Technology Hill Development Addresses Environmental Issues

The Conservation Commission heard the latest presentation for a new phase of the Village at Technology Hill at their Feb. 25 meeting. TFMoran Civil Engineer Nick Golan was back before the town to give an overview of the manufacturing section of the project.

"This is our next phase; this consists of two buildings. One of which is a 68,000-square-foot manufacturing building," he explained. "The second use is a 20,000 square foot building which will be housed by OnPoint. OnPoint is one of the companies run by Ken and Grace Solinsky."

The couple has played a central role in the development of Technology Hill Planned Use. The new buildings will be placed on the northwestern section of the site, close to Kitty Hawk Landing, where most larger trucks would enter and exit the PUD as needed.

Town Council Decides on the Next Town Manager

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Town Council named its next Town Manager at the Londonderry Town Council meeting on Monday, March 3, voting 4-0 to offer the position of Londonderry Town Manager to Shaun Mulholland and will begin work on June 1, 2025. Councilor John Farrell abstained from the vote.

According to a press release from the Town, posted minutes after the announcement was made, Mulholland will come to Londonderry with over 27-years of "accomplished municipal experience."

"He currently serves as City Manager of

Shaun Mulholland

Lebanon, New Hampshire, a position he has held since 2018. Prior to his tenure in Lebanon, he was Chief of Police and later Town Administrator in Allenstown, New Hampshire," the release read. "Mulholland holds a Bachelor of Arts in political science and government and a Master of Public Administration, both from the University of New Hampshire."

This decision comes despite concerns raised by residents on making this decision so close to an elect, that may see as many as two new councilors.

Previous Town Manager, Mike Malaguti resigned in October of 2024 and his separation date was on Dec. 2 of last year.

Town Councilor Ron Dunn said he had heard from different people who suggested they hold off on naming a Town Manager until after the election next week, which will mean

Young Resident Describes Health Club Shooting Ordeal

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

To say the shooting incident that took place on Wednesday, Feb. 26, at the Planet Fitness Center was a hair-raising experience for residents working out, it would be putting it mildly.

Londonderry High School student Megan Plaza was just a few feet away from the room where a young Bedford man began shooting.

Plaza said she was thinking, wait, this is Londonderry, it couldn't be happening here.

She quickly remembered her training through the ALICE (Alert, Lockdown, Inform, Counter and Evacuate) Program offered at the high school and sought cover.

I didn't realize what it was at first. I thought someone had just dropped some weights as she went through her regular cardio training on the treadmill.

"Then I saw the two boys that work at the center run from behind the counter and duck into the Black Card Room."

She added, "The ALICE training helped me to make faster intuitive decisions."

She quickly ran into the locker room and hid inside an open locker and waited for police to arrive.

She called her dad

Warrant Article Asks Voters To Fund Police Body Cams

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

One of the warrant articles voters will have the chance to vote on next week is in relation to getting body worn cameras for all sworn officers in the Town of Londonderry Police Department.

The warrant article states:

“To see if the Town will vote to authorize the Town Manager to enter into up to a 5-year lease/purchase agreement in the amount of $1,235,000 for the purpose of leasing/purchasing body cameras, and the associated equipment/technology for the Londonderry Police department, and to raise and appropriate the sum of $246,629 for the first year’s payment for that purpose. This lease agreement contains an escape clause.”

If approved by the voters it would require the Town to raise and appropriate $246,629 in property taxes, which would mean an anticipated tax rate impact of 3.8 cents.

One question raised during the Town’s Deliberative Session last month was what it would cost to buy the body-worn cameras versus leasing them instead.

Londonderry Finance Director Justin Campo explained at the end of the lease they could trade it in for a discount on new equipment if they decide to do so. “At the end of this we will own the equipment,” Campo explained during the Deliberative Session.

Londonderry Police Capt. Timothy O’Donaghue said the lease works better because it comes with the software as well, so when there are updates, they are able to get it upgraded for free.

He also explained that when things break, they can get replacement parts for it. It was noted by O’Donaghue that the 68 cameras are designed so everyone who is a sworn police officer with the police department is assigned a body camera.

He explained, when asked if the officers would be bringing them home, that when they are done with their shifts, that’s when the videos are uploaded.

Another question raised was what happens at the end of the program.

O’Donaghue explained during the Deliberative Session that they would likely be looking for new funding through a warrant article at the end of the program, in order to get new ones similar to their taser program.

It was noted, however, er, that they would likely be able to get a discount on the new ones, based on them being traded in should they go down that route.

Voting Day is set for March 11 beginning at 6 a.m. and ending at 8 p.m.

Town Manager

there is at least one new Town Councilor, due to current Town Council Chair, Chad Franz, opting to not run for re-election.

“I disagree,” Dunn said, explaining that the Town Council spent the last four months looking for someone.

He also noted that they spent two months looking for an interim Town Manager before deciding on one.

“For five people to agree on one person I think that’s pretty impactful,” Dunn said.

Dunn added ultimately he doesn’t think it’s the right thing to do by delaying the vote.

“We feel like we have the right person,” Dunn said.

Councilor Shawn Faber stated that if they wait to have the new Town Council seated for the process to continue, they may lose some candidates and may have to start the process over.

“Candidates don’t just wait,” Faber said.

Mulholland, according to the release, was a recipient of the 2015 New Hampshire Municipal Association Russ Marcoux Municipal Advocate of the Year Award, honoring a municipal official’s non-partisan advocacy in the state legislative space. In 2024, he received the International City/County Management Association Veterans Recognition Award, given to veterans who make significant contributions as local government officials.

“Mr. Mulholland will start June 1,” Town Council Chair Chad Franz said.

Police Chief Kim Bernard is expected to continue as Acting Town Manager until June 1.

Steering Committee Brainstorms Long-Term Vision for Town

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The February meeting of the Londonderry Master Plan Steering Committee included a presentation from Sylvia Von Aulock of the Southern NH Planning Commission, who created a PowerPoint to guide the Steering Committee through the next step of the Master Plan process.

"We're going to start with our vision," she said. "The last Master Plan was created in 2013, and there's been a lot of changes."

She referred to a growth map in Londonderry, noting the town saw population growth beyond what was envisioned in the 2013 plan.

"There are many changes with growth in the Manchester Airport area, there are changes in housing costs and availability, housing costs, population shifts, the list can go on and on," said Von Aulock, focusing on the massive level of development around the airport and the price of buying a new home.

There were fewer households with children and more households with residents 65 or older and those living with disabilities. She asked Committee members to brainstorm what had changed for them personally over the past decade. There were a few different reactions to this.

"Water is coming down to where I live," said Committee member and Town Councilor Shawn Faber, referring to the ongoing expansion of the Londonderry municipal water system.

"From the commuting side of things, the ability to get around town and the time it takes has probably doubled," said Vice-Chair Jake Butler.

Other issues mentioned were a lack of younger residents in many neighborhoods and the increased likelihood of working from home or purchasing day-to-day items online instead of in person.

"Probably the biggest change is the loss of 'folksiness' the town used to have," added Planning Board Chair Art Rugg, who spoke from the audience. "People are doing more things now."

As a 41-year Londonderry resident, Rugg also lamented the loss of much of the farmland in town and the loss, especially over the past ten years.

Von Aulock noted that the 2013 vision statement described Londonderry as a "close-knit, vibrant community set in a landscape of protect forests and farms" among other things, highlighting the desire to retain a more rural vision with population growth and greater financial development.

Despite the changes, Committee members largely agreed that the town was still an educated community" and believed they had enough transportation options to work with in the years to come. They agreed that despite the recent growth, there was still plenty of open space.

"I think the things that still ring very true are that we're a community with protected forests, farms, and efficient services," said Butler.

There was a general desire to reinforce protected lands, limiting at least some development in the long term while focusing on the school system and improving walkability.

"I don't think we've ever addressed walkability in this community," said Committee member Lynn Wiles. "We talk about it, but we don't do anything about it. We also aren't promoting unique activity centers, I'm not sure I'm aware of any unique activity centers that get any level of promotion at this point."

Rugg worried that "recreation has often been on the low budget side," something that would likely need to change to build activity centers. He also suggested looking into form-based zoning to encourage more recreational-friendly buildings.

Von Aulock presented an extremely rough draft vision, put together using Master Plan survey results. Committee members did not come to any final decision but agreed that the brainstorming session represented a good starting point with the loose goal of having a draft of Master Plan chapters by the end of March.

Prepare to Vote

Election Day is March 14th. In the days between now and then, we hope you'll listen to candidates speak, read their words and ask them about the issues that concern you.

The March election has no state or national candidates, and that's traditionally bad news for voter turnout. However, we remind you that your vote has far more impact on local government races than it ever will on the state or federal level.

Equally important are the warrant articles on both the town and school ballots whether it's the school budget or a request for a something like funding for other things. Town and school requests should be handled the way you handle your checkbook; can you afford it? Is it a necessity or a luxury? Is it something you can put off, or is that a false economy that will cost much more later on?

If you don't understand what you're being asked to approve, seek the answer. The right to vote is important, but it carries with it the responsibility of understanding the issues. It shouldn't sway your vote that the budget committee or your neighbor favors or dislikes a warrant article or candidate.

There are also needs versus wants on many ballots. Choose wisely.

Warrant articles were reviewed and have been written about for several weeks in this paper. Here are a few pointers: On a bond, pay attention to the financial obligation imposed for each year of the bond. The money will come out of your pocket for the life of the bond.

How about a union contract? If it covers just one year, its costs are likely to be clear. But most contracts are for two to four years. Make sure you understand the costs attached to each additional year. You won't be asked to vote on it in future years, but the money will be added to the overall budget and will be part of your tax bill.

Money isn't everything. Are workers paying more of their insurance these days? Get the full picture. Because the choice is yours, each article has pros and cons, and it pays to listen to both sides.

Many people like to pride themselves on their patriotism. There's not a much better way to express your patriotism than by heading to the polls and making informed choices.

So for your own good and the good of the community, please vote March 14th.

Running for Council

To the editor,

My name is Dan Bouchard, and I am honored to announce my candidacy for Town Council. Londonderry has been my home since 1979, where my wife and I raised our two sons-both of whom live and work here today. Now, as a proud grandfather of six, I am deeply invested in the future of our town.

After serving Londonderry for 28 years as a police officer, I remain committed to giving back to the community that has given me so much. As the town's first and only school resource officer, I worked with students at all levels-elementary, middle, and high school-developing critical programs on school bus safety, bike safety, and personal security. I also created a Women's Safety Program and led the fundraising and construction of the Thunder Ground playground at North School.

Beyond law enforcement, I have served on the town's Budget Committee for three years, was honored as New Hampshire's Outstanding Young Police Officer, served on the board at the Alexander Eastman Foundation and was elected President of the New Hampshire DARE Officers Association. As a longtime business owner and former landscaping company operator, I understand the challenges of running a successful enterprise and the importance of supporting both residents and businesses in our community.

I regularly attend Town Council meetings and budget hearings and have a deep appreciation for the work our town employees do every day. With Londonderry facing ongoing challenges-growth, traffic, water quality, and increased service demands - I believe my experience, leadership, and dedication can help us navigate these issues while preserving the character of our town.

I am committed to listening, researching, and making informed decisions that best serve Londonderry. I humbly ask for your support and your vote on March 11 to continue working for the community we all love.

Thank you.

We Must Support Ukraine

To the editor,

On Dec. 5, 1994 Ukraine signed an agreement wherein it would dispose of its nuclear weapons, which were the world's third largest nuclear arsenal, for a guarantee by the U.S., UK and Russia to provide Ukraine's security. Ukraine relinquished its nuclear weapons to Russia. Subsequently, Russia attacked Ukraine in 2014 and occupied Crimea.

In 2022 Russia attacked again and now occupies eastern provinces of Ukraine.

The U.S., should continue providing military equipment and supplies to Ukraine to belatedly comply with the security agreement we signed in 1994.

Maybe we should provide loans to Ukraine instead of grants of funds and equipment, or have Ukraine repay us with their abundant supply of rare earth minerals which we need. We are negotiating with Ukraine on this matter.

Unfortunately, Secretary of Defense Hegseth unwittingly significantly set back peace negotiations when he said Ukraine cannot go back to its pre 2014 borders, which relinquishes the Crimea and land in eastern Ukraine to Russia. He also said it is unrealistic for Ukraine to join NATO, and Europe must take on a greater role in its security. This is a capitulation to Russia before negotiations even start, and it could increase Russian threats to Europe.

Transgender Athletes Ban

To the editor,
Hoping all of you will encourage the Londonderry School Board not to adopt President's Trump call to ban transgender athletes from sports in order to retain funding.

What makes you think you are going to retain funding?

Only a fool would think this worth throwing our young people under the bus. Especially as the Department of Education is on the chopping block.

What a wimp of an excuse to bend your knee to the Dictator of America. No profiles in Courage here.

May you School Board Members have the courage to stand tall for all our students.

On a different note, I have just read such good news. Sherman Packard has promoted a Braver Angels workshop in the Legislature. For those of you who may not be familiar with this group. It's mission is to have discussions between the Democrats and the Republicans to help them see each other as people and to find common ground. It is not to change anyone's views, only to promote an understanding of where the other is coming from. Hip Hip Hooray for Rep. Packard.

Disaster on an International Scale

To the editor:

Like half the town, I watched in horror the Oval office meeting with Trump, Vance and President Zelenskyy. It became obvious this was nothing more than a staged reality TV moment. It was later learned just who the performance was for: TASS Media, A Russian State media organization was allowed access to the meeting. Please understand that the AP (associated press) is denied access. Of course, the CBR has no idea how they were able to not only be there, but to LIVE Stream the event back to Russia. It occurred to me; he would never have treated his master (the Murderous Dictator who started the war) like this. More like: Your great, you're terrific, I love you, would have been the words he chose.

What would you expect? The UN voted on a resolution condemning Russia's War on Ukraine again, on this it's 3rd anniversary from the start. Only eight countries voted No, with the top three being Russia, North Korea and of course the new CBR (formerly known as the United States).

It is also sad to see that Foreign leaders must correct the Demented Lunatic Orange Clown on the International stage. Ex: "the UK loaned them money they will have to pay back". No Mr. President that money was a gift. "The US has spent 350 Billion on Ukraine", no we have spent 119 Billion. My personal thought is: Trumps effort to extort money from Ukraine in exchange for Mineral rights as payment, is a slap in the face to all nations who have provided funds in defense of Ukraine freely.

I was glad to see the other Democratic Nations around the world (now that America has fallen) re-state their con-

"There is a fair amount of topography in the area," said Golan. "We are building up a section of the land in this area. There are no conservation overlay impact districts that are associated with this. There is a wetland to the south of this area that is more than a half-acre."

He added the construction would not directly impact the wetland, though it did come close to the wetland buffer zone. All new buildings, along with the roads feeding them, included a stormwater management system. Unlike other phases of the PUD, the industrial phase did not include a wildlife passage. However, the landscaping included a

"wildlife conservation mix" in keeping with the rest of the Village.

Members of the Conservation Commission had a few questions about how the scale of the new buildings would impact the surrounding environment.

"Landscapers are notorious for planting trees too deep, which ends up with them languishing and eventually perishing," said Marge

Badois. "Do you have any control over landscapers?"

Golan assured the Commission that every subcontractor was being closely evaluated, including the landscapers.

"Was there ever any more discussion about electrical charging stations?" asked Deb Lievens. "If residents asked for it, would that make a difference?"

Golan stated that the development was "prepared to provide that service" presuming high enough demand materializes from future Technology Hill residents. That preparation included installing the necessary conduits needed to build an EV charging station without building out the stations. He expressed his belief that resident demand would make a difference.

"At one time we talked about installing solar panels on the factory buildings. Is that true on these two buildings?" asked alternate Mike Speltz.

The engineer stated that both buildings had "flat roofs" specifically designed to include solar panels.

Speltz also wanted to know how the builders would define the limit of disturbance to keep construction away from the 50-foot buffer zone around the nearby wetlands.

"Let me clarify, the wetland that's to our south would have the 50-foot buffer, but we're outside of it. In that case, we'll place Conservation Overlay District markings at our limits of work just because of its close proximity," said Golan.

He noted there were a few smaller wetlands in the area, but none of them were big enough to legally require a buffer zone.

Commissioners always wanted developers to consider alternative parking arrangements like a vanpool or a shuttle bus between apartment buildings and industrial buildings. There was some concern over what they saw as a large area dedicated to parking with the goal of reducing the overall impervious footprint of the PUD.

Golan promised to pass the request to reduce parking to the Technology Hill ownership team.

The Conservation Commission is scheduled to meet on the second and fourth Tuesday of every month, at 7:30 p.m. in the Moose Hill Council Chambers.

from inside the locker, who was also working out at the gym, and he was unaware the incident had even taken place, but ran into her location.

During questioning after the incident, Plaza said workers told police the shooter was an employee from the gym that had gotten into an argument with another employee one day earlier.

She said even before the shooting, while she was working out, she noticed an argument outside the entrance of the center.

The shot was fired in the employee room of the facility, but no one was hit by the shot.

According to Plaza the incident happened at 4:57 p.m. and it wasn't long before local police were at the scene.

Not many details have been released so far on the incident. The Londonderry Police Department was contacted for information and responded that the State Attorney General would be releasing information.

According to the state, in three press releases from Attorney General John M. Formella, the incident began with police first being called to a business on Orchard View Drive for a report of shots fired.

Responding officers encountered a subject and during that encounter the subject was shot by police.

The exact circumstances surrounding this incident are now under active investigation. More information will be released as it becomes available."

The second press release states, "The incident began with police first being called to a Planet Fitness gym on Orchard View Drive in Londonderry for a report of a shot being fired. Officers responded and confirmed that while no one was injured, the individual identified as having fired the gunshot had left the gym.

Officers located identifying information for the individual, an adult male, and developed a name, address, and vehicle description for him. His vehicle was then found nearby, and officers conducted a motor vehicle stop of the car on Winding Pond Road off Orchard View Drive.

According to initial police dispatch notes the adult male in the vehicle was reportedly armed and confronted the officers. During this encounter, several gunshots were fired. The adult male was struck by the gunfire. Members of the Londonderry Fire Department responded to render medical aid however, the adult male was pronounced deceased at the scene."

The release states a person was identified as Calvin M. Ly-Bishop, 23, of Bedford.

Officers developed a vehicle description of Ly-Bishop's vehicle and it was quickly found on Winding Pond Road near its intersection with Lincoln Drive. When officers were conducting a motor vehicle stop of the car, witnesses report Ly-Bishop came out of his car armed with a handgun. During the encounter, gunshots were fired between Ly-Bishop and three Londonderry Police officers. Ly-Bishop was struck by gunfire, and despite medical intervention, was pronounced deceased on scene.

Chief Medical Examiner Dr. Jennie V. Duval conducted an autopsy on Ly-Bishop where it was determined that Mr. Ly-Bishop's cause of death was gunshots wounds of the chest, and that the manner of his death was homicide. As used by the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, homicide is defined as the killing of one person by another.

The investigation into this event by the New Hampshire Department of Justice with the assistance of the New Hampshire State Police Major Crime Unit is ongoing. The identity of the three officers who used deadly force will be disclosed once formal interviews of all persons involved in the incident occur.

School Board Approves Unassigned Funds For Phone Upgrades

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry School Board held a public hearing to spend unassigned fund balance funds to upgrade the school district's phone system.

"In April of 2024, the school district was notified by our phone vendor that our phone system was no longer going to be supported as of March of 2026. We then met with a couple of phone vendors to inform us of the state of phone technologies and to help us determine our course of action," IT Director Brandon Weinert wrote in a memo to the School Board.

Weinert explained that in October, the District released a request for proposals to replace the "existing phone system for all locations."

"This includes phone hardware, cabling, network switching hardware, and licensing. We received bids from 5 companies," Weinert wrote. "We reviewed those bids to determine what best fit our needs and then invited 2 vendors to meet with us. The vendors came in separately to further discuss their solutions and to tour all our locations. They then revised their bids based on a more accurate assessment of our environment and needs. We also followed up by having discussions with school districts that were given as references."

During the public hearing, it was explained that the bid from Telephone & Network Technologies was $331,936.65, which was more than the other bid from Granite which was $242,519.76.

"The 2 solutions are not equal in comparison," Weinert said.

One of the differences for Vendor Telephone & Network Technologies is that it is a five-year licensing agreement versus one year for Granite. The higher bidder would also include new cabling for all locations except the District Office, while Granite would be new cabling for all locations except for Moose Hill School and the District Office.

It was also noted that for Telephone & Network Technologies they would have failover PBX at each of the seven locations.

"If any of the phones cannot reach the clouded system for any reason, the onsite IP phones will connect to the onsite failover PBX, so any location can still use the extension dialing for internal communications and each location can also access the PA/intercom system from any phone if announcements need to be made," the memo stated.

It was noted by Weinert that if they want to be able to have it done and in place by the start of the school year they need to have it started by next week.

School Board Chair Bob Slater said he appreciated them looking into the bids further. "I appreciate you doing due diligence," Slater said.

The School Board ultimately selected Telephone & Network Technologies to be awarded the contract.

Sosa Named Journalist of the Year

The Londonderry School Board recently announced that Lancer senior, Elizabeth Sosa, was named the NH High School Journalist of the Year, by the New England Scholastic Press Association (NESPA).

Sosa is currently the editor in chief of The Lancer Spirit and has now become eligible for the Journalism Education Association's National Journalist of the Year competition. The winner of that competition will be named at the organization's April convention in Seattle later this year.

According to the Lancer Spirit, the LHS online newspaper, "Lizzie Sosa is a senior. This is her second year on the editorial board, and she is extremely excited to take on the role of Editor in Chief for the 2024-2025 year. In her free time, Lizzie loves going to concerts, being a stage manager and stagehand for community productions, and hanging out with friends and family. This year, she wants to make a larger impact on what we do as a staff, and she is very excited for everyone to see what the Lancer Spirit has in store for this year."

NESPA also named Sosa as one of 17 members of its first-ever All New England High School Journalism Staff, which recognizes the top high school journalists working on newspapers, yearbooks, broadcasts, or literary magazines throughout the six New England states. Sosa was the only NH member of the All New England Staff.

Manny Perez took first-place in the 157-pound weight class as the number-two seed by winning four matches, while besting the number-one seed.

Perez began his day getting a win by medical forfeit after a 13-2 start in the round of 16.

His second win came in the quarterfinals, against Ben Maslanek (#7) of the Pelham Pythons, with a 23-7 Technical Fall at 5:24 in the match.

up the final week of the regular season with 74-45 blowout win over the Keene Blackbird to finish at 17-1 grabbing the number-two seed in the Division I playoffs.

The Lancers began their quest for a division title on Monday night, March 3, facing Nashua South (#15), with the win they will take on Salem High School Thursday March 6 at LHS starting at 7 p.m.

In the team's final game of the regular season, Tuesday, Feb. 25, Londonderry didn't hold back as they prepared for the post season.

After starting with a 16-15 advantage in the first quarter in Keene, the Lancers outscored the Blackbirds 25-8 in the second for a 41-23 lead by halftime.

The visitors had a similar result in the third quarter to lead 62-34 going into the final period with a 28-point lead.

The team's bench came in throughout the final period for the eventual win.

Junior forward/guard Katie Sullivan had another big night, scoring 29-points to lead all players. Half her points came in the second quarter, scoring 14-points. Sullivan had five hit from outside the arc and was two-for-three at the foul line.

LHS guard Brooke Eacrett also had a big night, scoring 16-points, most of which came in the first half. The junior had 10-points in the first, including two three-pointers, and added four in the second.

Sophomore guard Gemma Murray added 14-points to the team total with most of her points coming in the second and third quarters. Murray scored six in each of those periods.

Junior Brooke Eacrett scored 14-points in the first half in the game against Keene.

Lancers Boys' Basketball Drop Final Regular Season Game

LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Boys' Basketball squad had a tough time finishing out the season, losing five of their last seven games, including the final game of the regular season at Keene High School

The Lancers fell to 9-9 after their 50-33 loss to the Blackbirds in Keene on Tuesday night, Feb. 25, and will now enter the NHIAA State Championship as the number 11 seed in the tournament.

That seeding unfortunately means another long road trip to Keene to replay the number six seeded Blackbirds.

Londonderry's first round game is scheduled to take place on Wednesday night, starting at 7 p.m.

If they LHS squad makes it past Keene in the first round they will face the winner of the Trinity (#3) versus Winnacunnet (#14) game on Saturday, March 8 at 7 p.m.

Lancers Hockey Squad Suffer Four Straight Losses

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Ice Hockey team has suffered a number of tough losses heading into the final segment of the year.

The Lancers final week of the regular season ended with a 1-3 loss to the Salem Blue Devils and a 0-7 blanking by the Exeter Blue Hawks to finish the regular season at 5-13.

With just ten teams involved in the post-season tournament, the LHS squad will not have an opportunity to defend their state title this year. Londonderry's record put them in the 13th spot in the Division I standing.

The Lancers dropped eight games in the final month of play, winning just one, back on Feb. 19.

Wrestling

back from nearly being knocked out after colliding heads with Jacob Critchfield of Hollis-Brookline (#3). Perez finished that match with a 19-4 Technical Fall victory after given time to recover from the injury.

In the finals, against the number-one seed from Bedford, Tucker Watson, the Lancer battled to a 1-1 tie in regulation, until winning in the first period of sudden victory with a takedown and a 4-1 victory. Perez suffered an 8-5 loss in the finals to Watson one-week earlier.

David Pento Jr. had a first-place win at 175-pounds, winning all three of his matches quite easily as the number-one seed.

In the quarterfinals, Pento pinned Anthony Gualtieri of Concord at :19 in the match.

In the semi's, scored a 17-2 tech fall over Caelum Forgey to move onto the championship.

In his final match in New Hampshire as a high school wrestler, Pento pinned Logan Allaire of Cambell at 2:46 in the match.

Pento finished up with a 185-20 record in his high school career at Londonderry and this was his third straight MOC first place victory.

Caleb Holden made it to the semi-finals but fell to take fourth-place for Londonderry.

Lucas DeLeon and Cam Rousell both came away with sixth-place finishes at the event.

As a team, Londonderry was sixth with 99-points at the meet, Timberlane placed first with 180-points, followed by Salem, in second with 137.5 points.

The NHIAA Girls' State Championship also took place at the event on Saturday and the Lancers had two wrestlers competing.

Fira Shaffer had a second place finish in the 152-pound weight division and Jaylynn Valentin was fourth in the 138-pound division.

Pento, Perez and Shaffer will be headed to the New England Interscholastic Championship on Saturday and Sunday March 8 and 9, in Providence RI.

New Election Law Requires Proof of Citizenship Before Voting

Citizens should be aware of a change in voting law that went into effect on November 11, 2024. Moving forward, potential voters must bring proof of citizenship, age, identity, and domicile with them when registering to vote. Until now, without proof of one or more of those qualifications, potential voters could sign a legal affidavit swearing and affirming the information. That exception no longer exists. If you do not bring the proof with you, you will be unable to register to vote at that time.

Additionally, there was an opportunity at the polls to get your picture taken and sign an affidavit if you forgot your ID. That exception is also gone and failure to bring an acceptable photo ID will result in you being turned away at the polls." The law is HB 1569 – Laws of 2024, Chapter 378 -Relative to Eliminating Voter Identification Exceptions.

The law no longer authorizes an applicant when registering to vote to complete affidavits as an alternative means of proving their qualifications as a voter. If an applicant does not provide acceptable documentary proof of identity, age, United States citizenship, and/or domicile, they are not eligible to be registered to vote. You can vote in local, state, and Federal elections in New Hampshire if you are: A United States citizen; At least 18 years old on election day; A New Hampshire resident (Your primary residence, domicile, is in NH).

READERS ARE CAUTIONED that we occasionally run ads that require an initial investment or money in advance. We urge our readers to "do their homework" before responding to any ad, check out the advertiser thoroughly and verify their claims to your total satisfaction. OBITUARY

Daniel S. Green

With heavy hearts, we announce the passing of our cherished husband, father, and grandfather, Daniel S. Green, 73, of Londonderry, NH. Danny passed away on Sunday, March 2, 2025, in his home surrounded by his loving family. He was born on June 1, 1951 in Boston, MA, the son of the late Daniel and Martha (Bruce) Green. He had been a resident of Londonderry for the past 47 years.

Deeply mourned by his wife, Yvonne (Gallinelli) Green of Londonderry, NH; two daughters, Janelle Jones and her husband Christopher and their son, Adrian Jones all of Litchfield, NH, and Vanessa LaMalfa and her sons, Paul and James LaMalfa, and her partner John Hamilton all of Londonderry. As well as many friends and extended family members who will miss him dearly.

Danny was known for giving great effort in every area of his life. He valued being a tradesman for 40 years at several heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC) companies. His career concluded managing the facilities at Abbott Laboratories.

Danny's hobbies and interests helped define and balance who he was in all other areas of life. He enjoyed being a Knights of Columbus member for more than three decades, a part of Londonderry's Softball League for twenty-plus years, and Vice President and Treasurer of the North Shore Corvette Club. However, nothing brought Danny more joy than joining his wife to watch his daughters and grandsons excel in their sports and extracurricular activities.

Danny's love for cars (especially his 1967 Corvette Stingray, which he enjoyed racing) was something he shared with all who knew him. He loved a good "American" NASCAR race and traveled the country following the races.

One of the most unique elements of Danny's journey was his remarkable ability to overcome many health issues. He kept smiling, living, and working with HVAC till his final days. He was not defined by his disability, he was shaped by his family that he loved dearly.

Following cremation, calling hours will be held on Monday, March 10, from 4 - 5:30 p.m., in the Peabody Funeral Homes and Crematorium, 290 Mammoth Rd., Londonderry. A memorial service will follow at 5:30 p.m., in the funeral home. Our family wishes to extend sincere thanks to the Visiting Nurses Association for the care they provided. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Visiting Nurse Association of Manchester & Southern NH, a cause close to our hearts. To send a condolence please visit www.peabodyfuneralhome.com.
