Conservation Increases Public Feedback at Meetings

PAUL CONYERS

The Conservation Commission interviewed Richard Lombard of 46 Calla Road to fill an open, alternate spot at their May 29 meeting.

“I have a pretty good idea of what Conservation Commissions do, in Massachusetts, I was on the Board of Health for a town for quite a while and the Open Space and Trails Committee,” said Lombard. “There were a lot of issues that kind of bothered me, like putting a development on top of a Zone two aquifer, so I would go to a lot of different meetings besides the Board of Health.”

He indicated it was his first time serving locally for a New Hampshire town. While the Town Council must approve the appointment, the Conservation Commission voted to recommend Lombard’s appointment.

“Thank you for volunteering!” said Chair, Marge Badois.

Members wanted to look into new ways of increasing public participation at their meetings by formally adding a

Town Proposing Power Aggregation Project Plan

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Town Council held a public hearing regarding the proposed Community Choice Aggregation Project on June 3.

It was explained by Utilities Committee Chair, Lynn Wiles, that in order to adopt the program, they need to have two public hearings, noting that this was the first step of the process.

Stuart Ormsby of Colonial Power Group accompanied Wiles, and explained that the Utilities Committee worked with them to make a plan, something required under the statute, in order to move forward.

He said the Community Aggregate project is something the “town is at least considering and we have a plan for it.”

Ormsby explained that the idea is to have the community aggregate together to get their power source who normally get it from utility companies. In Londonderry, the main company is Eversource, with some people using the New Hampshire Electric Cooperative.

Ormsby explained that it wouldn’t interfere with people making decisions on their own, or using their current utility company or going with other options.

One of the concepts is to be able to have more sustainable rates, if not cheaper rates, than the utility companies. Ormsby added that the utility companies go out and buy power on a set schedule whether it’s a good time to buy or not.

“They follow a schedule that’s dictated to them by the Utilities Commission,” he said

LHS Graduates Reflect On Their High School Years

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

On June 14, hundreds of Londonderry High School graduates will cross the stage at this year’s graduation.

This year’s top two students are Matt Doyle, who earned the distinction of Valedictorian, and Caitlyn Bailey, who earned the distinction of Salutatorian.

Matt Doyle
Valedictorian

When asked about earning the distinction, Doyle said “This distinction is a great honor.”

“Throughout my educational career, I have always strived to do my best but never focused on this distinction as a potential achievement,” Doyle said. “With that said, I feel this honor is a reflection of my dedication and hard work.”

Some of Doyle’s favorite moments during his career in Londonderry schools include playing soccer, basketball, and volleyball all four years at Londonderry High School land listening to outrageous stories from the late Mr. MacLellan at LMS.”

Town Manager Making Wastewater Facilities a Priority

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Utilities Committee met on June 4 to discuss feedback from the first public hearing of the Community Aggregation Project and also discussed the Town Managers plan to make wastewater facilities in town a priority.

"I thought the presentation went very well; it was well received by the Town Council. Right now, we need to start thinking about our next step which is public hearing number two," said Chair, Lynn Wiles, although he was disappointed by the "underwhelming" turnout.

That time and location proved to be a possible issue. While the high school cafeteria was the preferred choice, it was unclear whether such a large venue was available during a summer Saturday.

After some debate, the Committee aimed for 10 a.m. on Saturday, June 29 as the date of the second hearing. The meeting will be held in the Moose Hill Council Chambers.

Colonial Power had experience working on a similar project in Massachusetts, and members wanted to know about Colonial's experience working with community aggregation in that state. The project cannot move forward without a second public hearing.

The energy subcommittee did not have good news on the proposed solar array at the old Auburn Road landfill, as the need to run a three-phase power line to the site continued to serve as a barrier.

"We heard from Revision Energy, who had been working with us on the possibility of running through phase power to the Superfund site," said Mike Speltz. "They tried to pencil us out, but they just can't make it work because the over $1 million it would take getting the power line over there didn't justify the amount of power they could create at that site."

Members are still looking for alternative ways to fund the power line.

"Revision said they'd be back in a heartbeat if we can figure that problem out," Speltz added. "There are sort of two solutions, get the power out there or find another place to put the panels."

With continued interest in a solar project, Speltz wondered if putting panels on the roofs of town-owned buildings might be a possible compromise. Alternatively, he suggested looking deeper into federal programs the power line might qualify for.

Town Manager, Mike Malaguti, announced his desire to move forward with a wastewater facilities plan for Londonderry with an eye on expanding the sewer system to areas where such work would make economic sense. He also hoped to talk with Director of Public Works, John Trottier, about working out the details of that plan in the coming weeks.

"That is one of my priorities for the coming year. Most of the work has been done on this, it's a question of getting it before the committee," Malaguti explained.

"There's a series of policy decisions that need to be made about how much we want to invest and where the areas of need are."

He wanted input from the Utilities Committee before bringing anything before the Town Council.

The next meeting of the Utilities Committee is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, July 2, in the Moose Hill Council Chambers, on the first floor at 7 p.m.

Community aggregation would be "much more strategic," with Ormsby, saying they look at opportunities to lock in prices as an example.

He said while the program will be an "opt out" program meaning customers would automatically be enrolled into the program, unless they opt out of it, they would be allowed to enter or leave at any point without a fee.

"They can come and go into the program as they wish," Ormsby said.

The one exception would be for net metering customers who would have to opt in versus automatically being enrolled.

It was also noted that there are some other options offered as part of the community aggregation program that utility companies may not offer like being able to get 100% renewable energy.

Wiles said the Utilities Committee supported moving forward with the program with Colonial Power noting that they vetted the competitors.

School Board Review Proposed District Logo Change

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

During the June 4 School Board meeting, one of the agenda items was in regards to a proposal to change the school district's logo and a rebranding.

"For the past half year, the Communication's Committee has been recommending the School District consider adopting a new logo and new slogan, as an opportunity to re-brand the School District for the next couple of decades," Superintendent, Dan Black, wrote in a memo to the School Board.

He also noted the current slogan that the District has was put in place around 20 years ago. Black explained that the Communication Committee went through a "number of iterations and this is the one they kind of landed on."

"We intend to share this with staff before the School Year is out and with families and students as they come back next year," Black wrote in a memo to the School Board.

Black also explained that they hope to have a competition for creating a new slogan.

"Our goal is to also have a contest to see if we can have students, staff, parents, and community members give suggestions on adopting a new slogan to go with it," Black wrote in a memo noting that the Committee "has a few tentative ideas."

He said the hope is to have it done by time the updated Strategic Plan is done.

"By the time we are done with the updated Strategic Plan we would intend to have the new logo and slogan adopted as well," Black said.

It was noted by Black that they don't expect changing the logo to cost much money writing "This change has been and will be at minimal cost to the School District."

"Our Communication's Committee developed the logo in house," Black stated. "We would intend to keep on using any stationary that has the old logo until they are used and incorporate the change over time to make the costs minimal."

School Board member, Amanda Butcher, who serves as the liaison for the Communication Committee, said the Committee worked hard over the last six months "to get positive feedback out to the community show everybody what the kids are doing things of that nature and specifically Mr. (Scott) Sicard worked really hard on creating pretty much a book of options to choose from... he did that on his personal time so [I] just wanted to thank him on his hard work on that." School Board Chair, Bob Slater, said he isn't opposed to the idea of rebranding since they are working on its new Strategic Plan.

However, he said he wasn't trying to insult anyone, but said, "I would like to see some different version of the L," saying he thinks it could potentially be a "little more pronounced."

Other School Board members agreed and Butcher said they could bring it back to the Communication's Committee for further review.

The next School Board meeting is slated to take place on June 18 at 7 p.m.

No one from the public spoke during the public hearing.

The next step in the process is for a second public hearing to be held later this month.

From there the Town Council would need to make a decision if they want to move forward with getting approval from the State.

If the program moves forward Ormsby noted that there would be a number of outreach opportunities to discuss what it entails and opportunities for people to opt out.

The next public hearing is set to take place on Saturday, June 29, 10 a.m. at Town Hall.

Let's Keep it Rural & Affordable

It seems like the more we grow, the bigger our tax bills get. Is it time to put in place a Growth Management Ordinance to get a handle on water issues, traffic problems, and yes even our tax bills?

What is a moratorium, you ask? According to the law firm Rudmann Winchell "it is a type of ordinance that a municipal legislative body may enact, that temporarily halts certain, specified development to give the municipality time and opportunity to plan for accommodating or managing the development (or banning it all together)".

Moratoriums can be a valuable tool for local governments and municipalities, but they are special types of ordinances that must be carefully drafted to satisfy specific state law requirements."

What would you like your town to look like? Has the town asked the people lately? We're not claiming to speak for all, but the topic of what kind of community we are keeps popping up in town. I hear residents expressing their fear about property tax increases, traffic, safety, lowering the quality of life, and neighborhoods changing - but not for the better.

Towns face pressure from the State to keep updated on ordinances and alter zoning to accommodate developers' wants and needs. Lobbyists for developers, contractors, and real estate developers push laws through the State, such as the Planning Review Board, to take away your local control at the Town level.

The town keeps pointing a finger at the State. Things like high-density apartments seem to only benefit the developer. They yield the largest return but do they really make housing more affordable? Local new apartments start at $1,800, going as high as $3,550 a month, and you do not own.

That begs the question; is it the cost of the houses that are out of reach, or the property taxes? Why does the town government feel the need to keep growing? More traffic, more safety concerns, and a higher school budget are always the consequence.

We [the taxpayers] were told if we paid for the infrastructure, tax bills would go down from all new businesses and housing, but all we got are distribution centers and higher tax bills. Who truly benefits from this type of building?

We pass ordinances in town for a reason and a moratorium ordinance should be brought to light before it's too late and our town loses the rest of its rural charm.

Response to Editorial

To the editor,

I recently read the editorial titled "Ethics in Government: Chartering the Right Course," and I must respectfully express my disagreement with its portrayal of the Londonderry Town Council's actions and intentions.

The editorial suggests that the council is dismissing the vote of the electorate and operating in a manner lacking transparency and ethical standards. This is simply not true. The council is committed to transparency, thoughtful deliberation, and respect for the voters' input.

During the last Town Council meeting, I emphasized the importance of a careful and deliberate approach, stating, "things built in a hurry come down in a hurry." This reflects my dedication to making well-considered decisions that truly benefit our community. The advisory-only citizen petitions presented during the March Town election were first mentioned at the deliberative session, where they were briefly discussed by the petitioners. There was very little conversation and limited understanding of these petitions before they were put on the ballot in compliance with state law (RSA 39:3). To ensure any changes are made with a mindful and informed approach, I decided to address each petition individually during our Town Council meetings.

This allows us to hear directly from petitioners, gather public feedback, and thoroughly discuss each petition's implications.

Councilor Faber also highlighted that there might be unintended consequences of these citizen petitions, which is why I believe handling these matters mindfully and not recklessly is crucial. The implication that we are not committed to transparency and ethical governance is unfounded. My actions are aimed at fostering open communication and maintaining the trust of our constituents.

I normally ask people to judge me by my actions, not words, but this editorial needs to be addressed. I encourage all residents to stay informed by watching the council meetings and getting the full picture. It is crucial to engage with the actual discussions and decisions being made, rather than relying on incomplete portrayals.

Together, we're better.

Londonderry

Town Ethics

To the editor,

Two topics I want to address;

First, I am giving a very big shout out to Glenn Douglas of Town Underground. Hip-Hip Hooray, for all you are doing for us citizens of Londonderry.

I'm new to this site and find it unbelievable as a person living in Londonderry since 1968, I've just discovered you. Just wanted you to know how much your work, and it is Mammoth, is appreciated.

I for one have found the Town Underground a reliable information source for our town government. And I don't know how I had escaped even knowing of its existence, but now that I do, I say thank you.

Wonder what our Town Council would be like if you were a member.

Am thinking pretty well.

Thank the stars in Heaven for you and for this newspaper.

Second, I definitely do not like that our town government is ignoring the wishes of the voters. If they would give a response to why this might not be good, a discussion not just one sided, could be start to get something done, but to just say, this might not be good for the town, is not a reason.

The question than is why?

As has been mentioned before, our town manager seems to have an oppositional approach to matters rather than a listening approach to town's people and business.

Could this be the culture that he is promoting within the town council or is the town council promoting this on to the manger?

“We pretty much let anybody comment, but it was pointed out to me that because it’s not in our agenda, people don’t know that they can come and be called on,” said Badois.

Member, Deb Lievens, asked how other committees conducted public comments. Town Council stuck out, having comments at the start of each meeting, while others only have comments after a formal presentation.

“At the town meeting, one of the articles that won a majority of the votes was to have public comments before and after each meeting,” said Vice Chair, Eugene Harrington. “I don’t see a problem with doing that, we’re not exactly overwhelmed with crowds here. Such a model would allow people to comment without having to sit through a full meeting while allowing residents to respond to whatever was discussed. Members agreed to put public comments at the beginning and end of every agenda moving forward.

There were technical difficulties in getting the new email system to work for everyone. The Chair singled out a lack of notification as a particularly annoying issue.

“If you send an email to somebody on the new system, and you have a typo in the address, you will never get a bounce back notice,” she stated. “I need to go back through the last six months of email to see who emails us on a regular basis that we haven’t seen in a while. It’s got some kinks for sure.”

Alternate, Mike Speltz, had been in contact with the NH Department of Environmental Services regarding a dock permit for the boat launch on Brewster Road.

“I had a very brief conversation with the right guy. However, I lost contact with him. I talked to him in Thursday, but he was gone Friday, and he was gone today,” said Speltz. “I will keep trying, but he is an expert on structures.”

The Conservation Commission meets on the second and fourth Tuesday of every month at 7:30 p.m. in the Moose Hill Council Chambers.

Susan C. Elmore

Susan C. Elmore, 75, passed away peacefully on Wednesday, June 5, 2024, at her home in Londonderry, NH. She was born Susan A. Cavanaugh on May 4, 1949, the daughter of the late James and Dorothy (Quinn) Cavanaugh.

Susan grew up in Newtown, CT and was the first in her family to go to college, graduating from Sacred Heart University as her class’s valedictorian. She then entered the workforce at Travelers in Hartford, CT, where she met Paul Elmore. Paul and Susan married on Oct. 21, 1972, and remained married up until Paul’s passing 45 years later in 2017.

Susan lived a very full life, occupied by her professional work as an accountant, her family life as a wife and mother, and her various interests that included singing in the church choir at St. Matthew Parish and tap dancing, which she enjoyed even into her 70s after two knee replacements! Even in her retirement years, Susan remained active with her grandchildren and as a member of her condo association’s governing board. Susan brought her keen mind, her appreciation for attention to detail, and her caring heart to everything she did, and she was well-liked by those who worked, prayed, sang, or danced with her.

Susan is survived by her daughter, Julie Elmore of Ayer, MA, and her son and daughter-in-law, John Elmore and Xiaohui Zeng-Elmore of Stratham, NH, whose two boys, Edward Elmore and Brian Elmore, were very fond of their grandmother. ### Frank D. Turrisi

Frank Douglas Turrisi, 88, of Londonderry, NH, passed away on June 3, 2024 in his home, as was his wish. As he reminisced on his life with loved ones, he said that he was at peace, having lived a long, full life doing what he enjoyed with people he wanted to be with. He was always able to keep people entertained with the many stories from his life’s experiences.

With a soft spot for animals, he was surrounded by beloved pets and usually had a cat in his lap or a dog at his feet.

His family is very grateful for the excellent care given to Frank by the VNA Hospice staff, who kept him in good spirits and as comfortable as possible as he dealt with the effects of cancer.

He will be greatly missed.

Following cremation, there will be a graveside service held on Tuesday, June 18, at 11 a.m., in Windham Center Cemetery, Windham, CT.

OBITUARY

Ronald J. Doiron

Ronald J. Doiron, 76, of Londonderry, NH, passed away Wednesday, June 5, 2024 in Colonial Poplin Nursing Home, Fremont, NH with his loving wife of 50 years, Linda, by his side. He was born on April 27, 1948 in Methuen, MA, a son of the late Laurea and Antoinette (Grenier) Doiron.

Ronald is survived by his loving wife, Linda (Pellerin) Doiron of Londonderry; two daughters, Stephanie Bellino of Wilton, CT, and Kimberly Masson of Londonderry; five grandchildren; Tyler, Liam, Luke, Sadie and Jesse; five brothers, Larry Doiron of Pelham, NH, Richard Doiron of Biddeford, ME, Walter Doiron of Fernandina Beach, FL, Arthur Doiron of Lawrence, MA, and Dennis Doiron of Milton, NH; his sister, Loretta Doiron of Hampton, NH; as well as several nieces and nephews; and his beloved dog Casper.

Ron had a strong work ethic and was always willing to lend a hand to anyone who needed it. He had many passions, including watching the Chicago Bears, listening to Neil Diamond, Journey, and Abba, but most of all, he had an incredible talent with his wood working hands. To his family, he was the original Macgyver. Even though he was a quiet man, he found comfort and peace when looking from afar and watching his family and friends laugh and make memories together. One of his favorite places to visit was the ocean, more specifically, Salisbury Beach. Ron always enjoyed a hot cup of coffee, wearing his “Ron” work shirt, and his service in the Coast Guard.

Ron was a strong fighter, but he is now sailing on a journey to shores that we cannot see. He is free from pain and floating peacefully with his blue eyes reflecting off the ocean.

Following cremation, calling hours will be held on Thursday, June 13 from 5 - 7 p.m., in the Peabody Funeral Home & Crematorium, 290 Mammoth Rd., Londonderry. A Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated on Friday, June 14 at 10:30 a.m., in St. Mark The Evangelist Parish, 1 South Rd., Londonderry. In lieu of flowers memorial contributions may be made in Ron’s name to the Brain Injury Association of America, Home Helpers in Londonderry, NH; Colonial Poplin Nursing and Rehabilitation Facility, and Harborside Hospice.

er during seventh grade was pretty memorable," he said.

In terms of advice, he would give students still in the schools Doyle said "get involved."

"You can make the best of memories and form long-lasting friendships by participating in sports, joining clubs or honor societies, or attending school events.

Do not take your time at LHS for granted," Doyle said.

During his high school career, Doyle and his classmates faced challenges along the way.

One that stands out in particular for Doyle was taking Algebra II/Trig during his freshman year, during the pandemic.

"Let's just say Algebra II on Google Meets did not make for an enjoyable experience," Doyle said.

Next year, Doyle will be attending Worcester Polytechnic Institute where he is currently planning on double majoring in Mechanical Engineering and Computer & Electrical Engineering.

Caitlyn Bailey
Salutatorian

For Bailey, she said earning the Salutatorian distinction means that "all my hard work over the last four years was worth it."

During her time in the Londonderry school district, she pointed to a number of favorite moments, including all the "silly moments with my friends during special activities."

*Matt Doyle
Valedictorian*

"My absolute favorite memory of high school was going on a field trip with the Science National Honor Society to see the solar eclipse totality. It was incredible," Bailey said.

During her time in high school, she also faced challenging times.

*Caitlyn Bailey
Salutatorian*

"The most challenging moments were definitely quarantining during my freshman year. It's so hard to learn online only, and I missed my friends so much," Bailey said. "I'm glad that the rest of my high school experience was more normal. I also had to take honors chemistry and driver's ed at the same time, which was not fun."

In the fall, Bailey will be attending the University of NH where she will be majoring in genetics with a focus on genomics.

"I will be a part of the UNH Honors College,"

Bailey said. "I also plan to continue my studio art studies and explore marine biology. In the more distant future, I hope to work as a research scientist someday. I'm not sure exactly where or what I would research, but I have some time to figure that out."

When asked what advice she would give incoming students, she said "This sounds hypocritical, but I would tell incoming students not to care about grades too much."

"Of course, try your best, but sometimes your best is doing half of the assignment and going to bed early," Bailey said. "Or maybe you just need to go get dinner and have some social time. That's okay. You're worth more than a letter grade or a GPA."

School Board Approve Change to Insurance Provider

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

During the May 21 School Board meeting, one of the agenda items was in regards to a proposal to change the school district's insurance carrier.

Business Administrator, Lisa McKenney, said she hadn't given much thought to changing providers because they were satisfied with the service they currently receive, but said, "I thought it was time to sort of see what the prices would come in with Primex,"

In a memo to the School Board, McKenney explained that "Davis & Towle currently provides the Londonderry School District with property and liability, and workers compensation coverage."

"They are the agent and Utica is the property and liability insurer, and AIM is the workers compensation carrier. We have had a great partnership with these firms over the last eight years," McKenney wrote.

She explained that over the last couple of months "we have been working with Primex to get quotes for the District's insurance needs."

"Primex is a not-for-profit public entity risk pool and services municipalities, schools, counties and other governmental entities," McKenney wrote in a memo to the School Board. "Many of our neighboring school districts contract with Primex for their coverage, and highly recommend them."

She said there were a number of factors that they thought were favorable for Primex including:

- Training opportunities for staff, covering a variety of pertinent topics for staff through in-person, remote, and hybrid trainings and meetings

- Primex is a not-for-profit entity, operating surplus is returned to members effectively lowering rates

- Human Resources and legal consultation services

- Rate cap of 8% for workers compensation, and 7% for property and liability coverage, both for one year

- Utica has raised their deductible to $10,000 vs Primex $1,000

"After careful consideration, we are recommending that the District enter into a contract agreement with Primex for property and liability, and workers compensation coverage," McKenney wrote.

McKenney said the savings would be about $1,600.

"There's a small cost savings," McKenney told the School Board.

McKenney also explained that they could see an additional $10,000 in savings, with Primex, if they do some policy work, with getting in compliance in some areas.

The School Board ultimately approved switching to Primex for the upcoming year.

In other news, the School Board was presented with a number of purchasing requests for IT.

One of the items was for Samsung Interactive Boards.

"We received bids from Connection, CDWG, Virtucom, Mad River, and Insight," IT Director, Brandon Weinert, wrote in a memo. "The lowest bid amount for the device model we selected (Samsung WA65D) is for $1495 from Insight. We recommend Insight as the vendor to purchase 20 items for a total of $29,900."

Another purchase was for student laptops.

"We received bids from Whalley, Archie Supply, Y&S Technologies, Connection, CDWG, Virtucom, Mad River, Insight, and Conway Group," Weinert wrote in a memo. "The lowest bid amount for the device model we selected (Lenovo k14) is for $503 from Connection. We recommend Connection as the vendor to purchase 380 items for a total of $191,140."

For teacher laptops Weinert said they received bids from Whalley, Y&S Technologies, Connection, CDWG, Insight, and Conway Group.

"The lowest bid amount for the device model we selected (HP ProBook 450 G10) is for $575 from Insight," Weinert wrote. "We recommend Insight as the vendor to purchase 150 items for a total of $86,250."

For Chromebooks, the District received bids from Whalley, Y&S Technologies, Connection, CDWG, Mad River, Insight, and Conway Group.

"The lowest bid amount for the device model we selected (HP 11 G9) is for $260 from Conway Group," Weinert wrote. "We recommend Conway Group as the vendor to purchase 630 items for a total of $163,800."

The School Board unanimously approved the various requests.

School Summer Projects Include Fire Alarm, Playground

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The School Board received an update regarding major projects this summer during the June 4th meeting.

It was explained during the meeting by Business Administrator Lisa McKenney that as they head into the summer, she thought it was a good time to update the School Board and the public about different things that go voted on during the budget season.

“As school winds down, Buildings and Grounds really wind up to get all the schools ready for the fall,” McKenney said during the meeting.

She explained that the plan is to also give a similar update in the fall when items are completed.

One of the projects expected to be completed this summer is the fire alarm upgrades for South School and Londonderry Middle School. It was noted that the work is expected to begin in late July.

“It should be completed by mid to late August,” McKenney said.

The funds for the project will be coming from the Building and Grounds Capital Reserve fund.

At South School, one of the projects this summer will be playground drainage repair, which is expected to cost $15,710.

“Work to include removal of old degraded bark mulch and replace with new to improve drainage,” McKenney wrote in a memo to the School Board.

She noted that they would be doing a similar type of project as to what they did last year at North School, and the project will be funded through the Buildings and Grounds Capital Reserve.

One of the bigger projects taking place this year will be the district-wide door locks replacement.

“Materials have been ordered and schedules will be set when equipment arrives. In the meantime, wiring will begin when school lets out. Work will be complete by Fall 2024,” McKenney wrote in a memo.

The School Board also received an update regarding the emergency alert buttons project.

“Work began Summer 2023 and after some supply chain delays, all hardware and wiring is complete,” McKenney wrote. “The button programming will begin mid-June. There then will be a testing phase including training for staff and administration prior to the system being completely operational.”

This summer, the plan is to begin the Athletic Field Study, which will be funded through the general fund operating budget, and has the goal of being able to help with assisting the district in terms of what needs to be improved at the fields, and what the costs would likely be.

Other miscellaneous projects for across the district include carpeting at the high school, refinishing the gym floor at the high school, and making improvements to the cafeteria exit doors at the school.

For the Middle School, one of the projects will be the gym floor getting refinished, and there will also be miscellaneous carpet replacement, painting, and ceiling tile replacement happening throughout the district this summer.

The next School Board meeting is set for June 18 at 7 p.m.

Update from Retirement System

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Town Council heard an update from the NH Retirement System (NHRS) at their first June meeting. NHRS Executive Director, Jan Goodwin, and Director of Communications, Marty Karlon, were there with a presentation.

“This past year has been very busy for the NHRS, just in the sense that we went through a once-in-20-year upgrade of our pension administration system database, everything which is essentially the brain of the retirement system,” Karlon explained. “We’re just coming out of that; it went live in December and I’m not sure how it actually went with Londonderry.”

According to him, several employers, continued on page 12

Retirement

continued from page 10 especially those working in the school district, have had trouble adapting to the revamped system.

“We also updated our member retiree portal, My Account, which is a self-service portal where folks can get their own information a benefit amounts,” said Karlon.

He seemed confident that NHRS was getting through technical change, along with some new regulations from Concord that forced some NHRS administrators to reshuffle operations.

Goodwin gave an update on how the fund’s investments have fared.

“This past fiscal year that end June 30, 2023, we had a return of 8.2%, which is very good because our target return is 6.75%,” said Goodwin. “NHRS performed better than two-thirds of its peers in fiscal year 2023 and better than 80% of our peers over the past decade. That’s something that we’re very proud of.”

She went on to explain that three-, five-, ten-, and 25-year returns have also been at, near, or above target for the pension fund.

“How much are we underfunded by?” asked Councilor, Robb Dun.

He was told the pension fund was around $5.5 billion short, despite the growth. Goodwin indicated that the deficit was expected to close over the next 15 years with reforms to the employer contribution rate.

Other updates included improved cybersecurity to the online system and a new Chief Investment Officer for NHRS, who started in 2022 and was looking into new investment opportunities.

Another update came from a few recent bills increasing payouts to a few police officers and firefighters.

“There were 14 bills introduced this year, three have made it through both other House and Senate and are waiting to be signed by Governor Sununu,” said Karlon. “On is a fairly limited bill that would create a new level of disability benefit for police to firefighters.”

The expectation was that such incidents would be few and far between.

“These bills that you had mentioned, will they potentially be increasing the employer rates for the increased payouts?” asked Vice Chair, Ted Combes.

According to Karlon, the expectation was that few firefighters or police officers would suffer from a job-related disability covered under the bill, meaning there would not be a significant increase in payouts.

Lancers Win First-Ever Softball State Championship

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

It's been a long time coming, but the Londonderry High School

softball team was finally able to realize its dream of a state championship over the weekend, beating Pinkerton Academy and Bishop Guertin to solidify that goal.

Head coach, David Johnson, and his team had every reason to celebrate, as they were able to do what so many other very good Lancer teams have never been able to accomplish over 39 years.

The Londonderry squad really put an exclamation point on their 20-2 season, beating the B.G. Cardinals 12-0 in five innings for the Division I title on Saturday night, June 8, at Plymouth State University.

The Lady Cardinals made it to the finals as the number eleven seed, beating the number two seeded Winnacunnet 7-2 in the semi-finals.

It was a complete team effort in the win, with sophomore Elizabeth Kearney and senior Olivia Cutuli combining efforts in the circle on a two-hitter, while striking out eight. Kearney threw for four innings, getting the win and striking out seven batters, with just one hit.

Londonderry fielding was also outstanding, with just one inconsequential error committed in the game by LHS.

Freshman Addie Browning went 4-4 at the plate and tallied three RBIs in the victory and Ginny Flaherty had two hits, including a triple in the bottom of the fifth to drive in the final run of the game.

As pointed out by coach Johnson, it's been 39-years in the waiting and a lot of very good teams have come up short in achieving the title.

Johnson, said after the game, "This is a great group of players," and with just two sen-

In the four-years Johnson has been head coach, he's seen a lot of good players and he noted the strength of his two pitchers.

Lancers Baseball Repeat Foiled by Exeter in Semis

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The defending Division I baseball champions, LHS, had their hopes for another Division I title end last week as they fell 5-1 to the Exeter Blue Hawks in the semifinals.

The Lancers headed into the State Championships as the number three seed and were able to get through the first two rounds without giving up a single run, but against the Blue Hawks, the #2 seed, on Wednesday, June 5, at Holman

Stadium, the team's offense never seemed to click and were not able to regroup after giving up five runs.

Londonderry senior shortstop, Jayden Hamilton, accounted for both of his team's two hits in the game.

Hamilton also had the teams only run, scoring in the third inning after he tripled to center-field to start the inning. He was driven in by senior Owen Carey on a ground ball to second.

Senior LHS pitchers, Joey Cafaro and Ryan Williams, shared duties on the mound, with Williams being saddled with the loss.

Cafaro gave up six hits and four runs with one strikeout and two walks in four innings.

Williams had three Ks and allowed one hit.

Londonderry got behind in their final game of the season early, as a single and an error led to a run being scored on a fly ball to right field.

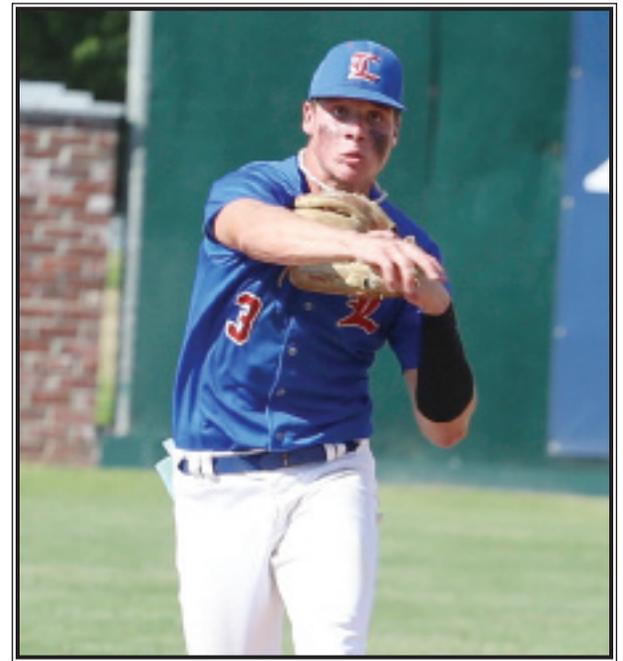

Londonderry tied the game in the top of the third, only to have Exeter score three more runs in the bottom of the third.

The Blue Hawks had three singles and a double to help their cause in the third.

Two walks, an error and a wild pitch gave Exeter their final run of the game.

The Blue hawks went on to play Pinkerton Academy in the Finals on Saturday, June 8, where they lost to the Astros 9-0.

On a positive note, the Londonderry squad had a number of players given state honors by the Baseball Coaches Association of New

Lancers Volleyball Defeated by Dover in Quarterfinals

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Boys' Volleyball team's season came to an unexpected end last week when the team was defeated by the Dover

High School Green Wave in the quarterfinals.

The Lancers finished the season with their second consecutive undefeated regular season, winning all of their 16 games and headed into the State Championship as the number one seed.

Because of the team's #1 seed, the Lancers got a bye in the first round of the State Championship and hosted the Dover Green Wave, the number eight seed, in the quarterfinals on Tuesday, June 4.

Despite beating the Green Wave 3-1 in the regular season, back in the first week of May, Dover presented LHS with a much more difficult task in their second meeting.

The match went to five sets, something that Londonderry only had to deal with twice in the regular season, and the outcome was a 3-2 win for Dover.

Londonderry quickly found out that the quarterfinal match wouldn't be a walk in the park as DHS took the first set by a score of 25-20.

Londonderry snapped back in the second with a 25-19 set win, but then went an extra frame in the third with a tight 24-26 loss.

The Lancers were able to battle back in the fourth set winning in another close contest 25-23, but in the fifth and final set, Dover spoiled Londonderry's chances of a title with a 17-15 win.

Senior Matt Doyle had four assists and 22 digs in the match, while fellow senior Ethan Munro ended his year with 16 kills, 28 assists, 10 digs, and three blocks.

Senior Tyler Brown also had a final game as a Lancer, getting 26 kills, 21 assists, five digs, and an ace.

Sophomore Ethan Saranich had five kills and two blocks in the game and fellow sophomore Gavin Doughty got eight kills, three digs, and three blocks.

Senior Crosby Nolan had three kills and two blocks, senior Connor Koza finished with five kills, one dig, and two blocks, sophomore Kai Hou had eight digs and sophomore Liam Evans had one dig.

On a positive note, a few Londonderry players were named to the All-State Teams by the New Hampshire Volleyball Coaches Association.

Seniors Tyler Brown and Matt Doyle were named as First Team members.

Senior Ethan Munroe was given Honorable Mention and Brown was named this year's Player of the Year as an Outside and Rightside Hitter and Setter.

"My sophomore pitcher, Kearney is the best pitcher in the state. I was very fortunate to have two very good pitchers."

He added that captains, Cutuli and catcher Zoey Nelson, were "the two best captains he's ever had."

Cutuli and Kearney were both named as All-State First Teamers and Ginny Flaherty made Second Team.

Cutuli was ecstatic after the state title win and gave credit to the team and the coaches. "The win is great and this team was great, they worked so hard for it." She thanked her assistant coach. "I have to give a shout out to our assistant coach,

Ronni Heard, who told the team we can't stop working hard until we get to the graduation platform."

Cutuli will be headed to UMass Amherst next year, where she will continue to play softball.

Getting into the finals was no easy task for the Lancers, narrowly beating Pinkerton 2-1, in the final inning, four-days earlier.

Both pitchers were outstanding in that game, Kearney had 16 strikeouts and two hits with a walk, while Julia Caruso tallied 13 Ks and walked four with two hits.

Sophomore Vivien Belanger hit a game-winning single to left field in the seventh inning to break the 1-1 tie.
