Police Chief Decides Not to Purchase Back-Up Generator

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Town Council held a discussion during its Thursday, Nov. 7, meeting, following last Saturday's Town Budget Hearing. Londonderry Chief of Police, William

Hart, announced that the Police Department has decided not to purchase a new emergency back-up generator, despite it being approved by the voters in the March 2019 elections.

Chief Hart said that the generator was a source of some controversy and that the department took a hard look into the situation and now believes that the useful life of the current back-up generator is much longer than the LPD initially anticipated. The Chief suggested returning the money that was approved, $175,000, to the continued on page 7

Town Council Chair Points to School on Recent Tax Increase

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Town Council Chairman John Farrell opened Thursday's (Nov. 7) Town Council meeting with a 14-minute long statement, after claiming he received numerous phone calls since the tax bill went out to the town's residents. Farrell said he wishes to provide some information, based on the questions he received.

He began by explaining that Fiscal Years are between July 1 and June 30 and that the tax bill is adjusted in accordance to what passed at the polls in that year's March elections. Dollars collected in the bill go for the current Fiscal Year, said Farrell and the revaluation that was done by the town this year, the first one since 2014, changed the situation. (Farrell added that a new process is going to be discussed and hopefully, the town will start doing valuations every two years instead of every five. According to the Chairman, without the assessments, which were set on Apr. 1, the tax rate would have gone up from $21.80 to $22.47, however, instead, it went down to $19.39.

Farrell went on to say that in Londonderry, 72 percent of every dollar that is collected, goes to education. He provided some numbers – Since 2010, the town raised $20 million in new revenue.

During this time span, the schools budget saw a $16 million increase. Also since 2010, the amount of children in the town's school dropped from approximately 5,100 to 4,150 (including students from Hooksett) according to Farrell.

The Chairman, who has been critical of the School Department in recent months, while the Capital Improvement Plan (where he also serves as the committee chairman) was being discussed, said that over the last seven or eight years, the town has stayed either on or under its default budget. Over the last two years, however, the voters have approved a school budget continued on page 8

Resident Brings Water and Air Quality Issues to the Council

Londonderry resident, Glenn Douglas, filed a 91-A request last Friday, Nov. 8, with the town's Administrative Support Coordinator Steve Cotton, following a discussion that took place during the Town Council meeting held the previous evening.

At that meeting, Douglas told the Town Council members that he was presented at the Water Quality Study presentation, in the previous Town Council meeting, on Oct. 28. Douglas said that he heard Merrimack had a major problem with water contamination. He attended the Public Hearing, held last Monday (Nov. 5) in Merrimack held by the New Hampshire Department of Environmental Services (NHDES). During that meeting the NHDES presented an update regarding the Saint-Gobain Performance Plastics Site Investigation. Douglas said that the entire Public Hearing revolved around the PFOAs (Teflon and Per-and polyfluoroalkyl substances).

During that Public Hearing, it was said that Merrimack is investigating $20 million in a water purification system in order to eliminate the PFOAs in the water. The contamination area (that is attributed to the Saint-Gobain plant in Merrimack) has spread over 64 square miles and is one of the largest contaminations of PFOAs in the country. continued on page 3

Mother Accused of Child Abduction Surrenders to Police

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Malinda Nicolosi of 512 Mammoth Rd. in Londonderry turned herself in to the Medford Police Department in Massachusetts last Wednesday (Nov. 6). Nicolosi, 46, arrived at the police station accompanied with her three-year-old son Anthony and was shortly after that arraigned in the Somerville (Mass.) District Court and charged with one misdemeanor count of interference with custody, after allegedly abducting her own child a day earlier.

Nicolosi was later bailed out in Massachusetts, before turning herself in to the Londonderry Police Department, where she was booked on Wednesday evening. She will face arraignment in the Rockingham County Superior Court. Her acquaintances, however, claim there is a different side to the story that took place over a span of little more than 24 hours.

Shortly before 2:30 p.m. last Tuesday, the Londonderry Police Department sent out a press release and asked for the public's help in locating Anthony. According to the police, he was believed to be in his biological mother's custody, which was in defiance of a court order, issued in the 10th Circuit Court – Family Division – Derry, granting full custody to who, according to the first press release, was "the child's biological father."

Police said that Malinda Nicolosi was last seen with her son in Londonderry on Friday, Nov. 1 and is believed to be either in New Hampshire or in Massachusetts, where she was eventually located. The Londonderry Police Department issued an active arrest warrant for Nicolosi and thousands of Facebook users, as well as police departments in the region shared this information, but others commented on the Londonderry Police Department's social media post in an attempt to share other information.

Nicolosi's defenders claimed that the custody was given to a person who is not Anthony's biological father. One of them, who spoke to the Londonderry Times and asked that his name would not be used for this story, even shared several photos of a DNA test and a signed affidavit by the father, allegedly proving this claim (these photos were later taken off the internet). In a post that was shared by a few of Nicolosi's acquaintances, they suggested that there has been a long dispute regarding the treatment of

Anthony's health condition ("since he was born", as the Londonderry Times was told) and that the Derry Family Court "took Malinda's medical decision making right away from her and gave it to the non-biological father on May 20, 2019."

In a second Londonderry Police press release, on Wednesday at approximately 2 p.m. and after Nicolosi had already turned herself in to the Medford Police, the term "biological father" was changed to "custodial father."

Londonderry Fire to Receive a Piece of Fallen World Trade Center

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry Fire Department Chief Darren O'Brien, accompanied by two of the department's firefighters (to be named) and by Londonderry Police officers Glenn Aprile and Matthew Laquerre will be traveling this Thursday (Nov. 14) to New York City. The Londonderry Fire Department was able to obtain a piece of the World Trade Center and this is the reason for the trip to NYC.

They are scheduled to return to Londonderry with this piece from the fallen towers the next day, Friday, at approximately 3:30 p.m. The firefighters will be escorted on their way back from New York City to Londonderry, by State Police (of each state they will pass through on the trip), as well as, by motorcycles of the International Association of Fire Fighters (IAFF). They will be traveling to New York City and back with a Londonderry police cruiser and the Fire Chief's car.

Chief O'Brien said that the Fire Department has been working on obtaining a piece from the World Trade Center since 2015. Unfortunately, after a period of good communication, the discussions broke down, but in the last month and a half those discussions picked up again and they were finally able to secure the piece.

The Chief added that he is trying to see if they can get accommodations to spend their night in New York City sleeping in the City Firehouse. The piece will be placed at first in the lobby of the Central Fire Station on Mammoth Rd. In the spring, Chief O'Brien said that the plan is to modify the memorial in front of the Fire station and display the piece of the fallen World Trade Center there. He is hopeful that this will happen in time for the grand opening of the newly renovated Central Fire Station.

The Chief told the Londonderry Times: "This piece is something that can get the public to come here to the station and reflect on. It's a day that will never be forgotten. We lost 343 of our brothers and sisters that day. As time goes by, people are pushing this aside. In the months after it happened, people were willing to give more and be good citizens. This piece represents the goodness of people."

Water/Air

However, the biggest issue in the Public Hearing was an air cleaner that Saint-Gobain will install, so PFOAs do not sneak into the air. The cost to Saint-Gobain for this equipment is $3 million, but it also creates hydrogen fluoride. Hydrogen fluoride when combined with moisture, creates hydrofluoric acid, which is toxic. The NH DES stated that the amount of hydrogen fluoride emission would be less than maximum, but Merrimack residents voiced concerns given the history of PFOA/.

Douglas then referred the council members to a warrant article (number 17) that passed in the town's 2018 elections and approved the use of $35,000 for "the purpose of conducting a study of the town's air and water quality." Douglas asked if the town is doing anything to monitor what is in the air in Londonderry.

Town Council Chairman John Farrell responded that the town is moving forward with this issue as fast as it can and that residents who live west of High Range Rd.

have already been receiving letters in order to test their wells. However, regarding the air quality issue, his response was: "Now is probably a good time, as we are going through the budget, to see what we can do." This was said despite the fact the study had already been approved, nearly two years ago, after receiving a unanimous recommendation from the Town Council. Douglas responded that the warrant article previously passed funded a water and air quality study.

Councilor Tom Dolan answered Douglas and said that the town does check air quality, at the station located near the kindergarten. He added that he does not think the town is checking for PFOAs in the air at the moment, since air standards are new and the town does not have the capability to check PFOS compounds as yet. Dolan added that the town is beginning its assault on the PFOAs water contamination issue. The town has engaged the outside town attorney to see what the legal options may be for effected Londonderry residents. He added that there might be a tax impact at some point, if new equipment needs to be purchased and installed to resolve these issues. When contacted for comment Douglas responded that the Moose Hill monitoring station has been there for years. The town authorized an air study and we have yet to see an air quality report.

Take Caution This Season

The season of Autumn brings the color orange to mind: Pumpkins and turning leaves, sweet potatoes in a Thanksgiving spread, and for some, that special bright orange worn by hunters as a safety precaution.

It's hunting season in the Granite State again, and that means those pristine woods in back of your home, or along your favorite path are likely to resound with more than bird songs and leaf blowers.

The sounds of gunshots will be heard, and that calls for exercising extra caution when you're in or near the woods - whether you're aiming the gun or sipping coffee on the back porch.

Don't take chances. For hunters, always be sure of your target, taking special care in knowing that what you see is really what you're hunting. In other words, identify your target before you fire. Always. Make sure you take seriously what you learned in hunter education, and furthermore, take some form of hunter education before taking to the woods.

Know your weapon. The life you save may be your own or your neighbor's as a result. And be certain you're not trespassing in pursuit of your hobby. Be respectful of the land where you hunt, and the neighbors around you.

Know the rules. If the land with a "No Hunting" sign posted and you don't have personal permission to hunt there, go somewhere else. Just as important is leaving the land you do hunt on as you found it - or maybe even in better condition, where possible.

Each year, both private and town-owned land is trashed and vandalized.

Whether it's someone's idea of a private shooting range, complete with spent cartridges and beer cans, trees cut down without permission, or ATV damage to trails, the "rotten apple" spoils it for everyone else, hunter or non hunter. Clean up after yourself.

For the rest of us, this is the season when we don't want to be crashing around in the brush. Make it easy for the hunters and for yourself. Wear hunter orange when you're in an area where hunting is likely and make sure your faithful canine companion is sporting a matching ensemble for his or her safety. If you enjoy wearing camouflage, perhaps for the time being it's time to change your fashion choices.

Fall is a beautiful time to be in the woods, so long as we take literally the old adage that it's better to be safe than sorry. We know the vast majority of hunters use common sense in the pursuit of their game, but in southern New Hampshire, woods and homes are close neighbors. On a clear fall morning, the sound of gunshots is a good clue that you're not alone. Take care, and enjoy a beautiful fall.

Sky Rocketing Real Estate Taxes

To the editor,

The Londonderry tax bill showed up in the mail.

Did anyone else compare the 2019 tax bill to the 2018 tax bill?

I did, and it went up by 9.3%.

We are told by the town officials how great of a job they are doing by keeping our taxes down but in reality they are sky rocketing.

Voters need to actually vote on Election Day and pay attention to what they are voting for. Just because a warrant article says there is no "additional" impact to the tax rate, it doesn't mean that the money doesn't come for you, the taxpayer. We need to stop the special interest people from voting in so many "pet" projects. They are the ones who show up and vote. We need to spend money on essentials, but spending several million, maybe close to $10 million on a walking trail, buying a backup generator to an existing back up generator and several building projects is getting out of hand.

How much longer can the middle-income homeowner in Londonderry afford these rapidly rising real estate taxes?

Don't Blame Reevaluation on Sky-Rocketing Property Taxes, Blame spending!

To the editor,

The masses of Londonderry are up in arms over the huge, unanticipated increase in property taxes. We are being told by some of those "in the know" folks in Town leadership positions that the reason is largely due to property reevaluation. And, the Town Manager adds that the increase would have been even higher if not for the fact that a number of major commercial properties in Town were no longer insulated in a TIF district.

He goes on to explain that (due to action on the part of last year's Town Meeting) the Sewer Enterprise Fund is now included in the General Fund. We were informed that this would have a zero impact on property taxes. This is a self-supporting fund whose expenses are (or should be) covered by its revenues. The Town Manager states that the Operating Fund is only scheduled to increase by 2.85% but when we add in the (now General Fund) Sewer expenses, we need an increase of $3.7 million, a 10.8% increase! Whatever became of the old Sewer Fund's revenues?

Now I haven't seen the School District's proposed budget yet but I suspect it is also driving the increased property taxes. I understand the School District can have a much larger impact on our taxes, as it accounts some 73% of community spending.

So what's allowing increased Town wide spending to increase like this? Well, I believe it's due at least impact of the (possibly) unintended consequences of SB-2 (official balloting) form of town/school district meetings which we've adopted. Under SB-2, it is simply too easy to sweep many increases into a default budget. If that were not the case, we wouldn't see default budgets nearly identical to proposed budgets year after year.

I first approached some of our elected officials to the General Court to modify SB-2 rules regarding default budgets in 2011. A couple of years ago, the Legislature finally passed a small bit of relief to taxpayers with some very modest modifications to it. Some municipalities were not happy with this but there needs to be much more change still. In order for taxpayers to have a better handle on town/school spending, default budgets need to copy last year's budget period, full stop.

So, the answer is not problematic reevaluation but problematic spending. I cannot dispute my new property valuation (up 22%) but I certainly dispute my tax bill (up 8.7%).

Drug Take Back Day: 135 N.H. Police Departments Participated

LISA D'AMBROSIO
LONDONDERRY TIMES

DEA and local partners collect thousands of pounds of unwanted medications and vaping products during the 18th National Prescription Drug Take Back Day.

In October of this year, at least 135 police departments across New Hampshire participated in the 18th nationwide prescription drug take back program, which included the Police Departments of Derry and Londonderry.

The DEA National RX Take Back Day addresses a vital public safety and public health issue. According to the 2018 National Survey on Drug Use and Health, 9.9 million Americans misused controlled prescription drugs. The study shows that a majority of abused prescription drugs are obtained from family and friends, often from the home medicine cabinet. "Too often, unused prescription drugs find their way into the wrong hands. That's dangerous and often tragic. That's why it was great to see thousands of folks from across the country clean out their medicine cabinets and turn in - safely and anonymously - a record amount of prescription drugs" stated the National DEA.

The DEA's Take Back Day events provide a safe, confidential way to discharge unwanted, unused or expired prescription medication, as well as any controlled substance from your home. This year's National Take Back

Day had participation of 4,896 Law Enforcement Units with 6,174 collection sites available. The total weight collected was 882,919 lbs of unwanted drugs.

"DEA's Take Back Day events have been extremely successful in not only removing potentially dangerous unused drugs from our nation's medicine cabinets, but also in raising awareness of their links to addiction and overdose deaths," said DEA Acting Administrator, Uttam Dhillon. "In an effort to combat another emerging public health threat - particularly to our nation's youth - we're proud to have extended the same opportunity to those looking to dispose of harmful vaping products."

Thanks to the New Hampshire youth organization called "Making It Happen"(MIH), for the first time, New Hampshire collection sites have made the decision to accept vaping devices. "Making It Happen" is a youth based organization that has been serving the Manchester area for over 21 years. Their mission is to create a coordinated community response among individuals, organizations, businesses and communities to promote behaviors that measurably improve the overall drug prevention, health and well-being of our youth, with a focus on alcohol, tobacco and other drug prevention.

The MIH organization proposed a motion to the DEA to accept vaping devices at the collection sites during this year's Take Back Day. The "Making It Happen" proposal and the ongoing outbreak of a vaping-related illness, that have been connected to 34 deaths across the country and has injured one person in New Hampshire, the DEA agreed that would accept vaping devices.

The public has embraced Take Back Day events because they provide easy, no-cost opportunities to remove medicines languishing in the home that are highly susceptible to misuse, abuse and theft. The public's demand for safe and secure drug disposal has also resulted in a significant increase in year-round drug drop off opportunities at law enforcement facilities, local pharmacies and elsewhere, making drug disposal even more convenient. Londonderry Police Department has a Permanent Drug Take Back Bin located at the Police Station.

The next scheduled DEA's National Drug Take Back Day is April 25, 2020.

If you missed this year's Take Back Day you can contact the local Law Enforcement Department and arrange a no questions asked, personal drop off or go to apps@deadiversion.usdoj.gov for a federal government list of authorized collectors for drug disposal.

If you or a loved one is suffering from addiction and need help please contact The Doorway, a new Hampshire hub for addiction-related services and crisis at thedorway.nh.gov

Planning Board Gets Rezoning Request From Theatre Company

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

After a recent meeting of the Londonderry Planning Board, members recommend the rezoning of a lot from Industrial II to a Gateway Business District near the airport. This will be for a new performance space in town.

Londonderry resident Dan Gore, brought the rezoning application in front of the board at its Wednesday, Nov. 6 meeting.

Gore, who described himself as both a resident and a business owner in Londonderry, asked the Planning Board to consider the rezoning, so he and his wife Margaret (a theater teacher in Londonderry), who own Ovation Theatre Company, can move forward with the proposed performance space.

Ovation Theatre Company started its business in January and has been looking for potential land or building in the area for the performance space. Gore said that they have already received a permit for use, which they were hoping to get. He described the new space as a dance studio or gymnastics facility, with classes, workshops, summer camps and even productions.

Gore explained that his company received the permit from the current owner to try and get the lot (Map 14, Lot 45A) to be rezoned and that it must become a Gateway Business lot for them to be allowed to open this kind of business. Ovation Theatre Company is in the process of purchasing the land from its current owner.

The Planning Board members agreed to support the rezoning of the map and recommend it to the Londonderry Town Council, who will hold two readings, one to introduce the subject and one as a public hearing.

Following the Planning Board meeting, a conceptual discussion on the actual proposed site plan for the performance space was held. Gore told the Planning Board members that he is looking to build a 40x80' structure, with a proposed parking plan for about 40 spaces. That led to a lengthy discussion regarding the parking spaces, in case there is a production or another event that many people attend. Gore was also asked about the height of the new facility and answered that it would not be higher than the tree line, as it is close to the airport.

Fall Household Hazardous Waste Collection Day, Nov. 23

LISA D'AMBROSIO
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The town of Londonderry will be hosting this year's annual Fall Household Hazardous Waste Day on Saturday, Nov. 23, from 9 a.m. - Noon at Nelson Fields (LAFA) off of Sargent Road (behind the Central Fire Station.)

Residents who have left over or expired Household Hazardous Materials are encouraged to bring them and are able to safely dispose of these items.

The importance of proper disposal of hazardous material is detrimental to our community's public health and overall environmental care.

Disposing of toxic materials in your trash, down the drain or on the ground can seriously impact our environment and public health. Household hazardous wastes can contaminate septic tanks, wastewater treatment systems, groundwater and even our drinking water if not disposed of properly. Household hazardous wastes are left-over household products that are toxic, ignitable, corrosive or reactive, such as: cleaning agents, paint, pesticides, adhesives, polishes and fuels.

The collection day is funded by the New Hampshire Household Hazardous Waste Program. This program funds collection events year round and statewide and was put into place to raise awareness of the hazards certain chemicals may cause. The program is working toward changing the way New Hampshire's residents purchase, use and dispose of hazardous products, with the goal of reducing the amount or "toxicity" of the products they purchase.

According to the EPA, Americans generate about 1.6 million tons of household hazardous waste per year. The average home can accumulate as much as 100 pounds of hazardous waste in basements, garages and closets. One of the dangers of places these materials into regular trash is the chemicals can interact and cause toxic gases, poisonings and even fires. Even if the chemicals make it to the landfill without reacting, the possibility of water and air pollution is still a great risk.

The New Hampshire Household Hazardous Waste Program encourages all residents to take advantage of this easy disposal opportunity. They also encourage consumers to do their homework and choose safer, non-toxic alternative products.

Here is a list of some substances that will be accepted during Saturday's collection:

From the Yard:

Fertilizers, Fungicide, Insect Spray, Lighter Fluid, Pool Chemicals

From the Garage:

Antifreeze, Gasoline, Roofing Tar, Car Wax/Polish

From the House:

Bathroom Cleaner, Disinfectants, Mothballs, Oven Cleaner,

Rug Cleaner

From the Workbench:

Brush Cleaner, Oil Based Paint/Stain, Thinner/Turpentine, Wood Stripper

Items that will not be accepted:

No batteries - No latex paints - No explosives - No radioactive - No Infectious wastes - No asbestos

For a complete list on what will be accepted please visit Household Hazardous Waste Coordinator NHDES Planning and Prevention Unit at hhw@des.nh.gov

Here are some helpful hints and areas to be aware of when handling toxic products when transporting them to the collection:

- Keep the product in its original container and intact

- Never mix toxic products together. Incompatible products have the high risk to react, ignite or explode.

- Keep flammables away from heat, sparks and flames.

- Secure products so they can't tip over and/or leak in cardboard boxes not plastic bags

If you are unable to attend the event but still have household hazardous waste you need to dispose of, Dean F. Robinson II, the coordinator of the Household Hazardous Waste Program for New Hampshire Department of Environmental Services (NHDES), says, "My first recommendation is to contact another nearby town that is conducting a nearby collection. Most towns charge of out-of-town wastes. Not all towns accept out-of-town waste, so please be sure to use the contact links and phone numbers (on the NHDES website) to discuss options with the town you would like to bring your hazardous waste to."

An up-to-date list of the communities in the state holding collection events is available on the New Hampshire Department of Environmental Services website at www.des.nh.gov/index.htm

Local Dancers Earn Roles in NEDE's Nutcracker

Talented young dancers from more than 18 Southern New Hampshire and Massachusetts dance studios auditioned for roles in the New England Dance Ensemble's performing company on Sept. 15.

100 dancers, ages 5-17, earned membership in the well-known and highly regarded nonprofit arts organization, including 24 Londonderry residents.

Known for its professional caliber, NEDE programs offer growth opportunities for the region's most dedicated performing arts students. Those attaining membership partake in rigorous dance training and are exposed to a wide range of performance types including classical and contemporary music and staging and theatrical workshops. In addition, NEDE members benefit from the opportunity to collaborate with high-profile dancers from national and international performance companies.

In this full-scale professional holiday production, 100 aspiring dancers will be joined by guest artists from American Ballet Theater and Pennsylvania Ballet and accompanied by The New Hampshire Philharmonic Orchestra. The New Hampshire Philharmonic is the state's oldest orchestra, tracing its roots back to 1895, and continuously performing since 1905.

Company members have each been cast in NEDE's two upcoming professional performances of 'The Nutcracker', scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 30 at 4 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 1 at 4 p.m. at the Seifert Performing Arts Center, Salem, NH. Rehearsals are currently underway at NEDE's home studio, Londonderry Dance Academy.

OBITUARY

Linda Ann (D'Ambrosio) Papa

Linda Ann (D'Ambrosio) Papa of Londonderry NH, entered eternal rest on Nov. 9, 2019, with her beloved husband, David, at her bedside, after valiantly battling Pulmonary Fibrosis since 2001 and ovarian cancer since 2017.

Linda was born in Boston's North End on Sept. 11, 1951, and her family moved to Melrose, where she grew up. Linda leaves behind her devoted husband, David Papa of Londonderry NH, brother Mark D'Ambrosio of Manchester NH, sister-in-law Beverly D'Ambrosio of Wakefield MA, and sister Ann D'Ambrosio of Quincy, as well as numerous nieces and nephews, most of whom will remember her forever as their "cool aunt," a title of which she was very proud. Linda was predeceased by her brother Angelo D'Ambrosio of Wakefield, brother Joseph D'Ambrosio Jr. of Melrose, and her mother, Amelia (Ciocco) D'Ambrosio, and father Joseph D'Ambrosio, Sr., of Melrose.

Linda was educated in Melrose public schools, and earned her Bachelor's of Education from Boston College in 1973. She worked for the US Postal Service for 33 years, starting as a temporary worker and retiring in 2007, after numerous promotions, as an Executive Plant Manager at the North Reading MA Plant. She was recognized many times at the local, regional and national levels for her contributions to the agency through the years and she derived great joy in mentoring others while balancing her managerial responsibilities with her innate desire to be fair and decent to all those with whom she interacted. She set a stellar example of leadership tempered with sincere decency and empathy. She spoke to two different classes at Harvard Medical School about her experiences and always volunteered to provide whatever information and medical samples she could when undergoing the many surgeries and other procedures she underwent through the years - because she believed we're all put here to help others whenever possible, no matter what we're going through.

She and her husband were blessed with an extraordinary relationship through 26 years of marriage and almost 30 years together, most of which involved dealing with very serious health issues. Despite being told she had but two years to live in 2001, they lived life on their own terms, putting one another first at all times, something that was evident for all to see.

Linda enjoyed travel, especially her trips to Italy, cruises, and her yearly birthday trips to her favorite place on earth, Humarock Beach in Scituate. Most of all, Linda enjoyed being with her husband, no matter what they were doing or where they were doing it, and they both are grateful beyond words for every moment they were able to spend together.

Family and friends are invited to visiting hours on Thursday Nov. 14, from 4 - 7 p.m. at the Goundrey & Dewhirst Funeral Home, 42 Main St., Salem, NH. A Funeral Mass will be on Friday Nov. 15 at 10 a.m. in St. Joseph Church, 40 Main St., Salem, NH. A celebration of Linda's life and burial will follow in Puritan Lawn Memorial Park, Peabody, MA. In lieu of flowers, friends and relatives are encouraged to consider donating in Linda's memory to the two places that made her able to spend with us the time we had with her: Pulmonary and Critical Care Unit, Brigham and Women's Hospital Development Office, 116 Huntington Ave., 3rd floor, Boston, MA 02116 or the Dana Farber Cancer Institute, 450 Brookline Ave, Boston, MA 02215. To leave an online condolence, please visit Linda's tribute page at www.goundreydewhirstfuneral.com.

taxpayers, and stated: "It's not that we don't need it and it's not that it's not part of our long-term plan, but we don't need it now and there are other priorities."

The Chief said that the department was looking at a five-year window for the need for a new generator, but now believes it is probably a 10-year window. The back-up generator has been used for about 600 hours so far and its life expectancy is significantly longer than that. He added that the department has looked at using the back-up generator in different ways (assisting the Fire Department for example), but none of these ways seemed to work as effectively as waiting until the time comes that a new generator is actually needed. The Chief suggested that the issue of the generator could be brought back to the voters at that time. "It is after all their money", said Chief Hart.

Councilor Tom Dolan said there were two ways to return the money - either to reduce the tax rate or put the money in the undesignated fund balance and hold it there for a future necessity. Dolan added that if the money were returned through the tax rate, in the event that money is needed again in the future, the town would have to go back to the voters with another warrant article. In response, the town's Finance Director, Justin Campo, answered that the town could not keep the money for five years. The way this warrant article was written states that at the end of this Fiscal Year (Jun. 30, 2020), the town may extend it for another year and in the event the funds are not utilized for the purpose stated in the Warrant Article, then the issue must go to the voters again.

In its Sept. 26 issue, The Londonderry Times, published a story regarding this question, which had been raised by Londonderry resident, Richard Bielinski. Bielinski was concerned and questioned the need for a new emergency back-up generator. Chief Hart has now confirmed what was stated in the original story published in the Londonderry Times. The current generator had only been used for approximately two percent of its typical lifespan of 30,000 hours. In addition, the only two maintenance jobs on the current generator, according to an official report, were on the Automatic Transfer Switch, which is not really a part of the generator. Other than those two maintenance issues the generator appeared to be in good condition.

In response to numerous questions Bielinski asked the town, including what kind of tests were made to make sure there was a need for a new generator (i.e. its size, etc.), the answer he received was that there were "no responsive governmental or public records available."

Other than the generator issue, town employees provided a few updates, following the Town Budget Hearing. Town Manager, Kevin Smith, said that there is an adjustment in both the Town Manager proposed budget (a reduction of about $177,000) and the default budget (a reduction of about $170,000). The reason for this is the Collective Bargaining Contracts that end at the end of this Fiscal Year.

Smith said that while the town would normally budget the cost of living increases each year in the default budget and the proposed budget, those would now be done with separate warrant articles, assuming there are agreements on the Collective Bargaining Contracts with the unions. Finance Director, Justin Campo, added that the updated delta between the default budget and the proposed budget is now $6,692.

The town's Director of Public Works and Engineering, Janusz Czynowski, answered a question that was raised on Saturday's budget hearing and said that the town is spending $124,000 annually on picking up solid waste and recycling from the town's schools. He added that the contract is expected to go up, so the amount will be higher each year. Councilor Tom Dolan asked Smith how other communities in the area handle this issue. Do the towns or the School Departments pay for these services? He further questioned whether the town should send a bill to the School Department in Londonderry to cover these services? Smith answered that he will look into this issue.

Planning Board Hears Several Cases at Latest Meeting

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Several cases were brought in front of the Londonderry Planning Board at its Nov. 6 meeting. There was a request made for the release of Town Property, (a portion of the Constance Drive Right-of-Way of approximately 11,000 square feet), adjacent to 7 and 14 Constance Drive.

Town Planner, Colleen Mailloux, explained that the property owners had submitted the request as the first step of the process to release the property. When the subdivision was created in the 1980s, according to Mailloux, the right-of-way was deeded to the town by a warranty deed and included a future Right-of-Way extension, beyond of the existing cul-de-sac.

The Planning Board had to make a recommendation for the release of the property, before the Londonderry Town Council can authorize the release of the property. The staff's recommendation to the board was to release the property, as there is no town purpose or intention for any extension of Constance Drive.

If the property is indeed released, it will be divided between the two owners at 7 and 14 Constance Drive. The portion of that public Right-of-Way will also be discontinued. In addition, there's a lot line adjustment that is required. The Planning Board approved the recommendation, but asked for the lot line adjustment to be submitted for review. Additionally, the request will also be brought in front of the Conservation Commission.

In another case, a conditional approval was given to Randolph Allaire to subdivide one lot into two at 17 Bancroft Road, where he intends to build another house. The lot is 17.7 acres and has a house on the west portion of the lot. The new house may end up being a duplex and will have an on-site well. According to the proposed plan, following the subdivision, the new lot will have seven acres and the rest will stay with the existing house and land.

The project needed a conditional use permit, since the driveway to the new planned house, which will be located in the back area of the lot, will go underneath an easement held by Ever-source. The owner of the lot has a signed agreement with the company, following a request made by the Conservation Commission.

After Allaire's representative presented the case, two residents approached the board. Lawrence MacLennan, who stated he lives at 26 South Parrish Drive and is the President of the Parrish Hills Condo Association, raised a question about the driveway crossing the sewer easement. He asked the board, if after the project is completed and the driveway is laid, what the time window would be to determine, in the event a sewer problem arises, if the problem is a consequence of the project or not. He wondered if there should be an inspection for this and was answered by John Trottier, Assistant Director of Public Works and Engineering, that he can ask the lot owners to show proof that they did not do any damage and present the shape of the area before and after the project. Another neighbor, from 28 Bancroft Drive, asked if the town is considering doing anything about the safety of the road and speed of traffic and whether the town can add rotaries there.

Member Mary Wing Soares responded, "Unfortunately, what we have to tell folks is that you have to go to the Traffic Safety Committee."

Chairman Art Rugg added that traffic enforcement isn't something they do at planning.

Assessments

over default, by $300,000 to $500,000.

On Saturday's Town Annual Budget Hearing, Farrell admitted that he had recently learned, after serving for nearly 15 years in the CIP Committee that once the projects receive their scores from the committee members and the plan is set, it needs to be reviewed by the Town Council and the Budget Committee. That was done on Saturday (despite the fact it was not part of the hearing's agenda). "We've actually done it in joint session, in public", said Farrell. "So those that are out there saying it's never been done, as said many times in this country today – fake news."

This year's CIP has $70 million in school expansion and maintenance for the next five years. The biggest project is the creation of additional space for the K-5 grades, as the School Department believes this to be a major problem in the near future. Farrell has been doubtful in recent months about the School Department claims, since there are approximately 1,000 less students in the town's schools than there used to be. Farrell repeated his statement that the town does not see any major projects on the horizon, for the next five to ten years.

He also said that if the School Board wants to add the Full Day Kindergarten program, another issue that has been discussed in recent months. is that full day kindergarten, by state law, must go to the voters. According to Farrell, the operational cost for Full Day Kindergarten is $800,000-$900,000 per year.

Other projects that the School Department is trying to push forward in the CIP, said Farrell, are $12-15 million in repairs (mainly for the Londonderry Middle School), $3-4 million for turf fields and a new SAU office building, which will cost $4 million.

The Chairman continued saying that last year the School Department, decided it needed to move from the building where they had been located, which was attached to Town Hall and recently demolished. "There was no actual medical diagnostic proof that was shown", said Farrell. However, the School Department claimed the move was necessary and the town, through a citizen, was asked whether it would give the School Department a $2 million interest-free loan from the undesignated fund balance to build a new facility.

Farrell said that instead of paying back $200,000 a year, for 10 years, the School Department declined the offer and instead, leased the building at 6 Kitty Hawk for 10 years, paying $250,000 per year, plus $35,000 in taxes to the town, as this is not a governmental building. Farrell went on to say that the School Department has 24 employees and about 500 square feet per person at Kitty Hawk, "about the size of a two car garage per person, to give you an idea of how much room they have in Kitty Hawk, which is so far out of town that I don't think anybody has been up there too much." He claimed that now, the School Department is looking at purchasing land and building the $4 million building, "yet they have a 10-year lease."

Another claim made by Farrell was that over the last two-three years, the town has negotiated a new health care plan with its employees and saved $250,000 every year with this new plan. Farrell said that the Town Council took the same idea to the School Department, after the insurance company said that with the amount of employees there, this could save $1-1.5 million every year. The School Department rejected the offer, according to Farrell.

Shortly after Thursday meeting, School District Finance Director, Peter Curro, was asked to respond to the questions Farrell raised. Five days later Curro's response was, "Since we have not seen the video of the Town Council meeting, it would be irresponsible to provide any comment at this time. We will be requesting a copy of the meeting, and if appropriate, we will respond to the alleged comments by the Town Council Chair at a later date."

Following Farrell's statement, several residents approached the council members and Town Manager, Kevin Smith. Two of them said they were very surprised to see the new assessments done, and had not heard anything about them. One complimented the town services, however, saying she and her family are new in Londonderry. To the other, Smith promised the town will make better effort in the future so that the residents will be aware of this kind of thing. Glenn Douglas, who sits in the town's Recreation Committee, told Farrell and the council members in attendance that the Town Council and School Board used to have shared meetings and that they need to get together now, because the current situation is bad. Farrell answered that the Town Council had offered this, but the School Board did not want to have this type of meeting.

Delay Requested for Demolition of 1700's House on Chase Road

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Historical Society announced last Thursday, Nov. 7, in a Facebook post that it has asked for a demolition delay of 45 days for the Anderson/Gillette House at 5 Chase Road. The delay request came following a demolition permit request, filed by the current owner of the property. The request was sent to the town's Chief Building Inspector, Richard Canuel.

It is estimated that the Anderson/Gillette house, one of the first 10 houses in Londonderry, was built circa 1742. The land that this house was built on was granted to Samuel Anderson in 1720, one year after Londonderry was first settled.

The Historical Society has asked for the public's help in searching for any Anderson family members, or anyone else, who might be interested in moving and/or restoring the Anderson/Gillette house. "We hope the TOL will ACCEPT OUR REQUEST to schedule a Demolition Delay Committee Meeting soon to determine if there can be a (45 day) delay to try to find any solution other than immediate DEMOLITION", read the Historical Society's Facebook post, which was shared by nearly 300 users.

The 18th Century home on Chase Road will soon be Demolished by the current owner.

The Londonderry Historical Society Curator, Ann Chiampa, gave the Londonderry Times more details about the historic house and the situation: "William Gillette passed away in 2009 and that was the first time the house left the hands of the Anderson/Gillette family and somebody else bought it." According to town records, Calvin Fuller, a local pastor, purchased the house in 2010. The house appears to have been unoccupied for a number of years, since Gillette passed away.

"The owner has every right to do what he wants with the house, but we consider it a historic home, a very early home according to assessing records. I've been seeing, for the last couple of years, a number of houses taken down for development. Again, the owners have the right to develop the property, but these properties have been some of our most historic places. It's understandable, because the restoration costs are prohibitive at times. Luckily, the Historical Society was able to go into these houses and photograph the interior before the homes were demolished. At least we have the photographs, to preserve some of our history."

Chiampa explains that she asked for the meeting to discuss the loss of a lot of Londonderry architectural history. For houses with historical cultural value, there is the option to file a demolition delay request and try to find different options. "In the past, there hasn't been much success in doing that, except when owners donated the houses to us at the Historical Society. We have either moved a house on a trailer, or taken it down and moved it in parts to our museum grounds and rebuilt it."

Chiampa says she would love to work with the owner in search of a solution to save this home and maybe find someone who wishes to buy the property and even restore it. However, she admits: "It'll take a lot of work. I've been in it and it does have many issues. But if one is to look closely, the character of the house is still there. It has gunstock corners, a once-grand staircase, a fireplace set in a complete wall of wood paneling, some wide pine flooring. I can imagine what it was like inside the house, many years ago, when it was in its prime."

Another option is to save important structural parts of the house, to use them somewhere else. "We have a short period of time to see what can possibly be done to save this property, with the owner's permission. If nothing else, if the delay isn't granted, at least it will serve to open people's eyes to the history we are losing. It is disheartening to consider the fate of this early structure and others like it."

Londonderry Rotary Club Holds Seventh Annual Fall Fundraiser

The Rotary Club of Londonderry, held its 7th Annual Fall Fundraising event, "Fun, Friends, and Fundraising on Friday evening Nov. 1, at Nashua Country Club. The annual event is the primary fundraising event for the local Rotary Club. All funds raised during the evening are directed back to local charities, scholarships for deserving Londonderry High School students, and support for select Rotary International projects such as Clean Water for the World.

Local charities that have received support in the past include: End 68 Hours of Hunger; Liberty House; three local Food Pantries and Soup Kitchens; Santa Fund; Families in Transition and many more. In addition, the Londonderry Rotary annually hosts Christmas on the Common.

This year's event featured a cocktail reception, comedy acts, dancing and fundraising. The Rotary Club made a special commitment at this year's event to honor Londonderry's first responders. With local fire and police personnel as guests of the Rotary Club for the evening, the entire gathering gave a well deserved, and sincere "thank you" to our first responders. Following the show of support for the first responders, the audience was treated to two comedy acts. James Dorsey opened the show and was followed by evening headliner "Ace" Aceto. The evening concluded with dancing led by "Mr.

Melody" DJ Joe Taliaferro.

During the evening the Rotary also hosted a silent auction featuring items donated by local businesses, a live auction, and a financial pledge to support Rotary programs.

As a result of the generosity of the Sponsors, Donors, and Guests, Londonderry Rotary was able to raise $14,000, which will be directed back to the charities. The success of this year's fundraiser will enable Londonderry Rotary to continue to serve the community through its mission; "Service Above Self".

Annual High School Veterans Breakfast Grows Larger Each Year

What started as a small number of veterans being served breakfast in the Matthew Thornton gym, has grown into a massive undertaking for volunteers and Staff members at the Londonderry High School. There were 224 veterans served this year at the High School Cafeteria, and over 250 gift baskets handed out. The High School's Pay it Forward group with the help of Assistant Principal Katie Sullivan, Valerie Nelson, and Finance Director Peter Curro helped orchestrate the event each year, and this year was the biggest ever. After the breakfast, guests were entertained by members of the LHS Band with a Salute to the Armed Forces, Chloe Ferraro and Andrew Johnson sang about the American Soldier, along with speakers from the middle and high school. The oldest veteran was given a special gift, John Power who served in WWII and will be 102-years-old in December. State Rep. Al Baldasaro read a proclamation from Gov. Chris Sununu and hundreds of gift baskets were handed out. The morning ended with a small Veterans Day Ceremony performed by American Legion Post 27 Commander Bob Stuart.

Lancer Unified Soccer Team Wins Its First Division I Title

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry High School's Coed Unified Soccer team made history on Sunday, Nov. 10, winning its first ever State Championship, beating the Dover High School squad 3-1 in the state final, which was held at Manchester Memorial High School.

The Lancers, who finished their regular season with five wins and a single loss, entered the postseason as the number three seed and were able to get past ConVal in the quarterfinals with an 8-4 victory

Lancer Girls Soccer Squad Edged Out of DI Championship in Finals

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

It was another case of close, but no cigar for the Londonderry High School's Girls' Varsity Soccer team, who finished its 2019 fall season on Sunday, Nov. 10, exactly where the 2018 season also ended - with a finals loss in the Division I playoffs.

The Lady Lancers have been a major force all season long, winning 17 of their 18 games prior to the final. However, their single loss came on Oct. 15, in a home game against Exeter, and it was once again the Blue Hawks who came out on top when the two schools squared off for the title, winning 2-0 at Manchester Memorial High School.

Londonderry made it into the finals by beating Bishop Guertin 1-0 in a rainy night at Stellos Stadium in Nashua, three days earlier. The only goal of that game came in the second minute of the second half, when Alyssa Anderson passed the ball to Olivia Stowell and the team-leading scorer of the season made a beautiful play, left the defender on the ground and scored from six yards.

Londonderry had nine shots on goal against the Cardinals, while goalie Jasmine Richards stopped both BG's tries. "It was an exciting game, very fun to be a part of," said coach Derek Dane following the victory. "We were here last year, this is not new. Olivia makes that move all the time. We don't hide anything; you know what we are going to do. The question is if you can stop us." The goal scorer Stowell added, "I believed, the team believed and we pulled through. It's how I score most of my goals, it is a move I do a lot."

Against Exeter, in the finals, the first 40 minutes of the game ended in a scoreless tie, as both teams tried to play a safe game and only had a couple of chances to score. After the break, the Blue Hawks, who finished their season undefeated, started exploiting some holes in Londonderry's defense and junior Ella Fraser had a great one-on-one opportunity, but the Lancers' goalie, Richards, provided a big save.

A few minutes later, in the 51st minute of the game, Richard could not stop Fraser, who received the ball on the left side of the 18-yard box, tried once, got the ball back sent it to the corner for the first goal of the game. Londonderry was inches away from tying the game, just two minutes later, but Exeter's defense cleared the ball from the goal line and in the 59th minute, Fraser scored her second, this time from the right side, after getting first to a long ball from the mid-field.

Coach Dane needed time to find the right words after the loss, and commented after the game, "This one hurt. I feel bad for the girls. We have been one of the best teams in the state over the last two years, with a 33-4-1 record during that time and we have nothing to show for it. After last year's loss in the final, the group has worked hard to improve and get back to the final, with the goal of being the first girls' soccer team in school history to win a state title.

We went into the game with a very good idea of how we needed to defend and attack against Exeter to be successful. We were good defensively in the first half and started to find our way in attack. Things fell apart during a seven-minute span early in the second half. We didn't give up the fight, had one cleared off the line and continued to push, but were unable to get any reward for our work. It's a difficult pill to swallow."

Dane knows big changes are on the horizon for his team, "We are graduating 12 seniors. The group had a great run. Last year they set a school record by scoring 82 goals and this season they eclipsed that by scoring 86. They will be sorely missed."

Lancer Take Care of Astros 45-3, Move on to Semi Finals

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Londonderry High School's Varsity Football team entered the 2019 fall season without a win over rivals Pinkerton Academy in 18 years and 22 games, without a playoff win since 2001, and without ever winning a playoff game against the Astros or beating them twice in the same season. None of the above statements are true anymore.

The Lancers, the best team in Division I throughout the entire season, won their 10th straight game on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 9, knocking Pinkerton out of the postseason with a lopsided 45-3 home victory, in another dominant performance. Their next, and maybe biggest challenge of the season, will be a home semifinal game against Salem, on Saturday, Nov. 16, at 1 p.m.

A win over the Blue Devils will send coach Jimmy Lauzon's team to the state finals, for the first time in 18 years.

Pinkerton, who suffered a 42-24 home loss to Londonderry several weeks ago, in the Mack Plaque game at PA, came into Saturday's game with a decision to run the ball as much as possible, in hopes of controlling the clock and leaving the locals offense on the sidelines. That seemed to be working in the opening drive, when six rushes led to a gain of 33 yards and two quick first downs. But at the point

Lancer senior Jeff Wiedenfeld pounds his way across the goal line for one of the many touchdowns on Saturday afternoon. Photos by Chris Paul when it looked as though Londonderry was having troubles stopping the run game, Brady Day fumbled the ball and Lancer linebacker Will Reyes scooped it up. That was the beginning of the end for Pinkerton who would turn the ball over seven times that afternoon, and it definitely set the tone for the rest of the game.

Londonderry then went three-and-out on their opening drive, but after punting the ball, Jeff Wiedenfeld had an 8-yard sack on the Astros quarterback Jeff Potvin and when the Astros tried to punt, the ball went over the head of the punter and Londonderry recovered on Pinkerton's 21-yard line. That was all the Lancers needed and quarterback Jake McEachern scored the game's first touchdown on a two-yard run, nine minutes into the game.

The Astros did not give up at that point and a long drive with 10 runs concluded in a 36-yard field goal kick by Brandon Roy, who gave Pinkerton the only points in the game. However, that was all Pinkerton managed to get in the game, while Londonderry scored three touchdowns in the final four minutes of the first half. First it was Cole Keegan, with a 21-yard catch from McEachern in the right corner of the end zone.

On the next play, Pinkerton fumbled the kickoff, the Lancers got the ball back in good field position and Wiedenfeld ran it in from nine yards. The Astros went three-and-out and Londonderry got the ball with 64 seconds left and needed only 36 to score again, when McEachern and Keegan connected for the second touchdown of the game.

Four minutes into the second half, Alex Tsetsilas picked off Potvin's pass inside the Astros territory and that led to a Lancer field goal, bringing the score to 31-3. The next play resulted in another interception, this one by Keegan and just before the end of the third quarter, Tsetsilas caught a 25-yard touchdown. The final touchdown was scored by Tyler Kayo, who was untouched on a 42-yard run with three minutes remaining.

Londonderry's offense produced 356 yards and gave Pinkerton only 175 yard. McEachern went 11-for-15 and had 149 passing yards and three touchdowns, next to 44 rushing yards. Wiedenfeld ran for 106 yards on 19 attempts. Keegan caught four balls for 57 yards and Tsetsilas also had four receptions, for 50 yards.

McEachern said after the game, "My linemen were giving me all day to throw, so I was zoned in, delivered good balls and my receivers got open. It feels great, we accomplished history, but we were focused. It's Pinkerton and you are not going to look these guys. We didn't want to let them come back, like what happened in the Mack Plaque game. We stayed focused and kept playing hard. I didn't care who we play in the postseason, but it feels good to beat Pinkerton again."

Lauzon also commented on his team's victory, "We got good players and they make the coaches look good. When you got talent and work hard, you get to games like this. The silver lining in playing Pinkerton in the first round is that our guys ton and you are not going to look these guys. We had the players' attention all week. We know they are capable of beating us anytime we get on the field with them. The turnovers went our way today. I told the kids before the game that the Mack Plaque win was for our program, the town and the school and that this game is for them. They worked hard and they deserve this. Salem is always a battle. Our guys grew up playing their guys in big games."

Lancer Varsity Field Hockey Players Receive State Recognition

LHS senior Courtney Shay

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Three players from Londonderry High School's Varsity Field Hockey team were named to be part of the All-State teams announced on Tuesday, Nov. 5.

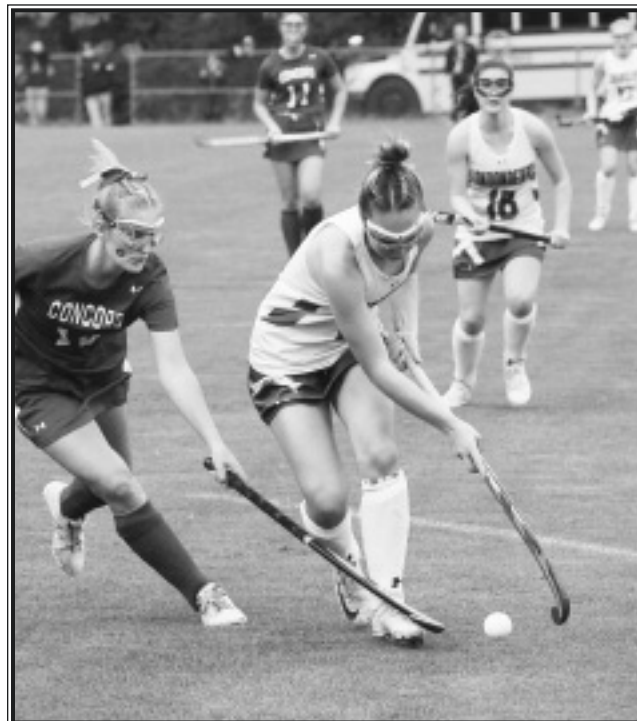

Seniors Courtney Shay and Grace Chicko received First Team All-State honors, next to 26 other Division I players. Junior Jenna Stowell was voted onto the Second Team All-State, along with 21 other players.

The Lady Lancers had a successful regular season under LHS coach Nicole Treadway, winning 11 of their 14 games. However, after entering the playoffs as the fourth seed in Division I, Londonderry lost its first game, in the quarterfinals, 2-0 at home to the number 5 seed Concord High School, who later went on to lose the finals to Windham, 2-0.

Shay finished the season with 15 goals and six assists. She is also up for NFHCA All-Region Team, which will be determined later this year. She will be nominated for the NFHCA All-Academic Squad and will be represented the Londonderry High School at the New Hampshire Twin State Senior Game tryouts on Sunday.

Chicko had three goals and seven assists this season. She will also be nominated for NHCA All-Academic Squad and trying out for the New Hampshire team in the Twin State Senior Game. Stowell had a great defensive season, including two defensive saves, while creating many scoring opportunities for the Lady Lancers' offense.

LHS Spirit Squad Takes Third in DI Fall Championship

The Lancer Fall Cheerleading squad took third out of 17 teams at the Division I Championship on Sunday at Pinkerton Academy. Photos by Chris Paul

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School's Varsity Fall Cheerleading squad competed against 16 of the states other DI Spirit teams on Sunday, Nov. 10, and took third place in the Division I Fall Spirit State Championship, held at Pinkerton Academy in Derry.

The Lady Lancers, who have enjoyed many good results in the past few weeks, received a score of 93.4 points for their dynamic routine. They finished ahead of Concord, who finished with a 91.7 and Salem

High School who scored 89.1. The hosts of the event, and usual favorites Pinkerton Academy, just barely beat out Dover High School for the first place, scoring 105.0 to 104.4. This was Pinkerton's 27th win, and ninth win in ten years. Londonderry has been the only other school since 2010 to beat them. That win was in 2017.

The competition also marked the final contest between the Lancers and Astros in this fall's Mack Plaque competition, which Pinkerton won once again, thanks to five victories, against London-derry's three, with one game (Boys Soccer) ending in a tie.

Londonderry's head coach Chelsea Dennis was very pleased with her team's performance on Sunday, saying, "We are really proud of the season that they've had. We have overcome many obstacles and the girls pushed through. We've changed our routine many times, but this last week we just focused on cleaning it up. Today, it wasn't as clean as we had hoped, but we're still proud of them on a good performance and a good season."

Lancer Runners Compete at New England Championship

IDAN VINITSKY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

A great Cross Country season for Londonderry High School's Varsity team has ended with another successful performance last Saturday, Nov. 9, when the Lancers Boys' team, as well as one member of the Girls' team, competed in the New England Interscholastic Cross Country Championship, held in Wickham Park, Manchester, Conn.

The Lancers, who made the two-hour trip south, placed 10th overall in the boys' team competition, scoring 326 total points. Rivals Pinkerton took ninth place, with 320, while Xavier High School of Connecticut was 11th, with 343 points. La Salle Academy of Rhode Island won the 30-team competition, with just 89 team points. The Lancers finished fourth among New Hampshire high school, after Coe-Brown (fourth overall), Keene (seventh) and Pinkerton and ahead of Concord (16th) and Oyster River (20th).

As was the case for most of the season, Londonderry's top runner was junior Ryan Young, who came in 64th overall, thanks to a time of 16:48 minutes. Fellow junior Matthew Griffin placed 78th (16:54) and freshman Sean Clegg had a good performance, crossing the finish line 87th (17:01 minutes). Senior Dylan Hotter came in 125th (17:18), senior Kerry Daley was 136th (17:23), sophomore Will Plante finished 200th (17:54) and senior Christopher Burpeau was the 207th runner to finish the course, after 18:02 minutes.

Senior Caitlin Boufford qualified to the girls' race and finished in the 95th place (out of 263 runners), thanks to a time of 20:23 minutes. She was 3:31 minutes away from the winner.

Classified Advertising

READERS ARE CAUTIONED that we occasionally run ads that require an initial investment or money in advance. We urge our readers to “do their homework” before responding to any ad, check out the advertiser thoroughly and verify their claims to your total satisfaction. Only then should you proceed at your own risk. We try to screen ads that require you to send money before receiving a product or service. But these efforts are no substitute for your own investigation, and we don’t endorse or guarantee any claims made in any of the ads we publish. If you want more information about claims made in ads on subjects such as work at home opportunities, travel or vacation specials, purchasing land or vehicles from government surplus or below wholesale, loans or other credit opportunities (including credit repair), or weight loss and other health products and services, we urge you to contact the Office of Attorney General, Consumer Protection Bureau, 33 Capitol Street, Concord, NH 03301 (603-271-3641) or the Better Business Bureau at 603-224-1991. Publisher is not responsible for any loss of business if an ad does not run, and we reserve the right to revoke any ad if deemed necessary. No refunds will be given for prepaid ads.
