Steering Committee Looking for Better Age Group Diversity

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Master Plan Steering Committee met on Sept. 5 to review their progress for the ongoing Master Plan revision. With a growing level of participation in the Master Plan Survey after Old Home Day, the discussion focused on further survey participation and public outreach.

“We’ve had 465 participants on the survey, and that’s on the online survey, I’m not sure about how many hard copies are out there,” said Sylvia Von Aulock, Executive Director of the Southern NH Planning Commission. “Just a little bit about the participants themselves, 70% of the participants are 35 years or older. The largest group is the 45- to 64-year-olds, and 42% of all participants are within that age group.”

Only 41 people under the age of 35 participated in the survey, something seen as a problem when trying to gather comprehensive data for the Master Plan without bias towards a single group.

“22% are already retired. 40% would like to retire in Londonderry. That tells you people still want to stay in Londonderry,” continued Von Aulock. “Almost half of the participants have lived in Londonderry for over 20 years and over 60% have lived in Londonderry for 11-plus years. So, folks who have participated in the survey are long-timers. They want to stay; they want to retire here.”

Most participants lived in single-family homes and were homeowners. She wanted to get more renters and condo owners in the coming weeks. Most surveys were completed electronically, with 564 hits on the website, although not every person visiting took the survey, and it was unclear how many visits were from new users.

DeFrancesco Questions the Heritage Commission’s Role

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

At the Wednesday, Sept. 11, meeting of the Londonderry Planning Board, an issue was raised at the end of the meeting by Board member, Tony DeFrancesco, regarding the role of the Heritage Commission in the planning process.

Earlier in the meeting, the board had a public hearing on a 15,200-square-foot retail building and a 9,400-square-foot childcare facility at the Village on Technology Hill in the northern section of Londonderry where a bus stop was discussed.

After that discussion, DeFrancesco explained that there were recent recommendations made by the Heritage Commission concerning a bus stop.

“I have a problem and I have a possible solution,” DeFrancesco said.

DeFrancesco explained that his concern wasn’t over one particular application, but instead it has to do with “a board and a commission overstepping its bounds into Planning Board territory. I don’t get it, I don’t understand it, I don’t know how the discussions are allowed, I don’t know why the Chair of that commission would put it in the notes.”

He went on to say that he isn’t sure if training is needed or if it’s something else but said he thinks it’s a problem

Retail, Childcare at Technology Hill Passes at Planning Board

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry Planning Board met on Sept. 11 to hear the latest presentation for the Village on Technology Hill PUD. After running a site plan for a 15,200-square-foot retail building, 9,400 square foot childcare building by the Heritage and Conservation Commissions, co-developer, Dick Anagnost, and engineer, Nick Golan, of TF Moran looked to get Planning approval.

“We’re here for our second component of the PUD,” said Golan. “It’s just north of the Technology Hill Bridge with access on Akira Way.”

The plan includes a “general retail store” intended to hold multiple tenants for Village residents. A few changes to the childcare center from the original plan included a bus stop for school buses with the possibility of a transit connection, and removing a problematic cross-

Agriculture and Sustainability Day Set For Sept. 24

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

At the Sept. 9 Hudson School Board meeting, the School Board reviewed a request from CTE Director Eric Frauwirth regarding its upcoming Agriculture and Sustainability Day.

“Through the Career Development office, we are planning an Agriculture and Sustainability Day on Sept. 24,” Frauwirth wrote in a memo to the School Board. “As with last year’s STEM Day, we have invited a number of industry partners to set up stations at the school; and we are inviting students from Alvirne and the CTE classes, and we are bussing in all of the 7th grade students.”

He explained that there would be eight industries at the event that are being represented which includes; Dairy farming, Sheep & animal science, Nursery and landscaping, Solar and renewable energy, Forestry and tree management, Maple production, Beekeeping and apiaries, and Agriculture/heavy equipment.

“We are asking for approval to utilize the south lawn of the Hills House for four of the industries,” Frauwirth said.

He explained in the memo that “As the students visit, they will spend approximately 15 - 20 minutes at each of 4 stations,” noting that it will “minimize the crossing of Rte 10.”

It was noted that the School Board needed to approve the Hills House property which they did during the meeting.

The School Board also received a request from Hudson Memorial School Principal, Keith Bowen.

“Please accept this as my formal request to seek approval from the Board to continue with providing a fund-raising opportunity for students to raise funds through the sale of cookie dough at Hudson Memorial School in grades 6 through 8 for the purpose of utilizing those funds raised to offset the total - cost of attending the Washington, DC and local area trips in the 8th Grade,” he wrote in a memo to the School Board.

He explained during the meeting that they needed to get School Board approval in order to continue the fundraiser.

“Per policy DFGA, section 3b, Review by the Board, Subject to the requirements of RSA 198:0-b, only the Board has the authority to approve a campaign a dollar value in excess of $5,000,” he wrote. “After considering the Superintendent’s or designee’s recommendation, the Board will decide whether to approve or deny the proposed campaign.

Whereas, the individual sums earned do not reach the $5,000 threshold, the overall fundraising campaign exceeds it.”

Bowen also explained that the “fundraiser is conducted through a company called Adrenaline. It will run for two weeks in September (9/12/24 - 9/26/24).”

“Students will receive $10 for every box ($25) sold toward their trip,” Bowen wrote.

“The funds earned will be placed in the Hudson Memorial School Student Activities Account and designated to each student who participated in the fundraiser. When the students are in the 8th grade, they can utilize the funds they earned to offset the cost of their Washington, DC trip or their local field trips to the Boston Area Historical landmarks. Any funds that are not utilized can be designated by the student who earned them toward a future student’s trip, or it is placed in the Washington, DC Scholarship account within our student activities account.”

The School Board unanimously approved the request.

walk meant to flow foot traffic. There will be a 15-mile-per-hour speed limit across the development, and additions like curved roads to enforce the limit.

“Relative to grading and drainage, these are open infiltration basins,” said Golan. “There will be two additional infiltration areas that will be proposed. Access to that area will be provided via a 12-foot maintenance road.”

The design included LED, dark sky-compliant lights across the property with an ambitious landscaping design meant to cultivate a tree-lined canopy across the entrance to the site.

After going over the design, Director of Public Works and Engineering, John Trottier, highlighted several areas of the plan he felt conflicted with what his department wanted to see, including the location of the included bus stop near the childcare center.

“There’s concern over the physical location of that bus stop, both with the site distance and the town’s right of way,” he said.

Trottier also worried that the 12-foot access road was insufficient to properly service the PUD’s drainage infrastructure. Concerns also included a request for wider sidewalks and the lack of a 50-year stormwater contingency. Golan asserted that the 50-year storm analysis was included in the design documents. It was unclear whether the existing plan met the engineering requirements for a long-term flood plan, despite extensive debate on the matter.

According to Golan, any redesign to meet more stringent regulations would mean a larger detention and infiltration basin. The Planning Board agreed to default to the state definition of what constituted a 50-year stormwater plan.

Dave Robbins of 532 Mammoth Rd. wanted to know why several longstanding disagreements were still unresolved.

“I was kind of stunned to see that stormwater was still an issue. I talked to Mr. Trottier probably about a year ago,” he said. “It sounds like it should be easier to figure out what our stormwater runoff is going to be, our variables are there.”

Robbins encouraged the Planning Board to err on the side of caution for the sake of nearby residents and to require a larger stormwater basin.

Other environmental objections included a proposal to cut down trees in the nearby forested wetland area, something Conservation Chair, Marge Badois, said would create an “ecosystem failure.”

“By cutting down the trees around this wetland, you’re introducing sunshine into an environment that’s not capable of withstanding sun, it thrives in the shade,” she said.

Several Planning Board members worried about the size of the impervious surface Technology Hill would have, leading to too much runoff for the surrounding environment to handle, especially in the winter months when salt is used to de-ice roads and walkways.

Alternate member, Tony DeFrancesco, emphasized the private nature of the complex, noting it was specifically designed for those working and living in the Village, not members of the general public.

“It’s your project, your people are the only ones who are going to see it,” said DeFrancesco, questioning the need for some more “public” aspects of the project, like the bus stop.

Despite multiple issues over the large project, Board members voted to grant conditional approval to retail and childcare sections of the Technology Hill project.

Steering

“When we have IT looking, it’d be good to see what they’re looking at. Are they landing and leaving? Are they landing and staying? Are they clicking through? What are they doing?” asked Deb Paul of 118 Hardy Road. “I think younger kids might look at the survey and say ‘this doesn’t apply to me’ because they don’t own their own home.”

She suggested different questions to attract younger crowds who may rent.

“You do Master Plans for two reasons: you want to eventually zoning and land use on a larger scale towards the town to either fill in gaps that are there or create opportunities, and the other one is for services and amenities,” said Committee member, Bob Robicsek. “Those are two very different things.”

He noted that younger residents would probably respond more to the amenities side of the Master Plan compared to zoning and land use.

The survey is still available on the Master Plan website, with hard copies at Leach Library and the Senior Center. Surveys can be dropped off at the library, planning office, Town Clerk’s office, or Senior Center.

The next meeting of the Master Plan Steering Committee is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 5 at 6 p.m. at Town Hall.

Freedom of Choice

It is a part of human nature for us to want what we can't have or to engage in what is forbidden. That's the nature of Banned Books Week, which takes place September 22nd and ends September 28th this year. It is geared towards calling attention to books that some Americans want to prevent other Americans from reading.

According to the sponsoring American Library Association, Banned Books Week celebrates the freedom to read and the importance of the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. It highlights free access to information and freedom of expression.

In simpler terms, it means that what you like to read may differ from what I like to read, but neither of us have the right to prevent the other from reading what we want. As the old saying goes, that's why they make chocolate and vanilla.

Don't take your freedom to read for granted. There are people eager to tell you and libraries what they should make available for us to read and what they should keep away from us. That's called censorship. There is no place for it in American society. Included in the top 10 most challenged books for 2017 is "Brave New World" by Aldous Huxley. Also on that year's list is "Nickle and Dimed," nonfiction by Barbara Ehrenreich, focusing on some of America's low paying jobs. In 2009, "To Kill a Mockingbird" by Harper Lee was in the top 10, along with "Catcher in the Rye" by JD Salinger and "The Color Purple" by Alice Walker.

We recognize that parents may not consider all books appropriate for children. As long as they apply their standards to their children, we applaud their efforts at working to instill their values. When they decide their standards must apply to all children or all library patrons, that's censorship.

Make it personal. Imagine you don't have the right to select what you want to read if the books available were only those allowed by government-sanctioned or self-appointed censors.

Banned Books Week reminds us to cherish the freedom to read what we choose. We can't think for ourselves when restraints are placed on the information available. That's why we cherish press freedom, and why our country's founders enshrined it in the Constitution. That's why we must stay alert, to keep alive the values that underlie our democratic form of government.

Do something to celebrate your right to think for yourself this week. Read a book. Any book you want.

Recognition of a Special Young Man

To the editor,

As your state representative, I was pleased to perform constituent service to a very deserving young man and a proud mother. I was recently approached by Krystal Haseltine, the mother of Caleb Haseltine who requested an American Flag to be flown over the state capitol in her son's honor. After meeting with Krystal and Caleb, I was greatly pleased to arrange her request. Caleb is a Londonderry High School senior and was recently accepted into the Advanced Technical Field Special Warfare Operator Program in the U.S. Navy. He signed a contract with the Special Forces as an E4-Petty Officer Third Class with the goal of becoming part of the Navy SEALs Team. Caleb attends two schools simultaneously. Besides his academics at Londonderry, he also attends Alvirne High School for Diesel Mechanics, Welding, and ROTC. Caleb also works two part-time jobs for a local landscaper and a local butcher shop. For these special accomplishments, Caleb was presented the flag and a certificate signed by Governor Sununu and me in recognition of his exceptional accomplishments. This was a proud moment for his mother, his father Sheldon, and his brothers and sisters! Caleb will enter a 10-month pre-SEAL training program and upon school graduation, will attend two months of basic training and then on to SEAL training. I am particularly proud to sponsor him for this presentation and wish Caleb the best in his career goals!

Thanks to Voters

To the editor,

I just want to say thank you so much for coming out to vote for me on Sept, 10 at the state primary election.

I was happy for the win in Londonderry, but sad to have lost the race for County Commissioner. Again thank you for the support.

Londonderry Senior Information Expo

To the editor,

Please don't miss the opportunity to visit the Londonderry Senior Information Expo on Saturday the 21st from 10-2 at the Londonderry Middle School. The Senior Resource Committee has assembled approximately 70 exhibitors (15 more than last year) that are coming to you because they want you to know about their services and products. Where else could you meet with town officials, health care providers, and organizations to help you remain in your home, or organizations to help you find housing you can afford.

If you want to stay in your home and want to know what you can do to make it accessible, what health care providers can do for you, what your home care options are, if you are eligible for a property tax exemption or deferral, or you just want to talk to aging experts that can give you advice and suggestions.

If you want to know about housing options, downsizing, independent or assisted living, financing options, estate sales, or need to know about legal services, you should come.

If you want to know if you are eligible for state services for medical care, meal delivery, fuel assistance or any of the myriad of state services that are available and you want to talk to a person who knows, you should come. If you want to know about the local caregiver services, transportation, companionship, and rehab equipment you can borrow, you should come.

If you are struggling with mental health issues, or are concerned about someone who is, you should come. If you want to stay active but don't know how, you should come. If you are concerned about insurance and financial matters, you should come.

Unlike Silver Lining events I have attended in Manchester and

Annual 9-11 Memorial Held at Central Fire Station

Members of the Londonderry Police and Fire Departments held a brief service to honor the memory of those that lost their lives during the Sept. 11, 2001 terrorist attacks. Fire Chief, Bo Butler, spoke to those gathered and thanked them for remembering and attending the service. Butler reminded people how the town had gotten the “Never Forget” piece of steel memorial that now sits in front of the Hicks-O’Brien Fire Station. The steel was retrieved by members of the Fire Department in 2019. He also stressed the need to remember the lives lost in this tragic event. Deputy Chief, Phil LaBlanc, ended the service by ringing the bell 5-5-5, it signifies when a firefighter loses his life in the line of duty.

Extensive Attention Given to Musquash Trails at Trail Work Day

PAUL CONYERS
LONDONDERRY TIMES

At its Sept. 10 meeting, the Conservation Commission announced it had “quite the week” at Musquash, according to Chair, Marge Badois, following the recent Trail Work Day.

“There were several organized groups that went out and built ridges and boardwalks cleared trails. One of the groups was from Home Depot, they that this thing called ‘Team Depot’ and they had about 20 people show up,” she said. “There was a team from New England Mountain Bikers, they were out there. There was a tree hanging over Betty Mack Trail, Al Sypek went out there and cut that baby down.”

Home Depot donated materials and encouraged volunteers to come down for the event. According to Sypek, Overlook Trail and Mathes Trail are overgrown and will need “trimming and thinning” in the near future. The Chair promised to find more volunteers to help with those trails at the next Work Day.

“Now is a pretty good time to do it because it’s not too hot, the bugs are gone, it’s not pouring rain, and the weather’s been good,” she said. “We have a lot of friends out there who are helping us out.”

The Conservation Commission and Londonderry Trailways are always looking for volunteers and equipment to help keep the trails in good shape. An event on Saturday, Sept. 21, aims to clean up and improve accessibility on the Nutfield Trail behind North School. The clean-up will run from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Member Mike Speltz, had the expected permit by notification drafted for the Scobie Pond boat launch project with the required data check from the NH National Heritage Bureau.

“The data check, not surprisingly, brought for the fact that there are numerous turtle sightings spotted in the area. They’re all over 20 years old, but I mainly thing that’s because no one has looked,” he said. “I followed up with the National Heritage Bureau and they gave us three requirements, with the main thing being don’t build in a previously disturbed area.”

Speltz was confident the boat launch would not violate any Heritage Bureau stipulations. Approval from NH Fish and Game was still ongoing.

“They asked for some additional information, so I sent them a boatload of stuff. Pictures, maps, etc.” explained Speltz. “We are now in a queue for them to get around to reviewing it. I don’t think they’re going to deny it, but we’ll find out what requirements they’re going to give us and are the onerous enough that we can’t do them.”

The Conservation Commission still needs to send the documents to the NH Department of Environmental Services before the boat launch can receive a state permit. No further action on the project will be possible until the permit is confirmed.

The Conservation Commission is scheduled to meet again on Tuesday, Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Moose Hill Council Chambers.

Heritage

“I’m not sure what’s going on, I’m not sure why it’s happening or how it’s happening but I will tell you what’s going on is not right,” DeFrancesco said.

DeFrancesco explained that one solution could be to potentially have staff decide whether an applicant has to go to the Heritage Commission or not, based on what is being proposed and based on the property. He said things like the color of buildings and type of roofs could be handled by the Planning Board, and said that should make it more user friendly for the applicant.

Planning Board Vice Chair, Art Rugg, noted that about 20 years ago, the Planning Board delegated certain things to the Heritage Commission.

DeFrancesco argued that based on the way it is set up now, he thinks that some applicants have adjusted their plans based on suggestions from the Heritage Commission, despite the Planning Board not telling them they had to do it.

“I’m convinced that the applicants don’t know that (the) committee is advisory only,” DeFrancesco said.

Planning Board Chair, Jake Butler, said they may have to work on coming to an understanding on what the role of the Heritage Commission is when it comes to the design review process.

“I do think that the Heritage Commission plays a huge role in the aesthetic of the community,” Butler said.

Southern NH Planning Commission Executive Director, Sylvia von Aulock, also noted that the teams submitted plans know that Heritage is advisory only.

“This is a sophisticated team, they know the Heritage Commission is recommendation (only), they know that,” she said, saying that they wouldn’t have put something in a plan after getting a recommendation from Heritage unless they had been thinking about it.

She explained that it “makes them sound better,” by saying the Heritage Commission told them to do it, saying they say that so “they can say that they are answering to the Board.”

Butler said they should ultimately meet with the Board and staff about what the regulations are and what they are doing now, along with having a discussion with the Heritage Commission to see what their thoughts are.

After that, he said they can discuss it to decide what changes, if any, they want to make to the process.

Fire Chief Offers Department's Time to School Groups

ALEX MALM
LONDONDERRY TIMES

At the most recent School Board meeting, Londonderry

Fire Chief, Bo Butler, spoke during public input about an offer by the Fire Department to speak to different groups.

One example of it that Butler pointed to was the Department's leadership team speaking to the football team during the first day of double sessions.

"Football, especially at the high school level, is much more than just a game," Butler said, explaining that it gives them an opportunity to learn about life and learn lessons.

Butler explained that they got to talk about different things.

"We talked about struggle, we talked about sacrifice, we talked about teamwork," he told the School Board.

Butler explained during the meeting that Head Football Coach, Jimmy Lauzon, also asked that they speak about safe driving and the importance of it.

He explained that they were able to talk to students in the classroom, and said they wanted to make an impact

"The message only sticks if they can feel it. It's not a power point its emotions, its human reactions in the moment," Butler said

He explained that they talked about how as a team they have to look out for each other and make sure they are following the rules of the road and aren't driving distracted.

He said his only regret is that they spoke to only one group of students in the school district so far about driving safety and the importance of it.

Butler explained that he wanted to let the district and community know that they would be willing to educate any group of people whether it's seniors or younger people or anyone in between about driving safety, and the imporance of it. "So we can hopefully prevent these tragedies from happening over and over again," Butler said, encouraging the schools to have them come speak more often.

The department's goal, Butler said is to make sure students understand the importance of driving

The School Board also approved sending a policy regarding student rights and responsibilities to a third reading.

The policy states "Student rights and responsibilities shall be published annually in the applicable student handbook and will be made available in another language or presented orally upon request. Student disciplinary procedures will be implemented pursuant to Board Policies JIC and JICD."

Knights Sweets Help Moose Hill

Members of the St. Mark's Knights of Columbus presented the LEEP staff at Moose Hill School with a check for $728.00 on Friday afternoon, Sept. 13. The money was raised during their most recent Tootsie Roll Drive and the proceeds will go to a number of "out-of-budget" supplies needed by teachers. The Knights have been donating to the school for over 15-years now.

Londonderry Boys' Soccer Get Big Win on Home Turf

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Boys' Soccer squad had a slim loss on the road last week followed by a wide-margin win at home to finish the week at 2-2-1.

The Lancers second victory of the young season came on Friday night, Sept. 13, when they handed the Merrimack Tomahawks their first loss of the season.

The LHS squad's win came with two goals in the first half, followed by four more unanswered points in the second.

Londonderry did a good job of keeping the offense away from their goaltender. Senior keeper, Noah Celio, needed to make just three saves in the shutout, while the Merrimack goalie had a busy night, having to try and protect the net 16 times throughout the game.

In the first half, senior mid-fielder, Zach Mantegari, put the Lancers on the board at 19:39 from in front of the net off a pass from the left side from junior Leo Sochanek.

At 22:14 in the first, senior Brett McKinnon put in a pass from Mantegari on the left side.

In the second half, it didn't take long for Mantegari to tally a hat trick, scoring at 46:28 and 47:02.

The first assist went to senior Tiago Keyes, the second assist was from McKinnon.

McKinnon put in his second goal of the game at 45:51 in the half, an unassisted shot to make it 5-0

Junior forward, Liam Evans, finished the scoring with his first varsity goal at 67:02.

Head coach, Todd Ellis, was happy with the team's win, commenting, "It was great to see the team put together a full 80 minutes. We defended well, created some great goals, and had a great performance in net. It was great to get all the field players into the game, and see their reaction when Liam got his first varsity goal."

Earlier in the week, Londonderry had a disappointing loss when they traveled to the Bill Ball Stadium at Exeter High School.

The Lancers fell 1-2 at the hands of the Blue Hawks, who notched their fifth consecutive victory.

Shots on net were pretty even in this game, but Exeter scored all they needed in the first half.

Celio made two saves out of the four shots on goal, while LHS had four of five kept out of the net.

McKinnon had the only goal for Londonderry, unassisted at 47:21 in the second half.

This week, the Lancers were scheduled to play at Nashua North (2-3) on Tuesday, Sept. 17, followed by another Friday night home game against the Bedford Bulldogs (4-0) on Sept. 20, starting at 6 p.m.

Lancers Field Hockey Squad Outscore Opponents 14-0

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Field Hockey Team had a fantastic week following two shutout losses. The Lady Lancers started the week with a 9-0 shutout over Manchester Memorial-Central at home then traveled to Goffstown, where they were able to defeat the Grizzlies 5-0.

The two victories put the LHS squad at 3-2, with all of their wins and losses coming as shutouts.

On Monday, Sept. 9, Londonderry hosted the Manchester Memorial-Central where they easily got by that team out-shooting MMC 10-3, and getting a nine-goal shutout.

The Londonderry goals came from eight different sources, with senior Ava Windisch getting a pair. One of those was assisted by junior Sienna Schultz, the other came from sophomore Gemma Murray.

Seven other Lancers contributed to the lopsided victory, juniors Alison Chambers, Jiselle Silvestro, and Schulz all had unassisted goals.

Sophomore Lexi Padykula was assisted by Windisch; Murray's goal was assisted by Silvestro; senior Ava Naar notched a goal, assisted by Chambers; and junior Eres Delorey had one assisted by Windisch.

Londonderry goaltender sophomore, Molly Tharrington, had three saves, while the Manchester goalie stopped five.

Two days later, at Goffstown High School, Londonderry put forth another strong win over the Grizzlies.

In the 5-0 victory, goals came from four different players

Senior Sara Daniels' goal was assisted by junior Lindsey McKinnon. Schulz and Padykula both notched goals with assists by Windisch.

Chambers contributed two more goals, one was unassisted, the other came from a pass off Daniels' stick.

Tharrington had eight saves, while Goffstown's Molly Braica was kept extremely busy with 19 saves.

The Lancers were scheduled to play the Dover Green Wave (4-1) at home on Monday followed by a trip to Exeter High School on Wednesday, Sept. 18, to play the 5-1 Blue Hawks.

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Cross Country teams are off to a good start this season and over the weekend, at the 2024 Nashua North Invitational, the girls' team finished out of 14 teams, while the boys had a fourth place finish out of 17 teams.

The race took place at Mines Falls Park, Nashua on Saturday, Sept. 14, with the LHS girls' sticking together with a very low gap time of just 1:03 minutes between their first and fifth runners.

The finish was the highest team finish for the girls at the invitational since 2014, when they were also third overall.

Even though the course was lengthened from the 2023 version, several of the girls including senior Sayde White, junior Drewanne Sherman, sophomore Harper LaBonte, and junior Ella DiBuono ran significantly faster this year.

Girls' Varsity Results: Sayde White was 18th at 21:27.97; Drewanne Sherman, 26th at 22:08.92; sophomore, Gabrielle DeLong, was 27th at 22:09.18; freshman Anna Laufersweiler was 30th at 22:19.80; freshman Stella Dutton, 33rd at 22:30.58; Ella DiBuono, 35th at 22:44.75; and Harper LaBonte took 35th at 22:47.35.

The boys' team was able to beat defending Division I Champions

Nashua South and are looking to close the gap with Bishop Guertin, Salem, and Pinkerton in the coming weeks.

Like the girls, the LHS boys also had an outstanding gap time of 1:01 between their first and fifth runners.

LHS Girls' Soccer Get Five-Goal Victory Over Red Raiders

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School Girls' Soccer squad had some trouble at home to start the week, but finished with their second five-goal win of the fall season.

After beginning the 2024 season at 1-1-1, the Lady Lancers were at home on Tuesday afternoon facing a tough Exeter High School soccer squad, a team who has yet to suffer a defeat.

In that game, the Lady Blue Hawks remained perfect when they handed LHS a 4-1 loss.

Senior Audrey Hughes was able to put the lone LHS point on the board, assisted by fellow senior Reagan Anderson.

Exeter kept LHS senior tender, Reagan Delude, very busy, with five first half saves and another 10 in the second period.

Londonderry has yet to win on their home field this season, falling to Winnacunett 0-1 last week and settling for a 2-2 tie to begin the season.

The Lancers have proven to be stong on the road this year winning 5-1 last week at Spaulding High School and ending week with a 5-0 victory over the Tomahawks in Merrimack.

It took a bit to get started on Friday, but once they started Londonderry was able to tie their season high goal total.

LHS freshman, Jackie Heimsath, started the scoring with a goal in minute 21, the assist was delivered to sophomore Ashlyn Proulx.

In the 31st minute, Hughes got the only other goal in the first half, assisted by Anderson.

Anderson followed with two goals of her own, one in the 64th minute and the other in minute 70. Both came with assists by senior Kate Sloper.

Heimsath added her second of the game in the 77th minute assisted by Proulx to finish with a 5-0 shutout

After a busy game earlier in the week, tender Delude was well-defended against MHS, needing to make just two stops in the first half and none in the second.

The Lancers were scheduled to play Nashua North (3-1-1) at home on Tuesday, Sept. 17, followed by a game with the Lady Bulldogs on Friday night at Bedford High School starting at 7 p.m.

Girls' Volleyball Win and Lose

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

At the end of two weeks of the fall sports season the Londonderry High School Girls' Volleyball team has won two and dropped two.

The Lancers began their week on Wednesday, Sept. 11, where they picked up a solid win on the road in Exeter.

The girls' improved their season record to 2-1 by winning three of four sets.

After battling the Blue Hawks to a 26-24 victory in the first set, LHS dropped the second game by a score of 21-25. The ladies bounced back with two strong performances in the final two sets, finishing the night with 25-18 and 25-21 victories.

Highlights in the match included: Junior outside hitter, Elisabeth Kearney, was able to get seven kills, nine digs, and four aces; junior middle hitter, Annie Williams with six kills, five aces, and six digs; junior hitter, Riley Campo, finished the night with 10 kills and six digs, while junior setter, Mady Normand, had 24 assists and four digs.

Following that, Londonderry returned to their home court on Friday night, Sept. 13, where they fell to 2-2 on the season against a very tough Salem Blue Devils crew.

The Lancers lost three of four with set scores of 25-22, 25-18, 21-25 and 25-15. Highlights included: Normand with 16 assists and eight digs; senior hitter, Gabby Pedrick, got five kills, six digs, and two aces; and junior Jacquelyn Brunelle had 12 digs.

In this week's schedule, Londonderry will be at home to face the Merrimack Tomahawks (4-1) on Wednesday, Sept. 18 followed by a trip to Nashua South (3-1) on Friday night, Sept. 19.

Second Mass Game Ends Badly

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

The Londonderry High School football team traveled to the Bay State for the second consecutive week, this time heading to Danvers on Friday night, where the outcome was flipped from last week's win, losing to St. John's Prep 42-14.

The Lancers officially had a bye-week after they secured a 30-7 win over the Salem Blue Devils in the season opener, but took it on the chin during the out-of-conference contest in week two.

LHS is scheduled to play its first Division I game in the Granite State on Friday night at Concord High School.

The Crimson Tide (2-0) started their season with wins over Goffstown (17-14) and Manchester Central (45-14) and LHS hopes to end that streak.

Londonderry's first home game is scheduled for Sept. 28 with a Mack-Plaque contest against Pinkerton.

Fifth Annual Skip Burbine Tennis Tournament Held

CHRIS PAUL
LONDONDERRY TIMES

In Skip Burbine's words, "There's only one thing worse than losing and that's not playing at all," and that sentiment was carried on through the fifth annual Skip Burbine Memorial Tennis Tournament.

The three-day event took place at the Skip Burbine Tennis Courts at the LAFA Complex, in Londonderry, beginning on Friday, Sept. 6 and ended with three sets of winners on Sunday, Sept. 8, under some outstanding end-of-summer weather.

Family members Patrice, Alex, and Cassie Burbine hosted and organized the tournament with the help of a number of friends and it featured three divisions playing on the four courts.

The Ladies Doubles win went to Cassie Burbine and Julia Chappell.

The Men's Doubles trophy went to McKinley Grimes and Sean Steigerwald.

The Mixed Doubles winners were Cassie Burbine and Mike Young.

On Saturday, a small ceremony kicked off the day with friends and family members sharing stories of Skip's life and how much he gave to the game of tennis.

Both of his children had exceptional careers as tennis players at Londonderry High School, with Alex, the current boys' head coach, helping to win a State Championship in 2010 and Cassie winning the singles state title in 2014.

If re-elected, I will again pledge to attend every House Session and to cohost "What's Happening in Concord" meetings throughout the next two years to keep you updated as well as offer the opportunity for you to voice concerns or opinions and to answer your questions.

I have already had several constituents reach out with ideas for Bills they wish to have put forward in 2025. I am in the process of working with them and researching those ideas for final consideration. I invite you to contact me as well to discuss possible additional Bills. I am proud that two of the Bills that I sponsored in 2024 were signed by the Governor and put into law. Both were at the request of my Londonderry constituents.
