and risk for human infection is likely to increase through the rest of the summer and fall," said Dr. Benjamin Chan, NH State Epidemiologist. "Eastern Equine Encephalitis in particular, can cause serious brain infection and neurologic disease. With the holiday weekend approaching, we want people to enjoy outdoor activities, but it is critical for residents and visitors to take steps to prevent mosquito bites while outdoors, including using an effective repellent against mosquitoes, avoiding the outdoors from dusk to dawn when mosquitos are most active, and wearing long pants and sleeves to cover exposed skin."

EEE is one of three mosquito-transmitted diseases present in New Hampshire, including West Nile Virus (WNV) and Jamestown Canyon virus (JCV), and was first identified in the State in August of 2004. Since 2004, there have been 15 human infections with EEE identified in NH; the last human case of EEE in NH was in 2014, when there were three cases. There have been no EEE infections identified yet this season in humans.

Any horse that resides in or travels to New Hampshire during mosquito season is at risk of becoming infected with EEE, WNV or JCV. Because of this risk, it is recommended that horse owners consult with their veterinarians to discuss appropriate vaccination schedules based on their risk factors.

Symptoms of EEE virus usually appear 4 to 10 days after being bitten by a mosquito carrying the EEE virus. People who get sick from EEE can develop a flu-like illness, including fever, headache, weakness, and muscle and joint pains. A more serious central nervous system infection can develop such as meningitis and encephalitis (inflammation of the brain). EEE typically causes a more serious disease than WNV and carries a high mortality rate for those who contract the serious encephalitic form of the illness.

Prevention Guidelines

1. Eliminate standing water and other mosquito breeding locations. In warm weather, mosquitoes can breed in any puddle that lasts more than 4 days!
 - Remove old tires from your property.
 - Dispose of tin cans, plastic containers, ceramic pots, or other containers. Don't overlook containers that have become overgrown by aquatic vegetation.
 - Drill holes in the bottom of recycling contain-

- Make sure roof gutters are clean and draining properly.
 - Clean and chlorinate swimming pools and hot tubs. If not in use, keep empty and covered and keep covers free of standing water.
 - Aerate garden ponds or stock them with fish.
 - Turn over wheelbarrows and change water in birdbaths at least twice weekly.
 - Turn over plastic wading pools when not in use.
 - Remind or help neighbors to eliminate breeding sites on their properties.
2. Be aware of where mosquitoes live and breed and keep them from entering your home.
 - Mosquitoes lay their eggs in standing water. Weeds, tall grass, and bushes provide an outdoor home for adult mosquitoes, including several species commonly associated with West Nile virus and Eastern Equine Encephalitis.

- Mosquitoes can enter homes through unscreened windows or doors, or broken screens. Make sure that doors and windows have tight-fitting screens. Repair or replace all screens in your home that have tears or holes.
- Resting mosquitoes can often be flushed from indoor resting sites by using sweeping motions under beds, behind bedside tables etc. and once in flight, exterminated prior to sleeping at night.
- 3. Protect yourself from mosquito bites.
 - If outside during evening, nighttime, and dawn hours when mosquitoes are most active and likely to bite, children and adults should wear protective clothing such as long pants, long-sleeved shirts, and socks.

- Consider the use of an effective insect repellent, such as one containing DEET. A repellent containing 30% or less DEET (N,N-diethyl-methyl-metaltoluamide) for children and adults. Use DEET according to the manufacturer's directions. Children should not apply DEET to themselves. Repellents that contain Picaridin, para-menthane-diol or oil of lemon eucalyptus have also been determined to be effective.
- Vitamin B, ultrasonic devices, incense, and bug zappers have not been shown to be effective in preventing mosquito bites.

For more information on Eastern Equine Encephalitis or West Nile Virus, visit the DHHS Website at www.dhhs.nh.gov/dphs/cdcs/arboviral/.

Greater Derry's Got Talent at the Opera House

MACK LEATHURBY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Greater Derry's Got Talent (GDGT) is getting ready to "rock" the Derry Opera House with some interesting acts and a fun show on Sept. 15, at 1 p.m., doors will open at 12:30 p.m.

The auditions for this talent contest have already been held, with 19 acts qualified for the talent show finale. There are 2 separate talent categories and the judges will select first and second place winners from these two categories. The adult group is comprised of talent that is 16 years old and older and the youth category is for those 15 years old and under.

There are a variety of different acts ready for the GDGT finale — with talent ages ranging from 7 years old to 81 years old. Auditions brought out many performers that should be entertaining for the finale. For example, the oldest talent in the competition may attract votes with a rousing vaudevillian style music piece that will feature an attention-grabbing piano and singing performance and the youngest talent has a really cute routine for the audience to consider.

The producers of the show — Mark Berglund and Mary McCarthy Hoe-

gan — have been busy behind the scenes staging the final showcase set ups and supporting auditions that took place the last week of August at the Dance Progressions studio in Londonderry.

The contest has attracted two celebrity Master of Ceremonies (MCs) from Derry for the show. Miss Greater Derry, Morgan Torre and Miss Greater Derry Outstanding Teen, Kaila Lumpkin will be welcoming and introducing the talent act performances.

A panel of three judges that include Kayla Nelson, Dale Byrd and myself, Mack Leathurby will select the winners of the adult and youth categories.

All the Greater Derry's Got Talent winners will be invited to perform on the main stage at Derryfest the following week — Saturday, Sept. 21. The top prize for both the adult and youth categories is $100 and the runner up will win $50. One additional act will be selected using audience votes with an audience pick prize of $50.

Tickets are available at the door of the Opera House at $15 for adults — $10 for students and seniors. Tickets are free for kids 5 years old and under.

Londonderry Clergy Association Hosts Day of Service

Volunteers from multiple churches help spread mulch at the LYSA Fields

On Sunday, Aug. 18 as a part of the Old Home Celebration, the Londonderry Clergy Association sponsored a Day of Service for the community of Londonderry.

Over 80 volunteers from Londonderry Christian Church, Orchard

Christian Fellowship, St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Londonderry United Methodist Church and Londonderry Presbyterian Church served around Londonderry to give back to the town.

The volunteers served by weeding and spreading mulch for the Londonderry

Soccer Club at the soccer fields; weed whacking, cleaning out dugouts and rebuilding the stairs at the Hale Field Press Box for the Londonderry Athletic Field Association; painting, trimming hedges and washing windows at St. Gianna's Place; packing backpacks with food for End 68 Hours of Hunger; weeding and trimming bushes at the Manse at Londonderry Presbyterian Church; and weeding and trimming trees at a residence in Londonderry.

The volunteers gathered for prayer and final instructions at 1 p.m. at the Town Common and then headed out to serve in their crews for the rest of the afternoon.

Following the afternoon of service, the crews came back to the Town Common for a cookout of burgers and hot dogs organized by Orchard Christian Fellowship and prepared by volunteers. While eating, the volunteers celebrated the Day of Service with a concert performed by members of the music teams from some of the churches.

A group from Londonderry Presbyterian Church started the concert off, followed by a warrant on the 2019 March ballot and successfully asked the people of Londonderry to approve the use of $600,000 from the undersigned fund balance for construction of Phases 5 and 6. It was the third time Trailways was on the ballot and the third time the organization's request passed.

Out of the $600,000, Winslow says that $200,000 will be used to receive a $1 million grant from the state. When the organization applies for a state grant, it is asked to participate with some amount and this is what the state wanted. Winslow says that the grant was specified for Phase 6, a phase that will connect in the airport area between the trails of Manchester and Londonderry, thus allowing much more people to use it. $200,000 more will be used in addition to the state grant for Phase 6 and $200,000 went to the construction of phase 5 (In addition to $225,000 on-hand raised by Trail-ways).

The organization plans on opening Phase 5, which will be about 1 mile long and start near the senior center in the northern part of town, on Nov. 1. Part of that area was not accessible to the public so far, but will be with the new section of the trail and will provide a scenic route. Phase 5 will come out on Harvey Road, where the runway is.

Winslow explained that the grant from the state was only for Phase 6 (The connecting one), but without building Phase 5 first, there was no reason to continue.

There are also plans for a Phase 7 that will connect the Londonderry and Derry rail trails, on the other side, where phase 1 starts. So far, the trail is 3.6-mile long, starting at North Elementary School. Phases 5 and 6 will add almost two more miles, but phase 6's plans may change in the future, as they are not final yet. Trailways thought it will run near the airport fence, but security keeps pushing it backwards and it will probably be closer to a sidewalk of existing roads, which will make it more expensive.

The rail trail is a 10-foot wide trail and it is paved and referred to by Trailways as "stroller to senior friendly." Winslow adds: "The voters approved the funding in March, but we don't get our money until July 1, when the new budget year begins. Only then we put out bids and found a company that could only start now, by the end of August. We want the community to know this is going on, because they voted in March to up their taxes and they paid them on July 1. We want people to know that phase 5 started and should be done this fall. When a phase is done, we usually do a ribbon cut ceremony. Also, every spring we have a family fun day, because we know that November won't be a very good trail season."

LHS Football Team Looking to Build on Last Year's Success

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School's Varsity Football team had a outstanding 2018 regular season, winning eight of its 10 games. The Lancer squad had the best record in Division I South, but lost a heart-breaker at a home playoff game to rivals Pinkerton Academy after a late goal line stand by the Astros, who went on to play in the state finals only to lose to Bedford.

Now, going into their sixth season under Head Coach Jimmy Lauzon and with a new starting quarterback, Jake McEachern, who replaces Evan Cormier, the Lancers are hoping to continue their successful run and make some noise in the playoffs as well. They won six titles in the 1980s and 1990s, the last one coming in 1998 and have not played in the state finals since 2001.

Coach Lauzon had 107 kids trying out for the different teams this summer, with some making the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams, where the rosters will probably change on a weekly basis and others playing for the Freshmen team this season. "Our expectation is to be competitive every week and continue to practice and play with the same energy and competitiveness we have had in the last few years," said Lauzon. "Our conference is as tough as they come, so we have to be ready every week."

The Varsity team had a preseason game against Alvirne last Saturday, Aug. 31, "It was good. We played hard and got through our preseason mostly healthy", said Lauzon. His team will be kicking off its season this Friday, Sept. 6, at 7 p.m. at home against Concord. The Lancers will face Pinkerton in Derry on Sept. 27, their first of three straight road games. That stretch will end with a game against the reigning champions, Bedford High School. The regular season will come to an end with a home match against Manchester Central on Nov. 1, with playoffs starting a week later.

The Junior Varsity has a road game in Concord on Monday, Sept. 9, at 4 p.m. and their home opener is a week later, on Sept. 16 at 4:30 p.m. against Salem. They have a total of nine games. The Freshmen start at Concord this Thursday, Sept. 5, and host Salem next Thursday, Sept. 12, and will also play nine games this season.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity teams players this season are: Richard Alback, Cameron Babine, Cooper Bartlett, Aiden Bouchard, Sam Choate, Jay Delano, Brandon Drake, Jay Hayes, Blaine Hopkins, Lorenzo Inglese, Matt Jones, Tyler Kayo, Cole Keegan, Time McAlister, Jake McEachern, Justin Miller, Matt Pemberton, Kyle Proulx, Gabe Ramshaw, Jeremy Roberts, Alex Tsetsilas, Nate Truesdale, Michael

Local Resident Opens New Martial Arts and Fitness Center

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

A new Martial Arts and Fitness Center, run by a Londonderry graduate, and wrestling standout, Jon Paul, has opened its doors across the border in Auburn.

The facility, owned and operated by Jon Paul, the son of the owners of this newspaper, and his partner, Nermin Zilic, offers several fitness programs to help folks get back in shape. Classes offered by the facility are: Circuit Training, Cardio Kickboxing, Fitness Boxing, Brazilian Jiu Jitsu, and Muay Thai. Classes are held Sunday through Friday.

Paul explained that he and Zilic worked together at the Rockingham County Jail as Correctional Officers, and both have wanted to open a martial arts gym for a long time. "It just felt like the right time to do it, and getting lucky to have found someone just as interested in starting up a gym and achieving a dream of ours was something I couldn't pass up."

Paul has been doing martial arts for 12 years now and his background includes wrestling, Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu, Judo, MMA, Muay Thai, and boxing. His partner Zilic has been doing martial arts now for 21 years and his background is the same as Paul's, but including karate. Both have also fought in the cage for MMA. At the moment, classes are for 14-years-olds and up, but the center hopes to open a kids' class, "We really want to start a kids program up once we see the demand is there. We also want to start doing self defense clinics monthly to show that what we teach will work in certain situations," said Paul. "We want to bring in new people every day and show them that martial arts aren't as scary as people make them sound and that you can start practicing at any age. It's never too late to begin."

Paul recently finished in first place in his weight class at a Brazilian Jiu Jitsu tournament in Derry on the weekend of Aug. 17, hosted by Grappling Industries.

He fought in the Gi, brown belt, 230 pound category, despite being only 190lbs. He faced Joshua Spaulding three times and three minutes into the final fight, was able to beat his opponent with an armbar.

Limitless Pride is offering a 20 percent discount to current and former members of the military, law enforcement, firefighters and EMTs. "We really want to show how martial arts is a good thing for self-defense and we want to be able to help people with any goal they have whether it be to lose weight, eventually compete, or just learn the techniques. Everyone is welcome and can go at their own pace and try to improve himself or herself everyday. We try to have a positive and laid

LHS Boys Soccer Team Counting on Varsity Experience

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry High School's Boys Varsity Soccer team started its new season on Tuesday (Sep. 3) with a home game against the 2018 Division I runner up, Manchester Central, after the Londonderry Times went to print. They will play another Manchester team, Memorial, on the road this Friday, Sept. 6, at 4 p.m. and coach Todd Ellis, who was impressed by his players work in the preseason, hopes to see the team improves from the 9-7-1 record that led to a 10th overall spot and a 2-1 loss to Keene in the preliminary round last year.

About 75 kids tried out for the boys' team this summer and 22 of them made the Varsity roster. "They did a really nice job coming into preseason fit and ready to go," said Ellis. "We have a solid core of players and many return with Varsity experience." 12 out of the 22 players are returning from last year.

The team hosted a scrimmage game against Concord High School at the Londonderry Middle School field last week, Friday, Aug. 30. The Lancers wound up beating the Crimson Tide by a 3-0 margin on that rather hot afternoon.

Looking forward, he believes "it is possible for us to finish in the top eight during the regular season" and highlights a few home games (The team will have a total of eight). The Lancers cross the highway to play Pinkerton on Sept. 28, at 4 p.m., four days after hosting last year's champions, Bedford High School on Sept. 24, at 4 p.m.

The team's roster will include: Jaxon Boudreau, Colby DiMaggio, Keith Fletcher, Bisan Gurung, Brady Hanley, Alex Huford, William Kembal-Cook, Colin LeBlanc, Pete Misiaszek, Tyler Russel, Joseph Stanley, Shaun Sullivan, Nick Weinmann (seniors), Derrick Apholz,

LHS Spirit Squad Aims for Another State Finals Success

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

After a successful fall season in 2018, that saw the Londonderry High School Spirit team finish fourth out of 19 participating teams in the Division I NHIAA State Tournament, these days, the team is getting ready for another year and held its three-day tryouts recently, at the high school's gymnasium.

Coach Chelsea Dennis said that 42 athletes tried out for the team, with exactly half of them, a total of 21, made the Cheerleading Varsity team. Now, they will begin practicing their new routine, with the main goal of perfecting it until this year's State Championship, which will be hosted by Pinkerton Academy on Sunday, Nov. 10.

"We expect another strong season for Lancer Cheerleading," says Dennis. "Division I has become very competitive, and we will work our hardest to rank among the top in the state. Our team is made up of a diverse group across all four grade levels with strong, versatile tumbling and stunting skills. Our goal is to offer our athletes a well-rounded experience in the practice gym, community, on the field and on the competition floor."

Lancer Golf Team Splits First Meeting of the Season

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry High School's Boys Varsity Golf team was the first team to officially start its 2019 fall season, and on Thursday, Aug. 29, the Lancer squad got a win and a loss during their meeting at the Hanover Country Club against the Hanover and Merrimack High School team's.

The Lancers finished their afternoon by scoring 222, with Hanover High School outscored the Lancers by 24 strokes with a 198 total. The Merrimack team placing third with a 268 stroke total. Each team has eight players participating and playing the nine holes, and the top five scores for each team are then added together for the final team score.

Londonderry's low score of the match came from junior Joshua Traynham, who fired 42 in the nine-hole course. "He worked a lot this summer on his driver and it shows", said the team's coach, Dan Grant. "He is really playing well off the tee which is huge because his short game and putting have always been impressive."

Grant added, "It was a great place to start the year. John from Hanover is an awesome coach and runs a great program. Merrimack has a new coach and he has the program headed in the right direction."

Londonderry will have a few days off before traveling to Dover on Monday, Sept. 9, for a tough road test against the local and Bishop Guertin.

LHS Boys Cross Country Team Brings Back Experienced Core

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Carrying an experienced core from last season into the new one will allow the Londonderry High School Boys Cross Country team to have high expectations. "We expect to compete with the best teams in Division I and the state", says veteran coach Matt Smith. "We have a great group coming back. They are highly motivated, they've trained well over the summer and they're ready to compete."

The first race of the Cross Country season was a home meet for Londonderry on Tuesday, Sept. 3, after the Londonderry Times went to print. The Lancers faced Pinkerton and Exeter in the Mack Plaque race and will be participating in the Souhegan Relays on Saturday, Sept. 7.

Coach Smith expects that the Manchester Invitational on Sept. 21 will be a big test for his team, and of course, the end of the season races at the Division I Championship on Oct. 26, Meet of Champions on Nov. 2 and New England Championship on Nov. 9 - are the top events every season.

Last year, the Lancer runners finished fifth in Division I and later seventh at the Meet of Champions and entering this season, they had 23 athletes trying out. All 23 will be on the team and the top seven runners at the end of the year will form the Varsity team.

LHS Soccer Coach Knows: Anything But Title Will Not Be Enough

Olivia Stowell will be joined by her sister Mia this year as the Lady Lancers start a new fall season.

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

There were a total of 51 players attending Londonderry High School's Soccer teams' tryouts this summer hoping to become part of a Varsity team that reached the state finals last year. Coach Derek Dane ended up selecting 19 players for his squad this year, the majority of them are seniors returning from last year's runner-up team. The other girls will be playing for either the Junior Varsity or the Freshmen team.

The Lady Lancers had a great 2018 fall season that ended with a 14-1-1 regular season record and the team had two playoff wins before suffering a tough 5-0 loss in the DI championship game against Manchester Central High School. The team's new season was kicked off on Tuesday, Sept. 3, in Manchester against the same team that ended their season last year in a finals rematch after the Londonderry Times went to print. The season ends on Oct. 23 and playoffs begin eight days later.

"Our team goal is to win a championship", declares Dane. "We were the number one seed going into the postseason and lost in the final. We have 15 returning players who were on the field at some point during the final. Now that this group knows and understands what it takes, simply getting back to the final will not be enough."

Other than the season opener, the coach suggests fans to attend the Bedford match on Sept. 24, a rematch of last year's semifinals, the Mack Plaque game against Pinkerton is four days later and the home game against Exeter on Oct. 15.

Former Lancer Named Captain of Bentley Field Hockey Team

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Janelle Magoon of Londonderry will serve as one of this year's captain for the Field Hockey team at Bentley University in Waltham, Mass.

The university recently announced that the senior, who graduated LHS before playing for Rider University in 2015 and transferring to Bentley, was named as one of the team's three captains by coach Jessica Spencer, along fellow seniors Rachel Crowley and Sarah Rockwood.

Magoon is entering her third season playing for the Falcons. She played in 17 games in the 2017-18 season, starting seven times. Last fall she started 17 times and appeared in 19 games. She recorded two assists, as Bentley went 11-8 (7-6 in their conference) and lost 3-1 to Merrimack in the Northeast-10 quarter-finals. "Janelle leads by example and is one of the hardest working players to ever come through this field hockey program," said Spencer. "She makes an impact in every game."

In Londonderry, Magoon was a four-year Varsity letter-winner for field hockey and the head captain of the team as a senior. She was also a two-year letter-winner for basketball with the Lancers.

Ex-LHS Field Hockey Player Named Captain at Clark University

Sophia Poulin

Poulin is in her junior season with the Cougars and said, "I think that this team has the potential to move up in the NEWMAC standings and to make it into the playoffs. We have a lot of amazing players and I'm excited to see where the season takes us".

Clark's season started on Friday, Aug. 30, with a dramatic 2-1 double-overtime home victory over Simmons College. On Sunday, Sept. 1, the Cougars lost a close home game to Worcester State, 1-0.

Poulin, a defender, played for the Lady Lancers on the Varsity Field Hockey team for four years. She also spent

Classified Advertising

READERS ARE CAUTIONED that we occasionally run ads that require an initial investment or money in advance. We urge our readers to "do their homework" before responding to any ad, check out the advertiser thoroughly and verify their claims to your total satisfaction. Only then should you proceed at your own risk. We try to screen ads that require you to send money before receiving a product or service. But these efforts are no substitute for your own investigation, and we don't endorse or guarantee any claims made in any of the ads we publish. If you want more information about claims made in ads on subjects such as work at home opportunities, travel or vacation specials, purchasing land or vehicles from government surplus or below wholesale, loans or other credit opportunities (including credit repair), or weight loss and other health products and services, we urge you to contact the Office of Attorney General, Consumer Protection Bureau, 33 Capitol Street, Concord, NH 03301 (603-271-3641) or the Better Business Bureau at 603-224-1991. Publisher is not responsible for any loss of business if an ad does not run, and we reserve the right to revoke any ad if deemed necessary. No refunds will be given for prepaid ads.
