The school district and the Town of Londonderry combined efforts again this year for the annual Thank You Veterans Day Breakfast. The event was held on Friday morning, Nov. 10, at the Londonderry High School cafeteria and featured breakfast, guest speakers, military themed music, and gift baskets presented to the attending veterans.

Those attending were invited by phone call made by the high school's Pay it Forward group, and organized by LHS Assistant Principal, Katie Sullivan.

The "Patriotic Salute to Our American Heroes" is organized each year by Sullivan, along with her Pay It Forward group.

Town Council Discuss Traffic Issues on "Old" Mammoth Road

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

For years there have been traffic concerns with Mammoth Road, and now the Town Council is ready to look at long term solutions, after being briefed on the situation by Town Manager, Mike Malaguti, during the Nov. 6 meeting.

"There have been concerns on "Old" Mammoth Road about traffic safety speed and related issues dating back decades," Malaguti said.

Until recently, he said the conversations and discussions were focused at the Traffic Safety Committee meetings and said, "there hasn't been much done in the way of infrastructure improvements over the years."

He said it was "clear" that if certain interventions were to be made, they would have to come from the Town Council.

"The time for talking at the Traffic Safety committee was done," Malaguti said.

Malaguti noted that Public Works recommended double striping the road, which they did, but he was looking to find out if they want to entertain the idea of investigating it further, and seeing what the best option would be moving forward.

"Is this something that we want to continue to have a conversation about," he said.

It was also noted by Malaguti that they previously received a petition from people who live in the area, looking to have a gate put in.

The petition states: "We the residents of the area of town commonly referred to as "The Village" do hereby petition the Town of Londonderry to install an electronically controlled gate on Mammoth Rd., at the southern entrance to

School Board Move Forward with RFP for Moose Hill Project

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The School Board was presented with a proposal to move forward with requests for proposals/qualifications now for the potential Moose Hill project, versus later.

"The Trident Group has recommended, and the Administration would agree, it might make sense to start the RFP/Q process for a construction manager for the Moose Hill Building Project. The process will be Qualifications based, blind to the fee, similar to the Architect RFQ/P process for the Master Plan,"

Superintendent, Dan Black, wrote in a memo to the School Board ahead of the meeting.

One of the advantages Black pointed out earlier in the process is that they could save about five weeks on getting things going, should the bond pass in March.

"Knowing how tight we are for space right now at Moose Hill, any time we save in the future to solve our overcrowding issues is a good investment," Black said.

He said having a construction manager will also help to explain different details of the project to the public and can "be a great resource to have during any community events or forums to explain the technical work that would be done at Moose Hill."

Black also said that knowing the fee structure for the construction manager sooner rather than later "would help

School Board Discuss Hiring Their Own Attorney

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

School Board Chair, Bob Slater, said he had a proposal to move forward with hiring Lauren Irwin from Upton & Hatfield, LLP, for the School Board to use at times when needed, after two and a half months of researching different potential law firms.

"She specializes in School Board and school district law," Slater said, noting that she has good credentials and was highly recommended by several people. He added that she represents 10 different school districts, along with various boards and numerous municipalities.

Slater said the charge would be $285 an hour, which is $5 more an hour than the current district lawyer rate.

School Board member, Tim Porter, noted that they wouldn't add any additional costs with the attorney, saying if they are looking for additional legal advice, they would be talking to the board lawyer, instead of paying the district's attorney.

"It's basically for the board to consult on an additional opinion," Slater said.

He said for example if they are looking to write a policy, they could go to their attorney and bring back recommendations to the superintendent.

"This is basically just for the School Board," Slater said.

Superintendent, Dan Black, said one of his concerns is that since there is a limited number of law firms in the state handling education law, they wouldn't want to purposely set up competition with each other.

"This could force one of our law firms to dump us in this process," Black said.

His suggestion would be to speak to their current lawyers during a non-meeting to see what their thoughts are.

"I think they try and be careful knowing the landscape is so small," Black said.

Slater said he thinks the other lawyers will likely tell them that they can use the board lawyer for everything.

"If that's the way they want to do business I don't want to do business with them," Slater said.

Black also noted that it would be important to know who is representing the School Board during this year's deliberative session.

"Who is going to represent the School Board during the deliberative session on February 6," Black said.

Slater said the law firm would be for getting a second opinion.

"I think you guys need to get good legal advice before making any decisions," Black said.

School Board member, Amanda Butcher, said she thinks it would be good to have a conversation with the lawyers, but is in support of bringing on a School Board lawyer. She also said she wants to learn more about the model.

"I definitely see the value in this," she said.

Black stated that he is also concerned about what happens if they don't agree, "do you go to court, that seems silly," he said.

School Board Vice Chair, Sara Loughlin, said she agreed with having someone else to talk to, but they should get more information,

The School Board decided to speak to their current lawyers and get more information before making a decision.

the 4 way intersection with Page/ Grenier Field road in order to reduce excessive speed through this area which has been the scene of many accidents."

Malaguti said they have received six additional signatures from other people, and said "that's what brings us here this evening."

Town Council Chair, John Farrell, noted that there are a total of 24 households on the petition.

Steve Kelly, who lives at the intersection of Mammoth Rd., and Page Rd., said they have been in their home for 12 years, and have been to the traffic safety committee meetings for nearly a decade making the case for doing something about the road.

"This has been kicked down the road," he said.

Kelly explained that the biggest problems he sees are people cutting through to get to the airport and back, and people driving extremely fast.

"This is a safety issue," he said, noting that they proposed the gate because all of their other options were "shot down."

He also stated that they "knew it wasn't going to do anything," referring to the double stripped lines. In fact, he added that he feels the only thing it has done is helped people looking to pass people.

Kelly said that no matter what, they are looking for some type of solution, whether it's a gate or another solution.

"You're going to get a decision one way or another," Farrell said.

It was ultimately decided to revisit the issue with more information available including about the different options, along with accident data, and a briefing from the police department and the fire department about their positions before making any decisions.

Malaguti said there have been other requests that have been looked at like speed tables, "We have pros and cons on those different options as well."

Utilities Committee to Hold Meeting with Saint-Gobain & State

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Utilities Committee came together for its November meeting and discussed a pending application recently submitted to the N.H. Department Drinking Water Trust Fund.

The application is related to the Saint-Gobain settlement and is earmarked for the alleviation of contaminated groundwater across the state.

"There are a lot of behind-the-scenes discussions taking place," said Town Manager, Mike Malaguti. "I think it would be appropriate to invite the leadership of Utilities to a Zoom meeting, that will involve all the stakeholders in the project."

The meeting will be the first time Committee officials talk with Saint-Gobain directly.

Utilities Vice Chair, Martha Smith, promised to report back during the regular December meeting.

Several members of the Committee expressed frustration at the apparent slow progress of Saint-Gobain in moving forward with a state-enforced consent decree to address groundwater contamination west of High Range Road.

"We do not have authority to litigate or assert claims on behalf of our residents for contamination," Malaguti stated, adding that it is up to the NH Department of Environmental Services and the Attorney General to enforce the consent decree.

"I think we should have some input as to what does happen as far as, let's say the Attorney General moving forward as to what we do or allow them to do," said Utilities Alternate member, Ray Breslin. "What was settled in the consent decree in 2016 is not the situation now, we have learned a lot more about the contamination in the town of Londonderry and I think we strongly need to have input."

Malaguti emphasized the need for the proposed High Range Road project to expand and extend water mains to Route 102. The Town Manager hoped the extension would be the start of a townwide water system, and such a massive project has been discussed several times. Saint-Gobain is required to pay for new water connections for residents in the consent decree area.

"The state is very excited in this project, which bodes well for our Trust Fund application," said Malaguti.

Pennichuck Water is involved in the discussion and will be at the Zoom meeting, but are unlikely to move forward with new pipe construction until funding negotiations conclude. Londonderry has applied for a $10 million grant for the initial $25 million project, including the work Saint-Gobain will do. Ideally, the town will only need to cover a small percentage of the initial cost, although Malaguti stressed those numbers are preliminary and could change.

"We're going to talk about hopefully working with the Planning Department for a strategy so that we can start working into the Master Plan, I think that's a critical step we as a community can undertake to drive this whole discussion," said Utilities Chairman, Lynn Wiles.

A warrant article in the March budget is likely to come before voters. A $100,000 request to study the impact of an expanded water system.

Leach Library Budget Proposed

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Leach Library is looking to increase the amount of opportunities for the community to access books at neighboring libraries, members of the library administration told the Town Council as part of its proposed budget presented on Nov. 4.

It was explained by Library Director, Erin Matlin, that they were looking to include the membership fee for the Greater Manchester Integrated Library Consortial System in the budget.

Matlin said the program has been around for 39 years, and they have had longtime success and have grown to 13 libraries, who have joined.

"Our patrons would definitely benefit," Matlin said.

If the town were to join, patrons would have the chance to access over 1.4 million items, along with the ability to check in and check out books at any library part of the system.

Matlin stated that they recently conducted a survey for patrons and one of the questions was whether or not they would want the service. She added that over 93% of survey respondents said yes, saying it's another service "our community would clearly like and we can provide."

It was noted that while in addition to the annual membership fee, they would have a one time fee for onboarding cost of about $24,300, however, that wouldn't be paid for by taxpayer dollars, since the Board of Trustees agreed to fund part of it, and they will be fundraising for the rest.

For next year, there would be a partial year membership, which would cost about $41,183.

"We will have a couple of months where we wouldn't actually be members yet," Assistant Director, Donna Plante, said.

Matlin said they took out about $10,000 out of the materials line saying they don't expect to need to purchase as many and $2,000 out of the supplies line.

Matlin added the program would have a financial benefit for a number of patrons. She added that there are 481 GMILCS cardholders that are Londonderry residents, which comes with a fee for those libraries.

In total, the proposed budget for the library is $1,527,802.

Something To Be Said About a Smile

World Kindness Week started on Nov. 13, a week that promotes the importance of being kind to each other. This understanding creates compassion for others, it has the power to bridge those gaps between our differences. Kindness is to have good intentions, warmth, compassion and love for someone.

The people who bother me the most are the ones who seem to think the world owes them something just because, with the ideology that they are the “chosen ones”. As I always say there are many sides to a story. In this world we are greatly separated from one another either by political divide, social status, you name it. Being kind can bring people of all view points together, if you are willing to listen of course.

Go anywhere, you can find a bench to just sit and watch, as less and less people seem to care about the person next to them. Very few seem to even think that the other person might be going through the same things they are or worse. It seems like reaching out a hand to help anyone is becoming art.

Being kind to a person isn't difficult. Being kind isn't a sign of weakness. Rather, being kind is probably just the opposite. Being kind to your neighbor, your friend, your family members, or a complete stranger shows more strength than anything else.

Though it would be amazing if that golden rule of, “Do unto others, as you would have them do unto you” would make a come back, it seems to have been forgotten.

It takes courage to step out from the shadows of everyone else and do something different. It takes strength to see the world from another person's point of view and find that common ground, finding a solution to the issue not just fan the flames, that notorious middle ground.

Wouldn't it be nice if complete strangers greeted you with a smile or just said hello, it isn't a grand gesture, it didn't take anytime out of their day, still, that act of kindness has set the tone for how that person's whole day or even week went.

During this Holiday season and throughout the year, and throughout the rest of your life, be kind, it might just become contagious. Be kind to the environment by recycling what you can. Take time out of your day to play with your pet a little longer than you normally would and give them a treat when you're done. Be kind to yourself as well, it's okay, people should take the time they need to take care of themselves.

Most of all be, be thankful for what you have when so many have less. “Do things for people not because of who they are or what they do in return, but because of who you are.” – Harold S. Kushner.

Library Trustees Meeting

To the editor,
It appears that the conservatives who spoke at the meeting would wish the Library to withdraw from the ALA and NHLTA because they do not approve what they perceive as Marxist Socialist views. Why would, if this be the case be not a teaching moment to understand what Marxist Socialists views are, i.e. history of each, what differs them from each other.

The Library is indeed a place of learning and meant to educate us in knowing how to research ideas, all ideas. Indoctrination is not possible if the populace is instructed in all manners of ideas. Exposure is how one learns. Is it not the same thing that the Director did in not accepting the book as your wanting to withdraw from the above organizations? Perhaps the Director may have learned from this incident that it may be prudent to accept what is offered.

Consider Gov. DeSantis

To the editor,
Gov. Ron DeSantis proved in Wednesday night's debate that he is the Republican Party's clear choice for President.

Gov. DeSantis' record of winning is something our party desperately needs after 3 straight cycles of losing. While the GOP did well here at home on Tuesday, the picture isn't as optimistic nationally. Conservatives lost key races in battleground states like Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Ohio, and even lost the Governor's race in deep-red Kentucky.

During the debate, Gov. DeSantis said what myself and Republicans nationally have been thinking for years, “I am sick of Republicans losing.”

While the red wave never washed ashore nationally in 2022, it certainly did in Florida under Gov. DeSantis' leadership. He won a traditionally difficult swing state by 20 points, even winning the bluest of areas like Miami-Dade County. We need a leader who knows how to win the tough races and lift up the rest of our ticket in 2024.

Ron DeSantis is the proven conservative leader our party desperately needs to beat Joe Biden in 2024. I hope you will join me in supporting him.

Respectfully,
Rep Kristine Perez

both the School Board and administration manage the proposed budget for the building project much more easily, and the Fee structure will be locked in.”

Black explained that the Trident Group has advised them that they can structure the process so “we do not take any financial risk and we only move forward with the construction manager if there is a positive community vote for the building project.”

School Board Chair, Bob Slater, said it made sense to get a construction manager on board now, rather than waiting to see if a potential bond passes or not in March.

“This is a very good idea to get a construction manager on board sooner than later,” he said.

He stated that if the project gets approved in March, and they already have someone on board, they will have a construction manager already who understands the project.

“Basically it's no funds for us to get to that point,” Slater said, noting that they can also line up some of the other trades as well, to get a head start, if the project is approved.

He said the fee structure is usually a percentage of the overall project cost.

The School Board agreed to move forward with the RFPQ process.

Household Waste and Oil Being Collected on Saturday, Nov. 18

Londonderry will be hosting a Hazardous Household Waste Collection Day on Saturday, Nov. 18, from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Nelson Fields (LAFA) parking lot off Sargeant Road behind the Central Fire Station.

This is a semi-annual, joint program, with the town of Derry and aims at keeping potentially dangerous products out of the environment by giving the citizens of both towns a way to dispose of these items safely and legally.

There is a wide variety of items excepted from the garage, yard, the house and from the workbench. Details as to what hazardous items that can be brought to this collection can be found on the Londonderry DPW's Facebook page.

Items note accepted are: Batteries, water-based paints, asbestos, explosives, radioactive materials, infectious waste and water-based driveway sealer.

During the same day and time as the Household Hazardous Waste Collection, Londonderry will also host a Waste Oil Collection in the parking lot behind the Central Fire Station.

Residents of Londonderry and Derry can bring used motor oil, transmission fluid, and the like to those manning this collection site.

The town burns these fluids in the waste oil furnace heating the DPW garage, reducing both the Town's annual heating expense and keeping these contaminants out of the environment.

The town annually recycles over 1,200 gallons of waste oil so the savings can be considerable.

As noted, Londonderry's waste oil collection is an all-volunteer effort. The commitment is 1-2 Saturday mornings per year from 10 a.m. to noon.

Recently, several volunteers have moved on to other endeavors so the DPW is in search of new recruits.

Anyone interested in volunteering can contact Lynn Wiles, Chair of the Utilities Committee, at: lwiles@londonderry-nh.org or call the DPW at 603-432-1100 ext. 193 for more information.

Fish & Game Remind Hunters and Hikers to Share Woods Safely

MELISSA RUIZ

Fall is here, as such some have already brought out their bright orange vests and camouflage.

Tuesday, Sept. 1, kicked off NH Fall hunting seasons, with the opening of the black bear and small game seasons. Archery seasons for turkey and white-tailed deer began Sept. 15. Waterfowl began in September, with dates varying by species and zone. Pheasant, Oct. 1 - December, Deer/Muzzleloader, Oct. 28 - Nov. 7, Deer/Regular Firearms, Nov. 8 - Dec. 3.

As hunters and hikers share trails, NH Fish and Game reminds everyone to bear in mind the following rules and regulations and safety tips:

To take part in any hunting, a hunter must obtain a NH hunting license. Licenses may be purchased online, by mailing in an application, or by visiting a local licensing agent (a list by town available at wildlife.state.nh.us/licensing/agents.html).

By state law, anyone who plans to buy a hunting, archery, or trapping license must complete the respective education course, or show a previously issued license of the same type. For more information on how to enroll in an education course, visit wildlife.state.nh.us/hunting/hunte red.html.

Whenever firearms and archery are involved, safety measures must be followed. The following are some safety tips for hunters to keep in mind:

For firearm hunters, follow these best practices: Treat every firearm as if it were loaded, unload firearms when not in use, never climb a fence or tree or jump over a ditch or log with a loaded firearm, only point at what you intend to shoot, never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or water, keep fingers off of the trigger until ready to shoot, clearly identify a target and what is beyond it before shooting, make sure that the gun barrel and action are clear of obstructions, store firearms and ammunition separately, know where your hunting partner is at all times, always keep hunting dog under control, and avoid alcoholic beverages or other mood-altering drugs before or while on the hunt. These same guidelines can be applied to bowhunters.

Plan for the weather. Hunters can be at risk for hypothermia in cold, wet conditions, even in temperatures as high as 50 degrees. To reduce risk dress in warm layers, avoiding moisture-retaining cotton and opting for a water-repelling outer layer. Before going out, be sure to check the weather report so as not to be caught off guard by an unexpected storm. It is not advised to head out on a hunting trip without letting a someone know where you will be and when you expect to return. This person can alert authorities of your absence and help can be sent out to sooner.

Outdoor safety is not limited to hunters.

Those who enjoy the beauty of the woods are advised to take their own safety precautions.

Sight-seers are urged to avoid colors and patterns that blend into the surroundings, such as white, black, brown, animal patterns, and camouflage. Bright clothing is best for visibility, especially for vests and hats. These bright colors will help you stand out to hunters so they will avoid hitting you.

Making your presence known is a great way to ensure your safety. Talking loudly to a companion, whistling or singing, or playing music on a device will help nearby hunters acknowledge your location. However, for common courtesy, noise should be reduced once safety is established.

Hikers with dogs should not let them walk off-leash in an area that allows hunting, especially in areas with game the dog may want to chase.

To avoid encountering hunters altogether, there are plenty of locations where hunting is prohibited. Most state and national parks do not allow hunting, and Sundays are often hunt-free days.

Regarding any hunting lures, the NH Fish and Game department urges hunters not to use natural urine-based deer lures as Fall hunting seasons begin. These products can potentially spread Chronic Wasting Disease, a fatal neurological disorder in white-tailed deer and moose. Synthetic lures are permitted for NH hunting.

Hunting and hiking can be enjoyable activities, but both involve rules and regulations and common sense in the interest of safety and ethics. If everyone works together, hunters and hikers can share the woods peacefully and safely.

For a complete explanation of all types of hunting, fishing, trapping, and their rules and regulations in NH, as well as answers to frequently asked questions, visit wildlife.state.nh.us.

The event's Guest Speaker was the newly appointed Londonderry Fire Chief, Bo Butler. He spoke of how much the town of Londonderry has given to him and his family and the time he spent in Afghanistan as a member of the U.S. Army.

The LHS Symphonic Band, directed by Serge Beaulieu and Emily Dawson, followed the speaker by playing the National Anthem, America the Beautiful, and an Armed Forces Salute. The band played the Coast Guard's - Semper Paratus; the Air Force - The U.S. Air Force; the Navy's - Anchors Aweigh; the Marine's - The Marines' Hymn and the U.S. Army's - The Caisson Song.

Brigadier General Matthew Kennedy

The segment ended with "God Bless the USA," with each being sung by Joey Cain.

Each of Londonderry's Elementary School's Student Council had speakers thanking veterans for their service.

The Blue Star Lancers student speakers also took the stage. Jack Griffin, Asher Comtois, and Natalie Howard also thanked those attending.

Following that, LHS student singers, Joey Cain and Kelly Egan, performed a Medley of patriotic songs.

In Lieu of not having a parade or service at the Town Common again this year, Londonderry American Legion Post 27 Commander, Bob Stuart, spoke about service and the need to get more veterans involved at the Post. He then introduced Brigadier General (MA) Retired, Matthew Kennedy, as the Veterans Day Guest Speaker.

Kennedy spoke on the significance of Veterans Day, originally named Armistice Day, the day that marked the end of WWI.

He asked everyone to reflect on the day and devote themselves with dedication and hope.

He also stressed his love for his military service and all it had taught him.

Following that, Gift Card Raffle items were handed out by the Pay It Forward members to those still at their tables.

The gift cards were donated by the Londonderry School District staff, clubs, teams, teachers and students, Londonderry community members, organizations and businesses, the Londonderry Legion, and local community families, friends, and citizens.

Closing Remarks were than made by LHS Pay It Forward Advisor & Assistant Principal, Katie Sullivan.

Blue Hawks No Match for Lancers in Quarterfinal

Senior Seth Doyon blocks a punt on Saturday, which was recovered for a Lancer touchdown.

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Football team took another step closer to a Division I title with a near effortless win over the Exeter Blue Hawks in their Quarter Finals game on Saturday afternoon.

The 27-6 win was the team's final game at Lancer Park and the victory sets up a tough contest against the undefeated squad from Pinkerton Academy in Derry this weekend.

In the Lancers win over the Blue Hawks on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 11, LHS had all facets of their game working, the offense scored two touchdowns in the first half and special teams added another to lead 20-0 by the end of the second quarter. Needless-to-say, the defense kept the Exeter offense out of the red zone until their final possession of the contest.

The game was dominated by running plays, due to the strong winds blown across the field, where Londonderry dominated, getting 294-yards on the ground, and having the defense hold Exeter to 168-yards.

The Lancers were two for four in passing plays, resulting in just

Athletes Take Part in National Signing Day

A large group of students, friends, family, and coaches assembled at Londonderry High School on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 9, to honor a number of student-athletes signing their Letters of Intent to Division I and Division II colleges.

Five students were invited to the National Signing Day, with four attending.

Owen Carey, a New Hampshire Division I winning baseball player, signed his letter of intent for Rutgers University in New Jersey.

Ashleigh Leone, a lacrosse and field hockey standout at LHS, will be playing lacrosse at Holy Cross College in Worcester, Massachusetts.

Natalie Washington, also a lacrosse and field hockey standout for the Lancers, will be attending Flagler University in Florida, where she will play lacrosse.

Zoey Nelson will be playing softball at St. Peters University in Jersey City, New Jersey, in the Fall.

Olivia Cutuli also had college signing, but was unable to attend the ceremony on Thursday. The outstanding Lancers softball pitcher and hitter will be attending the University of Massachusetts, Amherst next Fall. Photo by Chris Paul

Football

18-yards.

Senior running-back, Jake Schena, led his team in rushing, piling up 131-yards on the ground.

Senior Williams racked up 36-yards, Seth Doyon had 34-yards and Adrian Cruz tallied 32-yards.

On defense, senior lineman, Ty Miles, led the Lancers in tackles, with seven solo and two assists. Senior Ty Parsons had four solo sacks in the game.

The Lancers first touchdown of the game came on the first drive of the game. The LHS offense marched down the field in 10-plays, starting at the 20-yard line, for an eight-yard TD run. Junior QB, Alex Villa, handed the ball off at the 11-yard line to Doyon, who carried it into the end zone.

Blake Thompson added the point after for the 7-0 lead, which would hold through the end of the initial quarter, despite a field goal attempt by Exeter in their first drive.

Londonderry's second touchdown came in the second quarter, after a successful punt by the Blue Hawks pinning LHS at their four-yard-line. It took just two plays for Londonderry to travel 94-yards. Schena started the drive with an astounding 92-yard run, followed by a quarterback keeper by junior Sam Ogden running the ball in from the four-yard-line. Thompson's point after attempt was wide-right for the 13-0 lead.

The following drive by Exeter ended in three plays and a punt, which was blocked by Doyon, who nearly recovered the ball in the endzone. Sophomore Lucas Palma was quick to pounce on the ball in the end zone, after it got away from Doyon, for the 19-0 lead. Thompson's third point-after attempt was good, and the Lancers lead was 20-0 heading into the half.

Londonderry's final touchdown came at the start of the fourth quarter. Thompson tacked on the extra point for the 27-0 lead.

Exeter scored their only touchdown with just over seven minutes left in the game.

Doyon capped off the victory with his second block of the game, foiling the extra-point attempt.

The win gives the Lancers a chance at redemption. They hope to serve up Pinkerton Academy's only loss of the season. The Lancers only loss this year came at the hands of the Astros back in September, when Londonderry lost 24-20 during the annual Mack Plaque game in Derry.

The semi-final round game is scheduled to take place at Pinkerton on Saturday, Nov. 18, starting at 1 p.m.

The Astros, who are the number one seed in the play-offs, are coming off a 55-20 win over Bishop Guertin.

Division Winning Baseball Squad Receive Their Rings

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

Members of the 2023 New Hampshire Interscholastic Athletic Association's Division I Championship team had their rings presented to them on Thursday night, Nov. 9, at Londonderry High School. The Lancers team tallied the best record ever for a varsity team headed into the playoffs, finishing at 19-1 and moving on to win all of their playoff games.

The final game was a sensational extra-inning comeback, winning 4-3 with a walk-off, extra innings victory against Pinkerton Academy on June 10, at Delta Dental Stadium. The win gave the Lancers their seventh state title and their fifth Division I crown since 2004.

The game went two extra innings after a 1-1 to finish the seventh.

The Astros took a 3-1 in the top of the eighth, but in the bottom of the eighth, Brett McKinnon walked to lead off the inning, Jayden Hamilton then singled to right and put runners on second and third. A walk to Owen Carey loaded the bases for a single by Johan Pena to drive in one of the three runs needed for the win. Hamilton was thrown out in a close play at the plate for the first out of the inning.

Another walk, this time to Kevin Rourke, loaded the bases again and Carey was then driven in on a single by Liam Stot to tie the game at 3-3.

The winning run was batted in by sophomore Jet Jones, a line drive single to centerfield.

Although the graduating seniors from last year's squad were at the ceremony, head coach, Brent Demas, had nothing, but praise for his DI champions. Presenting championship rings to each of the players.

The rings were purchased through the dugout club, families, and a generous donation from an anonymous source.
