The Town of Londonderry held its Municipal Budget Overview Hearing for Fiscal Year 2021 on Saturday, Nov. 2, at Town Hall. The 2021 Fiscal Year will begin on July 1, 2020 and end on Jun. 30, 2021.

Town Manager, Kevin Smith, started the meeting by presenting the Town Manager Proposed Budget for FY 2021 and said that the deliberative session will be held on Feb. 8, 2020 and that voters will have a chance on the ballot in March to choose between the presented budget, the proposed budget and the default budget.

In some years they can be the same, said Smith, but never has a proposed budget been above the default budget. The voters will also vote on a supplemental Operating Budget, due to a change in the law a few years ago regarding the default budget.

The budget for FY 2020 was $34,276,423 and the Town Manager Proposed Budget for FY 2021 is currently at $37,992,836, an increase of over $3.7 million. The proposed budget is currently $638 below the Default Budget which is $37,993,474.

The Enterprise Sewer Budget ($2,739,812), following the voter's approval from last year, is now included in the General Fund Budget. The Default increase from the FY 2020 budget is 2.85 percent (after taking out the sewer budget).

The Supplemental Operating Budget is $153,005. It includes $100,000 added to roadway maintenance line via bond payment falloff; $10,000 internet upgrade to Town Hall (under con-

Capital Improvements Plan Reviewed at Budget Hearing

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The last part of the Town's Annual Budget Hearing that was held on Saturday, Nov. 2, was dedicated to a discussion about the Capital Improvements Plan (CIP), and the $70 million projects that the school district is looking to fund over the next several years.

Despite it not being part of the hearing's agenda (thus, not allowing the public to know in advance that it will be discussed), Town Council Chair, John Farrell, who is also the CIP Chairman, brought up the subject after saying: "It has come to our attention, and I'm embarrassed to say that I've been the Chairman of the CIP for 13 or 14 years and I didn't know that once it's adopted, it had to come to the Town Council and the Budget Committee. There is a state law that says it has to come and be reviewed."

According to some online comments, the CIP has been reviewed by the Town Council in recent years (and not 13 or 14 years ago). Past Town Councilor Brian Farmer wrote on Facebook next to a video of this discussion: "It was reviewed by TC and was often the basis for why we would support, or not as the case was at times, placement of spending articles on the Warrant."

At the hearing, Farrell said that since both Town Council members and Budget Committee members were already there, he wanted to take that opportunity to have them take a look at what is in the plan for the next six years and review it.

Farrell added that participants in the CIP Committee come from the Budget Committee, the Planning Board and the School Department and

Londonderry Police and Fire Present Budgets to Town Council

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Police and Fire Department representatives gave their budget presentations to the Town Council members and Budget Committee members, during the Saturday, Nov. 2, Town Annual Budget Hearing, which was held at Town Hall.

Lieutenant Alvin Bettencourt of the Londonderry Police Department read the LPD's presentation Executive Summary and said that over the past year, the department conducted an analysis of recurring costs that are not specifically funded and that it feels are necessary to its operations. These costs were then outlined within the department budget presentation.

The historical crime data shows that 784 arrests were made by the LPD in 2017 and 800 in 2018. The number this year, up to date, is 613, with two more months in 2019. The numbers for incident reports, traffic accident reports, burglaries, overdoses, incidents dispatched and motor vehicle stops also remained relatively similar to recent years. These numbers are higher than they were a decade ago.

Lt. Bettencourt also said that the average training time per officer in Londonderry is 63 hours, while the minimum set by the State Academy is just 16. Chief of Police William Hart emphasized this number, saying that this is the most important statistic to understand. Chief Hart said that LPD have had only four complaints total until now about the way officers interact with the community and that training and supervision is the reason for that.

Town Manager Kevin Smith added that he increased the training line for the police in his proposed Operating Budget by $15,000.

The LPD asked the town to support a recurring annual cost of $30,000. The LPD has been part of the Southern New Hampshire Special Operations Unit for over 20 years, and this includes an estimated cost of eight annual call outs, a three-day annual overnight training and the annual membership fee of $5,000. The Southern New Hampshire Special Operations Unit can provide within an hour up to 43 officers from the dozen departments that are members and send them to a town in need. It was used most recently in the shooting inside the church in Pelham.

Next, Chief of Fire Department, Darren O'Brien, spoke about the department education programs. Over the past four years, the department and the town sponsored emergency personnel to continue their education in emergency medicine. The department had two personnel who graduated from the program in the spring and one who is currently enrolled. In addition, one firefighter/medic is enrolled in a Master's program in Emergency Management and several others are enrolled in Associates and Bachelor's programs.

O'Brien also presented the operating costs from last year, as well as the grants the department requested – some awarded, some not and some are pending. He said that different members of the department have been writing the grant requests and that he believes it would be very beneficial if the town had somebody who was in charge of that.

Chief O'Brien said that last year, 4,013 emergency calls for service were received by the Londonderry dispatch and that this year, until Oct. 30, the number is 3,250. He predicted that by the end of the year, this number will be pretty close to 2018, but might be slightly lower. The most frequent calls come from 40 Buttrick Rd. (urgent care), 1 Button Dr. (assisted living), 2 Golen Dr. (senior housing), 1 Airport Rd. (passenger terminal) and Interstate 93.

The Chief presented the engineers calculations for the operating costs of the new and renovated Central Fire Station. These costs include electric, heat and oil, and water services. In addition, he said that the department is requesting $20,000 in the vehicle maintenance line since the apparatus in town is great, but ages and fixing it became expensive.

Tax Rate

that they had a couple of meeting. The "rule of thumb", he said, is that everything over $1 million needs to be presented to the committee for scoring and priorities.

Farrell then repeated a statement he made during a Town Council meeting several months ago, saying that as it stands today, and for the foreseeable future (six years), the committee determined that the town would not be looking to build any additional facilities. There are currently five projects in the CIP for the next five years and two were presented as "urgent needs" by the School Department.

One is a solution to the need for space at the Kindergarten/Elementary level, a project that is set for Fiscal Year 2022 and the cost was estimated by the School Department to be $38 million. The other is a district-wide building renovation plan (estimated cost is $15 million and is set for FY 2024) and maintenance facilities.

Also on the list, at a lower priority, were: a School District Building at $4 million; LHS Gym Renovation and Turf Field at $3 million; and an Auditorium at $10 million.

Farrell, who had criticism in the past about the School Department's demands and proposed projects, said that during the CIP process, the committee asked the School Department a few questions and did not receive answers. A couple of weeks later, the same questions were asked again. These questions regarded documents the committee wanted the School Department to provide to the Planning Board, so the board could have a better understanding of the requirements the School Department has. Once again, said Farrell, no answer was received and that led the committee to file a 91-A request for all the documentation regarding these projects.

According to Farrell, one of the most interesting things that were found in these documents was discussions about the kindergarten issue that have been going on for about two and a half years. The problem, he said, is that when someone comes in and asks for $70 million, in a revaluation year and when the tax bill is going to be significantly higher (and not, as Farrell added, as stated by the CFO of the School Board, Peter Curro, who according to the Chairman, told everyone that taxes will go down by $400-$500), they have to be more transparent.

Town Council Vice Chairman Joe Green added, "Everything that we do, we put out there and everything is available and that's all what we are asking from the rest of the town to do."

Veteran's Day

Veteran's day is fast approaching once again. In 1919, President Woodrow Wilson, originally proclaimed this holiday by as "Armistice Day". This was during a time when the world had seen what they thought was the first and last major global conflict, known as World War I, but originally known as "The Great War" or the "War to end all wars".

American men and women have continued to distinguish themselves in the service to this great nation, from WWII, Korea "The forgotten war", Vietnam, Desert Storm, and the Global War on Terror, among others, which seem to have no end in sight.

Many of us can remember growing up and being warned of the Communist threat in Eastern Europe and Asia, since the end of WWII. Our great Nation provided the global leadership necessary to overcome this threat - known as the "Cold War" because there were few actual shots fired between the United States and the Soviet Union - in the end we prevailed, but many veterans spent many years standing sentry against the threat, be it on a watch in West Berlin, aloft for the Strategic Air Command or supporting counterinsurgencies in Central and South America and elsewhere.

Veterans of all branches of the armed services generally enjoy a great sense of camaraderie. As a 21 year retired Marine, I had the chance to observe this first hand very recently at my job. I often go to meetings where I do not know all of the participants. As most former military do, you always scan your surroundings when you enter the room and make a mental note. For all Marines and certain members of the other branches - like US Army Airborne, Rangers, Infantry, Special Forces, Delta, US Navy SEALs, USAF Combat Controllers/Para Rescue, when your eyes meet it's often very instinctual to sense another operator. In my case I immediately made a new friend that day.

The United States is somewhat unique among world powers and history in that our Service men and women swear an oath of allegiance, not to a King, but to the Constitution, which is the governing document by which our Government derives its power - a contract with our people. This is the root of "service", against enemies foreign and domestic.

Please take the time to thank a vet, and when you do, recall that he or she thought so much of your freedom and your rights that they swore an oath to the Constitution and service to the country, up to and including their own lives.

Troubling Tax Rate and Assessment

To the editor,

This is in response to the new assessment methodology that was enacted in our town. What anyone with basic math skills can calculate is that the tax rate and assessed home values are just a way for our politicians to decide where they will get the dollars from to run our town.

I have lived here since 2001 and I have a fondness for our community and the school system that my children have attended. I support our police, firefighters, and town employees who I feel usually (not in this case) do great work while being polite and responsive.

With that said, I must take umbrage with our Assessing department.

On their website, a 2019 revaluation section says "The State of New Hampshire Department of Revenue Administration requires that towns update their values at least once every five years so as to remain close to 100% of market value." I think that makes sense to all of us because, in the end, if assessed values go up then tax rates should come down as they did in this case.

You can assess my home for $10,000,000 for all I care, as long as the tax rate keeps my TAX BILL with in a reasonable range or increase.

Well, my tax payment went up 7.3% in 2019. I do not know if this is the norm or not but with the rate of inflation at 1.7% and the PPI hovering around zero, 7.3% seems onerous.

Now, I can ask for abatement, but we ALL know how that will end. I can vote NO for every article that requests funds, but that would be shortsighted. Never forget that tax revenues are OUR money, not the towns. We vote in politicians to be custodians of that revenue to ensure they are disbursed in a fiscally responsible manner. Based on this increase, something has gone awry and I want some answers.

In the end, when people wonder about election results, the reason is simple. People like me are sick and tired of being sick and tired.

Blundering Untrustworthy President

To the editor,

After President Erdogan of Turkey spoke to President Trump an inept decision was made by Trump to pull our military forces from northern Syria. This allowed Turkey to invade and attack the Kurds.

Syrian Kurds have been loyal allies of U.S. armed forces since 2015 when they helped to clear ISIS from Syria at a significant cost to themselves. The Turkish invasion and displacement of the Kurds has allowed some ISIS prisoners to escape from prisons guarded by the Kurds, and it appears ISIS could make a comeback in Syria.

Trump's desertion of the Kurds led to the signing of a defense pact between the Kurds and President Assad of Syria. Now Syrian, Iranian and Russian military forces occupy northern Syria.

Trump abandoned the Kurds thereby creating additional instability in the Middle East, and he enhanced Syrian and Russian status in the region. Other U.S. allies around the world are questioning the trustworthiness of the U.S. under Trump, who twitters uninformed and irrational foreign policy based on his lack of knowledge. Trump threatens our national security by creating problems in the world which have far reaching long term adverse implications.

New Assessed Home Values and Tax Rate Creates Confusion

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Confusion created during last Monday's (Oct. 28) Londonderry Town Council meeting may have left some residents scratching their heads when they receive their new tax bills that were sent out on Nov. 1 with the new assessed valuation number on them.

The council meeting began with a Public Comment session in which Town Council Chairman John Farrell announced that the new tax rate was recently released and asked the town's Finance Director Justin Campo, to better clarify the subject.

Campo stated that the new tax rate is $19.39, a decrease from the previous rate, which was $21.80. Farrell emphasized that a lower tax rate does not necessarily mean that taxes will be lower. Farrell added that another government entity in town mentioned that taxes will be going down on homes, $400-$500 a year. "That was an inaccurate statement", he said.

Londonderry had a revaluation this year on properties. According to the town's website, "the State of New Hampshire Department of Revenue Administration requires that towns update their values at least once every 5 years, so as to remain close to 100% of market value." This is done so property taxes can be as fair and equitable as possible and the town website says that the equalization ratio has fallen from 99.9% in 2015 to

Farrell said that the houses in town have been assessed and most of them have increased in assessed value. The commercial property in town did not go up as fast as the residential property and that happens from time to time with every revaluation, and that can go either way from time to time. Farrell then asked Campo to provide numbers regarding the new tax rate and the effect it will have on actual taxes for the home owners.

Campo said that on the chance that a house remained with the exact same value after this year's revaluation, the taxes on that home would go down (since the tax rate is lower). However, he added, the valuation increase average was between 15 and 18 percent around town.

In this case, Campo explained, a $300,000 home with a 17 percent increase in its value will see an increase in taxes, of about $266 a year (the specific amount is $265.89). Following Campo's example, if a house value was $300,000 and increased by 17 percent, its new value would be $351,000 and its new annual tax bill would be $6,805.89, compared to a $6,540 for a $300,000 home under the old $21.80 tax rate.

Campo went on to say that a 15 percent increase in value would result in a $150 increase in taxes a year (the specific amount here is $149.55) and that if a house value increased "about 10 percent", per Campo, its taxes will remain pretty much flat. The correct number here is a 12.4 percent increase that will bring the annual tax bill to $6,538.31 (essentially flat) while a 10 percent increase will result in a tax decrease of $141.3 (the new annual tax bill will be $6,398.7).

The problem was that after giving these numbers, which may not have been 100 percent accurate, but were relatively close to the correct ones, Campo suddenly asked Farrell if he could correct himself. He then said that he was looking at a wrong sheet, the one with the $21.80 tax rate on it, from 2018. Campo said that a 17 percent increase in this year's revaluation would only result in a tax increase of about $77.

When asked by the Londonderry Times, Campo clarified the two versions: "At the previous town council meeting (10/28/2019), I used a $300,000 house that had a 17% increase in assessment as an example. I used 17%, as the town's valuation increased to slightly under 18% in total.

In my example, I originally compared the 2018 tax year with a tax rate of $21.80 to the current 2019 tax year with a tax rate of $19.39, while also using the example increase of 17%. In this example, the tax bill for this home would increase by the approximate $266 as I initially explained. This increase will fluctuate depending on the property assessment.

When I spoke to clarify my numbers, it was to compare the Actual 2019 Tax rate to the Estimated 2019 Tax rate that was approved by the voters in March of 2019. In this example, I used the estimated valuation that was used to calculate the estimated potential tax impact on the Warrant Articles that were voted on during the March 2019 election."

agreed that a tribute piece dedicated to him in the Musquash is a wonderful way to remember him. A private ceremony will be held by Considine's friends to reveal the new bench. The Commission also decided to rename the Shoots and Ladders Trail in the Musquash the "Mike Considine Memorial Shoots & Ladders Trail."

The Hickory Hill Water issues and the Eversource response were then discussed. The company explained that they are concerned about the culverts backing up and flooding neighborhoods. Eversource requested the Commission research and find other ways to engineer the two crossings, without culverts. Badois will talk to John Trottier, P.E., Assistant Director of Public Works and Engineering, about an alternative to culverts, such as deep gravel. After obtaining input from Trottier she will forward that information to Eversource.

The staff from EnSafe interviewed Bob Lievens, prior owner of the Woodmont property on Gilcreast Road, regarding past agricultural activities on the land. Orchard Soil Testing was discussed. EnSafe provides engineering, environmental, health and safety, and information technology services. A soil test indicates the soil PH and the levels of nutrients that are available for plant growth. A professional soil test lets you know whether you may need to add more nutrients and how much lime and fertilizer, if any, to add. A soil test is best to do whenever a new garden is started or new planting on a site. After the initial testing, retesting soil every one to three years is suggested.

Department of Public Works and Engineering has placed bolts on the turtle signs, so that they can be folded. This turtle ordeal came to the attention of the Commission in 2016. A concerned resident, Deanna Mele, had proposed the turtle crossing signs idea. "It bothers me to see these turtles dead on the road", she said. "Anytime I see them run over, it's too much." Since then four signs have been placed that show, "Turtle Crossing" - two on Hall Road and two on South Road, which are close to Kendall Pond and Beaver Brook.

The Rail Trail is ready to accept the $100,000 contribution from the Commission authorized in 2017. Londonderry Trailways is a nonprofit organization dedicated to improving access to trails for recreational use in the community of Londonderry. Granite State Rail Trail will connect Lebanon and Salem over an estimated 120 miles. Currently, trail sections are disconnected with individual communities handling development of the projects.

Tennessee Gas sent a letter regarding upcoming maintenance to be performed along their route. Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company operates a natural gas transmission pipeline that crosses through the community. Over the next couple of months the company will be in the area conducting maintenance on the pipeline markers, certifying compliance with the required DOT regulations.

Cooperative Extension is updating a brochure booklet called "Conserving the Land" that will be released in November. She is going to get some hard copies for the Commission to review as soon as it is released.

Kendall Pond Project is underway. It is designed to keep this conservation area safe, including monitored security. The cost to install the Kendall Pond gate was $240.00, which is less than the $2000.00 that was previously approved for the Kendall Pond improvements. The improvements to the pond include a gate, picnic tables and a viewing platform.

NHACC dues, which total $1075.00 are currently due to be paid. She noted that the amount of the dues is based on the size of the Town and not the size of the Commission. A motion to pay the NHACC dues of $1075.00 from the line item budget was made and seconded. The motion passed, 7-0-0.

Londonderry Presbyterian Church Celebrates Nutfield's 300th

ANN CHIAMPA
LONDONDERRY HISTORICAL SOCIETY, CURATOR

On Sunday Oct. 27, the Londonderry Presbyterian Church (LPC) held a day-long celebration in recognition of the 300th Anniversary of Nutfield.

Today, this church, under the guidance of Pastor Karla Dias, continues the mission and ministry of the Reverend James McGregor that began in Nutfield with his first sermon on the banks of Beaver Pond on April 12th 1719.

In recognition of that, the Presbyterian Historical Society overseeing the National Archives of the Presbyterian Church (USA) sent a letter to Pastor Karla congratulating the Londonderry Presbyterian Church on their 300th Anniversary of that first worship service in America.

LPC also received a commendation from the Presbytery of Northern New England's Commission on Ministry on the occasion of their 300th Anniversary. The commendation, in part, reads, "Londonderry Presbyterian Church is the oldest continuing Presbyterian congregation in the Northeast. The congregation having met in several meeting houses until the beautiful, historic sanctuary was erected in 1837."

In this same sanctuary, the 300th Anniversary Celebration commenced at 10:00am with a morning Worship Service where communion was shared with all present, including the Ulster-Scots visitors from Aghadowey, County Londonderry, Ireland, who came to celebrate the occasion with this congregation. A potluck brunch followed in Westervelt Hall, adjacent to the Church.

In the afternoon, Session Elder Linda Harvey conducted a Historical Tour of the church with the help of her daughter Beth Prybylski and Deacon Suzanne Dustin.

Afterwards, Ann Chiampa, Curator of the Londonderry Historical Society, provided the Aghadowey visitors with a tour of the c.1760 Morrison House Museum where they were also able to learn more about the History of Londonderry, NH and the Londonderry Historical Society. Longtime Society member Bill Bringhurst gave tours of two other museum buildings, the c.1840 R.P. Clark & Son Blacksmiths shop and the c.1859 Parmenter Barn. The guests later remarked to Pastor Karla how impressed they were with those informative tours.

In the evening, the Church held a special program of music and history. The processional of guest Ministers into the sanctuary was followed by the surprise entrance of Pastor Karla, dressed as an 18th century lady, who then changed her shawl for a pastoral stole to represent being the first full-time female pastor of the Londonderry Presbyterian Church in its 300 year history. The curator of the Historical Society had also provided Pastor Karla with a cotton and lace bonnet to wear at the start of the ceremony, which was meant to represent her now being a part of Londonderry's history. Pastor Karla was profoundly touched by that gesture and honored to join in such a rich history of this town.

All those in attendance were inspired to sing, dance and rejoice to the wonderfully uplifting music provided by "Truth Be Told," the multigenerational worship group and ensemble of the Church. Its eleven members present ranged from eleven to eighty plus years young, all playing different types of instruments.

During the ceremony, an exchange of gifts took place. Pastor Karla presented each visitor from Ireland with Londonderry's version of the 300th Anniversary of Nutfield coin. In return, she was gifted by Michelle Knight-McQuillan with a framed drawing of the Aghadowey Presbyterian Church sketched by Kenneth A. Bromley. Knight-McQuillan also gave a PowerPoint presentation on the history of Aghadowey, where Rev. James McGregor was pastor before setting sail with some of his flock to New England.

In addition, a handsome plaque with the coat of arms of the Causeway Coast & Glens Borough Council was given by Knight-McQuillan, councillor and former mayor of the council. Pastor Karla graciously accepted the gifts on behalf of all the members of her congregation.

The Londonderry Presbyterian Church's 300th Anniversary Day of Celebration ended in Westervelt Hall with cake, cookies and coffee, and a strong bond of friendship made between the two Londonderrys, both New Hampshire and Ireland, with promises to one day meet again.

Derry Dog Park Illness's Make Dog Owners Anxious About Pets

MACK LEATHURBY
NUTFIELD NEWS

An unknown problem recently caused illness for some dogs after visits to the Derry Dog Park, and exasperated dog owners are searching for answers. These dog owners are looking for additional support, solutions and disease prevention efforts after several dogs fell sick shortly after park visits, with one dog's death believed to be linked to a park excursion.

The Derry Dog Park is an off-leash dog environment located on Fordway off of Route 102 and the park is also set up with a small dog area, agility obstacles, and tunnels for dog owners to have a place in Derry to bring their pets. The area is completely fenced in, with a double gate to enter, allowing dogs the opportunity to run and play freely in a safe and enclosed environment.

Dog owner, Erin Viveiros-Firth, from Derry has been in touch with other dog park users who expressed anxiety about problems encountered with their dogs after recent park visits. She reported, "Nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, and a couple of instances of vomiting blood have dog owners concerned...we didn't know if it was a sickness or a poison or if there were berries growing."

Veterinarians recommend dog owners should take safeguards before heading to any dog park. Vets suggest that dog and other pet owners should keep up to date with their pet's immunizations, de-worming treatments and noted that it is important for owners to use effective treatments to ward off fleas and ticks. However, these mysterious illnesses that have turned up recently have owners asking questions about the Derry Dog Park.

Dog parks provide four-legged friends with a place to socialize and play, however, pet health care specialists caution that all dogs must be fully vaccinated before visiting one of these dog parks. Holly Nussbaum, a local Vet Tech says, "Dog parks are great places to let dogs stretch their legs, burn off some energy and have some fun, but owners should check with their vet doctor to make sure their dog is up to date with vaccinations that may be needed, and especially for canines that will frequent these dog parks."

After discussions among Derry Dog Park users about the possibilities of pet illnesses related to dog park excursions, some of the dog owners got together at the end of October to try to decontaminate the park of potential hazards. They removed toys and other things that had been left behind in the park. Town workers also joined to help this group of volunteer local dog owners who had organized to clean up the park.

"Because we just don't know where it's coming from, so we're like, 'Get rid of it,'" said Viveiros-Firth. "The town came to pick up the leaves, which was great. They were really responsive." Some dog owners and park users however were not happy about the ongoing maintenance of the park area and they hope cleaning the dog park area might become a higher priority action for the town. "It would just be really great for this community and the park, that we have here, if some basic maintenance could be handled on a more regular basis," said Heather Mosher, a dog owner.

Dog owners can be proactive to prevent problems too - as it is all too common for dogs to pick up an illness from visits to any dog park they visit. Dog owners that go to a dog park should be aware of the risks of canine diseases there. For example, there are dogs that might visit and look OK but could also be carriers of canine distemper, influenza, or the parvo-virus. Some viruses and parasites that affect dogs can also affect humans, such as rabies and leptospirosis - which is a bacteria-borne illness than can result in liver or kidney failure. And these pathogens and parasites may be lurking at dog parks, according to a university animal health professor who asked that her name to be withheld.

"These germs, parasites and diseases can be found in the soil, water and even in the air, said this clinical associate professor. "Many of these serious diseases can be fatal, even with treatment," she said.

Aside from making sure your dog's shots and other medical treatments are up to date, another precaution dog owners should take when using a dog park is to bring their own water. Allowing your dog to drink out of a communal water bowl can expose them to certain disease-causing microorganisms.

The Derry Dog Park is a popular place - providing dog owners are proactive, and there is appropriate environmental maintenance, the dog park is a welcome area for dog owners and their pets to socialize. Over the years and through donations to the Derry Dog Park, there is also a Small Dog Park area. This is a separate off-leash area open to small dogs, 20 pounds and under only - to insure smaller dogs have a welcome place to feel safe and happy.

The Derry Dog Park is open from sunrise to sunset. Please note this park has a carry in, carry out trash and scooping policy. Everyone should help keep the park clean by removing any trash or waste a pup might leave behind. Donations are critical to the ongoing success, maintenance support and improvements made at the park.

Dog owners should check out the rules and regulations, to be in tune with park environment for health and safety purposes. Check these regulations out at the Town of Derry Web site page:<https://www.derrynh.org/animal-control/pages/-/derry-dog-park> tract with Comcast); and $43,000 increased utility costs to the renovated fire station. Smith explained that in case the Supplemental Budget does not pass, there would be a period of three months and a half to prioritize and decide what to do instead. Plans will be made immediately to prioritize services and appropriations and one possible solution may include encumbering funds from FY 2020 to cover costs in FY 2021.

Smith said that similar to what was done with the sewer fund last year the town would like to make the Police Special Detail Fund, which is part of the Special Revenue Fund every year, into Revolving Fund, so as to discontinue the need to place it on the warrant annually. He added that there is no need for taxpayers support for this, as user fees support all funds. The Town's Finance Director Justin Campo explained that the terminology is slightly different - The sewer fund last year was turned into an Enterprise Fund, while this will be a Revolving Fund, if approved.

Smith presented the Capital Reserve/Maintenance Trust Funds and said that the only new thing in it, which is offset by a revenue source, is the cable equipment, a fee from Comcast as part of the franchise agreement. The Department of Revenue said that this could no longer be accepted and spent at the Town Council meeting like the way it was until now, but it will have to be on the warrant and voted on by the voters.

Regarding the Equalized Valuation used for the tax rate, Smith presented the percent change from year to year and showed that the percent went from 3.67 in 2018 to 17.87 in 2019, because of the revaluation that was done this year. He said that with the blessing of the council, he would like the town to move toward a more frequent town-wide revaluation, as many towns and cities, even the large ones, are doing. He explained that the market fluctuates a lot in five years (the time that has passed since the previous revaluation in town, back in 2014).

Pay it Forward Group Hosts Annual Veterans Day Breakfast

LISA D'AMBROSIO
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Pay It Forward Group, at Londonderry High School, under the leadership of Assistant Principal Katie Sullivan, will orchestrate the annual Londonderry High School Veterans Breakfast. The Veterans will be honored with a hot, fresh breakfast prepared by the food service staff and volunteers.

On Saturday, Nov. 9, the festivities will begin at 8:00 a.m. in the Londonderry High School cafeteria.

"The breakfast has grown so much since we started this back in 2013" High School Assistant Principal and Pay it Forward leader Katie Sullivan stated.

"In 2013 and the early years we honored about 46 veterans and last year we have over 200 attend." Sullivan added.

The Pay-It-Forward club gives students a way to give back not just to Londonderry High School, but to the larger community as well. The club will do a few events each month. The club members will be able to enjoy some local veterans company, listen to great stories and help give back to some of the people who deserve it most, our Veterans.

"Our goal is to have each Veteran leave that morning with a special gift basket and a hand written thank you note." said Katie Sullivan.

The Londonderry High School band will preform a program of patriotic music and special words will be offered by students and others.

Each year, at the end of the event, gift baskets are delivered to each of the veterans in attendance.

"This event is a huge community togetherness event. We even have local residents come early and ask to help set up." Informed the Vice Principal.

For more information please contact Katie Sullivan at Londonderry High School 432-6941.

Upper Room Auction Brings in Much Needed Funding

On Friday, Nov. 1, the Upper Room of Derry held it's annual auction with a large crowd of eager bidders.

They had their largest crowd in their over 18-year history of doing the auction, and the energy and spirit of the guests was simply contagious. Board members, Staff and Volunteers attended were also in full attendance.

Brenda Guggisberg the Upper Room Executive Director stated, "One goal we had was to get to 200 fund a family donations... we hit that goal and exceeded it, and we made 250 fund a families for the event".

For those who were not able to make the event they can go to our website: URTeachers.org and can make donation for a great cause.

"The auction chair Angie Wiesmann and her husband Jacob Wiesmann (CFO of Parkland Medical Center, and board member, and former President of the board) and her son

Zachary, all spent significant time making this years event a huge success." according to Guggisberg. She added, "Wiesmann with her keen leadership and helped this year's event exceed our expectations, and she is to be applauded for her year long commitment to this event as meetings started in January of last year. "This is an 11 month project that comes to fruition night of, it takes hundreds of volunteer hours, donations, and sponsorships to make it all happen". As the Executive Director, I am simply humbled at the support and kindness this community showered upon our agency last Friday evening at Tupelo Hall. There are simply no words for the gratitude I feel to every single person who had any piece of this events success, Guggisberg said.

Londonderry Football Squad Finishes Season with a Bang

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

It didn't take long for football fans at Lancer Park to see who the better team was on Friday, Nov. 1, as the Londonderry football squad put on a show during senior night at home, beating Manchester Central 69-22, on senior night, and completing their undefeated 9-0 season.

Now, the Lancers find themselves in a very familiar situation as last year, as they are the top seed, and will host cross-town rivals Pinkerton Academy on Saturday, Nov. 9, (kick off at 2 p.m.).

Last year, Londonderry wound up losing to the Astros 20-14 after a late goal line stand by the visitors. After a dominating regular season, that saw them breaking the losing streak against Pinkerton and setting up some amazing numbers, this year, the Lancers hope to get their first playoff victory in 18 years.

Londonderry did not waste any time on Friday, on its route to an all-time team high of 69 points. Two minutes into the game, Jeff Wiedenfeld scored on a 13-yard carry and later, in a span of one minute and 46 seconds towards the end of the opening quarter, the Lancers scored three more touchdowns (a Jake McEachern 4-yard run, a Cole Keegan pick six and a Dylan McEachern blocked punt return) to make it 28-0, early in the game.

Central scored a touchdown, seven seconds into the next quarter, but Londonderry immediately answered with a kickoff return for 79-yards by Wiedenfeld. A minute later, it was Tyler Kayo with the 42-yard touchdown run and with 10 seconds remaining in the half, Dylan McEachern scored on a 6-yard run to give Londonderry a 48-6 lead.

After the break, Central found the end zone again, but Londonderry enjoyed its second kickoff return touchdown of the game, this time by Eric Raza, who went 85-yards. Later, Aiden O'Loughlin scored on a 66-yard carry and Justin Miller on a 5-yard rush (Jake McEachern scored a drop kick for the extra point), before Central closed the game with a late touchdown.

Londonderry had 365 total offense yards, while the Little Green only managed to get 185. Dylan McEachern finished 4-for-4 for 50-yards, Jake McEachern went 3-for-6 for 47. Wiedenfeld had 88 yards on the ground and O'Loughlin 77.

Jake McEachern finished his regular season with 1,137 passing yards (49-for-77, 63.6 percent), 18 touchdowns, two interceptions and 126.3 yards per game. He also had 494 rushing yards and six rushing touchdowns. Leading the Lancers on the ground was Wiedenfeld, who finished with 701 rushing yards and 12 rushing touchdowns in nine games. Tyler Kayo ran for 284 yards and five touchdowns and Dylan McEachern for 238 and four. Cole Keegan was the team's top receiver, with 18 catches for 500 yards and seven touchdowns. Alex Tsetsilas finished with 437 yards and seven touchdowns.

On defense, Will Reyes led with 35 tackles (32 solo tackles). Michael Watts had 30.5 and three sacks, Riley Boles finished with 29.5 and two sacks, Matt Pemberton had 27 tackles and Wiedenfeld finished with 22 and led the team in sacks with 3.5. Keegan and Tsetsilas both had three interceptions, including one that was returned for a touchdown and Zach Fawcett was reliable as a kicker, going 54-for-58 on the extra point kicks.

Lancer coach Jimmy Lauzon said after last Friday's season finale, "It's always hard coaching in games like these, because you never know when is the right time to give your starters rest and you don't want the other team to get close to you. Our defense and special teams played great. Our offense was out for about 10 straight minutes, while we scored three touchdowns. The kids wanted to go back already."

Lauzon has two 8-1 seasons, but this was his first undefeated run, "It doesn't feel too different right now, but hopefully in a few weeks we can reminisce and look back at what we've accomplished. While it's happening, you just go back to work. You live the feeling for about two hours after the game, whether you won or lost, and then go back to work. It's a great achievement and I hope that after the season we can enjoy all the memories, like this game against Central. We had many kids scoring touchdowns and many seniors who had the chance to play together on their last Friday night."

In last year's playoff match, the mud and weather hurt Londonderry and Lauzon says, "I felt we were very ready to that game and our kids embraced the weather, which was a huge factor."

Lady Lancer Soccer Squad Peppers Grizzlies in Quarterfinals

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Girls' Varsity Soccer team took the momentum of their 16-1 regular season record into the playoffs on Sunday night Nov. 3, and will now go on to play on Thursday, Nov. 7, in the Division I semifinals against Bishop Guertin, starting at 4 p.m.

The Lady Lancers made their way into the semis with yet another dominating performance, a 7-0 quarterfinals home victory against Goffstown in a game played at Presentation of Mary, in Hudson, because of poor field conditions at the home

LHS field.

It took Londonderry 20 minutes to score their first goal against Goffstown, when Darby Dupuis took an Olivia Stowell rebound off the face and quickly regained composure, and put the ball past the Grizzlies goalie to start the scoring. Then, three minutes before halftime, freshman Mia Stowell doubled the Lady Lancers' lead with shot from in front of the net.

After the break, LHS scored five more times. Olivia Stowell put the ball in the back of the net in the 48th minute (with younger sister Mia Stowell assisting) and Mia Stowell scored her second of the game five minutes later (assisted by Alyssa Anderson). Olivia Stowell completed her hat trick with goals in the 69th (assisted by Olivia Galluzzo) and 72nd (assisted by Anderson) minutes, before Anderson scored the final goal of the night, in the 77th minute (assisted by Emily Ahlman).

Londonderry controlled the game, shooting the ball on Goffstown's goal 23 times, while the Grizzlies only had one attempt on goal. Jasmine Richards had an easy save on that attempt. Ava Vaughn had 14 saves out of the 21 attempts for Goffstown.

The second seeded Lady Lancers will now move on to face the BG Cardinals, and even though the Cardinals are seeded number three, it will be a home game for them, as the semifinals will be played at Stellos Stadium in Nashua. Londonderry and Bishop Guertin met their just a few weeks ago, on Oct. 17, and had a rather dramatic regular season match, where the Cardinals were up 2-0 before two late goals and a game-winner in overtime gave the Lancers a 3-2 win.

Football

We played well and there weren't many mistakes on both sides. I just hope the outcome can be different this year. The question is who will be better prepared for this game. We really wanted to play Pinkerton and no matter the final score, we know this will be a tough game.

Our players love being challenged, this is the kind of team we got and we are looking forward to it. After they beat us last year, we couldn't wait to play them again."

The teams already met this season and Londonderry got a big 42-24 away victory on Mack Plaque weekend, breaking an 18-year, 22-game losing streak against the Astros, "We knew for the past two years we could beat them and this game maybe helped us to ease the mind of this lingering question mark. But in football, you need many things to go your way in order to win. It's good that we broke the streak, but now, it's like playing against any other opponent. Our kids will be excited and the streak doesn't matter anymore. This game will start 0-0."

LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry High School's Boys' and Girls' Varsity Cross Country teams competed on Saturday, Nov. 2 in the New Hampshire Meet of Champions, held in Nashua South High

The boys', who qualified as a team after finishing fifth in last week's Division I State Meet, took the sixth spot in the Meet of Champions, thanks to 164 points. The Lancers scored six more points than Oyster River, who finished fifth with 158 and were ahead of Winnacunnet, who ended up in the seventh place with 180 points. Coe-Brown won with just 57 points.

The fastest runner for the Lancers was freshman Sean Clegg, who placed 25th overall with a time of 16:05.5. Matthew Griffin was 29th, crossing the finish line after 16:11.3 minutes. Ryan Young came in 40th (16:22.2), Dylan Hotter was 48th (16:34.5), Kerry Daley 56th (16:39.4), Christophe Burpeau 58th (16:39.8) and Will Plante 95th (17:14.0).

The girls, who were seventh in Division I, finished 14th overall on Saturday with a team score of 318. Souhegan won, with 80. Leading the Lancers was senior Caitlin Boufford, with a time of 19:03.4 and the 22nd overall spot. Grace McDonough finished 32nd (19:26.4) and Cailey McDonough 97th (20:58.8). Other points came from Adriana Nadeau (112nd, 21:21.4), Cailin Borovicka (115th, 21:41.3), Emily Smith (119th, 21:59.1) and Jasmine Brown (129th, 22:35.1).

Lancers Boys' Soccer Gets Bounced in First Round by Keene

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The conclusion of the Londonderry High School's Boys' Varsity Soccer team's season came on Wednesday, Oct. 30, at Keene High School, in the first round of Division I playoffs after a 2-0 loss.

The Lancer boys' entered the postseason as the 11th seed, after a 6-7-4 regular season record, and faced the sixth seeded Blackbirds (11-4-2). The LHS squad had two great opportunities to take the lead in the first half, with one ball being cleared by the locals off the goal line and another from close range.

Seven minutes into the second half, Keene scored the first goal of the match, after sophomore Aiden Fauth sent the ball in following a good cross. Then, 11 minutes later, Jonas O'Mara found himself one-on-one against Londonderry's goalkeeper Alex Hufford and managed to squeeze the ball past him for Keene's second.

"Our Keene match, as was what was mentioned on the bench and after the game by the players, was an example of our season all wrapped up into one game. Our effort was inconsistent and certainly putting the ball into the net was inconsistent", commented Londonderry's coach, Todd Ellis. "The players had some thoughts that they shared after the game about the match, and their season. I echoed those sentiments by reminding them that these were some of the same comments we had after our last season match against Keene."

Ellis added, "A little more effort, and consistency, and we are playing at home instead of on the road. Every game does matter, no matter who the opponent is. If we want to compete with the better teams in our division, we need to improve our technical skill, speed, and strength, in the off season, so that we can perform at a higher level and at a more consistent speed of play."

Keene was eliminated from the playoffs in the next round by third seeded Hanover 2-1.

LHS Cheerleading honored its seniors Caitlyn Czekanski, Arianna Squeglia, Megan McHugh, Samantha McCarthy, Emma Gehris, Bree Mesckell, and Ashley Greenwood on Friday night. The team will head into the Fall Spirit Championship on Sunday Londonderry High School's Spirit team will be competing this Sunday (Nov. 10) at Pinkerton Academy in the Fall Spirit Division I Championship. If the Lancers, who are scheduled to be the third performance of the morning (at 10:12 a.m.) can finish ahead of the hosting Astros, they would tie the Mack Plaque competition, which currently stands at 4-3-1 in favor of Pinkerton.

Londonderry had three competitions to display their talents this season. On Oct. 20 the Lancers placed third out of nine in the Cheer Madness competition at Nashua North. A week later they were crowned Grand Champions winning the Hannah Bazemore Memorial at Hollis-Brookline and last Sunday, Nov. 3, they took third out of 12 in the Battle at the Capital, held in Concord.

LHS Junior Varsity Golf Team Finishes Fourth in State Tournament

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School's Junior Varsity Golf team finished fourth overall in the Junior Varsity end-of-the-season tournament recently, the tourney, which was held at the Hoodcroft Country Club Golf Course in Derry, on Oct. 10. had 19 teams participated in the event and the Lancers, coached by Jim Fletcher, had two individual finishing top-20 and earning medals.

Rob DeFeo placed seventh overall and Lydia Tufts finished 15th.

As a team, the young Lancers posted a great 14-1 record throughout their regular season, with the sole loss coming on a tiebreaker against Bedford, when the sixth score decided that tight matchup.

Fletcher, who had six golfers as the core roster of his Junior Varsity team this year, with others rotating back and forth from Varsity to Junior Varsity, says: "I thought that the team made a great deal of progress as far as improvement was concerned. The goal of any JV program is to develop players for future Varsity competition. I feel that we certainly accomplished this over the course of the season."

The core roster was: Joe Weisenburger, Mahima Bhattacharjee, Ethan Doherty, Trevor Huuskonen, Nick Burinskas, Lydia Tufts.

Greater Derry Track Club Prepares for 46th Annual Turkey Trot

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The longtime tradition of the Greater Derry Track Club Turkey Trot race is set to continue this year, with the 46th annual 5K run scheduled to take place on Thanksgiving morning, Nov. 28.

Race Director Sean Coyle says that organizers are expecting about 1,200 runners this year: "We are the oldest Turkey Trot in New Hampshire and one of the largest. We are a race for runners of all abilities. We try and give our runners the best possible start to their holiday. We have lots of volunteers and some great refreshments for after the run. The Greater Derry Turkey Trot is a family tradition and our club is very proud to be part of that."

The race has been part of Thanksgiving Day since 1973 and will start at 9 a.m. that Thursday, at Gallien's Town Beach on Beaver Lake in Derry. Last year, nearly 700 runners bravely fought the freezing temperatures and they will be hoping for better weather this time around. The youngest runners in 2018 were just eight years old and the oldest one, John Loker, was 75 and needed less than half an hour to complete the course. The 2018 winners were Aushir Smith of Topsfield, MA and Morgan Lingor, who came all the way from New York.

You can pre-registration online for $20 (free for kids 12 and under – 200 entries available) or race day registration (including the day before the race) for $25 ($10 for kids). In addition, each runner is requested to donate a non-perishable canned good or dry food item. The food donations will then be sent to pantries in the Greater Derry area, to help people in need.

Participants can pick up their race packets starting Wednesday (Nov. 27), from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the race site. There is also an option to make the pick up before the race, on Thursday morning (7-8:30 a.m.). The first 1,200 entrants will receive a long sleeve shirt with a four-color logo design and after the race runners can enjoy food, beverages and music and the award ceremony for the first three overall and first three local (Derry and Londonderry) male and female finishers.

Again this year, parking is available at Pinkerton Academy, from there, buses will take the runners to the race site between 7 a.m. and 11 a.m.

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Officer Cameron Verrier will be representing the Londonderry Police Department in this March's CHaD (Children's Hospital at Dartmouth-Hitchcock) Battle of the Badges, the annual ice hockey game between police and fire.

The 14th annual game is scheduled for March 13, 2020 and will be held at the Southern New Hampshire University arena, in Manchester. Last year, a winning goal, 5.6 second before the end of regulation, gave the firefighters a win in this matchup after three straight police victories.

Each of the nearly 50 law enforcement and fire and rescue personnel participating players commits to raising a minimum of $1,500 for this CHaD fundraiser. Last year, players combined to raise nearly $175,000, with the game generating nearly $278,000. Tickets for the game can be purchased online, on the event's website (www.CHaDHockey.org) and cost $10, with kids five and under getting in free.

Sponsorship packages and donation information is also available online and the funds from the game are used for myriad programs at Chad, including Child Life Program, Molly's Place (center for kids and families to visit while at the medical center) and Injury Prevention Center.

READERS ARE CAUTIONED that we occasionally run ads that require an initial investment or money in advance. We urge our readers to "do their homework" before responding to any ad, check out the advertiser thoroughly and verify their claims to your total satisfaction. Only then should you proceed at your own risk. We try to screen ads that require you to send money before receiving a product or service. But these efforts are no substitute for your own investigation, and we don't endorse or guarantee any claims made in any of the ads we publish. If you want more information about claims made in ads on subjects such as work at home opportunities, travel or vacation specials, purchasing land or vehicles from government surplus or below wholesale, loans or other credit opportunities (including credit repair), or weight loss and other health products and services, we urge you to contact the Office of Attorney General, Consumer Protection Bureau, 33 Capitol Street, Concord, NH 03301 (603-271-3641) or the Better Business Bureau at 603-224-1991.
