The Londonderry Conservation Commission held its regularly scheduled meeting on Oct. 26.

During the meeting the Commission had a design review for a site plan at 215 and 217 Rockingham Road. Representing the owners was Doug MacGuire.

He explained that currently the one lot developed has an existing office building on it. MacGuire said that the developed lot is not

Town Council Approves Water Rate Settlement

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

At the Nov. 1 Londonderry Town Council meeting the Council heard from Assistant Town Solicitor Mike Malaguti regarding a proposed settlement in the Pennichuck Rate Case.

It was explained by Malaguti that about a year ago the Town was notified that Pennichuck which is one of the Town's water utility companies that they were seeking a 21% total increase in revenue and was going to file it with the Public Utility Commission.

The Town Council then approved the hiring of an attorney to represent them in the PUC case.

After reviewing materials, going through the discovery process and hiring an expert witness to review materials they were then offered a settlement offer which would be a 16.5% increase.

Malaguti said on Oct. 18 the Town Council along with the different attorneys involved and the expert witness all met during a non-public meeting and recommended to the Town Council that they accept the settlement offer.

He explained that after the expert witness reviewed the different materials they determined that the increases are mostly justified under law. He noted that as a regulated utility they have the right to recover increases from the ratepayers. If they were to go to trial Malaguti said that they would likely have to pay more than 16%.

It was also pointed out by Malaguti that the Department of Consumer Affairs and the Department of Energy have also said that they are in favor of the settlement offer.

Derry Energy Group Provides Information to Town Council

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

During the Nov. 1 Londonderry Town Council meeting the Council heard from Josh Bourdon and Jeff Moulton from the Derry Net Zero Task Force.

Bourdon said that they created the task force with a goal of having all of the Town owned buildings and the School District buildings running on renewable energy by 2025.

Bourdon explained that they added people to the task force from different boards and departments so that when decisions are made there are not any surprises.

He said that by this time next year the municipality should have met its goal and then they are going to work on the school buildings.

Town Councilor Deb Paul said that when she heard about what they were doing in Derry she was hopeful they would be able to come to Londonderry and present to them.

"When I heard about this project that you've been doing for a long time I thought it was great and to see it be so successful I couldn't wait to invite you in here because I think that Londonderry can do that," Paul said.

It was explained by Moulton that when they first started off they collected energy data to determine what buildings were underperforming when it comes to energy.

He said that over the years they have been able to implement differ-in the best of shape and the parking lot is not convenient to access points on Rockingham Road, and said that the second lot is currently vacant. He explained that the proposal is to consolidate the two properties and construct something more in line with the Performance Overlay District (POD).

He said that they would like to construct a new 6,000 Square foot building that will be two-stories, with the first floor commercial and second floor residential, which would be a mixed-use building. He added that it would have six residential units. He said that they are eliminating all the curb cuts, where they technically could have three, into one, which will improve circulation around the building.

MacGuire told the Commission that the site is fairly flat with some wetlands in the rear of the property to the south. He said that the wetland is generated by existing run-off by the two properties, noting the parking lot drains right to the wetland. He mentioned that the land owners have owned the properties for quite some time and have tried to do some improvements over the

He also said that there is an existing culvert that was installed to collect the low point and bring it all the way under Rockingham Road, which is the drainage outfall for the wetland area. He explained that their proposal is to increase the elevation at the site approximately four feet to be able to collect the drainage in a closed drainage system. He added that they would like to do a wet pond at the lowest point of the property, which is adjacent to the wetland. He mentioned that they believe by improving the site, they will better protect the existing wetlands by providing drainage mitigation allowing it to naturalize.

He added that all the proposed pavement is now curbed and collected to drainage catch basins that are directed to the treatment system prior to discharge to the wetland. He noted that they are not proposing any wetland impacts.

Commission member Michael Speltz asked about the plan having pavement in the buffer.

MacGuire told the Commission that they are proposing some parking in the buffer because they are trying to work with what is already on site, as there is existing parking in the buffer right now that is unmitigated. He added that they are proposing to still have pavement in the buffer, but from an erosion standpoint everything is collected and directed to the wet pond.

Commission member Deborah Lievens asked if they would be applying for a Conditional Use Permit, and MacGuire said that they would be.

Speltz explained that the Commission does not have the authority to give them that particular use of pavement in the buffer. MacGuire said that the Commission has the authority for access and vehicular circulation.

Commission member Mike Byerly pointed out that usually the CUP is requested if there is no other access to the property.

MacGuire said that it just states for access and circulation rather than access to the property on the conditional use permit application. He said that his assumption regarding the conditional use permit requirement, is the goal is to limit impervious area that drains directly to wetlands from the buffer.

Lievens said that the buffer loses its significance or purpose by placing pavement there.

MacGuire stated that this is not new construction as this is an existing site that has pavement within five feet of the wetland itself and drains the entire pavement area directly to the wetland. He added that all the drainage on the site has played a role in creating the wetland area.

MacGuire said that overall he feels that the plan is an improvement to the site, even with a buffer impact of approximately 16,000 square feet. He said that currently there is 8,000 square feet of buffer impact on the site.

Byerly asked if the existing building would be renovated. MacGuire said that it would be a new building, pulling it closer to the road and placing the parking in front of the building, which he stated are some criteria of the performance overlay district.

Byerly explained that this is the opportunity to shrink the building and parking spots, so pavement would not be placed in the buffer.

MacGuire said that while it is a valid point he doesn't think it is realistic for the development based on discussions he's had with the owner.

He said that when looking at the functions and values of the adjacent wetlands on site, he didn't know if having a 50-foot buffer is really worth having, as the vast majority is related to the discharge from the parking lot.

Speltz asked what the parking requirements are for what they are proposing. MacGuire said that it would be two spaces per unit which would equal 12.

Lievens said that she thought it was too much to fit on the two properties. Byerly also echoed Lievens' concerns.

MacGuire said that he understood what the Commission was saying and said that he doesn't like to advocate for a project that he doesn't believe is appropriate.

He said that he believes the project is appropriate and noted that he was unsure of what else could be done with the wetland on the property.

He told the Commission that he reviewed a possibility of making the building a one story building and removing the 12 parking spaces, but noted that they still would have impact areas associated with the building and impact areas associated with the buffer.

Lievens asked if there was documentation by the wetland scientist that the wetland was created by outflow. MacGuire said that he didn't have the information with him at the meeting but could get the information to the Commission, saying that he can have the wetland scientist put together a packet for the Board to review.

Speltz asked if the application could be tabled until the next meeting.

GIS Manager Amy

Kizak said that the DRC comments are due by Nov. 5 and they will be back before the Commission for the conditional use permit.

Byerly asked if they need a variance for the project to move forward. MacGuire said that they are going in front of the Zoning Board of Adjustment for the use.

MacGuire said that his client didn't want to lose a month of design review while waiting for the ZBA. He pointed out that residential and commercial are allowed uses, but not combined, which he thinks is a technicality.

He said that he is fine to hold off on comments, as the Commission needs more information.

Kizak said that the Commission could make one of their comments that they request the applicant come back with more information.

The Commission had a number of comments for the plan including recommending not using the Callery pear tree or honey locust tree in their landscaping plan. To keep snow storage out of the buffer. Avoid disturbing the buffer, noting the silt fence should be back from the edge of wetland. Reducing/eliminating the pavement in the buffer. To request the wetland scientist report. To request visuals of the site. Recommend reduce parking requirements (waiver) to eliminate spaces.

Why the British Celebrating Guy Fawkes Day on Nov. 5

DAVID J. ELLIS
SUBMISSION

Last Friday the British celebrated Guy Fawkes Day. As it is a particularly British thing that I thought I might explain.

Nov. 5, 1605, was the date of one of several insurrections that have occurred during British history. That one was planned by a group of Catholics, led by Guido (Guy) Fawkes, who intended to assassinate King James I in order to replace him with a Catholic. They placed barrels of gunpowder in the cellar below the House of Lords, which he was due to visit. The plot was discovered and foiled. The following year Parliament passed the Thanksgiving Act (not our Thanksgiving) that allowed the Kings survival to be celebrated with bonfires on Nov. 5th. The celebration was 'exported' to the Colonies but ceased in the USA at the time of the Revolutionary War.

It is generally marked in present times by setting off fireworks, lighting large bonfires and in many cases by holding a procession through the town or village. When I was a child most children would build a scarecrow like figure from old clothes stuffed with straw and push it door to door in a wheelbarrow asking "penny for the Guy". The money collected was spent on fireworks – small "bangers" cost one penny each in those days. On the 5th, the several different "Guys" were hoisted onto the village bonfire and the effigies were burnt.

One of the best events was at Ottery St. Mary. As teenagers, I and my friends would often go to that one as it was only ten miles away. Burning tar barrels were raced through the main street. It started in late afternoon when the younger children carried smaller burning barrels (pins or firkins) and culminated with the really large ones carried by the men late in the evening. A short YouTube video may be seen at www.youtube.com/watch?v=bLS3FwkSYUo. View the video and you will understand why our Police and Fire Departments might not permit it in Londonderry. original motive was modified to accommodate a local event. Lewes, where I attended University, commemorates seventeen Protestant martyrs who were burnt at the stake in 1555. That parade included burning crosses and chants of "No Popery". A short YouTube video may be seen at www.youtube.com/watch?v=YFW2lIT-ndrQ.

Settlement

Malaguti said that while he knows that a 16 percent increase is a "bitter pill to swallow," he thinks that it would be in their best interest to accept the settlement.

Town Councilor Deb Paul said that while she thinks they should accept the offer based on the information presented to them she hopes that they take more steps forward to leverage themselves with the company and keep an eye on what they are doing.

Town Councilor Tom

Dolan said that he didn't understand how the increase was justifiable.

"I still can't come to grips with it being justified," he said.

Town Council Chairman John Farrell said that while it's tough to take the settlement offer he said that they would have to spend thousands of dollars on attorney fees and will likely be unsuccessful if they go to trial based on the advice they have received.

He also said that they need to speak with the leadership for the company.

"We need to have another conversation with their leadership team," Farrell said.

They are going to invite the company's leadership to a future Council meeting.

The Town Council begrudgingly voted in favor of the settlement.

In the Spirit

Every year around this time, we begin to get letters with requests for donations for warm clothes, winter accessories, food, gift cards, and new toys to help people who are less fortunate get through the holidays and colder months.

This year may prove to be even more challenging, with the list of those in need becoming more extensive. With the economy as it is and no end in sight, the lack of items and the increase in cost of just about everything along with the high prices of at the pump, electric, water, gas, oil and taxes changing.

We all hear the "Bells" this time of year, whether it's a request for a monetary donation, a food item, a gift in answer to a request of an ornament on a Giving Tree, or a concert admission benefiting a certain cause, fund drives are seen everywhere as the holidays approach. Even schoolchildren get lessons in helping others as they collect change or canned food for their less fortunate friends.

There are many different groups out there that will focus on nationwide issues related to the children in all kinds of situations; veterans and their needs, the elderly, while others I will who call angels' zoom in on those in their own hometown. The angels who focus in on community where very dime and items collected go to people in our town - state.

We are lucky to live in towns with angels that appear to helping in every facet whether they are donations or working at a fundraiser.

The economy sure is changeling, but so is the pandemic. We always seem to find a way to help each other through difficult times. Like the song states "Whatever doesn't kill you makes you stronger" words to live by.

For those of us fortunate enough to have jobs or a retirement income that allows us to pay our bills and give our family some extras, we invite you to consider the requests for help that highlight the coming holiday season.

Anything can help; some extra food, a pair of gloves and scarves, or a toy for a child who might not get one. These are all small sacrifices to make in light of the help and happiness they will bring.

And that's truly part of the spirit of the holiday season. It is truly a gift, having the means to give.

Questions

To the editor,

Finally, Paul Minnillo has written something that is true, verifiable (Eureka). I had written several letters. Also true, many have been towards refuting your, well largely rants as a Biden hater (someone with BDS). You may ask all the questions you like, after all, you are my pet project.

To answer, yes extremely proud. Never in recent memory has a President had to handle so many DISASTERS all at the same time. Unlike being handed an economy which was roaring! These include:

A hostile previous Regime. An Afghanistan Disaster, known as the Doha Agreement, signed by the Last Criminal Orange Traitor. A raging Pandemic, A stalled economy, raging unemployment, No Vaccination Plan. A slow-moving Coup, based on the BIG LIE. A hostile GOP party, AKA the just say No Crowd. Repairing the Distrust of our Allies. A looming financial disaster after the previous Regime running up of a Historical 11 trillion in additional Debt / Deficit.

Only A cult following Puppet like Paul Minnillo could believe we were Energy Independent one day and Energy Dependent the next day. As if a pipeline only 8% complete was the cause? Most learned people understand, what we are seeing are the aftereffects of a Global Pandemic. I am not sure what they program you with on Right wing propaganda Media these days. However, the pandemic is still raging around the Globe, so buckle up.

And Please... on the: Value of American Lives. I know that you people have "No Number". Whether it is School Massacres or People dying of Covid, it does not phase people like you.

I understand there is an endless stream of Brainwashing, Propaganda and Hate from Right wing Media these days. From their lips to your ears, it would seem. Another Example: The $450,000 payments in the other post last week. Best answer would be what President Biden told Faux's Puppet reporter: Where do you people come up with that garbage? What was meant is this is another DISASTER which Biden needs to handle. There is a lawsuit from the Parents of the Children Separated during the last Criminal Regime. From Tactics similar to what Nazi's did at the death Camps. Biden is open to a settlement vs. Hundreds of individual lawsuits.

So, whether it is the Horrible Betrayal Deal Orange Rump Stain did with the Taliban, or you are angry or upset about the settlement with parents of separated children; If you voted for or supported the Lying, Criminal, Traitorous, Deranged, Lunatic, Un Patriotic, Un American, Unconstitutional, Lawless, Authoritarian Driven Orange Clown. Take a look in a Mirror, the person staring back at you, is the one to blame!

For those not in the Paul Minnillo Cult:

Unemployment now at 4.6%! Economy added 531,000 in October! (More than any single month under the Orange Clown). New Unemployment Claims at 269,000 (pre-pandemic lows). Other good news: ~ 60% Fully Covid vaccinated and ~ 70% one dose. Nice job President Biden!

Remembering Veterans

To the editor,

On this Veterans Day, November 11, 2021, we extend our appreciation and thoughts to our active duty military personnel, and we pay tribute to the many millions of veterans who have served our country over the past 246 years. We also wish to memorialize the passing this year of our brother-in-law, Commander Barry Rowe; and acknowledge the other veterans of the Jones and Moskowitz families who served during major wars from the Civil War to the War On Terror.

During the Civil War 1st Sargent John B. Jones (Elizabeth's grandfather) and Corporal William E. Jones (Elizabeth's great uncle) were in the 5th New York Cavalry Regiment from upstate New York within the period 1861 to 1865. They fought in many battles, including the Orange Court House, Brandy Station, The Wilderness, Spotsylvania Court House, Cold Harbor and Gettysburg.

Local GREEN Team Continues its Environmental Efforts

CHRIS PAUL
SUBMISSION

It has been over a year since the Londonderry GREEN Team formed and the group has pretty busy over that amount of time.

It started with a holiday basket sale in December of last year, raising money to help but seeds for the Community Butterfly Garden the hoped to plant.

At the time, Andy Mack senior had given his permission to the group to plant their garden adjacent to the Kent Allen Forest, across from the Historical Society Museum on Pillsbury Road.

The group also held a community plastic bag collection which would allow the group to get a free TREX(r) bench for the butterfly garden.

After the sale of Moose Hill Orchards, the new owner suggested moving the location to in front of the Moose Hill Kindergarden in an area used for pumpkins. The bench project went so well that the group will be able to get two benches that we will be placing in the garden in the spring.

In May, the GREEN Team we had its first plant sale, at the Loins Hall Pavillion, This was another effort to raise money for the Pollinator Garden. The two fundraisers raised enough money to buy the seeds for a meadow that was planted and turned out to be very abundant this year. This wild flower meadow is the start of our pollinator garden.

The group is now accepting reservations for its next fundraiser, a "Swag Night" at the Londonderry Lions Hall, where they are currently conducting meeting. The event will take place on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 5 from 3:30 to 6 p.m.

At the Swag Night event families are asked to donate $20 per family and the team will supply all the cuttings and materials for holiday swags. They will also provide instructions on how to make a swag for residents front door this holiday season if needed. The group will be there to help you put together arrangements with local cuttings.

The Green Team holds monthly meetings upstairs at the Lions Hall at 6:30 p.m. on the third Thursday of every month, anyone interested is welcome to attend.

The Green Team of Londonderry has a mission of promoting personal and environmental well-being through education, advocacy and experiences involving the natural world and the arts.

They are a group of residents who want to promote gardening awareness in the community and to build relationships between families, friends and neighbors. Along with promoting education, conserving our natural resources so, we may become better caretakers of our air, water, forests, land, wildlife and there habitats for the benefit of future generations.

The Green Team hopes to: Stimulate the knowledge and love of gardening; Promote, encourage, foster and cultivate interest in gardening and art; Encourage civic beautification; Assist in projects for the conservation of natural resources; Cooperate with other groups in furthering the interests of conservation, arts, horticulture and environ-

There's Something Happening Here

To the editor,
I want to call your attention to the impact of the current proposed redistricting of our Congressional Districts. As many of you are already aware, our Congressional District is one of the most heavily contested in the country. Frequently changing from one party to the other. The current proposed plan would essentially make our district an almost automatic republican district while the other would be an almost automatic democratic one.

This isn't good for New Hampshire. It is a national plague. We have too many seats in the Congress that are more responsive to their political party than to the voters. We see the gridlock in Congress every day. I, for one, want my representative to care what I want and think. I want them to have to work for my vote. Please write or call the governor and our local state representatives and tell them we don't want politicized districts.

Thank you to the Londonderry PD

To the editor,

Last weekend, I inadvertently left my cell phone on top of my car, at night, and it fell off in the road along 102 between Dunkins near Crossroads Plaza and Dominoes when did a find my iPhone.

I called the LPD and they sent officer Rafael Ribeiro to meet me at the Dominoes parking lot. I showed him my cell phone location from my daughter's phone and he walked the road-side and found it for me.

I then notice my debit card must have fallen out in that same location and so he went back out again and found it for me.

I am so grateful for his support, a special thanks to him for his service and kindness.

Too often I read negative news about police officers and it would be nice to have something positive.

And again big Thank You to officer Rafael Riberio for all his help

November Has Become National Family Caregivers Month

MELISSA BETH RUIZ
LONDONDERRY TIMES

As the community continues on into November, even throughout nearly two years of troubles, each and every person is bound to find at least a handful of things to give thanks for.

Family can usually be found fairly high on the list of things people are thankful for. For those with an illness or disability with family members who care for them, it could be said that they might be twice as thankful.

Family caregivers perform a multitude of tasks on a daily basis to care for their loved ones, often working well into the night and even being on call as they sleep. And yet, despite their selflessness, family caregivers often go without the recognition they deserve.

The month of November is National Family Caregivers Month (NFCM), an observance spearheaded by the Caregiver Action Network (CAN). NFCM is a time for raising awareness of caregiving issues, educating communities, and increasing support for family caregivers.

CAN works to support caregivers by providing them with practical help and information, helping to reduce both day-to-day and financial stress, advancing caregiver recognition and appreciation, and building caregiver confidence through education.

According to CAN, there are more than 90 million Americans who care for loved ones with chronic conditions, disabilities, diseases, or who provide elder care. All of these selfless individuals work around the clock to ensure that their loved ones are in the best health possible, often pouring all they have into the ones they care for.

This year's NFCM campaign theme is called #CaregiverAnd, the idea behind which is to encourage family caregivers to celebrate the passions and interests that enrich their lives outside of caregiving.

"Far too often your role as a family caregiver overshadows your identity and emphasizes the care you provide for your loved one," says CAN's web page further explaining 2021's theme.

Though many of them would likely report feelings of accomplishment and relief from providing their loved ones with care, many caregivers have found giving care during the pandemic to have a significant impact on their physical and mental health.

In "Family Caregiving During the COVID-19 Pandemic," an article published by The Gerontologist in April 2021, data showed that the challenges of caregiving have been exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic. The article concluded that family caregivers should receive increased support as the pandemic continues.

Burnout is a great risk as a family caregiver, which is why spending time in a hobby or interest is a crucial part in being the best caregiver one can be.

The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) states that over time, caregivers can risk undergoing wear and tear causing them to feel exhausted, listless and unable to cope. In fact, burnout can get so serious, AARP says, that it could cause caregivers to make mistakes that could possibly endanger a loved one, such as mis-managing medication.

Furthermore, burnout can cause caregivers to try to manage stress in unhealthy ways, including turning to smoking or abusing alcohol.

Caring for loved ones is an important role, but those who care for others need to care for themselves. As the saying goes, no one can pour from an empty cup.

This November, families with family caregivers should take time to express gratitude for their loved ones do for their other loved ones. Families might even like to find out how they might help them to make sure they take time for themselves for their mental and physical health.

For more information on the Caregiver Action Network, and for more caregiving resources including help for specific types of caregivers, visit caregiveraction.org.

All funds raised through the raffle will be directed back into our community to support charities, those in need, scholarships and more. food insecurity in our town could get assistance.

• St. Gianna's Place. Donated to support this organization which provides housing, counseling, and training to young mothers in distress

• Step-Up Parents. Rotary supports this organization which in turn supports families that need family members and friends to 'step up' when parents of children cannot support their families.

• Londonderry Baby Bibs. Working with Town Clerk, Sherry Farrell, Londonderry provided funding so each new baby born in Londonderry gets a Londonderry bib.

• Scholarship. Again this year Rotary awarded a $12,000+ scholarship to a deserving LHS graduating senior. Rotary has provided over $125,000 in scholarships to LHS graduates over the past ten (10) years.

Lancer Football Squad Defeats Astros in Quarterfinal

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Football team is headed to the NHIAA Division I Semifinals after a convincing win over their cross-town rivals Pinkerton Academy on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 6.

The Lancers scored in each of the four quarters that afternoon and finished with a 25-13 victory.

The LHS squad will now be faced with defeating the only team they lost to this season. The Salem High School Blue Devils won their quarterfinal match-up with Bishop Guertin by scoring a staggering 61-points, at home, Saturday night.

The Lancers won the game despite being called for 13 penalties resulting in a total loss of 90-yards.

Londonderry kept the Astros scoreless in the first quarter, forcing a three-and-out in the first PA drive to start the game. Pinkerton's punt put Londonderry at the midfield point to start their day.

Londonderry's second play of the game was a 33-yard touchdown run by junior Andrew Kullman, but the play was called back for a holding penalty. Two more penalties followed in the opening drive and despite the infractions the Lancers marched down to the nine-yard line, where junior quarterback Drew Heenan ran in for the touchdown. Junior LHS kicker Dylan Wrisley missed on the extra point and the Lancers led 6-0.

Another PA drive was stopped quickly by the Londonderry defense, despite a long kick return by Pinkerton's Jacob Albert.

The Astros fourth down attempt was foiled by a Hayden Austen tackle in the backfield for a loss, giving LHS the ball at their own 33-yard-line.

After another holding penalty interrupted their second drive of the game, Heenan and Kullman combined for a huge passing play.

With 1:22 left in the opening quarter, Heenan completed a 61-yard unobstructed over-the-shoulder catch down the middle of the field to Kullman for the second touchdown of the game. The point after attempt by Wrisley was good for the 13-0 lead.

Pinkerton had a good drive to end the first quarter and to begin the second to cut their deficit to six-points. PA quarterback Nathan Campos completed a 13-yard pass to Logan Gokey and Picasso Bates kicked the extra point to put the game at 13-7.

Pinkerton was able to keep LHS out of the end zone in the following drive, in part by more penalties against the Londonderry offense and also with a foiled fourth down pass attempt in the endzone.

The Londonderry defense kept PA to minimal yardage in their next drive and got the ball back at their own 35-yard line with about three-minutes in the half.

Sophomore Jake Schena started that drive with a 65-yard touchdown run that was called back for a block in the back penalty.

Another pass completion from Heenan to Kullman, this time on third down and ten resulted in a 65-yard touchdown at 1:15 in the second. The score came from a screen pass at the Lancer 35-yard line with Kullman getting about 55-yards after the catch. Wrisley capped off the

Lancer Cheerleaders Take Fifth Place at State Championship

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Varsity Cheerleading squad competed in the New Hampshire Interscholastic Athletic Association's Division I State Championship over the weekend and finished in the number five spot out of 16 high school teams.

The Pinkerton Academy Astros Spirit squad regained their status of Division I Champions, taking first after having to sit out last year's competition.

The NHIAA Division I Fall Spirit State Championship Tournament was hosted by Pinkerton Academy on Sunday morning, Nov. 7, and the Astros edged out last year's championship team, Dover High School, by just 1.7 points.

The PA girls finished the championship with 105.1 points. Dover finished second with 103.4 and Concord was third in the division with 101.3.

The Londonderry Lancers squad had 94.7 points for fifth and the Salem High School team finished with 95.6 points in fourth place.

Fans from all over the granite state filled the stands of the Hackler Gymnasium with a room full of energy and excitement cheering on each three-minute routine that was performed.

In the last 11 years, the Pinkerton squad has won nine fall titles, Londonderry beat them back in 2017 and PA didn't compete last year due to COVID-19. Members of the LHS team are: Seniors, Brooke Bodkin, Ava Campbell and Madison Oulette; juniors Sarah Abladian, Makenzie Bodkin, Madison Gehris, Isabell Roy and Kennedy Brown; sophomores Isabella Chick, Brenna Langley, Angelina Mochrie, Emily Oullette, Haley Sibley, Kathleen Grassis and Madison Wholley; and freshman Eva Sesin. The team's head coach Chelsea Dennis was assisted this year by Nicole Otis and Stefanie Medrek.

yard field goal by Wisly giving LHS a 23-7 lead in the third.

The Astros got the score to within 10-points to end the third quarter with a 52-yard touchdown run for Jacob Albert.

Londonderry's only other points came from their defense, foiling a Jacob Albert pass attempt out of the end-zone with a Michael Sampson tackle.

Londonderry had 361-yards of total offense in the game and PA was held to just 230, 189 of the those yards came through the air for Londonderry.

Kullman had 126 receiving yards in two catches to lead the team and Salcito had one catch for 52-yards.

Heenan kept the ball 17 times and got 74-yards on the ground, Matthew Perron added 35-yards in five attempts and Trevor Weinmann

With the win, Londonderry will host the semifinals against Salem on Saturday afternoon starting at 1 p.m.

Local Athletes Jump in the 2021 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade

When the annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade steps off on Nov. 25 in New York City, over 100 jump rope athletes from across the country will participate in the pageantry of the Parade. Featured in the Parade will be jumpers representing 25 teams throughout the nation.

Included among the jumpers will be local athletes from Extreme Air of New Hampshire Katelyn O'Neill of Londonderry, Eilis McKenna of New Market, Malia Everett of Exeter, and Margaux Freer of Portsmouth.

This will be a return to the traditional Parade throughout Manhattan, after last year's virtual parade that kept the Parade record intact during the pandemic.

Organized by the Heartbeats Jump Rope Team in Cleveland, Ohio, the group will appear under the acronym J.U.M.P. (Jumpers United for Macy's Parade). Jump Rope is a competition sport that has been featured on television on NBC's "America's Got Talent," ESPN Sports, Fox Sports, and other programs.

This will be the fifth time for this group to appear in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. It will be the first time for athletes on the Extreme Air.

Jumpers will be performing many tricks and skills in unison as they jump their way along the parade route to the delight of visitors and New Yorkers who will line the streets 20 deep and fill windows and balconies along the streets overhead.

Starting from Central Park, the athletes will be jumping the entire 2.8 mile course that winds through New York City in front of a huge spectator crowd and millions of viewers of the NBC live telecast of the Parade. To jump the entire distance, the athletes have to be in peak physical condition. Months of practice will culminate with the cadenced steps that will be seen across the country live from New York City. What an adrenaline rush!

After arriving at the fabled Herald Square in front of the Macy's Flagship Store, the group will be featured in a live one-minute segment broadcast on NBC national television with an estimated 50 million viewers. This choreographed TV routine, built around the 112 athletes performing a complex inter-connected double-Dutch matrix, flanked on both sides by a single-rope routine, will include national and world jump rope champions.

Granite State athletes Katelyn O'Neill, 15, of Londonderry, Margaux Freer, 15, of Portsmouth, Eilis McKenna, 15, of New Market, and Malia Everett, 17, of Exeter will be jumping/performing in the Macy's Parade along side more than 100 talented jump rope athletes. Courtesy photo

Athletes were invited from jump rope teams across the country to join the ensemble, each paying their own way to New York City and training in Ohio. Included in the group will be many athletes who have earned recognition as national and international champions. All of the athletes have been practicing for months in their local community with their team to learn the routines, and prepare and build their endurance for the Parade.

Members of JUMP are male and female, ranging from 12 to 26 years old. Jump Rope routines feature gymnastics and dance moves, all done while jumping a rope. Athletes build great foot skills, tremendous upper body strength, powerful endurance and superior coordination.

St. Thomas Toy Sale

The St. Thomas Used Toy Sale held at St. Thomas Church in Derry has begun gathering gently used toy donations within the community. This year's sale will be Dec. 4 in the gym of the Aquinas Center behind St. Thomas Church on Crystal Avenue in Derry. There will be thousands of items to choose from. The doors open at 9 a.m., some parents line up to get great deals while others come simply to be able to provide gifts for their kids on a low income. The sale concludes by noon with plenty of toys leftover. This year those left behind toys will be donated to the Manchester Housing Authority to be given to families in need. Incredibly, the benefits of the toy sale continue on. The money raised by the sale goes directly to two nonprofit charities: St. Thomas Church Outreach ministries, including the food pantry and St. Gian-na's Place- a home for pregnant women in crisis. Toys can be donated through Dec. 3. Drop-off locations are St. Thomas Church, 27 Crystal Ave, Derry, St. Matthew Church Windham, St. Anne Church Hampstead, and 5 Isabella Drive in Londonderry. Toy sale is cash only.

Classified Advertising

READERS ARE CAUTIONED that we occasionally run ads that require an initial investment or money in advance. We urge our readers to "do their homework" before responding to any ad, check out the advertiser thoroughly and verify their claims to your total satisfaction. Only then should you proceed at your own risk. We try to screen ads that require you to send money before receiving a product or service. But these efforts are no substitute for your own investigation, and we don't endorse or guarantee any claims made in any of the ads we publish. If you want more information about claims made in ads on subjects such as work at home opportunities, travel or vacation specials, purchasing land or vehicles from government surplus or below wholesale, loans or other credit opportunities (including credit repair), or weight loss and other health products and services, we urge you to contact the Office of Attorney General, Consumer Protection Bureau, 33 Capitol Street, Concord, NH 03301 (603-271-3641) or the Better Business Bureau at 603-224-1991. Publisher is not responsible for any loss of business if an ad does not run, and we reserve the right to revoke any ad if deemed necessary. No refunds will be given for prepaid ads.
