Virtual Roundtable Focuses on Senior Housing in Town

LISA D'AMBROSIO
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The town of Londonderry held a technical assistance workshop concerning Senior Housing on October 15, at the Moose Hill Council Chambers at Town Hall.

The meeting was billed as a "Virtual Roundtable," which a way to connect different people, companies, experts and other support (that are unable to attend the discussion in person) with the rest of the actual attendees.

Colleen Mailloux, Londonderry Town Planner from the department of Planning and Economic Development brought forth this opportunity for the community to be involved in brainstorming ideas, giving valuable input and to become educated in the importance

Old Home Day Chair Wagner Resigns, Town to Take Over

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The longtime Chairperson of Old Home Day committee in Londonderry, Kathy Wagner, has announced her resignation from the position.

Last Thursday, Oct. 17, when the committee met for the first time since this summer's Old Home Day celebration, Wagner said, "I resigned, but I'm going to stay on for a year and help."

A report that was published in this newspaper on Aug. 8, shortly before Old Home Day celebration, had shed light on a variety of issues with the way the committee has been operating at that point. There appeared to be issues such as lack of availability of certain financial records – including specific income and expenditures made by the committee – and missing committee meeting record minutes that are to be available for the public.

Without specifically referring to our report, Wagner said at the meeting, "When everything blew out this summer and all the questions came about the Old Home Day committee, some digging was done. We found that there was actually a resolution." That specific town resolution was shared with our news staff by the town's Assistant Solicitor, attorney Michael J. Malaguti in response to our inquiry over the summer.

The resolution, #2001-

05, was adopted unanimously in a Town Council meeting in May 2001. Following an announcement by Chamber of Commerce that it would no longer be handling Old Home Day in Londonderry, a group of volunteers decided to step up and take over the event. The resolution stated that a town employee, the Administrative Services Director (a position which was held by Troy Brown in those days) would act as an ex-officio member, but when the position ceased to exist, the committee became "independent", with no town supervision.

After announcing her resignation Wagner said, "The town is going to take over this committee and

ZBA Grants Variance for Addition on Tanager Way

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Zoning Board of Adjustment continued its public hearing at the Wednesday (Oct. 16) meeting. This subject of the continued hearing was the request for a variance to allow in the Conservation Overlay District, at 8 Tanager Way, the construction of an addition (45 square feet impact) on a dwelling that did not exist prior to the adoption of section 4.6.1 Conservation Overlay District and is now otherwise prohibited.

Discussion about this case briefly began last month, at the board's Sep. 18 meeting, where Chairman Neil Dunn expressed his concerns after finding the case on the agenda, despite the fact it was heard on Aug. 21, one day after the deadline to submit an application for that meeting.

The town's Associate Planner, Laura Gandia, told the board that the Town Manager, Kevin Smith, was the one who made the decision to allow this case to be on the agenda, due to the special circumstances of the case. But when Dunn asked if Smith explained what the special circumstances were or asked for opinion from the town's legal counsel, Gandia answered that she was not aware of any conversations Smith may or may not have had. She noted

Jimmy Fund Walk Brings Residents Out to Support Dana Farber

The fourth annual Londonderry Dana-Farber Cancer Institute/New Hampshire Oncology-Hematology Jimmy Fund Walk was held at Londonderry High School on Sunday, Oct. 20. Students who are members of the Londonderry High School's Pep Rally team organized the event along with advisor Steve Juster. Before the walk, those attending were told that $4,000 was raised this year, and over $40,000 had been raised through the event over the years. Evan Webster shared his story of finding out that he was diagnosed with cancer on his 22nd birthday and praised the help he was given by the staff at Dana Farber. Before walkers set out, Faith Gormley sang the National Anthem. Photos by Chris Paul

ZBA Hears Variance Requests; One Denied and One Granted

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Zoning Board of Adjustment denied at its Wednesday (Oct. 16) meeting, by a vote of three (against) to two (in favor), a request for a variance to allow a sign that will project above the roofline at 7 Rockingham Rd., which prohibited according to the regulations.

Applicant, Virender Yadav, told the board members that he was the owner of the business at 7 Rockingham Rd., where an auto sales business operates and that he is renting the place. When asked by Chairman, Neil Dunn, if he has his Five Points of Law that need to be submitted, Yadav answered: "I technically and legally don't know what is that. It must have been submitted."

Yadav eventually received a copy of the points as they were submitted and read them to the board members, before a discussion started. The owner of the property, Henry Nguyen, told the board members that he spoke to the town's building inspector and that there is no other place to put the sign in, other than the roof. In response to the board asking about a neon sign in the front of the building, since on the second floor there are apartments, Nguyen answered that a sign in that location will be too low for costumers to see.

Yadav added that the building is not in the level of the road, but in a little slope, so the sign must be high, since the costumers are passing by the road. The board stated that a sign on the roof may be hazardous, in case people need to go out of the second floor windows and that there are no similar signs in the area. Following the board's decision, Nguyen suggested a different option for the hanging of the sign and Chairman Dunn referred him the Inspection and Planning Departments.

In another case, Adam Hughes, of 1 Chestnut Hill Dr. was granted permission, by the Zoning Board of Adjustment, for a variance to encroach 25 feet into the 40-foot front setback, for the construction of a shed.

Hughes presented his case to the board members and said that he currently has a storage container in his back yard, which sits on a corner lot. He said that normally a back yard only has to have a 15 foot set back, but since it is a corner lot and there is a road running behind it, he has to have a 45 foot set back and his concern about that is it puts him in the middle of his backyard, on top of his leach field.

Hughes said that he does not have a garage at his house and that he is looking for additional storage. Ideally, he would have liked to keep his storage container, but he understands that due to its commercial looks, there is a town ordinance, limiting for a certain period of time, how long the container can stay in the backyard. If he cannot keep the container, the next best thing for him is to have a different structure there and that the shed would not block any views from the roads or have an effect on the public. He added that he already has a small shed on the property, but it is not enough for his needs and it is not located in a place that allows him to use it for too many things.

Recreation Commission Discusses Budget

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

A brief, 22-minute long, Londonderry Recreation Commission meeting last Monday (Oct. 14) included mainly a discussion about the commission's budget.

The commission's Director, Art Psaledas, told the five attending members that the budget is in good shape and that he spoke to the Finance Director and reviewed the budget with him. Psaledas said that Town Manager, Kevin Smith, has requested the Recreation Commission to take over fertilizing the Londonderry Athletic Field Association (LAFA) fields and that the additional cost will be approximately $10,000. The fields at LAFA had a problem with grubs and the Recreation Commission budget will need to be increased in order to accommodate this kind of work on the fields.

Psaledas also spoke to the Finance Director about the possibility of starting a new Capital Reserve Fund that will be used to fund equipment purchases. He said that the recommendation he received regarding that is for the commission to present a citizen's petition for $15,000. Psaledas stated that in the past, the town paid $70,000 to mow fields by an outside company and that purchasing the necessary equipment and self-mowing those same fields has saved the town a significant amount of money.

Another issue that was discussed is the softball infield at LAFA. That infield was discussed by the commission members several times in the past, as it tends to have many puddles whenever there is strong rain in the area. Psaledas said that Leighton White, the company that was selected to do the renovation and fixing of the infield, is very busy currently and that led to some problems with the project. He added that he will contact the company to see if there is an option of completing the project this fall, before the winter arrives.

Other than that, a group had requested space at South Elementary School between 4 and 6 p.m. to play pickleball, which is a paddleball sport that is similar in some ways to tennis, table tennis and even badminton. However, the requested hours were not available and the group, according to the meeting report, will no longer be using the town's facilities and returned the equipment.

Have a Safe and Happy Halloween

Halloween arrives next Thursday night this year, a midweek treat for the young, and a fun-filled reminder of years of trick or treating for those of us well past the days of going door to door for candy with a pillowcase.

Because for many of us, regard-less of age, Halloween is our holiday favorite, a day we look forward to for weeks. For children, there's something that can't be beat about dressing up, heading out after dark and walking up to neighbors' homes, and filling a bag with free candy and other treats. The day is not about horror, but about fun.

We can expect police to be out in force on that night, as the little ghosts and goblins, witches and princesses, devils and lots of zombies let's not forget all the super heroes parading along local streets. It means that our usual midweek activities like shopping or heading home from a tiring day at work can put children at risk as they go about their rounds.

We want take this opportunity to remind everyone to drive especially carefully on Halloween, both during the day and night, and to pay close attention to pedestrians. We also want to remind parents that children's costumes should feature light colors or reflective tape so they can be seen in the early darkness that the season brings, and to make sure young children travel in groups, under adult supervision, with everyone carrying flashlights or glow sticks.

The New Hampshire State Police offer the following tips to make Halloween safe as well as spooky: Keep costumes short to prevent trips and falls. Use make-up instead of a mask, so as not to obscure vision. Instruct children to stop only at familiar homes where the outside lights are on.

Tell children not to enter the homes or cars of strangers. Remind children not to eat any of their treats until they return home. Keeping safety and common sense in the forefront, and focusing on having FUN on what we hope will be a crisp and clear fall night is after all, the stuff of good memories.

There's something special and very New England about the sight of a lighted pumpkin on the porch in the Halloween dark. Go a head, put on a mask or a witch's hat as you prepare to answer the door when it rings.

Wilson Road Paving

To the editor,

My wife and I have lived on Wilson Road for more than 30 years. I note in your article on Oct. 17 regarding the Planning Board meeting that you stated "There, the issue with Wilson, which is unpaved and that", in the third paragraph on page one.

In fact the entire length of Wilson Road IS paved both the two-way section and the one-way section. While there is concern regarding the traffic impact there are other safety issues that will need to be addressed such as: 1) the lack of any fire hydrants on the entire length of Wilson Road; 2) impact of adding eight septic systems/wells on the water quality/availability for all the residents.

Democrat Fabrications

To the editor,

Democrat fabrications to impeach Trump are so common it's hard picking which to address. First, Bob Mueller's two-year investigation of Trump-Russia 2016 election conspiracy; then Trump's obstruction of justice in firing Jim Comey for involvement in that fabrication.

Neither worked so Democrats fabricate another lie amongst others that Trump withheld aid to Ukraine unless Ukraine investigated Hunter Biden, Joe Biden's son, for pay-to-play scheme whereby Hunter bilked millions from a Ukrainian gas company to access American markets through V.P. papa Biden during Obama administration.

Remind you of Hillary's pay-to-play schemes as Secretary of State?

Hunter had no experience in or knowledge of natural gas so how the seat on the gas company's board? To diffuse the fabrication, Trump released the transcript of the telecom that does state he asked the Ukrainian president to investigate Hunter, but makes no mention of withholding aid unless Hunter is investigated.

Google the transcript and read it yourself. Our constitution permits the President to pursue corruption in foreign governments if it impacts our national interests.

Bill Clinton did it with British PM Tony Blair when Al Gore ran for president as did three Democrat senators in 2018 asking Ukraine for help with Mueller investigation when it stalled. Remarkable about that is Ukraine provided much of the fake Steele dossier. Double standard?

What's disingenuous about this latest fabrication is that Nancy Pelosi opened an "informal impeachment inquiry" even before she read the transcript relying on an anonymous whistleblower's complaint heard through the grapevine who is known to have worked for Joe Biden, represented by a Democrat law firm who represented Bill Clinton during his impeachment and contributed to Hillary's presidential campaign. Even more dastardly is that the whistleblower met with Trump-hater Adam Schiff, Chairman of House Intelligence Committee's staff to structure the complaint. Biased? Impeaching a President is set in precedent by impeachment proceedings of Richard Nixon and Bill Clinton. First, a House impeachment vote is taken.

If House majority votes to impeach, House investigation is pursued. If facts warrant, House forwards the findings to the Senate where two-thirds vote removes the President. Contrary to precedent, Pelosi authorizes an "informal inquiry" first so that she does not expose in a House vote House Democrats who won in 2018 in closely-contested Republican districts for fear of alienating those district voters to vote for Republicans in 2020 thus losing the House back to Republicans and Pelosi being ousted as Speaker of the House.

Schiff's committee is conducting the inquiry/investigation behind closed doors in which Republicans cannot cross-examine the whistleblower, no documents will be provided Republicans and Trump is not allowed to question his accuser. In a civil court, such a case would be thrown out day one. Democrats know the Republican-controlled Senate will never remove Trump. Democrats can't defeat Trump on his agenda so fabrications are all they have.

Adolf Hitler's propaganda minister, Joseph Goebbels, stated "if you tell a lie big enough and keep repeating it, people will eventually believe it". Don't for America's sake.

able senior housing. One of the support companies communicating via web conference was LOCUS/Smart Growth America. LOCUS is a national coalition of real estate developers and investors who advocate for sustainable, equitable, walkable development in America's metropolitan areas. "We have found that real estate that is walkable, sustainable is in high demand yet public policy hampers developers ability to build such places. LOCUS is able to bring together both, investors and real estate developers to change policy at the local, state and federal level in order to build neighborhoods that are more economically, socially and environmentally sustainable for America's future." stated Elijah Plymesser the director of LOCUS MA via web conference.

Mark DePecol, Principle of Senior Living Development LLC, was another support speaker on call through out the discussion via web conference. Senior Living Development acquires strategic land based in CT for the development of senior housing including Independent Living, Assisted Living and Memory Care. This team includes engineering, architectural, financing and construction professionals with loads of experience in senior housing needs.

Mr. DePecol was able to explain some of his recent senior housing developments and how they are working out. Many components go into a successful development for seniors. Mr. DePecol and Mr. Plymesser spoke about the need for the housing developments to be accessible for all. The need of a healthy environmentally, fully equipped with clean air and clean surroundings. The importance of convenient and safe transportation.

Guest speaker, Todd Fahey, who is AARP's New Hampshire State Director was there to help guide community members through the agenda and available to give his input and answer questions. "Communities are most livable and age friendly when people thoughtfully and intentionally design, organize and operate their communities to make them great places for all ages" stated Mr. Fahey.

The community members that attended last week's discussion shared and stated some important concerns with any new senior housing developing in Londonderry. One overall point was the concern of the financial component of seniors downsizing from their current home to a new senior housing unit. The common thread throughout the room was trying to figure out the best way to have a thrive-age friendly community for a decent financial cost and what real estate options are available in the town.

Londonderry will have some homework to do in order to continue to move forward - they will need to take a look at what exactly the town seniors require in order to stay living, while aging, in their home community. Then they will have a sense of a pre-blueprint to go by.

For more information on senior housing development or to become active in the next discussion visit the Town of Londonderry's website or contact Colleen Mailloux.

Londonderry Fire Department Cancels Saturday's Open House

As reported earlier in the month, then corrected last week in the paper, the Londonderry Fire Department was planning on holding its annual Fire Station Open House, even though work is currently being done to finish the newly expanded facility.

The Open House was planned for this Saturday, Oct. 26, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

This week, Fire Chief Darren O'Brien informed the paper that the department has been forced to cancel the yearly event that usually coincides with the New Hampshire Fire Prevention week.

In an email to the Londonderry Times, O'Brien stated, "Unfortunately due to the phase we are scheduled for this week, I am canceling the event that was posted in the paper this past week. We will be sure to make up for it in 2020."

The station's construct efforts will be finished over the winter of this year.

Annual Trick-Or-Treat Safety Reminder For Those Headed Out

MELISSA BETH RUIZ
LONDONDERRY TIMES

In just one short week, neighbors and friends will suddenly be transformed into monsters, heroes, popular online video game characters, and more.

And they'll all be storming the town in droves in search of something sweet, making your neighborhood a potential stop on their route.

Trick-or-treat will be taking place in the town of Londonderry on Halloween night, Thursday, October 31st from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The Londonderry Times would like to remind residents, whether participating in the festivities or not, to be mindful of the safety of little zombies, Minecrafters, princesses, and so on.

The Londonderry Police Department will also be in on the fun, while working diligently to ensure that trick-or-treaters are safe this year.

"Londonderry Police Department cruisers on Halloween will have candy in them, and we have added extra patrols as well," said Captain Patrick L. Cheetham of the LPD.

The American Academy of Pediatrics also weighs in on the subject of safe trick-or-treating, offering tips to keep little ones safe during all of the frightful fun.

Though the AAP strongly recommends trick-or-treaters and their chaperones remain on well-lit streets, every party member should be equipped with flashlights, complete with fresh batteries, in case they should find themselves temporarily in the dark.

Parents are advised, if possible, to plan costumes for their children that are bright and reflective to keep them visible to passersby in the dark. For children who want to be a creature or character that isn't conducive to night-visibility, parents should consider adding a reflective tap or striping to their costumes or to their trick-or-treat bags, whichever will help safety meet aesthetic.

The LPD and Londonderry Fire Department will also be handing out glow necklaces the week of Halloween to help light the way for trick-or-treaters, says Capt. Cheetham.

Shoes and hats should be properly fitted to avoid potential tripping and eyesight impairment respectively. Because masks can often impede or block a child's vision, the AAP suggests opting for the use of non-toxic makeup instead. Makeup should be tested ahead of time to rule out allergic reaction.

If purchasing a costume, wig, or other accessories online or from a store, parents should look for labels or text that indicates weather or not these items are flame resistant. Furthermore, the AAP advises parents to make sure that if a sword, cane, or stick is part of a child's costume that none of these objects are sharp or too long to avoid injury.

The AAP states that parents should not allow the use of decorative contact lenses, as the use of these without a prescription is, "Both dangerous and illegal," and that using them, "can cause pain, inflammation, and serious eye disorders and infections, which may lead to permanent vision loss."

While on the hunt for candy, young children should always be accompanied by a parent and/or another trusted, responsible adult. Children should be reminded to stay within sight of their chaperones at all times, and chaperones should implement hand-holding in crowded areas to avoid losing a party member.

Older children going at it alone should be given a pre-approved route to follow and be given a means to contact parents in the event of emergency. Parents and children should agree upon a specific time when should return home, and decide the method of transportation to and from ahead of time.

Parents should keep phones and any other distracting devices in their pockets at all times, and should only come out in the event of an emergency to ensure that all eyes are on their children. It's perfectly understandable that parents should want to preserve the memory of their little ones dressed in matching costumes, but pictures can be taken ahead of time. If a photo opportunity arises, keeping all Avengers assembled and step aside so as not to become an obstacle. Posts to social media should be done when everyone is safe at home to ensure that children are given full attention for their safety.

In areas where there are no sidewalks available for trick-or-treaters, parties should remain on the far edge of the street facing traffic.

Trick-or-treaters are encouraged to only visit homes with a porch light on, advised to never cut through yards, and should never under any circumstances enter a home or a car for candy.

Parents should review stranger etiquette with their children before going out, reminding their pumpkins that they should not enter any homemade haunted houses without a trusted adult, and not to follow anyone they do not know trying to direct them away from their group.

Trick-or-treating in familiar neighborhoods with a safe house (the home of a family member or friend, for example) to report to in the event of an emergency can be helpful should a pumpkin should find him or herself missing from his or her patch.

Once at home for the night, parents should let their pirates and treasure hunters know that they need to borrow their treasure chests to make sure that their newly acquired loot is good enough for them to eat.

From there, parents should inspect each piece of candy under a bright light, looking for any pieces that are expired, have strange lumps under the wrappers, that look as though they were previously opened, with an unusual smell, that are discolored or stained, from an unrecognized company, with pieces that are different from what is pictured on the box or wrapper.

Although most likely a kind gesture, parents should also discard any repackaged or homemade treats from strangers' homes, to air on the side of caution.

"While urban legends historically scare us about tainted candy, in reality it is very rare," said Capt. Cheetham. "Not impossible, but rare."

For those staying home and providing a hotspot for free candy, the AAP states that homeowners should keep porches, front yards, and walkways free of anything that a child or his or her guardian could trip over. All outdoor lights should be checked ahead of time to ensure they are in working order come trick-or-treat night, and any wet leaves or snow should be swept from sidewalks and steps. Pets should be restrained so that they do not inadvertently harm a trick-or-treater in any way.

Finally, those not participating in any fashion should still do their part in keeping all ghosts and ghouls safe. Drivers should be sure to turn their headlights on just before sundown and reduce their driving speed during trick or treat hours, especially in residential areas. All distractions should be avoided, even simply changing the radio dial, so that drivers can avoid any speedsters who might find themselves in roadways.

Residents are encouraged to contact the LPD at (603) 432-1113 with any further questions or concerns regarding trick-or-treating safety in their neighborhood, or to report any suspicious activity on or around Halloween night. In the event of a life-threatening emergency, dial 9-1-1.

The Londonderry Times and the Londonderry Police Department both wish everyone a happy and safe Halloween and trick-or-treat night!

an employee of the town will be the head of the committee.” The Town Council recently rescheduled its meeting date from Monday, Oct. 21 to Monday Oct. 28. When that meeting occurs, the council is expected to discuss this matter and will likely recommend appointment of a town employee, who will become head of Old Home Day committee and handle its financial records and to guide it with additional transparency.

Wagner added that she believes more volunteers will join the committee if the town will be the one who handles it, “I feel this will go back to the spirit of the ordinance.” At that point, she was offered to make sure that the Old Home Day committee meetings are broadcasted on the town’s access channel, like many other committees do.

Public oversight with appropriate meeting communications was one issue we reported — with regard to the Old Home Day committee. The committee did not produce minutes on a consistent basis, nor were many committee meetings broadcast on the local TV access, thus not transparently updating the public with communications to consistently enable town residents to know what was happening at the meetings or providing context of the thought process and decision making behind committee actions.

But when suggested during Thursday’s meeting that the meetings be on television, Wagner became angry: “Why our meeting, out of all the volunteers groups, has to be on TV?” she asked, and quickly added: “This is part of the reason why I am resigning. I feel that this is an attack on a volunteer organization. The scrutiny that going on with a bunch of people that had given 20 years of their lives for nothing.”

When Mack Leathurby, a Londonderry resident, who mostly writes for one of our other newspapers, the Nutfield News that covers Derry, asked Wagner, “What scrutiny?” she became even angrier and answered, “There is no more Public Comment,” before asking for a motion to adjourn and trying to bring the meeting to an end as fast as possible, instead of answering the question. That led to about 10 minutes of yelling in the conference room, before everyone finally left the room.

Shortly thereafter two Londonderry Police Officers came to the area, saying that someone had alerted them to a problem in the conference room.

Regarding the financial side, Wagner stated earlier in the meeting, “We did really well this year. We raised $98,025 in sponsorships. With everything we gained, all the money and revenue that came in, we grossed $50,970 approximately.” She said the committee spent $29,000 and that she was told that in the committee’s budget, for next year, there is $20,205 at the moment.

Without referring to our story, she said, “And if anybody wants it, they can go to the town, who has every transaction listed, from deposit to expense and if anyone is questioning any of the revenue, we have to fill out a form that the Town Clerk’s assistant signs, to verify that the funds came in and they match the checks... every sponsor donation, every booth, every check, every number, so there is no questions asked with money.”

Prior to the publishing of our story in August, we made numerous attempts to obtain the committee’s full financial records that are supposed to be available, like any other committee in town. However, these attempts led us only to partial records that lacked explicit details of where the income to the committee came from and what the expenditures were, who made them and to what entity or persons.

When we asked the town about this year’s Old Home Day funding while fact gathering for the story, we were sent to talk to Wagner, who in turn, sent us back to talk to the town.

According to this year’s Town Report, in the Report on Special Revenue Accounts: Old Home day had a beginning balance of $25,335.78. Revenues totaled $28,425. Expenditures totaled were $33,141.14, and the groups end balance was at $20,619.64.

Tanager Way

that the applicant did meet all the statutory and notice requirements and the property owner, Ryan Ouellette, added that he spoke to Smith about notifying abutters and since all of them had written letters in favor of allowing the addition as a whole, he was under the impression this was the reason the case was allowed on the September meeting agenda. Ouellette also said he thought that Smith had already spoken to the Town Attorney.

That explanation was not enough for the chairman, who suggested the case be continued in October, so the board could ask legal counsel to review it. The board then voted in favor of the continuation and that led to Wednesday’s meeting.

Jeff Moulton, of Moulton Engineering, addressed the board as the applicant and said that the variance is requested to allow an expansion of the existing house by 364 square feet. The total impact on the Conservation Overlay District will be 45 square feet and Moulton noted none of this is currently allowed since the original house was built after the adoption of section 4.6.1. He added that the size of the existing house, with the proposed sun room, is consistent with the size of other houses in the area and that the location of the existing house and pool make it necessary to place the additions on the north side, versus the south side with the garage, to allow access to the house.

The board then addressed the letters that were sent by other residents on Tanager Way, in favor of the variance and added that the Conservation Commission did not have any objection to the approval of the variance, conditioned on the assumption that the storm water treatment system proposed by the applicant will be implemented based on criteria approved by the town’s consulting engineer or the town’s engineering staff.

Eventually, a variance was granted for the construction, with the condition that the storm water treatment system proposed by the applicant will be implemented based on the criteria approved by the town’s consulting engineer or the town’s engineering staff. Four board members voted in favor of the variance, while Dunn voted against. During the public hearing he said that his concern regards the enforcement of an annual inspection of the treatment system.

Law Enforcement Reminds Distracted Drivers: U Drive. U Text. U Pay.

Over the past decade, distracted driving has become one of the leading causes of vehicle crashes on our nation's roads. We, the NH Office of Highway Safety (NHOHS), are encouraging drivers to put down the phone and remember: U Drive. U Text. U Pay. In support of a high-visibility enforcement effort, the NHOHS will be collaborating with the New Hampshire State Police (NHSP) from September 21, 2019 to September 27, 2019. The goal of the campaign is to step up enforcement efforts to catch distracted drivers and enforce distracted-driving laws.

"We all have cell phones, and we're all on them all the time," said Commander William Haynes, NHOHS. "But when you drive, you have one responsibility: Drive safely and responsibly. Do the right thing—put your phone away when you get behind the wheel. The bottom line is this: If your attention is anywhere other than on the road, you are driving distracted, and you are driving dangerous. Save yourself the embarrassment and expense of getting pulled over. Plus, you just may save someone's life."

We encourage everyone to make smart choices behind the wheel and that includes not driving distracted, slowing down, not driving impaired and wearing your seat belt. Here are some other safety tips:

1. To report dangerous activity or hazardous operation, pull over and park in a safe location or request assistance from a passenger and place a call to *77.

2. If you are expecting a text message or need to send one, pull over and park your car in a safe location. Once you are safely off the road and parked, it is safe text.

3. Designate your passenger as your "designated texter." Allow them access to your phone to respond to calls or messages.

4. Do not engage in social media scrolling or messaging while driving. Cell phone use can be habit-forming. Struggling to not text and drive? Put the cell phone in the trunk, glove box, or back seat of the vehicle until you arrive at your destination.

5. When you get behind the wheel, be an example to your family and friends by putting your phone away. Texting and driving isn't trendy "normal" behavior—it's a selfish, deadly and, oftentimes, illegal activity that could kill you, a loved one, a friend, or a stranger.

6. If you see something, say something. If your friends text while driving, tell them to stop. Listen to your passengers: If they catch you texting while driving and tell you to put your phone away, put it down.

Distracted Driving - NH Statistics 2018

There were 14 commercial vehicle crashes in 2018 and 17 fatalities.

17 victims resulted in commercial vehicle crashes, 11.6% of all 147 victims in 2018.

Of the 14 recorded crashes, 2 crashes involved a school bus.

Distraction/inattention was the primary cause for 5 crashes.

*Center Line Encroachment was the primary cause for 10 crashes.

Nearly 20,000 people died in crashes involving a distracted driver between 2012-2017.

There were 3,166 people killed in motor vehicle crashes involving distracted drivers in 2017.

Texting while driving has become problematic amongst younger drivers.

Young drivers 16 to 24 years old have been observed using handheld devices while driving at higher rates than older drivers since 2007.

Female drivers with a cell phone have been more likely to be involved in fatal distracted driving crashes as compared to male drivers every year since 2012.

Texting while driving is dangerous and illegal. Break the cycle. Remember: U Drive. U Text. U Pay.

LHS Athletic Leadership Council Helps with Recess at Matthew Thornton

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Around 30 Londonderry High School students arrived at Matthew Thornton Elementary School on Monday morning, Oct. 21, and participated in the extended recess program called Recess Academy, with the younger students, with some of them becoming future Lancers.

The 10 high school upperclassmen that are part of the Londonderry High School Athletic Leadership Council organized the event with the assistance of the council's advisor, reading teacher Amy Downing. They brought with them to the elementary school approximately another 20 student athletes from different sports teams at the high school.

Each one of the elementary school grades enjoyed an extended recess of 30 minutes (as opposed to the usual 20 minutes) between 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., and the 30 high school students worked over two hours and a half with all of the elementary students, more than 500 students in total.

The program started back in 2014 and Mathew Thornton Principal Amity Small, who has been involved in it for two years on the elementary side, said that weather was much better this time compared to last year. "The excitement is always good for our kids. Their cheeks get red and it's good they learn the basics of sports and sportsmanship and do more than they normally do during recess."

The program included different stations for the kids to choose from and they had the opportunity to learn from the high school kids more about the games and sports they usually play. Stations included the very popular game of "tag", as well as football, four square, basketball, soccer, kickball, wall-ball and more. Small added that an emphasize was put on learning good sportsmanship, how to keep your emotions in check during a game and how to pick teams.

The extended recess program with the high school's Athletic Leadership Council and athletes runs at Matthew Thornton once a year, every fall and then, during spring-time, the high school athletes are invited again to attend the elementary recess and play with the kids.

The Athletic Leadership Council says its mission is "to provide all athletes at Londonderry High with a sound, well rounded, athletic experience." The council aims to "provide opportunities for growth and development both on and off the field as well as encourage and foster leadership skills within the athletic venues. These opportunities will help to promote life-long learning strategies as well as to ensure that all Londonderry High School athletes are active members of their community."

Sununu Presents Million Dollar Check To Town During Ceremony

Governor Chris Sununu and local officials were at Town Hall on Friday, Oct. 18 for an official check presentation of $1,048,960 to the town of Londonderry from the excess revenue created after the state budget was passed.

Sununu praised the efforts of all levels of town government and the school districts, that helped to facilitate getting the money from the state budget into the towns across the state. "Everyone came up to Concord to advocate and say, hey, if you have extra money, it's not about creating bigger government in Concord, it's about giving back to the cities and towns."

Sununu added, "Everyone really came together to get it done."

Town Manager Kevin Smith told the Governor that the money on the town side would be spent on infrastructure. The intersection reconstruction at Rockingham Road and Stonehenge will now be moving forward.

According to the school, the added funding can only be used to reduce the tax rate. If the school district was interested in using it for any other purpose, it will need to hold a special election.

Local State Senator praised the Governor for his effort to come up with a budget that everyone could agree on. She stressed that he put in a lot of effort with Democrats and Republicans in both the House and Senate.

Sununu added, It's not a democrat budget, or a Republican budget, at the end of the day, it's a New Hampshire budget. We're trying to build a precedent for the future, it's about letting the money flow back. It's not our money, it's your money."

Lancers Best Grizzlies at Home 44-7 to Stay Undefeated

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

It has been an incredibly dominant season for this year's Londonderry High School Varsity Football team, and last Friday night, Oct. 18, the domination of Division I opponents continued for Jimmy Lauzon's 7-0 team, who handed the Goffstown Grizzlies their second loss of the season, with a 48-7 home victory.

Londonderry was able to keep two streaks going Friday night, by scoring at least 35 points in every game this fall season and winning each of the seven games by at least 16 points.

Following a quick three-and-out by the visitors, the Lancers got the ball on their own 24-yard line and needed less than three minutes to hit pay dirt. On fourth down and six, on Goffstown's 37-yard line, quarterback Jake McEachern found Alex Tsetsilas, who started his big night with a great catch and run down the line for a touchdown.

That play set the tone for the rest of the first half, and even when Goffstown was able to move the ball, Londonderry's defense made some big plays.

The second score of the game came from Jeff Wiedenfeld, who broke a tackle, and ran through the middle of the line for a 21-yard touchdown, with 91 seconds left in the opening quarter.

Down 14-0, the Grizzlies were not going quietly, and took their next drive into the home team's territory. Eventually, they decided to try a field goal from 39 yards and that was Tsetsilas' second major moment, as he blocked the attempt and took the ball all the way to the other side for another six points.

That play broke Goffstown's spirits and a minute later, Grizzly, Jarrett Henault fumbled the ball and Will Reyes was first on it. Henault was injured during that play and left the game, while Wiedenfeld scored his second touchdown of the game shortly later, on a 4-yard run. He then added a defensive touchdown, scooping another Grizzly fumble and running in from 42-yards to make it 35-0 at the half.

The first play of the second half was an 82-yard kickoff return by Eric Raza and the next play saw Tyler Kayo scoring on a 7-yard run. Goffstown eventually avoided being shut out thanks to a 54-yard touchdown run on the opening play of the final quarter, before a long Lancer drive ended with Jay Hayes finding the end zone from 7 yards.

Wiedenfeld had 64 yards on seven carries, with two rushing touchdowns, and one defensive score. McEachern threw just four passes and completed three for 67 yards and a touchdown. Tsetsilas had 61 catching yards and 14 running yards. Londonderry only had possession for 19:13 minutes, including 7:39 in the first half, where they scored 35 unanswered points.

Tsetsilas said after the game, "We came in confident; we knew we had to get it done tonight and that's what we did. We practiced blocking field goals and we knew we can get it. I came off the edge, got in front of it and took it to the house."

McEachern added, "I thought the game was great. The defense was flying there and getting us the ball back. They got us points and kept us off the field, but I don't mind. I'm a team player. We got to stay focused for the rest of the season."

Coach Lauzon was very happy with his special teams, "Defensively we will go back and look at what we need to fix, offensively we only ran 19 plays in the first half and our special teams played really well. I'm really happy about that. It hasn't been easy, it takes weeks of preparations and the results on Fridays look good. The preparation has been really good this season and if they could keep that up, I feel like we are going to play well every game. We always try to find little things to keep them focused, but honestly it comes with the group of kids that you have. They're on a mission right now. They have one goal in mind and they understand that each week is important. They have been working really hard and I can't complain."

The Lancers will go for an eighth straight win this Friday, Oct. 25, kick-off at 7 p.m. when they play in Manchester against Memorial (1-6).

Alex Tsetsilas had 61 catching yards and 14 running yards in the game against Goffstown.

Lady Lancers Soccer Squads' Undefeated Season Ended by Exeter

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

As the saying goes, "All good things must come to an end," and unfortunately for the Londonderry High School's Girls' Varsity Soccer team, the saying applied to them, rather than their opponents last week.

After an amazing 13-game winning streak, where LHS outscored their opponents 66-4, the Lady Lancer's undefeated season hopes were ended by the only other undefeated team in Division I last week at home.

The Lady Lancers, now 14-1, hosted Exeter High School (13-0) in the battle of the undefeated teams on Tuesday, Oct. 15.

The home squad had a very promising start, when they took a 1-0 lead just seven minutes into the game, with Mia Stowell scoring, assisted by her sister Olivia Stowell for the opener. But the Exeter girls came storming back after conceding that goal, which was the first goal scored against them in 10 games.

The Lady Hawks tied the game in the 30th minute, with a goal by Brynn Roberts and then took the lead for good, thanks to goals scored by Maggie Hull (45th minute) and Ella Fraser (49th).

The Londonderry side had the advantage in shots, shooting 15 on the Exeter net to 13 at Lancer Jasmine Richards. The Exeter's goalie made 12 saves to Richards 10 stops.

Lancer coach Derek Dane and his team now know that if they want to take the Division I state title this year, they will most likely have to beat the Blue Hawks in order to do so.

Things didn't get much easier in their next game, at Stellos Stadium in Nashua, on Thursday, Oct. 17, as the Lady Lancers found themselves trailing a strong Bishop Guertin (11-2) team by two goals at half-time. Lady Cardinal Brook Paquette scored in the 12th minute and Caitlyn Toom had the second in the 14th when she quickly found the back of the net.

Alyssa Anderson was able to cut the deficit in half for Londonderry, with only 10 minutes left to play, with an assist by Ashley Manor. The dramatic equalizer was scored in the 79th minute by Katie McCudden with an Olivia Stowell assist.

Then, in overtime, it was Olivia Stowell with the 95th minute game winner following an assist by Anderson. Richards finished the game with six saves.

The Lady Lancers were scheduled to close out the regular season on Wednesday, Oct. 23, at home against Merrimack and will likely enter the DI State Championship as the number two seed behind Exeter.

Boys' Soccer Bounces Back from Loss with 6-0 Victory

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

It was another week of highs and lows for the Londonderry High School Varsity Soccer team, as coach Todd Ellis' players are pushing hard to try and secure a playoff spot before the end of the regular season.

On Tuesday, Oct. 15, Londonderry suffered an extremely frustrating 1-0 overtime loss at Exeter High School's Bill Ball Stadium. Neither team was able to pull a ball in the net during the 80 minutes of regulation; the Hawks avoided the tie with a goal in overtime. That loss was the first for the Londonderry boys in three weeks, since the 4-0 defeat against the reigning Division I champions Bedford Bulldogs back on Sept. 24.

The Lancers were able to quickly recover with their largest margin of goals in the season, and a 6-0 home celebration on Friday, Oct. 18 over Bishop Guertin (3-9-1). It took Londonderry almost an entire half to break the ice, but after 36 minutes Hunter Smith was tripped in the box and scored with a penalty kick. He doubled his tally three minutes later, thanks to an assist by Brady Hanley.

Smith returned a favor to Hanley eight minutes into the second half, to make it 3-0 and the locals scored three more times in a span of 10 minutes: Bisan Gurung in the 62nd minute (assist by Anthony Ramy), Colin Leblanc in the 67th (assist by Pete Misiaszek) and Aidan Dennis in the 72nd (assist by Erik Gagne). Alex Huford made two saves.

"I thought we rebounded really well after a tough overtime loss to Exeter earlier in the week", commented Lancer coach Ellis. "All year we have been generating offensive opportunities in the box, but this time we finished and remained unselfish. This win allows us to take one step closer to securing a seed for the tournament. I believe we will be a tough out for anyone we face in the tournament and if we continue scoring consistently, who knows what we can accomplish."

The Lancers entered the final week of the season with a modest 5-5-4 record, and were scheduled to play at Merrimack High School on Tuesday, after the Londonderry Times press time. The team will then finish their season and celebrate their senior members with a home game against Hanover on Friday, Oct. 25, starting at 6 p.m.

Lancer Field Hockey Team Get First Round Bye Finish at 11-3

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry High School's Varsity Field Hockey team closed out its very successful regular season with a single game on the road last week. On Wednesday, Oct. 16, the Lady Lancers got a 2-0 road victory at Concord High School (10-4), and finished with a very impressive 11-3 record, and at the same time, gave themselves a one game advantage in seeding for the Division I playoffs.

With both teams trying to improve their records and seeding position in the season finale, LHS coach Nicole Treadway's team was able to get two first half goals, and follow that up with strong defense for the shutout over the Lady Crimson Tide.

Senior Lauren Doherty scored Londonderry's opener, less than seven minutes into the game, with an assist by Kayla Miles. With eight minutes left in the half, Emily Cowette then doubled the visitors lead with an unassisted goal.

Lancer junior goalkeeper Riley Walter made a total of nine saves for Londonderry, four in the first 30 minutes and five more after the break, and earned the shutout victory.

On the other side of the field, Rhyden Wheldon made three saves for the Concord crew.

Londonderry will be the number four seed in the DI Tourney, and were scheduled to play a scrimmage on Tuesday, Oct. 22, at Hopkinton High School. The Lady Lancers got a first round bye, and awaited their playoffs quarterfinals game. That game, which will be held in Londonderry on Friday, Oct. 25, at 3 p.m. will have the Lady Lancers once again facing the Concord High School team, who are seeded in the number five spot.

If the Lancers will go on to win their first playoff game, they will then play for a spot in the finals against, most likely, the number one seed, at Bill Ball Stadium on Tuesday, Oct. 29 at 7 p.m.

Pinkerton Academy is the Division's number one seed with its 13-1 record. The Astros will

Two More Tough Losses for the Lancer Volleyball Squad

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry High School's Varsity Volleyball team played two games last week and has two more left as what started very promising for the Lancers, with two quick wins, has ended in a number of defeats as the regular season comes to an end.

The Lady Lancers, who are now 4-11, lost in straight sets, 3-0, at Exeter High School (9-6) last Wednesday, Oct. 16. The home team controlled the majority of the game, winning the opening set 25 to 14 and going on to win the next two fairly convincingly, 25 to 16 and 25 to 17. Maddie Rankin had six digs for the visitors, while Anna Haas finished with five service points, including two aces, next to six assists and six kills.

Londonderry then hosted the Bishop Guertin Lady Cardinals on Friday, Oct. 18, and kept pace pretty well but wound up losing in four sets, 25-16, 18-25, 25-21, 25-19. Laura Haas led the Lady Lancers in digs with 17, while Rankin had seven. Anna Haas finished with 14 assists and Lexi Small with seven, as well as 16 service points (including two aces). Kelsey Sanborn had 14 kills. LHS coach Matt Leonard's team traveled to Merrimack on Wednesday, Oct. 23, and will close out the season on senior night on Friday, Oct. 25, with what will be a rather tough game against an undefeated Hollis Brookline High School squad.

Londonderry Senior Looks To Begin Unified Volleyball Team

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Senior Anna Haas has been a starter for the Londonderry High School's Girls' Varsity Volleyball team since she was a freshman. This year, Haas is a leader of the Lady Lancers and a team captain. As she is edging closer and closer to her final days at high school Haas is hoping to share her love for the game, and form a new Unified Volleyball team at the school.

Haas says she has been playing volleyball since she was in fourth grade and that since seventh grade, she is involved with the Special Olympics program. "In the last couple of years, they started asking me question and saying it's cool I play volleyball", she tells the Londonderry Times.

Finally, she decided this year that she wants to start some sort of a team, where the kids could meet a couple of times every week and work on their volleyball skills and learn some game situations. Haas says she already talked to the school about gym time and that she hopes to have the Unified Volleyball meeting somewhere between the winter and spring sports seasons, where other kids from both the girls' and boys' (who play in the spring season) different volleyball teams could participate and help guide the new players.

The NHIAA operates in the fall a Division I coed Unified Volleyball league, with 11 teams currently registered. As a senior, Haas will not have the time to see Londonderry High School's Unified team joining that league, but she says that is definitely something she would like to see in the future, after the squad is formed. When asked about the school's reaction to her idea, she answered that "everybody is excited about this."

Anna Haas hopes to Create a Unified Volleyball team at LHS.

Rebels Take Rec Softball Title After 30 Years in the League

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Local resident Mike O'Donnell made an unusual move two years ago to leave the best team in Londonderry Men's Softball League, HaLcyon, in order to join a friend, who played with the Rebels.

The Rebels were founded about three decades ago, the team had never won a second round playoff game, until this season. In last year's tourney, they even got swept in the playoffs by O'Donnell's former team, who went on to win its fifth title in six years, without losing a single playoff game.

But this year, everything changed for the Rebels, and they celebrated their first-ever title in the local league. Up 2-1 in the Championship series against HaLcyon, and leading 26-12 in game four, O'Donnell hit a title clinching solo home run, ending the game, and the season, on a fifth inning mercy rule.

George Svenconis Jr., who has been playing on the Rebels for 18 years, shared the league's and team's journey that ended with this special moment for them. "Nobody knows exactly when the league was founded, but people believe it has been in the 1970s", said Svenconis.

The league used to have 12 teams and is now down to eight, with each team playing the others three times every regular season. The season begins in the final week of April and stretches all the way to September, when the three rounds of playoffs are held. Game nights, at LAFA fields, are Monday, Wednesday and Friday and teams usually play twice every week, seven inning games.

Svenconis, a "softball fanatic for many years", plays with his brother and they are one of three pairs of siblings on the team. He recalls joining the team after seeing his doctor for tendinitis in his arm. When he told the doctor it was from throwing a softball, his doctor offered him to join their team.

"I was living in Londonderry but didn't know there was a league," he said. "The doctor and his brother are one of our three pairs of siblings on the team. Many of us have been playing together for many years and we have connections off the field too, so that was what made the championship for us so special."

The Rebels finished the regular season 14-7 and entered the playoffs as the third seed. In Round One, they knocked off LaCarreta in two games, a close 22-21 in game one and a lopsided 33-7 in game two. They did not lose a game in the semifinals either, beating the number two seed, Terminators, 17-15 and 17-16 in two dramatic games.

The Tourney Finals were held as a best-out-of-five series and in double-headers, due to some weather delays over the summer. In game one, held on Sept. 18, HaLcyon, who only lost four regular season games, dominated with a 21-6 victory, but the Rebels found their bets in the second game, won 25-17 and came back five days later to complete the job, with 34-13 in game 3 and 27-12 in game 4.

Svenconis made championship hats, other memorabilia and even a special trophy, as the league does not have one. Now, the Rebels have six months to get ready for next season, where they will try to repeat.

Eagles Beat American Nationals for 50+ Championship

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Justin Time Snacks Eagles are the 2019 Londonderry 50+ Softball League champions.

The Eagles bested American Nationals in the league championship game, held last month on Sept. 29, by a score of 18-2.

The American Nationals had finished as the regular season in first place, with the Eagles close behind in second. However, in order to win the playoff's, the American Nationals had to win twice over the Eagles in double elimination.

They did in fact win the first game, 13 to 7, and that victory came with a high cost, to the American Nationals, who lost two key players in the game. That fact allowed the Eagles to dominant the second game, and celebrate by winning the title after a long season, that started in the spring, with five teams playing 17 regular season games.
