Two Old Home Day Events Scheduled for Saturday

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

With the community still feeling the effects of the Coronavirus, the Pandemic has forced the cancellation of a great many things. Each

August, Londonderry residents usually celebrate Old Home Day as a five-day event, giving people a chance to gather and enjoy a multitude of activities. This year the event has been cut to just two events, both being held on Saturday, Aug. 15: the annual fireworks display and the Enterprise Bank Boot Scootin' Boogie 5K. The race, which replaced the Lundgren 5K last year, is put on by a private com-

Rockingham Road Bank and Gas Station Plan Hits Some Resistance

JACQUELINE COVEY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Although the Planning Board will, again, hear from a commercial developer on Sept. 9, a public hearing last week proved that traffic concerns weigh heavy on the travelers of Symmes Road and Rockingham Road.

The developers of 174 and 178 Rockingham Road, 2V Londonderry, is proposing a gas station/bank for the lot at the corner of Rockingham Road and Symmes Drive. The initial plan was presented back in April, and the Aug. 5 Planning Board meeting was a continuation of a July 1 meeting. The latest meeting was once again continued in order for the town to review several minor changes to the site plan.

Generally, the town requires about a three-week sitting period in order to go over plans relating to the overall development of projects. Although there are no outstanding items on the developments to-do list, the board accepted the staff recommendation to hold off on approving its waiver request as the town is still reviewing recently submitted changes to the plan, which has continued the meeting to September. The project requests four waivers, two of the Zoning Ordinance, and two of the town's site plan regulations. These are still under review as the project consideration continues.

The west side of the site is the proposed location for the bank with drive-through and on the east side is the proposed convenience store/gas station. There will be two driveways, one per lot. However, there is a full-service entrance with a right turn lane exit along Route 28 and a full-service entrance and exit on Symmes Drive. The traffic analysis is still under review.

This project has been bouncing around on the agenda for a little over a year and still continues, however, the applicant thought it best

Jonathan Kipp Assumes Tom Freda's Town Moderator Role

JACQUELINE COVEY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Following the recent passing of Tom Freda, who was serving as the Town Moderator, the Supervisors of the Checklist recently appointed Jonathan Kipp will carryout the current term of town moderator until the next election.

Freda, a more than 20-year resident of Londonderry and longtime elected official in town, was honored by having the Sept. 8 Primary Election date named as Tom Freda Day. In the resolution, the town council couldn't say enough regarding the positive impact Freda left on the town. It called on him as a "valued and devoted Londonderry resident, friend and public servant" and that "he will be greatly missed."

"We will be thinking of him in the primary," Kipp said, "I know he wishes he was there, as we all do. He was taken from us too soon."

Kipp will carry out the duties of Town Moderator for the next seven months. Freda was just re-elected to the position in March to serve another two-year

County Sheriff Position Contested on Republican Ballot

The Republican race for the County Sheriff position will be contested in the Primary on Tuesday, Sept. 8. Chuck Massahos and Kevin Coyle are running for the opportunity to run against Patrick Rivard, who is running on the Democratic side. The Londonderry Times asked each candidate for information on why they are the best choice in the primary next month.

The follow information was supplied by the republican candidates for Sheriff, they are listed in alphabetical order.

Kevin Coyle

My name is Kevin Coyle. I've been in full-time law enforcement for the past 25 years, both in a prosecutorial capacity and an administrative one. As a lawyer, I teach continuing education courses to officers each year to make sure they are up to date in their training. I am a true believer that those in law enforcement must be held to a higher standard, in both training and integrity.

I am running to restore integrity to the Rockingham County Sheriff's Office, after it has been stripped away over the past two years by Chuck Massahos.

For the past two years, I have watched Mr. Massahos illegally "fix" a ticket, for which he is still under investigation by the Attorney General's office. I have also watched him politicize a role that I believe should be above the political fray.

Mr. Massahos and his administration have underhandedly attacked people they perceive as political opponents. I have also watched Mr. Massahos outsource the duties of the Sheriff. Mr. Massahos holds himself out as a 30-year law enforcement veteran. His so-called law enforcement "career" is defined almost exclusively as working details at the Deerfield Fair, while he primarily ran his gas station business. His lack of experience required him to hire a chief deputy to run the Sheriff's Office, while Mr. Massahos continues working at his gas station. Mr. Massahos is nothing more than a puppet sheriff.

The people of Rockingham County deserve transparency, integrity, and honesty in the role of Sheriff and I will restore those values to the position.

Having spent a career in law enforcement administration and after working as a Rockingham County Commissioner for the past eight years, I will be able to run and manage the Sheriff's Office from day one.

Integrity matters and therefore, I ask for your vote.

Chuck Massahos - Incumbent

It is an honor to be called the "people's" Sheriff by so many of you. As Rockingham County Sheriff, I tirelessly perform my responsibilities to serve and protect each of you as I would my own family.

Working in law enforcement has been a passion of my life and is why I am seeking to be reelected.

The deputies that I oversee enforce New Hampshire laws involving criminal acts, motor vehicles, civil laws, and court orders as well as serve civil processes, transport prisoners to courts and transport extradited subjects. Bailiffs provide security for the Superior Courthouse. Staff at a regional center dispatch numerous police and fire personnel.

I have fulfilled my 2018 campaign promises to enhance the effectiveness of the County's Drug Task Force and improve community preparedness in active shooter and other critical incidents.

I have made the Sheriff's Office a community-focused organization.

While I want to do even more in these areas, new challenges have risen such as Covid-19 and the potential of destructive riots.

I believe because of my particular and unique background and experiences, I am able to most effectively address the law enforcement issues of today and tomorrow. Before being elected Sheriff, I was with the Sheriff's Office as a Deputy for 29 years. I served four years as an Auxiliary State Trooper. I am a certified New Hampshire Police Officer and serve on the New Hampshire Police Standards Training Council as a Governor Sununu appointment. What gives me acute insights for prevention strategies and active problem solving is that I have over 40 years of business experience in Rockingham County.

I am 61 years old, have been married for 37 years, have two grown children, and am a proud grandfather.

I would appreciate your vote. I have more to achieve on your behalf and have an excellent team in place who are as devoted as I am to professionalism and public service.

Extensions Approved for Akira Way, Litchfield Road

JACQUELINE COVEY
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Planning Board, once again, approved an extension for the Insight Technology development at 9 Akira Way.

The Londonderry-based company originally proposed the construction, which extends access to sellable plots within the zone in 2012. The 2012 subdivision approval includes the extension of a roadway to account for future construction. No utilities have been approved for the site yet, as the applicant holds off for possible users.

In 2014, and every two-year period since the applicant has requested to extend its two-year extension for substantial construction.

John Misano, representing the applicant at Akira Way, said that the applicant had intended on starting development sometime in 2019, but the company "has assembled or has purchased other property in the area and intends to develop it is moving forward with those plans," he said.

There is still strong support from the applicant, and seemingly the board, that this development is worth the wait as once fully developed, there will be substantial growth in the area.

"We will post the same bond and apply, you know, appropriately and provide all the same information that the town has asked for in the past," Misano said, "and the idea is to just give us a bit more time to complete this rather significant development and provide commercial opportunities out there for the town which we believe will benefit the town."

Londonderry Town Planner Colleen Mailloux says that the development has to return to the commission each time as a precaution in the event that the town's regulations have changed. There have been no ordinance changes, as the developers have been keeping tabs on the town's regulations since the beginning of the project.

"So at this point staff," Mailloux said, "we don't have a concern with the granting of the extension because there's their foot still fully in compliance with what the current regulations are on the books."

The Planning Commission also approved an extension for splitting a subdivision at 7 Litchfield Road. The original request was set to expire on Aug. 10, however, the applicant's rep. Brown Engineering requires a 90-day extension for additional time to meet the final conditions of approval.

The remaining outstanding items are related to needed easements and utility extensions. The board approved the extension to Nov. 8 in order to meet these conditions.

OBITUARY

Joe B. Fleming

Joe B. Fleming, 74, of Londonderry, NH, died Tuesday Aug. 4, 2020 in his home after a period of declining health. He was born in Dallas, TX on Sept. 28, 1945, a son of Joe and Ruth (Henley) Fleming, Sr. Joe spent much of his life in Richardson, Texas, where he was a 17 year veteran of the Richardson Police Department, prior to joining the business world in supply chain management and logistics. During his tenure with the RPD, he launched the first Student Resource Officer program in the Richardson Independent School District, at Berkner High School in Richardson in 1985. He was loved dearly by his family and the many students and kids that he impacted throughout his law enforcement career.

He was a proud Grandfather of five, and very loving Dad of his two kids, Gina and Brian. Joe spent the last 10 years of his life with his loving girlfriend (Linda) in Londonderry, NH. Joe was from TX, but always at home in the Northeast, as he loved that part of the country.

Following cremation, a memorial service will be held at a later date.

to get in front of the public before September.

Several attendees expressed concern about the traffic already building at that intersection. Coca Cola, a long-time business on Symmes Drive, is also considering the project and providing comments for its new neighbors. One of Coke's consultants has reviewed the project and doesn't believe the site plan was created with daily life in mind. The access to Symmes Drive, according to the consultant and Coca Cola's Director of Facilities Mark Smith, "If you live this on a daily basis, it's just not compatible." The company is not comfortable supporting the project of Rockingham Road without any traffic mitigation.

However, though the town will take into consideration on how the applicant may mitigate those issues, 2V Londonderry is not responsible for that problem. Mailloux explained that existing concerns may not weigh on an applicant, so long as the site plans include ways to mitigate its traffic back-up directly related to the project.

Smith said that the Symmes Road facility moves an average of 670 loads a week, in addition to the commercial and residential travel that already takes place on that road. He hopes that 2V Londonderry will work with its neighbors for a more cohesive plan.

The board doesn't agree that the weight of fixing the traffic issues at this corner, and he also doesn't find it fair that other companies in the area were allowed to expand.

There was no action made on the project as it is forwarded to Sept. 9.

Board member Deb Paul, Town Council Liaison, asked her fellow board members to consider what can be done to fix future issues "so we're not putting Band-Aids" on the traffic problems throughout the town."

She said, "There needs to be a proactive response to these issues, and not just in the commercial space."

Common Courtesy Not So Common

Is it just my imagination or has common courtesy become a not-so common practice?

Why have our values and courtesy toward others taken such a decline? Are we too busy, swept up in the everyday hustle and bustle that we forget to take a second and look out for our common man?

The COVID seems to have made people even less polite, almost meaner.

I like to observe others and witness firsthand how little effort people put into common courtesy and general politeness, it is like a lost art, being civil.

Whether it's not holding the door open for people who's hands are full or simply opting not to pay attention and not scroll through your phone while someone is speaking to you. These are small things, but still rude and I know we can do better.

I may be an old-fashioned soul but I still look for opportunities to hold the door open for others, to say please, and thank you, your welcome, or sorry. I was taught at a young age that when you reply to someone you answer with a yes or a no, and always look someone in the eye when speaking to or being spoken to. If you ask for something, say please, if you receive something, say thank you. Seems like the basics, right? In our current society, it may not be so basic as most would assume.

Take a moment and think how would you feel if someone did this to you, good or bad, we as humans need to think more about our actions, for every action has a reaction, a consequence, an outcome.

Some of you may think that politeness and decency are out dated and would go unnoticed or seem weak so why put in the effort? Well, you're wrong.

Although we live in a technology-driven society that takes us away from human interaction more and more we must not forget what it truly means to be human.

Our time here is short so while we are here it's important to try to leave it better than we found it.

It all starts with treating one another with more care and being aware of the power of human kindness.

Regardless of the reason for our society's apparent decline in common courtesy it's important to remember that being a kind and caring person doesn't cost anything.

An act of kindness and doing something nice for someone else can make you feel better too.

It's easy to assume that your kindness will go unnoticed but I promise you it makes a difference and people will appreciate it. We all must live together in this world and if we all give a helping hand from time to time the journey will be a much more pleasant one.

This quote is from Queen, Queen & David Bowie "why Can't we give ourselves one more chance? Why can't we give love that one more chance? Under pressure."

Letters

Response to Mr. Page

To the editor,
Mr. Page, Please know my intent was not to specifically take aim at you. I used the opportunity in hopes of enlightening others. Having a family member who has been working with this virus since the start, It drives us both batty when people make light of it. It occurred to me; how is anyone, especially those with children, supposed to make a decision (life & death decision) regarding their and their children's safety? We have had nothing but lies and misinformation coming from this administration. Especially someone who has orange hair and lies as many times in a day as you and I take breaths.

As an example, this week-old orange hair said: "No one is immune from the Virus". Then said: "Children are Immune". Then again said: Well, they don't transmit the virus easily", followed by "they don't bring it home easily". Why anyone listens to him is beyond me.

Meanwhile you have Dr. Fauci and Dr. Birx saying: Fauci: "we don't know why children do not show Covid-19 symptoms". Dr. Birx: "It's still an open question how rapidly children can spread the Covid-19 virus". But heck, let's just send them all back to school anyway (herd mentality).

You can be more diligent like me if you wish, I am sure we all would appreciate it. For the record, I have been following Covid-19 since early January. It is very distressing, now 8 months into it, that one particular party has even begun to take it seriously. I trust this is not you anymore.

Finally, It should not come as a surprise to anyone we are in this situation. Having to live with the Republican party, it was a forgone conclusion. Example: Republican Senator Joni Ernst had Condemned Obamas handling of the Ebola outbreak, with 2 US deaths. However, has nothing but praise for trumps handling of Covid-19, with 161,000 deaths (as of this writing). What are thinking people supposed to do with statements like this? Remember, on March 1, we had only 2 US Deaths. As we know, the messaging was: it will disappear, it's a political stunt, It's a hoax, you don't need any damn mask. The sad reality: If we ALL had adopted masks at March 1, perhaps we could have avoided this catastrophe.

Good news: 13 weeks to go and we can begin to address these issues and make sure they never happen again. Just think of your vote as the vaccine.

Stay well.

A Response to Mr. Underwood and Representative Baldasaro

To the editor,
First Mr. Underwood, my letter was on the current and future representation of Mr. Baldasaro. I said the days of extreme partisanship need to come to an end and that the Clinton accusation is but one example of Mr. Baldasaro's extremism. I challenged his open refusal to wear a face-mask (Covid 19) and his apparent lack of concern about Russian bounties on American service personnel in Afghanistan.

Mr. Baldasaro's response just highlights my concern. It was an attempted justification of his position on the four year old issue. He continues to post pictures of himself at events without a face covering and he says nothing in response about Russia putting a price on the heads of American service men and women.

I respect his 22 years in the Marine Corp, but I care much more about the 22 years after he retired and particularly his position, as our representative, on key issues of interest to Londonderry residents. For example, recently he was among a group of Republican leaders who were holding signs in support of our Londonderry Police Department. We support the Londonderry Police Department too.

But as the son of a retired policeman, who was permanently disabled in the line of duty, I ask you to consider his position on guns and firearm safety. Ask yourself, do his positions make a patrol officer's job easier or safer. When he says he defends the Constitution, he usually means the second amendment. He is against license requirements, waiting periods, background checks, and extreme risk protection orders. He is for concealed carry and civil immunity from acts of self-defense.

If you were an officer riding in a patrol car, making a routine traffic stop. Would you feel safe approaching the vehicle, knowing that the driver could be carrying a concealed pistol. No background check or waiting period required. Would you want your representative to oppose extreme risk protection orders? Knowing that you suffer more physical and emotional risk (yes police officers experience PTSD too) in responding to domestic disputes, suicides, and fights. Would you want his priority to be enacting civil immunity from acts of self-defense? Or would you like a representative that would work with both sides of this issue and develop some reasonable safeguards that preserve gun ownership and enjoyment but which also have reasonable checks to keep guns out of the hands of those who are likely to harm themselves or others.

As a Democrat and a veteran, I am frustrated at the number of suicides among our active duty troops and veterans. I think reasonable people can work to find solutions to this and all the myriad of challenges the future brings. It requires a willingness to learn from each other not carrying a backpack full of anger.

Saint-Gobain Variance

To the editor
I believe NHDES will grant the variance.

There is immense pressure on them.

Saint-Gobain holds a massive DOD contract for the fabric Saint-Gobain coats for fireman gear and HAZMAT suits. SG is the ONLY plant in the U.S., which makes this product. This is The WHY they are untouchable. In the past NHDES has consistently been lenient regarding whatever helps SG. NHDES has blatantly tolerated the well known documented fear mongering and terror these SG workers work under. More than 200 employees work 24/7, which keeps the VOCs spewing into our air, which is carried by the Easterly winds. This has been happening for 20 years. I cannot see that NHDES has a choice.

I Support Doug Thomas

To the editor,

This year's primary on Sept. 8 will determine which seven Republican candidates for Londonderry's State Representative slots will go on to the general election. There are eight to choose from and I know I plan to support incumbent Doug Thomas. Doug has been a reliable representative for Londonderry.

His voting record reflects consideration for our aging population on fixed income, concern for the quality of our water, and a proven desire to keep spending and taxes low to help the economy.

He has supported election laws that ensure integrity, understands that every child learns differently and therefore is a proponent of school choice, and rejects those who would defund our police force or support the current violence in our country. He also believes everyone's views should be heard without threat of censure, cancel, or violent attacks.

As a supporter of the 2nd Amendment, he voted against the "red flag" bills. In his role in the House Science, Technology and Energy Committee, he has sought to reduce or reject programs that add to everyone's electric bills while maintaining a sensible balance between energy sources.

I encourage all voters to vote in the primary. We need a proven steady, reliable representative looking out for us and know I will be voting for Doug Thomas, second name on the ballot.

For Wayne MacDonald

To the editor,

Wayne MacDonald would make an excellent State Representative for Londonderry. He's lived in town for many years. Though a quirk in the Post Office system has his mailing address in Derry, he has always paid Londonderry town taxes.

Wayne is well-known through-out the state for his many involvements in the Republican Party. His knowledge of how things work in the state and his numerous contacts would be invaluable in representing Londonderry. Recently retired from the NH De-

Bancroft and Gilcreast Roads Will Have Periodic Closures

There will be a few roads being periodically closed to traffic over the next few weeks, and residents are being warned to seek alternative routes during construction periods.

Beginning earlier this week, on Monday, Aug. 10, and continuing until construction is completed, which will be approximately three weeks, weather permitting, the north side of Gilcreast Road will have daily closures.

The project will be running sewer lines up to the new construction site along Gilcreast Road. Following that, there will also be gas lines run to the same area. That project will happen at a later time.

The town asks that drivers please follow the posted detours for an alternate route.

Back on Monday, Aug. 3, Bancroft Road began having daily closures due to drainage construction and road reconstruction. Crews are widening a section of Bancroft for new home construction that will take place after that. Detours will be through Stonehenge and Pillsbury roads. This construction was also scheduled to take approximately three weeks, depending on the weather.

Residents with questions on the closings should call the Public Works Department at 432-1100, ext. 193.

Community Caregivers Need Publics Help With Location Change

On May 31, the Community Caregivers of Greater Derry/Londonderry lost their lease and had to relocate by Sept. 30.

This was an unsettling time for the organization, partly due to the pandemic. Those who rely on their services made it very much vital to continue without interruption. The “stay at home order” made it difficult to search for a new space, but the groups realtor, Scott Reiff, came through with a dream property.

Their new space is located in the historic Depot Square Office Building in downtown Derry and the Caregivers have leased the whole basement level.

This space was the former home of the Children’s Metamorphosis Museum a number of years back.

The new space is much larger than their current location, at 4,100-square-feet, it almost triples where they are now. Staff members will have their own offices, the Loaners Closet will have 900-square-feet of dedicated space. They will also have room for a HUB-SCRUB and for equipment tune-ups.

There is also a 400-square-foot multipurpose room that can accommodate support groups, clinics, meetings, and senior friendly education.

Unfortunately, the Caregivers explained that they did not budget for this move, nor did they expect to supply capital to improve and furnish it.

As this point, the organization is looking for help with everything from new toilets, to a refrigerator, and dry wall to doorknobs. “We need to hire a moving company. We need to convert a playground to an ADA compliant parking lot and install a handicapped accessible mechanical entry door.”

The non-profit group says “Any amount will help. Donors will be recognized in several public ways, including personalized fence posts in the parking lot and a tribute wall unveiled at the term. Though the long-time Londonderry resident doesn’t exactly have experience in this role, his previous employment has educated him on the inner workings of local government - he also has a master’s of public administration and teaches at Granite State College. Having served as the vice chair for the Budget Committee, Kipp is confident that his “strong background” will continue to prove beneficial for the town in his new position.

Kipp is also a “proud graduate” of the Leadership Londonderry program.

As town moderator, i.e. chief election official for the town, Kipp’s duties fall into three main categories: To make sure voting places are set up for residents; to count all the cast ballots and provide results; and, in March, to facilitate the town’s deliberative session - among other things.

Kipp isn’t exactly stepping in at the best time. There will be some growing pains at the Sept. 8 primary, and not just for Kipp. The coronavirus will impact voting around the nation and Londonderry is not an exception.

“It’s a terrible year to have to find somebody to fill in [as moderator],” Kipp said, “but I was more than willing to step up to help the community because of the strong team we already have in place.”

Kipp says he’s lucky to have the team, naming Sherry Farrell and Cindi Conley behind him as they move closer to Election Day.

“It doesn’t all fall to me,” Kipp said of the team.

Due to the threat of spreading COVID-19, residents are encouraged to cast absentee ballots (i.e. mail-ins). The voter turnout may be difficult to predict as Londonderry treks over unprecedented times, but town election officials believe there may be an increase. Regardless, though, Kipp just wants “every resident to vote. To me, it’s a civic responsibility.”

The Town of Londonderry is seeking ballot clerks to help on the night of the primary. Those interested may go to the Londonderry website for more information or contact sfarrell@londonderryrh.org or cconley@londonderryrh.org.

“We really need more election workers to work on Election Day,” Kipp said, “My goal is that everybody that is eligible to vote is able to cast their vote. We want out election to be very safe and very fair with the highest integrity.”

Aviation Museum's 'Around the World' Flight Arrive Home on Aug. 15

After departing Manchester-Boston Regional Airport on May 1, New Hampshire students have traveled to more than 20 nations around the globe.

Through a flight simulator and streaming video, they've flown over the Eiffel Tower in Paris, traversed the Sahara Desert, visited the Taj Mahal in India, and skirted Mount Everest. But on Saturday, Aug. 15, the Aviation Museum's 'Around the World Flight Adventure' will return home to Manchester, where it all began 3 months ago.

The arrival will be made in via a vintage DC-3 airliner flying into Manchester-Boston Regional Airport. The aircraft will carry volunteers and guests who played a part in creating the museum's program.

The ceremony will take place on the grounds of the Aviation Museum, located at 27 Navigator Rd., Londonderry. The event is free and open to the public; all attendees will be required to wear face coverings and observe social distancing.

Live music will begin at mid-day. Attendees are encouraged to arrive no later than noon to find parking and get into position for the ceremony.

Those who want a closer look at the iconic DC-3 may access the airport ramp following the ceremony for $5 per person, with proceeds supporting the non-profit Aviation Museum of New Hampshire. Tours of the DC-3's interior, including a glimpse of the cockpit, will be available. Other aircraft will be on display on the airport's East Ramp as part of the museum's annual 'PlaneFest' celebration.

The Aviation Museum will be open on Saturday, Aug. 15 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. Regular admission charges apply: $10 adults; $5 for age 6-12; age 5 and under, free; discounts for seniors and active military.

The museum's 'Around the World Flight Adventure' was launched this spring as a virtual learning program to help teachers and students engaged in remote learning due to the coronavirus pandemic.

To create the program, volunteers used the museum's Elite Flight Simulator to fly virtual segments around the globe, which were then posted online at the Museum's Web site, www.nhahs.org. Each segment included recorded video of the takeoff and landing, narration along the way, a pilot's log with extensive notes, and links to more information. The program remains available online at www.nhahs.org.

Flight segments introduced students to the basic science of flight and the craft of piloting, but also explored topics of geography, history, and culture.

The project also included two livestream events: a Memorial Day flight over the D-Day landing beaches in Normandy, France, which was highlighted by Newsweek Magazine and which attracted about 1,000 viewers from around the world; and another on the 4th of July over Italy exploring the connections between Ancient Rome and the founding of the United States.

Volunteers creating the program chose to make the journey in a virtual DC-3, as rendered by the simulator, for the aircraft's historic significance and aesthetic appeal.

"We decided a great way to bring the program to a conclusion was to bring in a real DC-3 carrying in the people who created the program, and to invite everyone to celebrate the arrival," Rapsis said.

Sponsors of the 'Around the World Flight Adventure' include Wire Belt Co. of Londonderry, Brady-Sullivan Properties, Terrafugia, Signature Flight Service, Manchester-Boston Regional Airport, and Queen City Rotary. In-kind support is provided by Jay D. Carter IT Services and So Many Aircraft; the program was also funded by a

NH Humanities Grant.

The DC-3 arrival and ceremony is subject to weather conditions.

The Aviation Museum of N.H., located at 27 Navigator Rd., Londonderry, is a non-profit 501(c)3 tax-exempt organization.

Housed in the original 1937 passenger terminal at Manchester-Boston Regional Airport, the museum is dedicated to celebrating New Hampshire's role in aviation history. The museum's education outreach program aims to inspire today's young people to become tomorrow's aviation professionals and aerospace innovators.

Safety a Concern in Upcoming Elections During Pandemic

MARTHA SMITH
LONDONDERRY TIMES

This year 2020 is a big election year and includes the Presidential Election. There is a primary coming up on Sept. 8, 2020. The New Hampshire General Election will be held on Nov. 3, 2020.

For the Primary election in September please note that if you are registered as an undeclared (independent) voter you can either vote with a republican ballot or a democratic ballot. However if you are registered in either party you may only take the ballot of the party in which you are registered. Many people get very upset when they think they are registered undeclared and find out at the polls on primary day that they are actually registered into a particular party – either democrat or republican. If you voted in the last election for either a democrat or a republican you automatically become registered into the party you voted for, unless you changed your status back to Undeclared after you cast your ballot. If you do not make sure you took the action after you voted to change back to being registered as Undeclared you are only entitled to vote on the same ballot you voted last time. For example: if you are registered undeclared and you vote on a republican ballot and you do not change your status on the voter registration list back to being undeclared after you vote you will only be able to get a republican ballot at the upcoming primary, even if you want to vote for a democrat. It is very important that you make sure at Town Hall with the Supervisor of the Checklist that you are registered as an undeclared voter before you go to vote in any primary if you want to have the choice of voting for either a republican or democratic candidate. It is a good idea to check out your status on the voter checklist as soon as possible as you are not able to make the change on the date of the primary.

This year we are still in the midst of the Covid-19 pandemic. Governor Sununu, the New Hampshire Legislature, and the NH Secretary of State's Office are taking every precaution to keep every voter safe in the upcoming Primary and General Election.

Anyone who has the virus or been exposed to someone who has the virus or is concerned about exposure to the virus will be allowed to vote in both the Primary and the General Election by way of an absentee ballot. In most elections only voters who fall into very specific categories are allowed to vote by absentee ballot. However, this year (only) as a result of the ongoing Covid-19 pandemic anyone who desires to vote may apply for an absentee ballot and check the special Covid-19 exception on the application form. Alternatively, voters may also check the "disability" exception on the application form. Governor Sununu vetoed the bill that would allow for voting by mail in all future elections in NH. The exception for absentee votes is only allowed for the 2020 elections. An application for an absentee ballot may be obtained at the Town Clerk's Office at the Town Hall where you currently reside. You can find the contact information for your Town Clerk at the end of this article. You may also get an application for an absentee ballot on the website for the NH Secretary of State at:

<http://sos.nh.gov/votingemergency.aspx>.

In the event you want to vote by absentee ballot using this exception or any of the other exceptions it is highly recommended that you request your absentee ballot as early as possible. Late ballots will not be counted. Check with your Town Clerk to find out the deadline for requesting an absentee ballot and when your absentee ballot must be returned and received by your Town Clerk's office in order to be properly counted. At the discretion of the Election officials in your town drop boxes may be made available, but you must check with the Town Clerk to find out if drop boxes will be made available for absentee ballots in your town.

You may also contact the Town Clerk's office if you need to register to vote. The town websites all contain a lot of important information. See contact information at the end of this article.

In the event you decide to vote in person at the polls it is most important that you check with your Town Clerk's office to find out the location for voting in your town this year. Some towns have changed there voting locations due to the Covid-19 pandemic. Each town is doing there best to take every precaution necessary to provide a safe place for the voters. According to Secretary of State, Bill Gardner, in a July 17, 2020 interview, some voters who decline to wear masks may be barred from entering the polling place. Under certain circumstances voters who refuse to wear a mask may be allowed to fill out and cast a ballot outside of the formal polling place under the supervision of a designated election worker. The State government was provided $3.2 million in federal funds to be used to improve safety in the 2020 elections, including the purchase of personal protective equipment for poll workers.

You may be interested to learn some historical information about New Hampshire voting. In the 2016 General Election about 75,000 (10%) of votes were cast by absentee ballot. Voter turnout in New Hampshire for the 2016 presidential election reflected that more than 78% of registered voters in the State cast a ballot. In April of 2020, there were 1,002,904 names on the voter checklist registered at the NH Secretary of State's office: Undeclared (Independent) voters numbered 377,754, Democrats numbered 323,430 and Republicans numbered 301,720.

A survey taken by University of New Hampshire Survey Center in June of 2020 reflected that one-third of the likely voters in the 2020 General Election indicated that they would prefer to use an absentee ballot this year. The survey also revealed that about 85% of New Hampshire voters are confident that the 2020 General Election will be counted accurately.

In summary whether you are an undeclared voter, democrat or republican it is most important that you vote in this year's elections. This year you have the option of voting by absentee ballot or in person at your polling place. The safety of all New Hampshire voters is a prime concern of all of the election officials involved in our elections. Everyone who is entitled to register to vote should register. You can learn how to register by contacting your Town Clerk. The State of New Hampshire also allows same day registration at the polls on the day of the election. This year 2020 is a big election year and it is most important that everyone who is eligible to vote cast a ballot. Every vote counts in our Country and this is an honor and a duty of all of our citizens.

partment of Health and Human Service after 23 years as a fraud investigator, he is ready to serve in the state house.

He has twice served as the NH Republican Party Chair and navigated the party through times of extreme difficulty. Wayne successfully chaired the Rockingham County Republican Committee for five terms and was the Londonderry Republican Chair for two terms. In 2000, he was selected as a Presidential Elector.

Wayne has a BA in political Science from Saint Anselm College and an MBA from Rivier University. He's a staunch Pro-Life supporter, and will never vote for a state income or sales tax. He strongly supports the 2nd Amendment and school choice. Additionally, he will fight against higher business taxes and excessive regulations.

As one of the eight candidates for state representative, I urge voters to get out and vote in the Primary on Sept. 8 and ask that you support Wayne MacDonald as one of your seven choices.

Vote for Your Rights

To the editor,
This year's election cycle is so important. Our values and way of life are under attack nationally and at our state level. New Hampshire's Primary Election is on Tuesday, Sept. 8. It is vital that all Republicans show up and vote for our candidates. They need our support. We have 8 candidates running for 7 positions. This is your opportunity to select the seven candidates of your choice.

Our basic rights are being challenged - Freedom of Speech, the Right to Bear Arms, Parental Rights, the Rights of Unborn Children, Religious Liberty, the Rights of Assembly, even the Rights to travel around our great country, the list goes on and on. We need to be vigilant in keeping spending and taxes low. We need to support our police force - they work tirelessly to protect and support us! We need to ensure election integrity - you earned your right to vote, do not give away this right to those who have not earned it.

Our Republican candidates have a proven record that they have been diligently protecting these rights and will do so when re-elected. It is our job now to show up and vote at both the Primary Election on Sept. 8 and then during the General Election on Nov. 3.

Vote for your Rights,
Vote Republican!
Kris Perez,
Londonderry

Please Vote Republican

To the editor
I am a member of the older generation and a product of the Great Generation. I have experienced much in my life. I have done my part to protect my family and the people of the USA and our great state. I am finding it impossible to retire my voice to the sidelines. The freedoms that I was taught to always hold dear and to be willing to safe guard with my life are again being threatened—but this time from within by people who are promoting divisiveness, supporting chaos and civil unrest. Under the name of being part of a protest, they are risking their health and well-being as well as that of the community. They protest and some riot while the peace-abiding citizens comply with behavior restrictions so not to possibly spread Covid-19. Why are we not valuing and striving to remain "one-nation, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all"? I am hoping my few words will strike a cord with many of you. Please seriously consider voting straight Republican on Sept. 8, to restore and preserve the values that have and will continue to make this a great State to live in and a Nation that others seek in long caravans to come and live in.

Full Speed Ahead,
Ludwig Haken
Londonderry

Vote Republican this Year

To the editor ,
As a long time resident of Londonderry, former member in the U.S. army, and active member in the town, I know good leadership.

I would like to see everyone in our state and town thrive as it was doing before the Covid-19 hit. I would like to see it recover most quickly and support a business and working environment where the things that were lost are soon reinstated. Thus, I encourage you to vote for seven of the Republican candidates for State Representatives—and if fact vote straight ticket Republican. Please keep N.H. one of the most desirable States to live in.

Respectfully,
Roger Fillio
Londonderry

Vote Wisely

To the editor,
As the N.H. Primary Election (Sept. 8) draws near, I view daily riots and looting on TV in progressive, Democrat-controlled cities and ask why city officials allow this to go on costing lives and billions of dollars in damages from looting local businesses. Although the riots and looting evolved from a worthy BLM cause, these progressive city governments have done little to stop the riots and looting. Why? Is it a tactic to have voters believe that by electing progressive, Democrat politicians at the local and national levels that riots and looting will stop? In my view, that's what they hope for despite the cost to their constituents. If progressives are successful with this tactic, Americans will then have to contend with the ramifications of local and national progressive agendas. So what is the agenda that progressive Democrats are advocating? I'll tell you what it's not. Law and civil order, economic growth to benefit all of America, educational system for your children without political bias, small government, strong military, legal immigration, gun rights, small businesses, legal voting, a return to prosperity, excellence in medical care and the right to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. This is what Republicans want and our forefathers envisioned in our Constitution that progressives want to change to accommodate their agenda. Your vote matters for our area, our State and America. If you care about continuing the vision of our forefathers of America being the shining light and envy of the world, Vote Wisely in the Primary and General Election (Nov. 3); our country is at stake. Vote Republican!

Londonderry Resident Wins Equine Championship

Londonderry's resident and middle schooler Corah Daigle had quite a day at the Silver Heels Horse show on Aug. 9.

The Londonderry girl took home several awards and a championship in her first horse show. She showed in five classes on the day and placed in walk/trot pleasure and walk/trot equitation in the 12 and under classes. She won the championship in the all ages walk/trot pleasure class.

She has learned a lot about horses from the Londonderry 4H club horse program. A few years ago she was introduced to Natural horsemanship by her trainer Taylor at TRL Horsemanship and has excelled in her skills at both riding and training horses.

Corah looks forward to continue her schooling in equitation and has future goals to attend an equine college.

Her next show is the Silver Heels Riding Club horse show Sept. 19 in Fremont, NH.
