Public Works Department Present Budget Proposal

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Director of Engineering, John Trotter, along with Public Works Director, Dave Wholley, presented the different public works budgets to the Town Council and Budget Committee on Nov. 12. For Waste Collection Services the proposal was for a total of $1,816,402, which is an increase of $206,109 compared to this year, which was $1,610,293. Trotter said one of the biggest reasons for that difference is because of a six percent increase for their contract with Waste Management. They are also

Town Proposes Four Percent Increase for 2024 Budget

Londonderry Town Manager, Mike Malaguti, along with Finance Director, Justin Campo, gave the Town Council and Budget Committee an overview of the proposed FY 2024 budget on Nov. 5.

"This is the beginning of a long process," said Malaguti.

After the budget process is completed, including public hearings, the voters will ultimately have a chance to vote on either the proposed budget or the Town Manager's proposed budget.

The proposed budget from Malaguti is $37,701,165, which is up 4.04% compared to the FY 23 budget, which was approved by the taxpayers at $36,233,393.

It was pointed out by Malaguti that the Municipal Cost Index is up 9.14% compared to FY 23 and the CPI is up 8.1%.

Malaguti said they began meeting with department heads in September to see what their proposals are and their reasonings for it.

He said ultimately they rejected things that they felt weren't needed. In total, $422,990 of the department requests were rejected as part of the Town Manager's proposed budget.

One of the major increases that Malaguti pointed to was an increase for Waste Management's contract for a total of $212,071.

"This is our single largest contract," said Malaguti.

He also pointed to a 14 percent increase for health insurance, which will cost $785,561. Malaguti explained that

Taxpayers Will See a 10¢ Increase on Their Tax Bill

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Town Council had a brief discussion on whether or not to lower the tax rate on Monday night and at the end that talk, a tie vote left the rate unchanged.

This was a continued discussion from the previous meeting, where the council was informed the current rate will be up 10 cents over last year's rate of $18.38 per thousand.

The $18.48 rate means that with a $500,000 home, Londonderry residents will pay $9,240 in yearly taxes.

The conversation focused on taking money from the Undesignated Fund Balance (UFB) to help offset the increase to residents.

Earlier in the meeting, a number of resident came forward, during public comment, on both sides of the issue.

One of those commenting was School Board member, Bob Slater, who felt he needed to defend the school district after a number of comments were made about their budget at the last meeting.

Slater said, "Over the last three years, we've given over $1.9 million back to the taxpayers." He added that in 2021-22 there was $1.3 million return due to COVID-19. He also noted that those were through ESSER Funds (Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief).

The school budget will not close until Nov. 22 and he encouraged anyone with questions to attend the meeting and ask questions. "The

Planning Board Hears Plan on 264 Woodmont Apartments

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Planning Board had a conceptual and non-binding review for a proposed site plan at Governor Bell Drive and Michels Way, which is known as the Woodmont Commons during their Nov. 9 meeting.

The proposal is to build a 264 apartment unit community consisting of 11 three-story residential buildings and associated amenities.

Mark Seck, Vice President of Development from Wood Partners East Acquisitions, LLC, explained that he works for Wood Partners that is based in Atlanta and has a New England office based in Lexington, Massachusetts.

Seck explained that aside from just being a developer they are also the general contractor, and property manager, of their projects in New England, which he says is important. Since opening in New England Seck said they have built over 3,000 units.

He told the Board that the proposal is to build 11 buildings with 24 units per building, which is allowed in the Woodmont PUD.

The proposal would be to have 264 different units with a variety of one, two, and three bedroom units.

Seck told the Board they would have enough parking for the proposed project and that most of the utilities have been installed. He noted they received a letter from the sewer department saying they have enough capacity for the project.

He told the Planning Board that within their group they have traffic engineers who are knowledgeable about traffic at Woodmont and they hope to have a proposal to the Planning Department soon.

Planning Board Ex-Officio, Bruce Hallowell, stated he liked the idea of having apartments there, saying it's a type of housing missing in town.

"I like the idea of the apartments and that type of living," said Hallowell.

He said, however, he thinks the look should be more of "old school New England" style and he hopes they won't look like any other apartment building.

"Make it a statement of an apartment building," said Hallowell.

One thing discussed during the meeting was in regards to the number of units allowed per building.

It was explained by Seck that in the PUD they only allow three stories and 24 units per building.

"We're limited to 24 per building," said Seck.

Planning Board member, Ted Combes, said there is a need for more units in the area and asked if they would be allowed to give a variance to have more units there.

"Are we able to get a variance for these 24 units," said Combes. Wondering if the number of units per building could be increased.

Planning Board Chairman, Arthur Rugg, said they would have to have a board discussion about it in order to determine if the master plan could be amended.

One concern that was brought up by Planning Board member, Jake Butler, was in regards to seeing the parking lot from the road, and asked if they could have a fence as a buffer.

Ex-Officio, Deb Paul, said she thinks the fence should go from Michels

Way to the corner, saying it's supposed to be walkable and allows people walking up and down the street more of a buffer.

Paul said she also agreed about the look of the proposal.

"With the look it really lacks character. Everything is just the same," said Paul.

Paul said she hopes they will add more character to the plan in the final proposal.

It was also asked how many apartments were supposed to be in Woodmont originally and if the plan would bring it to the maximum amount.

Town Planner, Kellie Walsh, said she didn't have the number available, but it wouldn't max it out.

"This does not max it out," said Walsh.

Vista Ridge Project Inches Through Permitting Process

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Conservation Commission came together for its Nov. 8 meeting to discuss a wetland permit on a residential townhome project on Vista Ridge Drive.

Jason Lopez of Keach-Nordstrom Associates was at the meeting for a follow-up presentation. The company first requested its permit last month. The Commission has since done an on-site walk-through to assess the possible impact of a new townhouse.

"We did have one item to address, and that was the concern earlier on top of the hill by the water tower where there's a large natural draw that pulls runoff into the wetland," Lopez said.

Plans have since been modified on the project to redirect the flow of water into a containment pool to protect the wetlands. Commission Chair, Marge Badois, was at the site walk and approved the revised plan.

"We had no trouble with what we saw," confirmed Badois.

The only problem was the discovery of a wetland dam in the area, which could complicate some of the permitting processes at the state level. It was not clear how this will impact the project.

Lopez also hinted that the original plan to build and rent apartments could change to selling condos. He promised to return to a later meeting with more information.

The Commission announced its budget proposal for 2023-2024 with few changes expected.

"It's essentially the same budget we already have," said Badois when speaking about the new budget. "It's the same $3,500 we normally have. I'm going to start working on the annual town report, and will maybe start asking for input."

The Conservation Commission is limited in how much it can spend each year.

Musquash Conservation Area has been the focus of park maintenance in recent months. Commission members want to refurbish the park entrance. Asking the local Boy Scout Troop to complete a sign or trail project was one discussed possibility, though the discussion soon moved to a more proactive solution. "Signs and kiosks might need some love, should we establish a maintenance schedule?" asked Badois.

Commission members will contact the NH Fish and Game Department to find state resources, especially for sign replacement.

"I'm willing to get trees out of the way, but rebuilding that sign is a little above what I want to deal with," said Vice Chair, Eugene Harrington.

Some work has already been completed with the restoration of a small Musquash trail while purchasing new park maps.

The Conservation Commission readied an annual report for groundwater monitoring. There was confusion over how many properties the Commission is supposed to monitor. Badois expected to oversee around 10 properties, while others are expected to cover at least 30 town properties. Members asked for clarification. Their report is due by the end of the year.

The commission is scheduled to hold its next meeting Tuesday, Nov. 22, in the Moose Hill Council Chambers at 7:30 p.m.

OBITUARY

John M. Machado

John M. Machado, 77, of Londonderry, NH passed away Saturday, Nov. 12, 2022 at the Elliot Hospital in Manchester, NH after a period of declining health. John was born March 27, 1945 in New Bedford, MA, a son of the late Manuel and Mary (Carvalho) Machado. John served his country in the US Army Reserves during the Vietnam War. He spent most of his working career in the printed circuit board industry, spanning nearly 25 years in management at Hadco/Sanmina Corp. in Derry, NH. He later worked for Tecomet until his retirement in September of 2021.

Members of the family include his daughter Stefanie Ann (Machado) Smith and her husband Robert Smith of Londonderry; one grandson, Taylor John Smith of Londonderry; two step-grandchildren, Jeffrey Pepe of Hudson, NH, and Jordyn (Smith) Curcio of N. Andover, MA; his sister, Lorraine (Machado) Austin of Eureka, SD; as well as several nieces, nephews, and cousins. He was predeceased by his beloved wife of 37 years, Veronica (Young) Machado in 2006, and his sister, June (Machado) Amaral.

Calling hours will be held on Friday, Nov. 18 from 4:30 - 7:30 p.m., in the Peabody Funeral Homes and Crematorium, 290 Mammoth Rd., Londonderry. A funeral service will be held on Saturday at 10 a.m., in the funeral home. The burial will follow in the Holy Cross Cemetery, Gilcreast Rd., Londonderry. Memorial contributions may be made to the Wounded Warrior Project, PO Box 758516, Topeka, KS 66675-8516. To send a condolence, please visit www.peabodyfuneralhome.com.

during the pandemic there was less utilization, which is why they have a large increase this year.

Malaguti also pointed to two major reductions from the default budget, including a decrease of the local share for the NH Retirement System of $208,925, and a reduction of $68,131 from debt service.

Malaguti pointed to some positives in the proposed budget, which includes revenue coming from the sale of 35 Gillcrest Property, receiving $106,095 from opioid settlements, and an increase for the local share of the rooms and meals tax for a total of $343,000. In total Malaguti said they get about $2.3 million in revenue from the rooms and meals tax.

In addition to the budget, Malaguti also pointed to other warrant articles they will likely have on the ballot this year including the police union contract, a proposal for a new library position, along with DPW vehicles.

Malaguti said in order to offset the budget increases, they "tightened their pencils" for some of the other warrant articles that they would normally use some of their fund balance on.

The next budget workshop is expected to take place during the Nov. 21 Town Council meeting. The Deliberative session is scheduled to take place on Feb. 11 at 9 a.m. and the annual Town Meeting is slated to take place on March 14.

Charting the Right Course in Government with Ethics

When talking about ethics, one must understand the moral principles that govern a person's behavior. Determining what is good and bad; values and principles that move an individual or a group, based simply on what they see as right and wrong.

There are some basic ethical principles that the public, rightfully, expects its elected officials to conduct themselves with; honesty, fairness, leadership, integrity, compassion, respect, responsibility, loyalty, and transparency. Government should be working for the common good by representing democracy, and should demand these standards to function effectively.

Trust is the key word to describe the relationship between elected or appointed officials and their constituents. An elected official gains the privilege to serve only by earning the trust of the majority of the public. Each official must be careful not to compromise that trust in any way once they have been inducted into office.

The topic of open meetings and open records is one of great importance to the public's perception of how the government operates, also known as freedom of speech. A government that functions in secrecy by meeting behind closed doors restricts public access to full information about its operations. Such actions alienate and discourage those citizens who wish to participate in the process.

Therefore, it is the duty of these people to openly communicate between citizens and their government.

However, provisions should be allowed for reasonable constraints where necessary for efficient operation of government. The occupation of public office requires the public's trust, a two way street. A fair balance of communication must be struck between protecting the integrity of government while maintaining transparency with the public.

Citizens have responsibilities as well, they must stay informed and be vigilant, after all "we the people" are the protectors of our local government.

The duties of town officials may seem complex at first glance, but in reality they boil down to a single idea, being a fair representation of the public interest. The goal is to ensure that the public is fairly represented by those they elected to do so.

These positions are both an honor and a burden. A careful balance must be struck to encourage competent individuals to serve in public office. The problem of finding qualified citizens to hold office is exacerbated by many constraints: The simplest being those of time, work, family life, health, wellbeing, and happiness. The most complex may be experience or the possibility of conflict of interest.

Ethics can allow for the optimal conflict-free action in the town while protecting the people from potential misuse of government.

Additionally, voters should be allowed to raise their concerns and participate in town process at every level. It is here where the voice and influence of the individual citizen is strongest. Preserving and encouraging local self-governance and accountability is critical to securing public participation in government and safeguarding our democratic institutions.

Thank You to Poll Workers

To the editor,
As senior citizens and slightly handicapped, my husband and I would like to extend our thanks and appreciation to ALL the people who were involved in the voting on Nov. 8, in Londonderry at the High School. They all made it a pleasant and effortless experience. Thank you all!

vote had really wanted. When the participation is at 60% or higher, then the candidate who wins is far more likely to be truly representative of the majority and the opinion of the community. That makes it much easier to accept when you disagree. Sometimes it may encourage us to re-examine some of our views.

Thank You Londonderry!

To the editor,
With deep appreciation and respect, I thank all the Londonderry voters for your support and the trust given to me to represent our town for a fifth term as your state representative. The voters have given this town a solid team at Concord to work the real issues facing all our citizens: quality-of-life robbing inflation, addressing education issues, keeping taxes low, and mitigating the high cost of food, heat, electricity, gas, clothes, and other everyday items.

The Election

To the editor,
This election is over. Now my phone will stop ringing with pollsters and begging for a couple of weeks, until the 2024 hopefuls start up!

That aside I am very grateful for EVERYONE that voted (both of the parties and the independents) so that we had a large participation.

When I immigrated, I was always a little disappointed by the low turnout compared to the country that I came from. As we approached voting age, my father had always insisted that I and my brothers considered it a civic duty to vote. He told us that even if the person we wanted did not win, it was a lot easier to accept the person who did if that person had been elected by a majority of the ELIGIBLE voters. What he meant was that if only 30% voted then all you knew was that the person who won with half of the vote was merely the preference of 15% of the population. No-one could know what the 70% who did not and education freedom accounts, policies that clean up and make our drinking water safer, a balance of renewable and baseload fuels to reduce the risk of disruption, a fair approach for all vehicles that pays for the upkeep of roads and bridges and most importantly, a state budget that stays within our means while producing a healthy rainy-day fund for emergency events.

It will be a challenging year given the NH House makeup, but I am ready for when the House and committees meet in January to do the people's business.

Again, thank you to all who voted for me and allowed my signs on your property. If I missed picking up any, please let me know.

Please refer to my website doughthomasnhrep.com for pertinent information on bills and my committee information. As always, comments are welcome there and at my email: doug.thomasnh@gmail.com.

Veterans Breakfast Draws Large Crowd at High School Cafe

Staff and students of the Londonderry High School rekindled the annual Veterans Day Breakfast on Saturday and welcomed local veterans for a breakfast buffet, music, gifts, and thanks for their service. The event was organized by LHS Assistant Principal Katie Sullivan and featured music by students and the LHS Symphonic Band. World War II veteran John "Bud" Powers, top left, was recognized as the oldest member of the community at 104-years old. Powers was a member of the U.S. Army's 77th Infantry. Band member, Joey Cain sang a salute to each of the armed forces accompanied by the band. Other performances included Logan Bower "Amazing Grace" Kelsey Sweet "The Sound of Silence" and Frank Thomas with Rae Pizza. Raffle prizes and centerpieces were also given out to a number of veterans.

Police Department Make Case For Personnel in Budget

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

As part of the proposed FY 23 Town budget, Londonderry Town Manager, Mike Malaguti, and the Administration is proposing to freeze the hiring for four positions within the police department they usually aren't able to fill in order to fund other expenses.

Malaguti explained during the Nov. 5 meeting he doesn't know of any time in the last 10 years when they were able to fill the four positions in question.

However, Police Chief, Kim Bernard, feels the positions should be kept in the budget.

"I am advocating for the men and women of the police department," said Bernard.

It was explained by Bernard that the department is budgeted for 67 positions. Out of those, 12 are obligated to be for the airport through their partnership, four are detectives, three are for services like training, four are school resource officers, and 10 are for their command staff. He said they also have 10 sergeants.

"Without proper supervision we find ourselves in a liability issue," Bernard said about the supervisor positions.

Bernard explained they have what is called minimum staffing, which means they have to have a certain number of officers on each shift. He said if someone calls out sick, is on vacation, or is out for any other reason it means that people are forced to work overtime.

"These things happen all the time," said Bernard.

One of the concerns that Bernard pointed to about not having the positions budgeted is how long it takes to find officers especially during the current times.

He said it takes them four to six months to hire an officer and he doesn't want to nor would lower their standards in order to hire someone faster.

"We are not a desperate town and I'm not a desperate police chief," said Bernard.

Right now, Bernard said they have six officers that were offered conditional offers. He said that even if they all are officially hired, they would only have a net gain for so long because he knows of two officers that will be retiring before July 1.

With the four officers, Bernard stated he would make two of them detectives in order to allow for more time for investigations and backgrounds.

"One detective can spend up to 100 hours doing a background alone," said Bernard.

He explained that the other two would be used for community policing saying they previously had a full division dedicated towards community policing.

"I do believe we can fill them," said Bernard.

Town Council Vice Chairman, Joe Green, asked if they could look into how much it is costing the town each year for mandatory overtime in order to have minimum staffing.

He said they could potentially take those funds and allocate it towards the positions.

"Maybe we can take that $546,000 from another line item to fund it that way," said Green.

Malaguti said they expect that the four positions would contribute about 8,300 more hours of coverage.

The budget has been discussed at Town Council and will be addressed during the Nov. 21 budget hearing.

OBITUARY

Mark T. Powers

Mark T. Powers, 63, of Londonderry, NH, passed away peacefully on Monday, Nov. 7, 2022 in his daughter's home, surrounded by his loving family. He was born in Weymouth, MA on April 26, 1959, a son of Francis and Grace (Houlahan) Powers. He had been a resident of Londonderry for the past 37 years, proudly choosing the town for its excellent school system.

Mark was a competitive golfer, dedicated Boston sports fan, and an accomplished Northeastern University graduate. He was a talented computer software engineer and worked diligently to enjoy vacations on Cape Cod; savoring Chatham sunrises while listening to his favorite band, The Grateful Dead. In addition to all of his passions, nothing made him happier than spending time with his family.

Mark is survived by his wife, Dianne (Williamson) Powers of Londonderry; his son, Scott Powers and his wife Maddalena; his daughter, Emily Standbridge and her husband Douglas; his grandchildren, Arriana and Carter Powers; two sisters, Maureen Feehan and her husband Richard, and Karen Young and her husband Steve; as well as several nieces and nephews. Mark is also survived by his dear, lifelong friend Andy Morse. He was predeceased by his siblings, William Powers, Robert Powers, and Sheila Powers.

Following cremation, calling hours will be held on Sunday, Nov. 20 from 1 - 4 p.m., in the Peabody Funeral Homes and Crematorium, 290 Mammoth Rd., Londonderry. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to First Tee NH, a youth golf program that helps build skill and character, just like the Londonderry Youth Golf Program Mark created in the late 90s. After Public Comment ended, Town Council Chairman, John Farrell, expressed to the board that the town's Finance Director, Justin Campo, has stated the town should "square things up this year." He said "We gave back over a million dollars last year and nine million over the past three years."

He then asked the council whether or not they wanted to vote to take $500,000 out of the UFB to lower the tax rate by 10¢.

Councilor, Joe Green, motioned to reduce the tax rate to last year's figure and councilor, Deb Paul, seconded the motion.

In the discussion that followed, both Green and Paul said they were in favor of lowering the rate, saying that now is not the time to increase the tax burden on residents.

Councilor, Chad Franz, stated that over the past week he had an overwhelming amount of residents contacting him to keep the rate where it is and not take money from the UFB to lower the rate.

Farrell added that he felt there isn't enough money left in the UFB, saying that the account was at $9 million and now at $5 million. "We cut our savings in half," he said.

Ultimately, the motion to reduce the tax rate was defeated in a 2-2 vote, with Paul and Green voting to keep the rate level with last year's.

Fire Department Discuss Budget Concerns During Workshop

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Fire Department Administration made their case for their FY 24 budget during the Nov. 5 Town Council workshop session.

Deputy Fire Chief, Fred Heinrich, said as their number of calls goes up so does their budget.

"As our call volume goes up our budget sort of reflects that influx," said Heinrich.

The proposed budget this year was a total of $7,891,926.

Heinrich noted that personnel costs accounted for 86% of their proposed budget for a total of $6,770,540, operating costs accounted for 7% of the budget for a total of $575,347, and capital leases accounted for 7% for a total of $545,929.

The Department is projected to receive $1,114,352 in revenue from things like dispatch services, ambulance services, and grants.

One of the areas of concern for the operating budget that was pointed out by Heinrich was in regards to continuing education, which are about $20,000 and about $18,000 for the paramedic program.

It was explained by Heinrich that due to the number of probationary officers they have right now it's hard to do additional training.

"It's difficult to add a lot of additional training," said Heinrich.

Heinrich said another area was for utilities, including heat, electricity, and water.

For example, electric services is at $69,244 while it was budgeted for $55,850, water was budgeted at $12,000 and is at $13,392, heat went down compared to what was budgeted.

"With the exception of heat, most of them are over budget," said Heinrich.

Another line item that was of concern is for vehicle maintenance. It was budgeted for $99,000 in FY 22, but the actual was $140,000.

Heinrich explained there are significant costs that come with the maintenance of their fleet. For example, he said recently they replaced the front brakes on one of the engines, which cost $2,000.

"Our costs I can tell you aren't going down," said Heinrich.

The Department also went through the data for service calls they had in the past year.

Heinrich stated the most were for Station 2 at 43% of the calls.

"The vast majority of our calls are in Station 2 District," said Heinrich.

Heinrich said it's mostly the Mack's Apple Orchard area and south of it.

Behind Station 2 was Station 1 with 32% of the calls, Central Station had 20% of the calls, and mutual aid made up 5% of their calls.

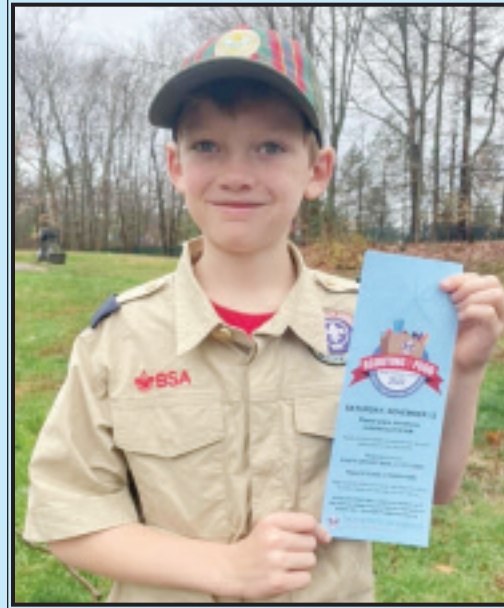

The department had a total of 4,163 calls.

By the end of 2022, Heinrich said they are projected to have a total of 4,380 emergency calls. In comparison, Hampton is projected to have 1,350 calls, and Pelham is projected to have 1,606 calls.

Lancers Football Move on to Semis with Astros

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Varsity Football squad is headed to a rematch with the Pinkerton Academy Astros in the Semifinals this Saturday, after dispatching the Merrimack Tomahawks over the weekend with a 21-7 victory at Lancer Park.

It was a tale of too many turnovers for both sides in this Quarterfinal contest on a very warm Saturday afternoon, Nov. 12. There was a total of five turnovers in the game, three by Londonderry and two by Merrimack.

Special teams played an important role for each team in the contest and that was displayed right from the start, as LHS senior, Andrew Kullman, took the opening kickoff from the 10-yard line all the way to the Merrimack end-zone to give his team a 6-0 lead, just 16-seconds into the game.

Senior Jack Drabik split the uprights into a strong wind for the 7-0 early lead.

Those seven points were the only ones scored in the first half, as neither team's defense gave up many yards.

Londonderry had a difficult time stopping Merrimack's senior running back, Reimello Hyde, who accounted for much of the MHS offense throughout the game.

The Tomahawks first drive of the game brought them down to the Lancer 10-yard line, where they had a first and goal after taking six-minutes off the clock.

The Lancer defense held strong keeping their opponents out of the end-zone on a fourth and six stop at the three-yard line with a big tackle by Drabik and junior Seth Doyon after a short pass completion.

The Lancer offense finally made it onto the field, at 3:53 of the first quarter, but were in a tough position as they started the game from their own four-yard line.

Their first drive ended at their 10-yard line with a punt, putting Merrimack in very good field position.

The Tomahawks started their second drive of the game at the Lancer 45-yard line.

The first turn over of the game came early in the second quarter, as senior linebacker, Trevor Weinmann, picked off a pass at the LHS 10-yard line, and ran back for just over 30-yards.

The Tomahawks defense held tough again, and LHS wound up turning the ball over on downs as they had an unsuccessful fourth down pass attempt at mid-field.

Merrimack put together another decent drive after the stop, mainly due to the strong play of Hyde. A number of plays had Hyde getting the ball as quarterback and just smashing it up the middle.

The drive eventually ended with a 37-yard wide right, field goal attempt into the wind at 2:32 in the second.

Starting at the 20-yard line, Londonderry committed the second turnover of the game on their first play, with senior quarterback, Drew Heenan's pass attempt being intercepted at the 40-yard line.

Fortunately, a series of miscues by the Merrimack offensive line pushed their team back to a second down and very little yards to end the half.

The first kickoff of the second half resulted in another turnover in the favor of LHS. Doyon recovered a botched Merrimack return to start the second half in Tomahawk territory.

Kullman started the drive with a huge rushing gain from the 32-yard line, resulting in the first, first-down of the game for the Lancer offense.

From the 16-yard line the Lancers were able to work their way down the field for the second touchdown of the game. After a successful fourth and two from the eight, Weinmann ran the ball in for a three-yard score to go up 13-0. Drabik made it 14-0 at 8:57 to start the second half.

The second kickoff of the half had the same result for Londonderry, as they recovered another pooch-punt at the 35-yard line.

Londonderry's second drive wasn't as successful, as a handoff to senior Anthony Amaro ended up on the turf, where the Merrimack's Hyde recovered it, giving MHS the ball at the 39-yard line.

That drive also ended in another turnover in the game after Merrimack was putting together another strong drive on the feet of Hyde.

Weinmann got his second interception of the game and put his team at the Merrimack 46-yard line.

The ensuing drive ended with a screen pass completion to Amaro for a 44-yard touchdown. The Drabik extra-point gave LHS a 21-0 lead with 22 seconds left in the third quarter.

The only points given up by the home team were in the fourth quarter, where Hyde had a 16-yard TD four minutes into the final quarter.

Londonderry was content to run the clock down to finish the game for the 21-7 win.

The Lancers only had 129-yards of total offense in the game, while Merrimack was able to finish with 280.

Hyde accounted for much of the Tomahawk's offense, getting 174 rushing yards on 36 carries and leading in receiving yards with 37 on three catches.

Heenan was only allowed one pass completion in six attempts.

Senior Andrew Soucy led on carries with 32-yard on eight attempts.

16 times for 27-yards rushing.

Lancer senior, Nathan Pedrick, had 10 tackles and Weinmann finished with eight.

The Lancers will now prepare for their Semifinal game on Saturday, Nov. 19 at 1 p.m. against Pinkerton Academy, who narrowly got by Bishop Guertin with a 14-12 win in their quarterfinal game on Friday night.

If they are successful next weekend, Londonderry will attempt to retain their Division I title at Exeter High School on Saturday, Nov. 26, against either Timberlane (6th seed) or Bedford (10th seed).

Three Lancers Honored by N.H. Field Hockey Coaches

Taylor McKinnon, All-State First Team.

Meghan Daileanes, All-State Second Team

Alison Chambers, Honorable Mention

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The New Hampshire Field Hockey Coaches Association recently made their selections for their Division I All-State teams and three Londonderry High School Varsity players were recognized for their efforts on the field this fall season.

Lancer junior, Taylor McKinnon, was selected as one of the 15 girls chosen to the All-State First Team. McKinnon was a key component to the Londonderry defense this season.

Londonderry senior forward, Meghan Daileanes, was also recognized by the coaches association for her efforts near the goal and her ability to find the back of the goal and assist to her teammates throughout the 2022 season. Daileanes was chosen to be a member of the All-State Second Team.

Freshman Alison

Chambers was given Honorable Mention for her efforts at mid-field.

Offensive Player of the Year honors went to Addison MacNeil of the Exeter High School Blue Hawks.

Exeter was the eventual Division I championship team with a 2-0 win over the Winnicunnet Warriors in the DI finals.

The Defensive Player of the Year was given to Kaitlyn Tello of the Nashua South High School Purple Panthers.

Coach of the Year went to Bill Larkins who guided the Manchester Central-West team this year.

The Lady Lancers finished their season with a 7-10 record and wound up as the number nine seed in the NHIAA Division I Playoffs.

also seeing an approximately $47,000 increase for solid waste tonnage, and an increase for estimated fuel adjustment of about $31,000, which accounts for fuel increases.

“We’re allocating an additional $2 increase in the cost of diesel fuel,” said Trottier.

For the sewer budget Trottier said the proposed budget was $3,063,240, which is an increase of $213,328 compared to this year’s budget of $2,849,912.

Trottier said the sewer budget is paid for by the users of the sanitary sewer. It means that there is no tax impact.

“This does not affect the tax rate,” said Trottier.

For the Highway Division, the proposed budget for 2024 was a total of $4,717,746, which was an increase of about $451,000 compared to this year’s budget of $4,265,747.

One of the increases for the highway department’s proposed budget that Wholley pointed to is for highway salt. The proposal was to increase it from $240,000 to $280,000, which he said is mostly due to the price of salt continuing to go up.

He also noted the amount of snow they have gotten in recent years is lower than normal. He said the last couple of years they have had 50 to 60 inches, while they are normally in the 70 plus inches range.

“Snow accumulations over the past four years have been abnormally low,” said Wholley.

It was also pointed out by Wholley that long term they may want to look at building a new facility for the highway department. Stating that currently they are working out of an old garage.

Wholley said when it comes to the non contractual lines, the vast majority of them stay level funded.

“As you can see we’re holding the line on 10 out of the 12 items,” said Wholley.

Those increases include an increase of $230,000 for highway management services for a total of $290,000, and an increase along with an increase of $50,000 for maintenance supplies and vehicles.

Wholley stated they haven’t had an increase for that line for a number of years and the increase will help them appropriately maintain the vehicles.

He said it’s important to keep their vehicles in good shape.

He explained that they have the talent to be able to do small repairs and things like oil changes in-house, but don’t have the proper equipment.

“The facility needs a strong look at,” said

Wholley.

Wholley said that they would be coming forward with a proposal in the near future.

He also pointed to a number of contractual increases for roadway management contracts, including a 17% increase for paving, 22% increase for tree cutting, and a 20% increase for striping.

Classified Advertising

READERS ARE CAUTIONED that we occasionally run ads that require an initial investment or money in advance. We urge our readers to "do their homework" before responding to any ad, check out the advertiser thoroughly and verify their claims to your total satisfaction. Only then should you proceed at your own risk. We try to screen ads that require you to send money before receiving a product or service. But these efforts are no substitute for your own investigation, and we don't endorse or guarantee any claims made in any of the ads we publish. If you want more information about claims made in ads on subjects such as work at home opportunities, travel or vacation specials, purchasing land or vehicles from government surplus or below wholesale, loans or other credit opportunities (including credit repair), or weight loss and other health products and services, we urge you to contact the Office of Attorney General, Consumer Protection Bureau, 33 Capitol Street, Concord, NH 03301 (603-271-3641) or the Better Business Bureau at 603-224-1991. Publisher is not responsible for any loss of business if an ad does not run, and we reserve the right to revoke any ad if deemed necessary. No refunds will be given for prepaid ads.

OBITUARY

Thomas E. Bisson

Thomas E. Bisson, 65, of Londonderry, NH, passed away Sunday, Nov. 13, 2022, in the Southern NH Medical Center, Nashua, NH. Tom has overcome many medical problems over the last 10 years, beating cancer, a rare lung disorder, but this last illness was too much, and he was taken from us much too soon. He was born on April 16, 1957, in Hartford, CT, a son of the late Wilfred and Marguerite (Thibault) Bisson, and had been a resident of Londonderry for the past 20 years.

Tom's family moved from Bristol, CT to Derry, NH in 1969 where Tom graduated from Pinkerton Academy in 1975. He later earned an Associate Degree in Business from Rivier College. After high school, Tom worked for Treasure Masters in Derry briefly, then began a long career with Kollsman Instruments (Elbit Systems of America) as an Avionics Repair Technician. He remained there until 2017 when his illness prevented him from working any longer.

He would say he met his soulmate and love of his life, Pam in 1988. Together they raised two wonderful sons, Robert and Zachary. He was proud of both boys. He was involved with Boy Scouts as a youth and then carried on that tradition with his boys as an assistant scout leader for many years.

Tom enjoyed camping, the Green Bay Packers, vacations with family. He was able to complete his bucket list trip of going to Alaska in 2019 with Pam and his sister Patti. He was a great cook and known for his awesome meatballs.

He is survived by his beloved wife of 32 years, Pamala (Carr) Bisson of Londonderry; two sons, Robert P. Bisson of Pelham, NH and Zachary T. Bisson and his partner Ethan Conley of Manchester, NH; two brothers, Joseph M. Bisson of Pasadena, MD and Gregory J. Bisson of North Carolina; one sister, Patricia Guimond of Berwick, ME; his mother-in-law, Barbara Carr of Londonderry, as well as many nieces, nephews, cousins and his Uncle George Thibault. He was predeceased by one brother, William J. Bisson and one sister, Nancy L. Bisson.

Calling hours will be held on Thursday, Nov. 17, from 5 - 7 p.m., in the Peabody Funeral Homes and Crematorium, 290 Mammoth Rd., Londonderry. A Mass of Christian burial will be celebrated on Friday, Nov. 18, at 10 a.m., in St. Jude Parish, 435 Mammoth Rd., Londonderry. Burial will follow in Pillsbury Cemetery, Londonderry. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the charity of one's choice. To send a condolence or for more information, please visit, www.peabodyfuneralhome.com.
