Conservation Commission Ponders Land Purchase Costs

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Conservation Commission convened for their Aug. 23 meeting and discussed the possible environmental issues related to upcoming projects in town.

The first issue was in regard to a conversation plan to change a duplex on 9 Button Drive into a condominium. A brief presentation was made on behalf of resident Brenda Kiss outlining what should be a relatively painless process.

Changing the Kiss residence into a condo will ideally be a relatively minor change as several other buildings in the area have already

Town Council Addresses Complaints About Parade

LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Town Council faced a number of questions during its Monday, Aug. 29, meeting in regards to several incidents that arose during the town's recent Old Home Day celebration.

A number of concerned residents attended the meeting, many of which were very vocal about issues that happened on Saturday, mainly centered on parade participants.

Two of the main issues were; why there was a confederate flag allowed to be flown on a jeep in the parade; and why a group of abortion rights activists were permitted to march and shout their views through megaphones.

There were also concerns raised about two incidents of unsafe driving by town officials in golf carts and why a gay youth group was allowed a spot on the Town Common.

Two days after the Old Home Day parade, the Town Council issued a statement condemning the confederate flag issue, saying they were not aware of the flag until it was too late.

Town Manager, Mike

Malaguti, addressed many of the issues at the Monday night meeting in a slide presentation.

On the parade issues, Malaguti said there were only about two to three volunteers directing participants at the staging area in the middle school parking lot and there were 62 groups registered to march.

All participants were registered through Kirby Brown at the Town Office well before the day of the parade.

Malaguti said the abortion rights group registered under the name of a "Women's

State Reps Candidates Look for Voter Support in Primary

LONDONDERRY TIMES

With the State Primary Election less than two weeks away, on Tuesday Sept. 13, the newspaper asked candidates for Republican State Representative of Rockingham District 16 to give a brief statement of why they would be the most deserving of resident's vote.

There are 10 candidates running for seven seats in Concord on the republican ballot and we gathered the following statements from those candidates.

This year, because of recent redistricting, voters will also be asked to choose between two candidates running for one District 35 seat.

Each candidate was asked to answer: Why you are the best candidate to vote for in the primary?

Note: There won't be a contested primary on the Democrat Ballot, therefore we did not ask for their response to the question at this time.

Candidates are in alphabetical order, not in the order in which they will appear on the ballot. Candidates Kathleen Kilroy and Julius Soti did not submit a

been designated as condos. Essentially, changing the status of the building will have no impact on the environment. Changes to the Kiss residence won't have a unanimous approval by the Commission. There was no debate.

The New Hampshire Department of Transportation is holding a long-awaited public informational meeting for possible changes to a project at the intersection of Route 28 and Stonehenge Road. Members of the public are encouraged to attend with questions at Londonderry Town Hall on September 1, 7 pm.

Commission Chair, Marge Badois, gave a quick overview of the financial situation for conservation. "Things did not change dramatically at the end of last year." However, some expenses are possible in the near future regarding the proposed acquisition of Lithia Springs.

sition of Lithia Springs.

The Commission has been looking into a land survey before sinking money into the Lithia Springs purchase. The Derry company, Promised Land Survey, was chosen out of three surveyors to do the job.

"We want to know what we're buying for that kind of money" stated Vice Chair, Eugene Harrington. "The key thing is that it meets the state requirements for a boundary survey."

Promised Land will not be fully mapping the area. Most of Lithia Springs is on wetlands, and the town does not plan to build any new structures. The $1.5 million proposal is solely for preservation.

The land purchase is not yet finalized, and there were some worries about the possibility of wasting money on an unneeded land survey.

"Should this [land purchase] not happen, we're paying for things we might not need?" said Commission member, Deborah Lievens. Harrington confirmed, "that is the dilemma that we're in."

It was stated that the Town Council will likely vote on the land purchase by Nov. 12, and the Conservation Commission must have all necessary surveys in place by mid-December at the latest. Londonderry also requires several grants to complete the purchase. As of the end of August, only half the money for the land sale is available and without full approval by December. Nobody wants to lose out on external funding.

"Given the fact that we have a very competitive project with these grant programs, I think we should put that money at risk, hopefully, we'll be able to use it," Harrington concluded after weighing the risks. The Conservation Commission voted to approve the land survey.

The Commission's next meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 13.

March Londonderry" and described themselves as a Women's Rights group looking to get women to vote.

The general message of the presentation was that if the town wishes to limit the kinds of participants in the parade, they would need to base that on a theme, but up until now, the town has never excluded groups wishing to march.

Later in the meeting, the council noted that there would be discussions leading up to next year's celebration in order to set better guidelines for participants. They also expressed the need for more volunteer participation leading up to the four-day celebration.

Malaguti finished by saying, in response to the question, "How could you let certain people participate and who at the town approved this?" My answer is this, I am the Town Manager, I oversaw the town government's response and involvement to Old Home Day. These decisions were mine, and mine alone. I for one am proud to live in a country where the government doesn't get to tell us what we can and cannot say."

Residents attending the meeting were allowed to speak briefly about their concerns.

Many comments were made about the response issued by the Town Council on a confederate flag flying on the rear end of a Jeep. Most felt that all the issues that arose should have been addressed, not just that one.

Resident Jonathan Esposito brought two safety issues up, saying that he and his wife were volunteers at the celebration and witnessed elected officials driving without regard to those around them. He also said that they reported two incidents to the police, but their phone calls were never recorded by the police dispatcher.

Deputy Chief Kim Bernard was attending the meeting and said he was not aware of complaints by the dispatcher of officers at the parade.

Resident Kristine Perez followed up by verifying that she saw the incident as it happened.

Perez also questioned why the Town Council chose to only address the flag issue and not any others.

people. I am a person who will try to bring people together and am willing to work with anyone to get the best results for the taxpayers here in Londonderry. You will always know where I stand on the issues.

I am currently on the HB737 PFAS Commission. This is a group of appointed legislators and community activists who investigate and analyze the impacts of PFAS. I have been dealing with the PFAS in the water here in Londonderry since 2017 and have been on bottled water since 2019. I am fighting for you, the taxpayer, to make the polluters pay and not the taxpayer. Every individual in Londonderry deserves to have clean water in their home.

I will not change my vote to gain favor with any group or individuals. I will take this very seriously. I will not miss any votes and will attend sub committee meetings. I will also hold quarterly meetings with the voters here in Londonderry so they can let me know what their pressing issues are and I can update them on what is happening in Concord. I will always try to save the taxpayers money.

I received an "A" from the NRA and am a Lifetime Member. I have been endorsed by Cornerstone, Liberty Must Win and the Granite State Tax Payers. I humbly ask for your vote on September 13th

I want to take this opportunity to thank the community for recently selecting me as the 2021 Londonderry Citizen of the Year. I was honored to be part of our Old Home Day's parade a few weeks ago. This parade has become such a wonderful tradition for our town and encourages bringing our citizens together for a fun community event. I have always loved this community and am proud to say I have dedicated many hours of public service and continue to be a firm believer of paying it forward.

While serving on the town council since 2001, I was urged by citizens in 2018 to run for a seat as a State Representative in Concord where my insights as a town official were thought by many to be beneficial to work in the state legislature. I am proud of the many accomplishments thus far in the 2 terms I have served in Concord especially this year as the 2021 Chairman of the Municipal and County Government Subcommittee.

I have voted for responsible management of the state budget such as building up the "rainy day fund" to $257M, decreasing the statewide property taxes by $100M, and authorizing an audit of the Windham State Representative race (SB43) thereby verifying voter checklists for greater election security. I voted to enhance our clean water for the environment as we have empowered the state to enforce the remediation of PFAS cleanup and have provided several thousand dollars to individual Londonderry residents to protect their water supply.

I am proud of my contributions as your present state legislator is one I hope you will vote for me for another term as your state representative as I work with our very capable Speaker of the House Londonderry's Sherman Packard.

New Hampshire is a truly wonderful place to live, work and raise up a family. Our spirit is unique in the Northeast: we value freedom and personal responsibility, and we can be a little stubborn in all the right ways about defending our rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That goes double for many of us who came to the Granite State from places where they don't quite see things the same way.

This past legislative session, far too many bills promoting freedom and fiscal responsibility came too close to call, and despite majority support, too many commonsense proposals failed for lack of a few Republican votes. The fact is, New Hampshire's Live Free or Die spirit is under constant assault. A stronger, more committed Republican majority is essential to hold the line. With your help, we can do that and more: cut taxes and overregulation, control spending, ensure parental prerogatives, preserve Constitutionally protected rights, and defend our citizens from federal government

Never Forget

Do you remember what you were doing 20 years ago on Saturday when the images and words of the September 11th attacks came across our television screens? We're sure many of you will never forget that day, but September 11th is more than the date of a horrific event. It also marks the day when most of everything we took for granted about life in America disappeared. It's the date when we ever so briefly put aside our political and philosophical differences and came together as a nation.

That's particularly relevant this year, when our freedom and ability to choose is being changed and challenged every day.

What makes America great is the freedom to choose and to know that our choices both large and small have a ripple effect that define us as individuals. This freedom is central to our government and the American way of life, central to the concept of democracy.

The attack on September 11th was an attempt to destroy the freedom to live our lives as we want. On that day in 2001, we understood the importance of coming together as one nation for a greater good, not for power, money, or control. We must remember that today.

Memory is important for the progression of a society; today that memory is being thwarted by an attempt to erase the negative history that built our society as we know it. In the face of strife, we need to come together and join hands to combat whatever negative and violent occurrences are happening in our country such as protests in which we are pitting ourselves against each other, or destroying monuments that represent how far we have come and an era that we never want to return to.

These monuments reminds us of the horrible things in our past and guide us to be better in the future.

Most of us will hold forever the images of the World Trade Center towers collapsing in on themselves, within them trapping more than 1,000 people and condemning them to death; most of us will remember the bravery of the firefighters, police, and ordinary citizens who were unexpected participants in a disaster of epic proportions.

Unity was the operative word after September 11th, 2001, but after watching Congress this past session, unity is a word that seems to have been banished from the dictionary.

Sixteen years later, we have become disunited and divided, having lost content and clarity to emotion and party line.

Unity is not a sign of weakness. No firefighter asked whether the workers on the top floors of the towers were Republican or Democrat, liberal or conservative. None of that mattered. Human beings rushed into the unknown to help out fellow human beings. They were emblematic of the humanity we all share and the opposite of the inhumanity exhibited by the terrorists.

In spite of our busy lives, we hope each one of you pauses on September 11th to recall what we lost that day, and to reflect on what is important to remember. There is a bigger picture out there than a political divide, so embrace the past good, bad, and indifferent for that is what makes us remember so history is not repeated.

We show our love for our country in many different ways. We understood that after the attacks and we must remember that today.

Be thankful of what kinds of people we have become.

Security in our Schools

To the editor,

As we open the school year, many of you, like each of us on the School Board, are increasingly attentive of safety and security in our schools. The School District has long had an Emergency Operations Committee, working closely with Londonderry Police and Fire to promote and prioritize safety of our students and buildings.

At the beginning of 2022, many members of the Londonderry School District admin team became "ALICE certified", working hand in hand with our Police Department to learn new, more effective responses to a variety of potential scenarios. Over the summer, over 600 teachers and staff went through ALICE training, experiencing simulated scenarios and developing the skillsets needed to respond appropriately. These skills range from active decision making, communication, information sharing and effective, safe, evacuation and mitigation strategies.

ALICE is an acronym that stands for Alert, Lockdown, Inform, Counter and Evacuate. It is far improved from prior methods and empowers teachers and staff to make decisions based on available information rather than sitting and waiting to be told what to do. Several of us on the School Board recently had the opportunity to experience ALICE training for ourselves. We left with a sense of awe and respect for our teachers and staff who actively prepare themselves on how to best protect their students. We also left secure in the knowledge, professionalism, commitment and dedication of our Police Department and School Resource Officers. Not only do our SROs take time to obtain and maintain their credentials as certified school resource officers, they take time over the summer to train, teach, coach and empower our staff to be in the best, most educated position to protect our students. As a Board, are grateful for the chance to partner with the Londonderry Police Department and are humbled by the teachers and staff who used their time this summer to complete ALICE training.

The School District will also be hosting an informational night on Sept. 22 at 6 p.m., in the LHS Gym for anyone in the community interested in learning more. To make sure we have enough seating, we are asking for RSVPs, either online at Londonderry.org or via phone at 603-432-6920.

Eleven Amazing Nights

To the editor,

If we were playing Jeopardy, the question would be: What is Londonderry Concerts on the Common? Another fantastic year of Concerts on the Common has ended and it was amazing! Kudos go out to Julie and Steve Lee, Ellen and Larry Casey and all of the Londonderry Arts Council volunteers who worked so hard to bring all of the talented performers to the Londonderry Bandstand. From new musical talent to talent who have been making music for over 50 years, every night was a treat. Thank you to Londonderry Fire Rescue, Londonderry Police Department, Londonderry Highway Department and all of the Town Hall staff who spent hours helping with planning, keeping all of the attendee's safe, healthy and keeping the common clean for all to enjoy. A tremendous Thank You to the many attendees who purchased and donated gifts of all sorts for the FREE raffle, always a fun time of the night! This year will be tough to beat, but I would be willing to bet that the volunteers are already planning on how to attract the best of the best of performers for our pleasure.

Voting for Packard

To the editor,

This past legislative year, the Republican legislature passed Education Freedom Accounts to allow students and families a choice in where to send their children. Education is not one-size-fits-all, and there are many students who may fall through the cracks. As soon as the program launched, over 1,800 students took advantage of alternate education opportunities.

Each student in our state deserves to meet their potential, and House Republicans will support anything to help students succeed.

There are many families who struggled to find the right fit for their child(ren), and the Education Freedom Accounts was a game changer that opened up opportunities for students who otherwise would not have the chance to compete. While there are still students who do not qualify for this program due to income limitations, school choice remains one of the top priorities for Speaker Sherm Packard. It is pretty clear that when children need help, their best chance of getting it is when their parents know what is going on. It is not the educators, but parents who have primary rights in the upbringing of children. Educators and parents should be partners in a child's education, and parents should not be misled or left in the dark regarding their children's activities or what they are learning.

The cost of education is going up while enrollment is going down. Republicans are working to find ways to streamline administrative costs while ensuring most of our taxpayer dollars are going to educate our children. There is still more to do, that is why I am voting for Speaker Sherm Packard in the primary races on Sept. 13, 2022. Under his leadership, NH Republicans will be the voice of parents in Concord, and will not put systems ahead of our children.

Al Baldasaro
Londonderry

Voting Sept. 13th

To the editor,
The Sept. 13 primary is right around the corner, and I urge all Londonderry residents to come out and cast your ballots. I ask for your vote as one of the seven positions in District 16 for state representative so I can continue the work set out over the last few years. Part of that work included passing the most conservative and effective state budget in NH history. This put $100 million into the state education system which reduced the amount of money the towns needed to provide into that system. We also returned over $60 million to towns for bridges and infrastructure.

I've attended most Town Council meetings to gauge what's important to the town and to report on any upcoming bills that could affect us. It's important to relate what goes on in Concord as well as to take our concerns up there. One example is when I received a briefing on a potential energy situation. I immediately arranged for Eversource to brief the Town Council on the situation and the mitigation plans. Constituent services are also very important. I recently learned of a fixed-income resident who had many issues with his home weatherization but was unable to get help. I contacted the appropriate agency and within a few days, a complete weatherization audit was conducted. I was also able to obtain the proper paperwork for some property tax relief.

A few other state representatives and I attended some school board meetings to see how we could assist parents' concerns in Concord. Our takeaway produced some good legislation to address these issues. Number one on my list this term is parental rights, and I will encourage the House to pass it.

I believe Londonderry voters are very worried on matters such as how to afford the extreme cost increases of food, gas, electricity, heating fuel and other federally induced skyrocketing costs. Close to home, they want more parental control over schools and what's being taught. Now we may need to worry who will pay for the student debt forgiveness recently initiated. Fortunately, NH is better off than other states in the northeast due to the able conservative leadership of our incumbent state representatives and senators. But there is more to do, and I intend to build on our accomplishments with fiscal conservative principles, reducing government interference, and making school choice more available by reasonable, not extreme, legislation.

I would be honored to continue the work we started. I ask for your vote this Sept. 13. Please see my website for more information at: doughthomasnhrep.com.

Vote for Packard

To the editor,

I will be voting for House Speaker Sherman Packard to represent the citizens of Londonderry. During his time in Concord, he and House Republicans passed pro-economy legislation that helped our state economy bounce back from COVID faster than any other state in the nation.

House Republicans lowered business taxes twice, produced a state budget surplus, and brought the state's Rainy Day Fund to the highest in our history. They reduced burdensome regulations and returned money back to cities and towns to help maintain our infrastructure and lower property taxes statewide.

With smart, careful planning and less government interference, Republicans have proven that we can trust them with keeping our fiscal health strong, even if we see a recession at the federal level. Let's protect our conservative majority at the State House. Make sure to cast your vote for House Speaker Sherman Packard for state representative on Tuesday, Sept. 13. Let's send him back to Concord to continue doing good work for the Londonderry community and the state of NH.

Londonderry has seven dedicated State Representatives, plus one “floater” with Windham. If you elect me to serve you, you can count on me to show up and cast my vote in a consistent, principled manner that comports with the US and NH Constitutions, the Republican Party Platform, and the best interests of Londonderry citizens. Specifically, I support fiscal prudence, freedom of conscience, parents’ rights, school choice and human dignity. I will vote against every proposed income tax, any diminishment of free speech, and the erosion of our right to keep and bear arms.

Dave Lundgren
Incumbent

At this time, as a state representative, I am on the state and federal Veterans Affairs Committee. I am dedicated to helping those that have served. One topic that is top of mind is opioid abuse. Sadly, this is on the rise and our veterans and active military have a high incidence of abuse. I drafted HB247 which is currently in the study committee and is an opioid reduction act. It is essentially alternative care for chronic pain. This bill requires the Department of Health and Human Services to create a voluntary non-opioid directive form which may be used for non-opioid treatment options for pain. This bill also establishes insurance coverage for such treatment options. The committee will meet this summer to hopefully bring this bill to vote in the next session. I am proud to work with both republicans and democrats for the betterment of our great state and for our neighbors. I have always worked across the aisle to garner support from my democratic constituents. As a result, I have received cooperation from the other side. If I have your support, hopefully we can pass this bill.

It is my intention to run for another term as your representative for the town of Londonderry and I would like to take this opportunity to ask for your vote. If you trust me again with your vote, I will be the representative who continues to listen to you and continues to work to solve the challenges that we face because YOUR voice matters. I will continue working to restore New Hampshire to the way life should be. Again, I firmly believe that the people of New Hampshire are worth fighting for.

Kristine Perez

An easy answer as to why I am the best candidate to choose as a Londonderry State Representative is to just state my qualities that the people of this town have come to know. I pride myself on my honesty, my transparency, and my true commitment to all the people of Londonderry. My honesty comes easily as I believe that the truth is the only way to communicate. I research issues thoroughly before I speak and attempt to obtain every detail. I must admit that, at times, the real truth can only be found beneath the layers of mud placed on it by those that want it hidden. I have no personal agenda other than to serve and represent the residents of this great town. My first, but not only priorities, currently for Londonderry and the State are energy (electricity), pure water, and parental rights. I have also signed and submitted the “State Taxpayers Protection Pledge” to vote against “any and all efforts to increase taxes” as well as the Taxpayers Pledge with the “Coalition of NH Taxpayers” stating that I will “oppose all efforts to impose a sales, income, or broad-based tax”. I will fight for the Second Amendment having started the “Londonderry Second Amendment Preservation Coalition” in 2021. We worked with “Protect NH” providing education and action on Bills being put forward in the State concerning our rights.

I have been called a strong conservation and a Patriot. I love this State and this Country. I will follow the NH Constitution. I have studied it for multiple years and just recently attended another class on its legal interpretation.

Please consider and vote for me on September 13, 2022, so that I might proudly and enthusiastically serve my community.

Respectfully, Kristine Perez (Candidate for NH State Representative District 16)

Moir Ryan

My name is Moira Ryan and I am running for state representative I am fighting for people to live their best lives.

We need to: encourage more healthcare specialists to come to NH and open small business practices. We have severe waitlists due to onerous regulations. Small businesses pay taxes removing tax burden from homeowners. We must keep taxes low so people survive inflation.

We must improve education. Education affects so much: the quality and availability of the workforce, retirement, and prosperity of our children and theirs. Globalization has negatively impacted the workforce as jobs moved overseas. Education is a means of giving people flexibility. At present, almost 20% of graduating classes consist of people with no meaningful employment skills. This is unsustainable, stopping them from participating fully in society. I have championed three bills which were signed by the governor. I rallied for para training (now available through NHTI/321). I continue to work on attaining the best educational opportunities for children, including school choice.

Parents have huge role. The #1 indicator of school success is parent involvement. Parent involvement does NOT mean fundraising/volunteering. It means being transparent. Telling the public what is happening in schools with curriculum and what money is being spent on. It means guaranteeing public comment. It means conducting adequate background checks and ensuring children are safe. It means being accountable to the people.

I have been part of the SAC education committee and am a chair for dispute resolution. I have run organizations like Order of Omega and Phi Mu. I have worked for Fortune 500 Companies.

I am a veteran and I advocate for my fellow veterans. I want the best for my children and yours.

Sherman Packard - Incumbent

I am proud of the hard work done by the NH legislature in Concord, and as House Speaker, I am equally proud of the Republican accomplishments that have carried our state through the pandemic and left us in a better financial position than pre-COVID.

For the last 16 terms, I’ve had the honor of representing Londonderry. I am a retired small business owner, a member of the Masonic Fraternity and of the Londonderry Lions Club. I am deeply committed to my community and believe everyone has the right to individual freedom and to live according to his or her own standards without government interference. As your legislator, I have taken that philosophy with me to Concord. It has dictated the way I conduct myself in everything that I have

Sensory Equipment Recently Installed at Funway Park

Local couple Katie and Brandon Keeley try out the newly installed sensory equipment at Funway Park with twins Cameron and Chase.

LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Funway Park Playground area at the LAFA Complex on Sargent Road recently had three pieces of Sensory Equipment added, in large part, through the efforts of resident mom, Katie Keeley, and her fundraising efforts over the past few years.

Keeley, the mother of twin boys with autism, saw a need for the equipment after visiting the park and seeing a need to accommodate those with special needs.

She soon realized

what a major undertaking it would be after pricing the equipment and seeing just how expensive it was.

Keeley was able to raise nearly $30,000 for three pieces of equipment; a wheel chair accessible merry-go-round "spinner"; drums with chimes; and an adaptive swing were delivered and installed just before Old Home Day.

Donations came from a number of different sources: The Londonderry Lions Club, Londonderry Police Association, Reeds Ferry Sheds, Pro Image Painting, the Women's Club of Londonderry, Special Olympics, North School, Moosehill teachers, Tierpoint Disaster Recovery Solutions, Londonderry Athletic Field Association, Millennium Running, Families of the Mill Pond Neighborhood and many other families, neighbors and friends including the Yarrington Family and the Patel Family.

Keeley is also looking into a shade for the playground, but has no immediate plans for that. She's also hoping to do a volunteer clean up day, but hasn't had time to make plans for that yet.

On Sept. 13, I ask you to support my friend, Laura El-Azem, for State Representative. I have known Laura for 20 years, first meeting her when we both attended a playgroup at St. Jude's Church with our now grown sons. In the time that I have known her, I have admired her dedication to her family (which grew to a family of 7 when she and her husband adopted their 3 beautiful daughters and younger son through DCYF) and our local community. Over the years, Laura has served on our town's Planning Board, the board of directors for the Sonshine Soup Kitchen in Derry and has been active in her kids' schools. She is a positive person, intelligent and able to discuss political issues and agree to disagree while not being disagreeable. Throughout her campaign (her first for public office), Laura has reached out to voters by door-knocking and talking directly with people, asking them about the issues that concern them most.

While making these personal connections, she has heard the shared worries about the economy, rising inflation and high gas prices which affect all families, both young and old. I know that if Laura is elected to the House of Representatives, she will continue to listen to the people she serves and bring her dedication to Concord. I know there are many choices to consider for State Rep this fall. Please be sure to include Laura El-Azem as one of yours.

Sincerely,
Lara McIntyre

Dunn Will Get It Done

To the editor,
I've worked with Ron Dunn for several years and know he is ready to be a state representative for Londonderry. He is a tireless defender for Londonderry's citizens' rights and living conditions.

When he saw how inflation was affecting our economy and property taxes were climbing out of control, he didn't just complain about it. He forgoes the rhetoric, jumped in, and got elected to the Budget Committee to lend his strong values of fiscal conservation to the decision-making process of the committee.

Ron is passionate about improving Londonderry's water and other environmental issues. He believes everyone should have access to clean water for the health and welfare of our citizens and children. Ron stepped up and joined the Londonderry Solid Waste and Environmental Committee, the Londonderry Energy Efficiency Task Force, the HB737 PFSA Commission, and the National PFAS Coalition.

His positive attitude and "can do" philosophy instill confidence and is something very refreshing in today's times! He has demonstrated his ability to help our town. He delivers instead of promising. Ron says "elect me and I'll continue to fight for you everyday" in Londonderry and Concord.

He also realizes that not all problems we face within the state can be resolved locally. He knows that many issues like energy costs, border control and inflation are caused by Federal policies. His reasonable approach will help mitigate these and other issues within the authority of a state representative.

Ron has earned my endorsement because of his tireless work and accomplishments. I want someone who has pitched in day to day and shown the aptitude of knowing what a state representative means. He is the one who stepped up and fights for you every day and will continue to fight for you when you send him to Concord as a state representative from Londonderry.

These are just a few reasons why I support Ron Dunn for one of Londonderry's elected state representatives in the Primary Election on Sept. 13. He will make an excellent addition to another well-qualified candidate, Laura El-Azem and the five incumbents to represent District 16!

done as your elected representative.

I am asking to be re-elected as your state representative to continue the good work House Republicans have delivered this year. Under my leadership as House Speaker, Republicans produced a fiscally responsible and balanced budget, cutting spending by $172.5 million over the prior state portion which resulted in a 3% cut from budget to budget. Today, NH enjoys an historically low unemployment rate, steady job growth and a boom in small business ventures. I worked hard to help establish Education Freedom Accounts, I spoke out against federal overreach and was able to deliver over $300 million to cities and towns - including Londonderry - for roads, bridges and property tax relief.

and keep the state of NH moving in the right direction. I am grateful for your vote! Re-elect me, Sherm Packard, as your state representative on Tuesday, September 13th.

Wayne D. MacDonald - Incumbent

I want to begin this message by thanking you for the opportunity to serve you and all of our fellow citizens in the State House for these past two years. The Republican-led legislature has accomplished a great deal, from cutting needs to be done in addition to it and I want to be a part of that.

Public service is very important to me. Prior to being elected as one of your state representatives in 2020, I worked at the New Hampshire Department of Health and Human Services for twenty-three years, investigating and prosecuting welfare fraud. I retired as the senior investigator for the Department in 2019, having resolved 2,339 cases. Hundreds of with folks on "both sides of the aisle". The acrimonious state of the public and private discourse in politics today is not helping our democratic form of government. Anne Fenn is a strong believer in the democratic process and knows that without listening and discussion and compromise nothing will get accomplished to help all of us. I urge you to seriously consider casting your vote for Anne Fenn in the upcoming election.

those cases were resolved as successful prosecutions, resulting in convictions in either circuit or superior court. The cases which were resolved through criminal and civil actions resulted in hundreds of thousands of dollars being returned to the state coffers.

Even though I was only in my first term in the legislature this past term and served as a freshman, my experience in state government and politics in general (managing campaigns and serving in multiple Republican Party leadership roles), enabled me to serve as the Vice Chairman of the House Committee on Election Law. I supported many efforts to make our elections more secure.

My various experiences have enabled me to learn a great deal about how to get things done and who to work with in the process. As you consider the seven choices you have in this primary, I think that I have made the case I am one of the best ones. I respectfully ask for your vote.

Doug Thomas - Incumbent

Being a state representative allowed me the freedom and the ability to pay back to my community to keep NH and Londonderry the great place they are. I've been a NH resident since I was 9 years old and fully understand what it means to be fiscally conservative, have less government overreach, and promote liberty as the best way towards the pursuit of happiness. I've seen our freedoms eroded by politicians who believe Government is the solution. It's not. More government is the problem. Now, more than ever, we need a strong, conservative voice with a record to back it up.

I have that record.

I'm proud to have served Londonderry by voting against statewide income and sales taxes, government overreach, gun-grab bills, third trimester terminations, and more. I've proudly supported school choice, parental rights in schools, home school improvements, PFAS water bills, election integrity reform, reducing business taxes, no-mask mandates, and much more.

I have been endorsed by the NH Liberty Alliance, the NRA with an "A" rating, received the Conservative Excellence Award by CPAC and ACUF with a 97% score, received the Legislative Gold Award from the Granite State Taxpayers, Cornerstone Action score 100%, and have a 95% House Republican Alliance score.

Experience does matter. We passed important legislation that has kept New Hampshire on the right track. But to build on our successes, we need to do more to strengthen our progress, especially in education, election integrity, energy policies, assistance for our elderly and fixed income residents, and more. That is why I am running again and believe I'm best qualified to be part of the Londonderry delegation. With your support, we will continue to make the changes to keep NH going in that direction. I ask for your vote in the primary on September 13.

District 35 candidate Roger W Fillio

I am the best candidate to represent you, largely because of my long, varied work and learning history. I have worked in the school system. I completed 35 years Army service, Training coordination, Instruction and Plan Development.

Being able to react and make decisions to keep moving forward and finish the plan/job was a skill I learned early and still use today.

I have worked in the retail industry at many levels. I started as a store manager in small company and early on I became Construction Manager. From that single store we grew to 50 large stores in major malls. It is now called the GAP.

The ability to see a problem, analyze it, and move forward with solution to get positive results.

My pledge to You is:

I will attend all days the House Representatives are sessions and attend all assigned committees possible. As Representative of the people, I will listen to and keep them informed.
