Town Council Discusses Budget at Public Hearing

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Public Hearing on the over $39 million FY23 town budget was discussed during the Monday, Dec. 6, Londonderry Town Council meeting and the biggest part of the discussion centered on the addition of a $100,000 for the Police Departments cyber security upgrade.

Town Council chairman John Farrell led off the talks by explaining that the town fiscal year starts on July 1, 2022 and ends on June 30, 2023 and they were looking at budgets that will end 18 months out.

During the previous School Board meeting the District Administration received permission from the School Board to begin doing research on the legal and medical questions they had regarding this type of plan. At the meeting Black presented to the Board a one page document giving the Board an update

School Budget Workshop Reveals Teacher Reduction

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The School Board held a budget workshop on Tuesday, Dec. 7, where they heard from some a number of department heads regarding next year's proposed budget.

Presenting the staffing and personnel budget line was Assistant Superintendent Dan Black.

"This is the biggest part of the budget," said Black.

Black said that when they make decisions including staffing it's based on the mission of the school district and having the right personnel needed to accomplish it. "We are a school district with a focus on having our students be college and career ready," he said. "Even with COVID we do an excellent job getting our students there."

When it comes to staffing one of the things that they look at is enrollment. Black explained that this year they made projections on enrollment based on moving their current students up one grade level. For Moose Hill they based the projection based on the historical average of how many students are enrolled which he said has been consistent.

"These are the enrollments that start to drive some of our decisions," he said.

After looking at the projected enrollment numbers, and at their current staffing numbers, Black said that they are proposing to reduce three teacher positions at the elementary school level.

He said that the decision was driven by fiscal responsibility more than anything else.

Black said that the decision to propose cutting three teachers for next year was "definitely the hardest decision we made I think in this year's budget on the add swap sheet."

School Board Gets Latest COVID Mitigation Strategy

During the Dec. 7 School Board meeting Assistant Superintendent Dan Black updated the School Board in regards to their transition to optional mitigation strategies in Londonderry Schools.

on the progress they have made. "We worked very hard over the past couple of weeks to put this together," Black said about the one page handout he passed out to the Board. "As a school system we are not going to reach the 80% vaccination rate for COVID-19, in staff and students, that the NH Department of Public Health has set for us to relax mitigation strategies in this pandemic," the document stated. "However, by MLK Day 2022, or soon after, any staff or student that wants the protection from COVID-19 with a vaccination, will have had a chance to get that immunity by that time."

Black explained that in order to make the shift they have legal questions that need to be answered first.

"We are consulting our insurance company and our legal counsel to ensure we have the legal opening to shift the liability away from the

Later on in the meeting Londonderry Business Administrator Peter Curro said that the current budget for salaries across the District is $42,197,222 for the entire District. The proposed budget for salaries is $42,208,718, and the default budget would be $42,098,941 for salaries.

He explained that in the proposed budget it includes the proposed increases for Administration and non-affiliated employees. The default budget only shows the contractual obligations before the process starts and those contracts aren't finalized for next year.

For the athletic department, Londonderry Athletic Director Howard Sobolov said that the proposed athletic budget is based on the needs and fixed costs of running athletics in the Londonderry School District.

"This year I'm requesting a budget of $410,940," he said.

He said that they currently have 81 teams with 108 coaches, and typically have 600 to 700 students who participate on a daily basis. He said that despite the District having a decline in enrollment they have had a steady amount of participation in athletics.

One of the major requests they are looking at as a department is having two full-time athletic trainers. Currently they have one full-time trainer and one part-time trainer.

It was explained by Sobolov that right now the part-time trainer is working full-time hours. He thinks that they should be compensated for the full-time work they are doing.

The total increase would be $53,865 if they move the part-time position to full-time and they take the School District's benefits.

One question asked if it would make more financial sense to have someone contracted to come in during the busy season instead of moving the part-time position to full-time all year round.

"Can you do that, yes," Sobolov said but then explained that if they did so they would lose services which is why he isn't recommending that approach.

School Board member Bob Slater who was involved in athletics for Londonderry for 18 years asked if they are limiting themselves by moving the position to full-time rather than going with an extra part-time position to help offset the coverage.

Sobolov said that they haven't looked at that. He said that right now they are able to cover everything but the problem is that the part-time trainer isn't getting paid full-time even though they work full-time hours.

Londonderry School Board Vice Chair Sara Loughlin said that she works in a school district that contracts out for athletic trainers and sees the difference.

The next Londonderry School Board meeting is slated to take place on Dec. 21 at 7 p.m.

Town Budget

Town Manager Kevin Smith presented the newest numbers to the council in the public hearing, with Finance Director Justin Campo feeling ill.

Smith said the town budget is about $3,300 under the default budget and about a half of a percent above the current operating budget.

He also stated that staff had looked into whether or not the utilities lines in the department budgets needed to be raised because of the rise in water, gas and oil prices and he felt they could be left the way they were presented.

Smith also brought up the need for an additional $100,000 for the Police IT Departments Cyber Security Plan and felt that it could be raised through a Warrant Article, but was apprehensive about whether it would fail and negate the ability of the police to upgrade.

The Proposed FY23 Budget was presented at $39,204,994, with $2,849,544 coming from sewer fund user fees making the General Fund $36,355,4550.

The subject of the $100,000 cost for Cyber security garnered the most discussion after the budget presentation and Budget Committee member Jonathan Kipp asked whether the cost could be shared with the school district somehow.

Farrell felt that the level of security the police departments was looking to put in place would be far greater than the school district would need.

Police Chief Bill Hart concurred, saying that it was fundamentally different in kind but not in degree.

Farrell added that it might be possible for the school and town to work together, but police is much different.

There was a lot of concern raised about whether the IT security plan could move forward if the Warrant Article failed.

Hart expressed concern over the article saying that the funding needs to be "Lock Box Secure."

Farrell pointed out that 80% of the budget is made up of personnel and that if the $100,000 were to be added to the budget it would most likely have to come from there.

Councilor Joe Green felt that town staff could find the money needed elsewhere in the budget, suggesting the salt budget may not need to go up by $20,000.

Smith responded that they could look at what is budgeted for insurance plans and thought a good amount could come from there.

Resident Bill Hamilton addressed the issue saying that he had worked with budgets for a number of years and was willing to bet that the town could go back and find at least five percent more savings to the taxpayers in the budget.

He ended by challenging town staff to go back and find all of the little things that the budget has over what is needed and come back with a lower number.

Hamilton spoke earlier in the meeting about the significant rise in his recent property tax bill.

There will be another public hearing on the town budget in Jan. 17.

school system to individuals,” the document stated. “With no current legal requirement for staff and students to vaccinate for COVID-19 in NH Public Schools, we argue staff and families will own the liability for their choices around vaccines and facemasks, and other mitigation strategies while the pandemic continues.”

“Within this overall approach, we would still have mitigation strategies surrounding any documented medically vulnerable students during the pandemic as needed to protect them,” the document presented to the Board also stated. “By the Jan. 11, 2022, we will share with the School Board and Community our findings from the Medical Advisory Committee.”

The findings will focus on:

- Our predicament of having a low vaccination rate against COVID-19 with substantial community spread of the virus in the community and our schools.

- Explain what the “endemic” stage of any pandemic is, and how we will struggle to reach it with a low vaccination rate.

- The risks any unvaccinated staff and students will have with substantial community spread of COVID19, especially with optional mitigation strategies in place within our schools.

- The protections of being vaccinated against COVID-19 and choosing individual mitigation strategies with substantial community spread of the virus within our schools and community.

- Clear timelines around vaccine and natural immunity to guide decision making for staff and students.

“By early January we should also have our optional asymptomatic PCR testing set up with for any staff or students that are interested through Convenient MD. From this program, we also intend to have symptomatic rapid antigen testing available to staff and students at the District Office when needed to return to school.

Black during the meeting pointed out that there will be some things that the District won’t be able to control.

“With this district-led transition, there are some approaches to COVID-19 that we will not be able to control because they are determined by the state and the public health department,” the handout stated.

It includes:

- Students and staff that test positive for COVID-19 will still need to follow the isolation guidelines until they are updated or changed by NH.

- Students or staff that are unvaccinated and have a positive COVID-19 case in their household will still need to quarantine until that guideline is updated or changed by NH.

- We do expect to see a similar number of positive cases enter our building and spread with our low vaccination rate and a shift to optional mitigation strategies as we have already seen so far this school year. We will have to follow any directives from the Department of Public Health that may come if we continue to get clusters and outbreaks after this transition.

During the meeting Black was also critical of the State in regards to the COVID response particularly for when the end will be.

“We’re constantly failed by Concord,” Black said. “They are not leading us when it comes to public health measures. They always take the easy way out and they push all the hard decisions down to us.”

Holiday Greetings

As the holidays get closer and closer, we're all treated to outdoor Christmas decorations brightening the night on most streets, with merrily lit trees adding a festive touch to public spaces, and warm, friendly holiday music playing from every other car on the road. The weather even seems to be cooperative, for the time being, yet an offering of a light covering of snow would better set the scene for a Norman Rockwell, New England Christmas.

Now is a great time to bake an extra batch of cookies, or get together a few hand-written holiday cards and send them along to neighbors and coworkers. It may seem like a small gesture, but you'll never know whose holiday you'll make in the process.

In the past few decades, it feels like we have been led to believe that in order to show the amount we love our family and friends is reflected only on the amount of money we are able to spend on them, through fancy gifts and extravagant dinners. In our hearts, we all know that Christmas, Hanukkah and rest are not holidays based on greed and gluttony, despite what large commercial companies would want us to think. But rather, an opportunity for families and friends to reunite. These holidays carry the message of the miracle of giving and remembering what is near and dear. It's true that you don't have to break bank for gift-giving, just a little thinking outside of the gift-box goes a long way to show someone you care.

Money, after all, is not what the holidays were meant to be about, rather, good will towards our fellow human.

In our case at Nutfield Publishing, it is through the good will of all the businesses you see advertised in the paper you hold in your hands that we are able to keep you informed with this and every publication every week.

We report on the good, the bad, and the in-between, bringing you up to speed on what's happening in town.

Our newspapers exist thanks to the help of advertising, and we encourage our readers finishing up their last-minute gift purchases to shop locally this holiday season, and to take advantage of what our towns have to offer. If you find what you need from one of our advertisers, please let them know we sent you!

With the holidays fast approaching, we don't doubt that you, our readers have been busy. Between holiday activities, fundraisers, collecting warm clothes and toys to help out those in need in our midst, requests from community groups selling Christmas trees and wreaths, holiday party invites and suggestions for gift giving, it can be hard to remember to take a breath. We appreciate you for taking the time to catch up on your local news!

We wish each one of you our readers the Merriest of Holidays, and all a very Happy Healthy New Year.

Thanks for reading!

School Board Liability Question

To the editor,

Last week's article that reported the School Board's concern whether they had a COVID-19 liability situation seems to me to have an obvious answer - "yes". The Board is responsible for assuring the safety of students while they are in attendance. We know that masking, social distancing and vaccination are safe and effective ways to significantly limit the spread of infection. The first time that a student dies or develops major complications from COVID-19 and the infection can be traced to the school, the Board becomes at risk of a civil suit. Our litigious society certainly includes a lawyer who will be eager to represent the family in a claim that something as simple and obvious as requiring masking in a crowded, indoor, setting where many were unvaccinated was ignored. Civil suits do not require "beyond reasonable doubt". Who will pay the damages if the suit goes against the Board? The taxpayer.

Wake up, look at the local infection rate, consider the risk and take action to limit the taxpayers liability!

Property Tax Rate May Look Nice but Tax Bills are Mighty Ugly!

To the editor,

Is it just me or did anyone else happen to notice an 18.7% increase in their property tax bills? Just a few weeks ago, I recall our Town Manger's comments (in this very publication) that the Town's new property tax rate is the lowest it's been in many years. Well, that's nice BUT... it is the actual bill that must be paid and is at its highest level ever and by a wide margin! Even in a good economy, let alone now, tax increases of this magnitude are simply intolerable. There are a good many people who simply don't have an extra thousand dollars or two kicking around with which to pay increased taxes. And rest assured, this increase is by no means a one-shot deal. It is the gift that keeps on giving (actually taking!)

The nearly automatic, knee-jerk reaction to such steep increases is to call your Town Councilor (or in other municipalities, Selectman, Alderman, etc.) and proceed to berate him or her about your tax bill. But in reality, which entity is driving the increase?

Well, the Town's proposed budget appears as it will be a bit lower but the Town's budget represents only 22% of our tax bill. It is the Londonderry School District which consumes 64% ... nearly two thirds of our total tax bill! (The rest is attributed to the County tax and the State Education tax.) Now the School District may say "well, our proposed budget is lower than or nearly equal to last year's budget" but in reality (with stagnant enrollment) the bottom line will likely represents an increase.

I, like most of you, am proud to boast that Londonderry's schools are among the finest in the State but that does not imply that their budget proposal is a blank check. Yes, our elected(?) members of the School Board are surely and rightfully attending to the Town's students but what about us taxpayers? We matter too because we fund those schools and educators and other School employees! But for us taxpayers, where do you suppose our schools and students would be?

My intent here is not to malign anyone nor any group of citizens or employees who are trying to maintain or improve our schools or our operation of the School District or Town government. But... we must remain vigilant year after year after year in order to keep tight control of spending and "budget creep". Speaking of education, please take a little time to self-educate about our current School Board members (and in the future, School Board candidates) in order to understand where they stand not only on education but also on budget matters and spending.

You know, it may be fine to say "it's all about the children" (and yes, of course they should matter) but in the final analysis, who pays the freight? Yes, it's us, the taxpayers and we matter too!

Woodmont Tax Incentives Are Just Wrong

To the editor,

As the Town Council considers a proposal to give huge tax breaks for new construction in Woodmont, we must ask ourselves, WHY? Giving 50% tax breaks to businesses while property taxes of our residents creep up makes no sense and is blatantly unfair. Saying it is good for our long-term

Aviation Museum Hold Open House and Santa Visit

With hard rains falling over much of Southern New Hampshire on Saturday, Santa's usual arrival to the Aviation Museum near the Manchester-Boston Regional Airport in a helicopter changed to a ride by fire truck. There were still a large amount of children there waiting to greet him to share their Christmas wishes at a safe distance. Organizers of the event had participants speak to Santa via microphone and were given treats after their talk. The museum was also heavily decorated and people were invited in for tours before and after Santa's arrival.

tax health is a lie that Londonderry and other towns have seen from our past experience.

We have seen incredible commercial growth in Londonderry during my 30 years here, and taxes have climbed dramatically. The added tax revenue, even with no property tax giveaways, gets eaten up by the added traffic, traffic lights and road maintenance, the need for more services such as police and fire, etc. Not to mention the added stress and health costs from the creation of a more urban environment. And handing out tax giveaways spread over 5 - 10 years to developers and some larger businesses is crazy. It makes more money for developers that just don't need it, while the citizens of this town basically subsidize them. And what is even more insane is that the bigger the development (tier 1), the bigger and longer the tax subsidy.

Do we really want to donate our hard earned dollars to more development? Enough is enough. It is time to tell our town manager and councilors: no tax subsidies for the well off at the expense residents, the voters and us.

Thank You

To The editor,
The Londonderry Lions Club would like to thank the generous people of our community who supported our annual Christmas Tree sale. This was an amazing year, selling out 300 trees by Sunday Dec. 5! Every dollar of the proceeds from the sale goes to Lions charities, which include: Lions Sight and Hearing Foundation: local eye screenings and eyeglasses for those less fortunate, Lions Camp Pride, a special needs camp with 1,100 ft of waterfront on Merry-meeting Lake, Thanksgiving and Christmas Turkey Baskets, supporting Local food pantry and soup kitchens and our Annual Londonderry High School Scholarships. The Lions Club is extremely grateful to the people of Londonderry for helping us help others. As we all reflect on this past year, please join the Lions in remembering members we lost this year, former Town Assessor Rick Brideau, Former State Rep. Robert Introne and Raymond Dion. Ray Dion was a 30 year member who tire-

Recent article in this venue quoted the US Energy Information Ad-

Wrong! What the EIA refers to as "oil products" are "by-products" derived from oil; not crude oil exports. These by-product exports include refined fuel oil, liquified gases, plastic food containers/wrappings to name a few. Thus the author's quote that "Crude oil and petroleum product EXPORTS reach record levels in the first half 2021" is misleading. 35 years in the oil, gas and petrochemical industries affords me some expertise in what I state. The author quoted that "Total energy exports (in 2020) exceeded imports in 2019 for the first time in 67 years". True; Trump's policies in 2019/2020 reduced restrictions on oil drilling and refining making America energy independent of foreign oil. Absurdly, Biden kills Keystone and eliminates drilling on Alaska's North Slope causing oil prices, by-products and every item shipped using gasoline to spike, including foods, while begging Saudi Arabia for oil which they refuse to protect their pricing structure. Without sufficient crude oil supplies, Americans will feel inflationary prices on gasoline, home-heating oil/propane, food and much more well into 2022 and beyond if Biden doesn't take a conciliatory tone to the oil industry. If readers want to understand how important oil is to our way of life, Google "Life Without Oil"; a safe Facebook video. Londonderry Local to Star in Ballet Misha's Nutcracker

Ballet Misha, the Manchester based professional dance company affiliated with Dimensions in Dance and directed by Amy Fortier and assistant director Mari Frederique-Streitburger, will once again stage their production of The Nutcracker at The Dana Center at Saint Anselm College on Saturday, Dec. 18, at 1 p.m. and 6 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 19 at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Ballet Misha's production is performed by professional dancers in the company, as well as apprentice company members, and students of its affiliate school, Dimensions in Dance. The cast of over 100 dancers has rehearsed for months, and they are excited for the moment when they can perform this magical production this weekend. With hundreds of vibrant costumes, five beautiful sets, and Tchaikovsky's jubilant score, Ballet Misha's production of The Nutcracker is the perfect holiday entertainment.

Ballet Misha's production tells the classic story of a girl named Clara who receives a wooden nutcracker in the shape of a soldier as a Christmas present from her mysterious godfather Drosselmeyer. This simple gift leads Clara on a magical journey that delights audiences of all ages.

"I think one of the reasons The Nutcracker is so magical for children is because the lead character of Clara is danced by a child. There is no other professional ballet where the most important role is danced by a young girl," explains plains director Fortier.

It was a production of Boston Ballet's Nutcracker that inspired Director Amy Fortier to become a dancer.

"I was only three years old, but that was it. I knew ballet was the only thing for me," says Fortier. Now, Fortier aspires to pass the magic and inspiration of The Nutcracker onto her students.

Charlotte Presher, age 13, of Londonderry, will dance the coveted role of Clara this year.

"I am super excited to be Clara this year," says Charlotte Presher. "I love doing the Nutcracker because I can work on my performing skills, and it is also a wonderful bonding experience with my friends and two of my family members who are also in the show."

Presher, a seventh grader at Londonderry Middle school, has been dancing six days a week for months to prepare and train for this role.

"Charlotte works hard everyday, and I am really proud of her," says director Fortier. "I can't wait to see her on stage."

Fortier explains that the dancers are very excited for the Nutcracker this year because the 2020 Nutcracker was canceled due to Covid-19.

"The dedication and work these dancers have put in for months, in masks, makes me beyond proud. Even in dark times, they are moving forward and working hard for their moment under the bright lights on stage," says Fortier.

Ballet Misha will perform The Nutcracker at the Dana Center at Saint Anselm College in Manchester, NH on Saturday, Dec. 18 at 1 p.m. and 6 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 19 at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Tickets for Ballet Misha's The Nutcracker can be purchased online at balletmisha.com or in person in the lobby before the performances.

Lancers Girls' Hoops Squad Gets First Win with New Coach

CHRIS PAUL

New Lancer head coach Jon Doherty

Despite starting their season with a tough 35-27 at Windham High School on Friday night, the Londonderry High School Girls' Basketball team snapped back, getting their first win under new head coach Jon Doherty on Monday night.

Doherty took over the program in June, after longtime head coach Nick Theos announced his retirement.

The Lady Lancers hosted the Purple Panthers from Nashua South on Monday night, Dec. 13, and after a slow start to the first half on both sides of the court, the home squad tightened up their defense and went on to narrowly defeat their guest by a score of 46-45.

Nashua outscored LHS in the first half 36-25 of the game, in part due to the Panthers hitting many of their three-point attempts. The NSHS squad had 15 of their 18, second quarter points, scored from outside the arc.

After the halftime break, the Lady Lancers turned into a much better team and outscored Nashua 12-4 in the third quarter and 9-5 in the fourth for the narrow, one-point win.

Londonderry was able to shutdown the South team's outside shooting and allowed just two, three-pointers to find the net in the second half.

After the game, the new head coach commented on the quick turn around, "Definitely a lot of struggles in the first half, but we came alive in the second half. We were definitely more under control, the defense tightened up a lot, they (Nashua) had 36 points at halftime and ended with 45, so a much better defensive effort from us."

Senior forward Olivia Chau was the high scorer for the Lady Lancers, getting 16-points in the game, including a critical three-pointer in the final seconds of the fourth quarter to put the Lancers ahead for good.

Chau followed up her well-timed three-pointer with a defensive steal on the other end of the court with 13-seconds on the clock.

Kate Sloper contributed 10-points, with one from outside the arc. Shannon Ball and Jordon Furlong both had six-points in the game and Reagan Anderson and Madelyn O'Shaughnessy added four each.

In the 35-27 Friday night loss to Windham High School, fouls played a big part in the game, with the Lady Jaguars getting 21 of their 35-points from the foul line.

The Lady Lancers had 11-points scored by free throws.

Chau led in scoring with 11-points and Sloper had five-points in the low-scoring contest.

Senior Olivia Chau accounted for two key plays at the end of the game against Nashua for the team's first win of the season. Photos by Chris Paul

The team will travel to Nashua on Friday night, Dec. 17, for the unenviable task of taking on the always-tough Lady Cardinals from Bishop Guertin who have won five of the last six Division I State Championships.

Lancers Boys' Hoops Home Opener Ends in Overtime Loss

Mike Rosatano

LONDONDERRY TIMES

Despite getting off to a blistering start, with senior forward Mike Rosatano scoring 17-points to start the first quarter of the Londonderry High School Basketball team's home opener against Windham High School, the Lancers fell 61-58 in very close and exciting overtime game to start the winter season.

Rosatano's great start featured five successful three-pointers and helped to catapult the team into a 23-11 first-quarter start, getting Lancer Nation up off their seats and expecting a big win to start the season.

The Lancers scoring simmered a bit in the second quarter, but the team still maintained a 32-20 lead headed into the second half.

In the second half, the Jaguar defense tightened up and allowed their offense to edge closer in the third period and eventually tie the game in regulation.

The Windham team inched closer in the third with 16-points to Londonderry's 12-points and in the final period of regulation.

The WHS squad outscored LHS 16-10 in the fourth with the final two points coming from a last second lay-up that rolled into the basket off the back of the rim for the 52-52 tie to end the regulation.

In the fourth quarter Rosatano Had to keep LHS in the game by making three high-pressure free throws, after being fouled on a shot outside the arc, to keep LHS in the game.

In overtime, Lancer senior guard, Justin Hoggard, scored his team's only four points and Windham tallied seven for the win.

Rosatano had a big start to the season for the Lancers, with 27-points to lead the team in scoring. He had five three-pointer, three two-point baskets and six successful free throws.

Justin Hoggard

Hoggard had 12-points to finish the game, Sophomore forward Tyler Miles had seven points and junior guard Kevin Rouke ended with five points.

The LHS team had its second game of the season against the Nashua South Purple Panthers on Monday night, Dec. 13 and scored the same amount of points.

This time they they were on the winning side of that number with a 58-49 finish to the game.

Lancer Wrestlers Have Tough Start to Winter Season

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Wrestling Team opened the 2021-22 Winter season with a trip to Nashua to face the Titans where they were defeated 48-34 despite a number of strong individual victories.

The Londonderry squad handed Nashua four victories by forfeit due to the fact that they were unable to fill four of the 14 weight classes.

The 113, 120, 182 and 220 weight classes were won by Nashua by virtue of LHS not having wrestlers to fill the spots and setting up Londonderry with a very difficult hill to climb.

Londonderry had string of victories come to the team starting in the 126-pound weight class.

Lancer Kaden Stone pinned Benjamin Haight in 1:04 for six team points.

David Pento, at 132 lbs., pinned Dimitri Moreno for a win in 2:54. At 138, Evan Madigan had a match win over Jonathan Torres with a 2:29 fall.

Michael Palma got a quick pin over Andrew Frye at 145 lbs. (Fall 1:09).

In the 152 lb. weight, Patrick O'Connor managed a fall over Steven Rosario in 1:39.

Matthew Ritchey had a win at 195 lbs. over Bryson Borrromeo and added four team points for a 17-5 major decision.

Following that first dual meet of the season, the Lancer squad traveled to Haverhill Mass. to take part in the Westford Academy Duals where they fell to three teams and tied with one.

The Lancer squad was once again unable to fill three weight classes and gave up 24-points to start each match.

The tie was against the meet's host Westford Academy with a 42-42 result.

All the Lancer wins came by way of pins. 106: Nikki Stylianos at 106 (Fall 3:17); Nicolas D'Alessandro at 126; David Pento at 132; Michael Palma at 145; Patrick O'Connor at 152; Ricardo Perez (160 lb.); and Matthew Ritchey (195 lb.).

Londonderry fell 48-30 in the dual meet against Haverhill High School.

Wins came from Nicolas D'Alessandro (126 lb.) with a pin; Michael Palma (138) with a forfeit; Patrick O'Connor (152) with a Fall at 5:13; Ricardo Perez (160) Fall 1:13; and Devin Ortiz (220) with a pin at 1:10.

In the team's dual against Beverly High School, Londonderry fell 54-30 with most of their points coming by way of pins.

David Pento had a quick pin at 132 lbs. (Fall - 0:55); Evan Madigan (138 lbs.) Fall at 2:49; Patrick O'Connor (152 lbs.) Fall at 1:11; and Ricardo Perez (160) Fall at 2:19. Nikki Stylianos received a forfeit at 106 lbs.

The Lancer team suffered its biggest defeat at the hands of St. John's Preparatory School, losing 70-3.

Michael Palma had a three-point win over Adam Callum in a 4-0 decision.
