Closing on Conservation Property Set for April 29

HUNTER MCGEE
NUTFIELD NEWS

The closing on a tract of conservation land known as the Sawyer Property is scheduled to occur later this month, according to officials.

In a Conservation Commission meeting earlier this month, newly appointed Conservation Commission Chairman Paul Dionne said it is set for April 29.

Commission members have been seeking to purchase the land for years. Dionne said he remembers when discussion began on the parcel 24 years ago.

The land is near the Ballard Pond State Forest and abuts other properties that have already been conserved.

The 78 acres runs along 1,700 feet of New Hampshire Recreation Trail, according to officials.

It is also less than 800 feet, across a wetlands property, from the 140-acre Gunther Nelson property, which the town holds conservation easement on; and 1,300 feet from 68 acres that make up the Ballard Pond State Forest, which is home to the Taylor Mill, Wetherbee said.

"In the world of conservation, connectivity is the name of the game and acquiring parcels that are in close proximity to each other is always the most desirable option," Conservation Commission member Neil Wetherbee said at a prior meeting. "The acquisition of this parcel will create a wholly connected, 200 plus acre conservation property – one of the larger areas in town."

Conservation Commissioners voted unanimously at their Feb. 13 meeting to approve spending a total of $215,697 toward the purchase of the parcel.

The Commission members also agreed to enter into a memorandum of understanding with the Southeast Land Trust to hold the conservation easement on the property following approval by the council.

In the Feb. 21 meeting, councilors agreed on a proposal to spend $250,000 from the unassigned fund balance in a supplemental appropriation toward the purchase of the property.

Proposed Fiscal Year 2018 Derry Public Works Budget Presented

HUNTER MCGEE
NUTFIELD NEWS

A Hood Pond Dam project and a proposal to replace a $100,000 one-ton dump truck are some of the items included in the proposed Public Works 2018 Fiscal Year budget.

Included is a proposed general fund net expense of $6,303,788, up about three percent over last year, according to officials.

The proposed net expense for FY 2018 is about $178,000 higher than last year, Public Works Director Michael Fowler said during a budget presentation at an April 11 budget workshop. During the session, Fowler outlined highlights of the proposed spending plan and gave an update on projects such as an LED street light conversion plan. Started about 18 months ago, the program converted more than 950 street lights in town from older bulbs to the more efficient LED lights.

That project has dramatically lowered costs, cutting electricity costs by about 55 percent, Fowler said.

"That is an example of a project that was fully supported by the council, that really is paying dividends now," Fowler said.

He added that the project had about a four-year payback and "we are seeing that payback materialize now."

Also during the presentation, Fowler gave an overview of the Public Works Department and the proposed budget.

He said the department has 57 full-time employees, with seven part-time employees and a number of seasonal workers.

Through monitoring costs and keeping an eye on the bottom line, Public Works administrators have kept the budget at around the level of the 2006 spending plan, Fowler said.

"We have held the line essentially at levels we were funded at in Fiscal Year 2006," Fowler said.

The budget is about two percent less than the 2006 spending plan, he said.

"So we were actually $114,000 less, 2 percent less, than what we were 12

Town Struggling to Find Life Guards for Summer Programs

HUNTER MCGEE
NUTFIELD NEWS

Facing a shortage of lifeguards, administrators aren't sure whether Hood Park will be open this summer for swim lessons and other activities.

Last year, officials weren't able to adequately fill positions for lifeguards and instructors at the park, Public Works Director Michael Fowler said during a budget presentation on April 11.

"We have, as many many communities in New Hampshire have, struggled," Fowler said. "Last year we were not able to fill the positions for life guards and instructors. So you had swim lessons that didn't occur for the first time in years."

Second Annual Upper Room Race For Families Held April 9

HUNTER MCGEE
NUTFIELD NEWS

With dozens of runners participating, the Second Annual Upper Room Race For Families (TURRFF) on April 9 proved to be another success, according to organizers.

With all proceeds benefiting the Upper Room, the first wave of runners started Sunday Morning from Pinkerton Academy's Hackler Gymnasium. During the race, there was music, good food and a popular photo booth that the crowd loved, said Upper Room Executive Director Brenda Guggisberg.

"It was a great day," she said, adding with "simply the best entertainment offered."

Guggisberg also praised Stonyfield for running a booth and giving out yogurt and snacks for hungry race goers.

"It was a huge hit for the race," she said.

Because it was a certified race, the race provided an opportunity for people who are trying to qualify for other races, Guggisberg said.

She added that the race is a good opportunity for school teams, company teams, or runners who want to get their spring legs moving.

As for the results, she gave the following:

The Derry Police Running Team won the 5 K race as a team.

Team Cinnamon Bun (A team comprised of Upper Room staff and Board of Directors) won the 10 k race as a team.

David Veale of Chester won 5K for male with 19:53 finish time.

Tara Aquilina Of Hampstead won top female 5 K with 23:29 finish time.

Dante Clivio won the kids 10 and under division 5K coming in at 25:49.

Steve Tomasi of Derry won the top male 10K with a finish time of 41:24

Charlotte Gross of Somerville won the 10K for female runners with a finish time of 48:27

The day ended with a kids race of kids under 5, with "prizes, good music, great food, great weather and a healthy event for families and our community," Guggisberg said.

She thanked the race sponsors:

Wellsense – lead sponsor 10K; Parkland and Derry Medical Center – sponsored the 5K

Also: Salem Fire; Minute-man Press; The Zoo; Vanguard Dental; Convenient MD; Stonyfield; Clam Haven; Runners Alley; Hampstead Health and Fitness; and Pinkerton Academy.

Runners participate in the 10K of the the Second Annual Upper Room Race For Families (TURRFF) on April 9. All proceeds from the race will benefit the Upper Room. Team Cinnamon Bun (A team comprised of Upper Room staff and Board of Directors) won the 10K race as a team, according to organizers.

Town Council Scheduled to Discuss Fund for Bargaining Costs

HUNTER MCGEE
NUTFIELD NEWS

During their April 18 meeting, councilors were scheduled to discuss a plan to establish a trust fund for assisting with paying Fiscal Year 2018 collective bargaining implementation costs.

In 2016, the Town Council negotiated and ratified collective bargaining agreements with seven unions, according to a staff report prepared by Town Administrator David Caron. Some of the unions had been without a contract for several years, the report said.

Employees agreed to a reduced health plan in exchange for wage adjustments. By agreeing to the reduced health plan, the Town saved funds in Fiscal Year 2017 over what the Fiscal Year 2018 wage adjustment cost, Caron said. The savings total $237,000.

The council anticipated that the new agreement would cost less over the cost of the status quo, which provided for expensive health plans, Caron said. In addition, the town would avoid the tax on high cost-cost plans, which is scheduled to be imposed on employers by the federal government beginning in 2020, Caron said.

So that the savings can be transferred into FY 2018 to assist with paying FY18 Collective Bargaining Agreement implementation costs, it is recommended that "the council create a trust fund and deposit fiscal year savings into that fund," Caron said.

Administrators are recommending that the $237,000 in savings be transferred to the expendable trust fund. The staff is recommending that the council adopt a resolution establishing the trust fund, Caron wrote.

In other agenda items, the council is scheduled to consider a plan to accept Willow Street and Lilac Court as Class V roads.

In 1997, the Planning Board approved a 24-lot subdivision named Ettlingen Homes Inc., which is also known as Willow Bend Subdivision, Public Works Director Michael Fowler wrote in a recent staff report. Located just a half-mile north of Derry's border with Windham, the development consists of the two roads, Willow Street and Lilac Circle.

Both roads were substantially completed in 1999 but because of a slow housing market, several punch list items and clean-up items weren't completed until 2006, Fowler wrote.

A final escrow release was completed in 2006 but due to an oversight, the roads weren't included in a street acceptance submission that year, Fowler said.

To correct the omission, staff is recommending that the council vote to accept both streets, Fowler said.

Pinkerton Career Fair Matches Employees, Employers

KATHLEEN D. BAILEY
NUTFIELD NEWS

Doug Cullen, career coordinator for Pinkerton Academy, wasn't surprised when employers began signing up to have a presence at the school's Career Fair. "Last year we had a wait list that was longer than the one in the program," he said.

Pinkerton Academy held its second annual Career Fair this past Thursday in the media center of the Academy Building. Twenty-one companies set up booths to chat with job seekers, a demographic that is rapidly diminishing as the unemployment rate drops.

Cullen said the fair was open to both Pinkerton students and the general public. In addition to recruiting booths, the fair offered a resume critique service and a resume-writing workshop.

"These companies are desperate," Cullen observed. "They have more than 1,000 jobs to fill."

While this fair is separate from the school's annual Building Trades Fair, held in conjunction with the New Hampshire Home Builders Association, at least one company, Bill Trombly Plumbing and Heating, had a presence at both.

Paul Gagne, one of the representatives at the Bill Trombly table, said that the company is looking for quality licensed plumbers, to supervise apprentices. He'd like to get more young people interested in the trades, he said. "We have tuition reimbursement, and the benefits are getting better every year," Gagne said.

Laurie Islieb and Pinkerton alumna Michelle Chase staffed a booth for Tecomet, a company that manufactures trays and cases for the medical supply industry.

"Pinkerton has a manufacturing program, so it's a good opportunity to meet those kids," Islieb said. "We'd like to get a few in for the summer." "The job market is tight and recruiting is a challenge," Chase said.

For Alicia Jackson, a recruiting specialist with the state Department of Transportation, the easy jobs to fill are in the middle of the spectrum. "We have the most trouble recruiting for entry-level, and on the other end, for civil engineers," she said.

Jackson's challenge is also to cover the entire state, she said. "We have positions ranging from Berlin and Coos County to Nashua," she said.

Monique Miseirvitch, RN, recruited workers for the burgeoning at-home health care industry. She is a representative of Right At Home, an agency that provides non-medical home care to people 21 and older, but mostly to the elderly.

Miseirvitch talked to a number of Pinkerton students, mostly in the Health Careers program, during the morning session, which was only open to the students. "There was an interest among the kids, and I'm hoping for more," she said.

Her agency provides personal care, medical reminders, transportation, errands, meal prep and "light housekeeping."

"You don't have to have an LNA," she said, though many students in the Health Careers program acquire this designation before they graduate. "We will train them."

"People are living longer," Miseirvitch said, "and they want to stay in their homes. They do better in their homes."

In a sunny corner of the library, Karen Guilmette filled out paperwork for Hannaford Supermarkets along with her sister Kim Fabrizio. Fabrizio had recruited Guilmette to accompany her to the event, and Fabrizio said she found out about it through her son, a Pinkerton student.

Both women were hoping they'd make a good professional match at the event. Guilmette said she worked 14 years for Rockingham Park in Salem, which recently closed its doors for good.

"It's a big transition," Guilmette said. She hasn't been able to find a job since the racetrack closed in August, and said, "My supervisor is also still interviewing for jobs. It's competitive, with our age group."

Fabrizio was downsized from Polar Tec, at Malden Mills.

Guilmette has a degree in Animal Sciences and has also worked as a professional dog groomer. "But," she said, "there are some things I can't do any more, like lifting."

Fabrizio said she has a background in Customer Relations.

"We are testing the waters," Guilmette said of the Career Fair.

A Habit Worth Developing

With the calendar and the weather aligning at last, piles of snow have become just an unpleasant memory. But what they left behind are piles of trash that have been buried through the winter, as well as the latest beer cans and fast food wrappers tossed out the windows of passing vehicles glaring visual reminders of just how lazy our fellow citizens can be.

One good thing about the snow it masked most of that mess. Now it's out there in all its ugliness. April 22 is Earth Day and is the month for town cleanups, and we encourage our readers to participate. There's plenty of trash to go around whether it lines the border between the street and your yard, or it's down the road a bit.

The weekend weather has been inviting, a good time to spruce up your street and bring back "curb appeal." What we see along our roads paints a picture that is far from pretty. It's disheartening to realize how many people are throwing trash and garbage from their cars as they drive by. It's scary when we realize that included in the unsightliness not so infrequently are syringes. And even sadder is the realization that much of what's tossed could easily have been recycled.

We can instill in every family member the reminder that trash does not get thrown out the window. Keep a litterbag in the car, and empty it into your garbage or recycling when you get home. You wouldn't take your garbage and dump it over the fence onto the next-door neighbor's property, so why would you throw it onto the road that you pay taxes to maintain?

We should try to pick up a little all throughout the year so the spring clean is not as bad and be proud of what a good job we do keeping our towns clean all year.

Wherever we live, we should expect our streets and lawns to be clean, not repositories for someone else's garbage. And we should do our part to make sure they stay that way. Whether you decide to join a formal, town organized cleanup or you take it upon yourself to keep a portion of the road where you live or the land where you walk free of litter or you do both we urge everyone who's physically able to make a commitment to keep their town looking its best throughout the year.

Taking care of the place we call home is not something we can do just one day a year. It's a habit well worth developing.

Eagle Project Benefits Upper Room and its Clients

KATHLEEN D. BAILEY
NUTFIELD NEWS

Brenda Guggisberg, executive director of The Upper Room, expected a quality project when an Eagle Scout approached her about building a door to camouflage a storage area just off the entrance. She didn't expect a door worthy of HGTV.

"It's so Chip-and-Joanna-Gaines," she said, referring to the popular hosts of "Fixer-Upper." "It's aesthetically current, and perfect for this building, which is a remodeled farmhouse." She slid the big barn-style door, and it moved smoothly on its hinges.

Kenyon Schick, an Eagle Scout from Newfields, chose The Upper Room for his Eagle project. His remodel of two dated areas at the family service agency will help staff, and especially clients, feel more comfortable as they go about the business of strengthening families.

Guggisberg said Schick, the son of staff member Susan Schick, came to them inquiring about a possible project. Guggisberg has worked with corporate and civic volunteers before, and had a "wish list" of updates and upgrades. "We gave him some thoughts of things he could do both inside and outside," Guggisberg said. "He said he wanted to do the storage area and the waiting area."

Schick disappeared for a few months and the staff didn't hear from him. But when he resurfaced, it was with a shovel-ready, or at least hammer-ready, project.

"He had raised all the money and come up with a complete design," Guggisberg marveled.

And Schick had built the sliding door on his own. "It was sturdy, it met our needs, and it is beautiful and relevant to how people live today," Guggisberg said.

Schick also purchased chairs for the waiting area and set up the alcove, where clients can wait for an appointment with Guggisberg or any Upper Room staff member.

"He started in March, and he came in a couple of Saturdays with his volunteers, including some other Eagle Scout candidates," Guggisberg said.

Without Schick, the project wouldn't have happened, or would have had to wait for another volunteer, Guggisberg said. "As a not-for-profit, we don't necessarily have the capital to do this kind of work," she said. "This allows us to spend our money as the donors want, in providing direct services to clients."

And if those clients come in through an attractive foyer and have a comfortable place to wait, that's fine with Guggisberg. "The individuals who come to us for help," she said, "deserve to feel, 'you are valuable. You deserve a beautiful space.'"

To volunteer or sponsor a project, contact Guggisberg at 437-8477 or visit www.urteachers.org

Man Charged After Leading Police On High Speed Chase

HUNTER MCGEE
AND PENNY WILLIAMS
NUTFIELD NEWS

No court date has been set for a homeless man accused of allegedly stealing a truck in Haverhill, Mass. and leading police on a high-speed chase through multiple communities.

Shane Collins, 41, was arrested on April 13 and faces multiple charges after a chase that went through several communities including Derry, Salem, Sandown and Chester.

Collins has not entered a plea yet pending his acquiring an attorney, Derry police Capt. Vern Thomas said Monday. His bail has been set at $5,000 cash.

"He has been arraigned by several other communities and has bail with them as well. He is residing in Rock County Jail," Thomas said.

Chester Police Chief Aaron Berube said his department first received a report of the chase at 9:45 a.m. on Wednesday.

At one point in the pursuit the suspect allegedly drove the vehicle on Sandown Road. Officer Timothy Loveless had set up spike strips on the road but the suspect was able to avoid them by allegedly leaving the road and speeding across two lawns.

The suspect then nearly hit Loveless' cruiser, before getting back on Sandown Road and heading back into Sandown, Berube said.

Eventually, the suspect was seen heading back toward Chester, Berube said. A perimeter was set up involving law enforcement agencies from Salem, Chester, Sandown, Hempstead, Derry, Rockingham County Sheriff's Office, and New Hampshire State Police, Berube said.

Eventually the suspect was captured in Derry on English Range Road, Berube said. He was arrested on multiple charges, according to police.

"I am proud of the numerous agencies working together in a professional and efficient manner to have the suspect apprehended," Berube said.

Updated Derry Emergency Operations Plan Approved

HUNTER MCGEE
NUTFIELD NEWS

Whether it's a destructive blizzard or a raging flood, Derry has a plan to turn to in the event of a catastrophic emergency.

As required by the Federal Emergency Management Agency, Councilors have approved an updated version of the town's emergency operations plan.

Following a presentation by fire officials, Council members voted to approve the plan at their April 4 meeting.

Derry Fire Chief Michael Gagnon, who serves as the town's emergency management director, gave the presentation with Battalion Chief William Gillis, deputy emergency management director.

Gagnon said the town is required to update the plan every five years and it is needed when Derry tries to obtain state grants.

"Especially when we try to get grants from the state, or we do emergency planning with the state, they are going to be looking for this plan," Gagnon said.

Work on the updated version of the plan was completed last year, Gagnon said.

Taking about six months, Gillis said the planning process involved a number of stakeholders in the community, including the Greater Derry Chamber of Commerce, the Derry Cooperative School District, Public Works, the police and fire departments and Pinkerton Academy. Gillis said the plan aligns with state and national plans.

Following the presentation, Gagnon and Gillis fielded questions from councilors on the plan.

Councilor Phyllis Katsakiores asked where Derry residents would evacuate to in the event of an emergency.

Gagnon said residents would possibly go to Pinkerton Academy's Hackler Gymnasium, which has been established as a mass shelter and has a generator that can be powered up in a short time. At the gym, the Red Cross and the town's newly developed CERT team would be on hand, he said.

Gagnon added that it's also possible Derry residents could go to Londonderry High School as the designated regional center. Ultimately, the authority for deciding where residents would go in the event of a regional disaster rests with the Red Cross, according to officials.

When asked by Katsakiores how residents would be notified in the event of an emergency, Gagnon said there are several mechanisms already in place such as the Code Red system. Under this system, approximately 6,000 calls a minute can be made to alert residents.

The system also offers the option of receiving an email or a text message. It was recently deployed when the town chose to postpone the March 14 election because of a powerful nor'easter. The election was rescheduled to March 21. Even in the event of a power failure the most resilient form of communication we have is texting," Gagnon said.

Residents can sign up for Code Red at the town's emergency management website, according to officials.

The town also operates its own radio station, AM 1610, and has the option of using all social media platforms, such as Facebook, Twitter and web sites, to alert residents.

The can also go door to door, like in the 2008 ice storm when 95 percent of the community lost power. During that storm, emergency operations officials used the Post Office and even placed flyers on pizza boxes to get the word out.

In the event of an emergency, Gillis said emergency operations officials always tell residents to have supplies such as blankets enough food and water on hand to be self-sufficient for at least 72 hours.

Even if the power is out, Gagnon added that residents will still have the option of texting to receive and send messages. He said texting was used successfully used during 911 even when communications were shut down.

"Even in the event of a power failure the most resilient form of communication we have is texting," Gagnon said.

In addition, the town has redundant communication systems in its emergency operations center and satellite phone capabilities for both phone transmissions and data transmissions if the internet goes down.

"If the internet were to go down we can still communicate with the Emergency Operations Center in Concord, Gagnon said.

The overall project cost is $465,697. In addition, councilors also approved letter of understanding between the town and the Southeast Land Trust.

The Council previously agreed to present the supplemental appropriation of $250,000, to come from the unassigned fund balance, to a public hearing for input and action, according to a staff report prepared by Town Administrator David Caron. The funds will be combined with the already approved $215,697 from the Conservation Commission.

"It will help preserve the integrity and sustainability of the Ballard Pond water shed and will also prevent the construction of 10 more potential single family housing units," Wetherbee said.

And in their Jan. 3 meeting, councilors completed funding for a 63.5-acre tract of conservation land at 7.5 Willow Street.

Councilors voted 5-2 to reaffirm the $740,000 total acquisition cost of the project. They also agreed to approve spending $252,500 from the unassigned fund balance in a supplemental appropriation to complete funding the project.

The parcel represents one of the few remaining large tracts of land still available in West Derry, according to officials.

West Derry was the first part of the town that was developed and settled primarily as a residential area, according to officials.

Rockingham County Ranks Highest in Health in State

KATHLEEN D. BAILEY
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation has ranked Rockingham County the healthiest county in New Hampshire for the second year in a row.

The ranking was announced in the eighth annual “County Health Rankings,” produced by the Foundation in conjunction with the University of Wisconsin Population Health Institute.

The rankings are a state-by-state look at health outcomes, factors, and policies and programs. Data analyzed includes information on access to healthcare, tobacco use, income levels, premature birth, obesity, child poverty, teen births, sexually transmitted infections and alcohol and drug use.

In the rankings for overall health outcomes, which measures how long people live and how happy they feel while alive, Rockingham County was deemed healthiest, followed by Carroll, Grafton, Merrimack, Cheshire, Hillsborough, Belknap, Strafford and Sullivan, with Coos bringing up the rear

Rockingham County also came in first in health factors, including health behaviors, clinical care, social, economic and physical environmental factors, followed by Grafton, Merrimack, Cheshire, Hillsborough, Sullivan, Strafford, Belknap and Coos.

Lisa Morris, director of the New Hampshire Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Public Health Services, wrote in a statement, “The conditions in the places where people live, learn, work and play and age affect a wide range of health risks and outcomes. This annual report provides the New Hampshire Department of Health and Human Services with local level data to help us understand the health of residents across our state.”

She continued, “Each county has their own unique challenges and strengths, and we will continue working with local partners to help address the top challenges in their communities.”

Nicole Ferrante, Recreation Coordinator, has seen an interest in healthy living grow over her years with the department, and while the interest crosses all demographics, she has particularly seen an interest in health by seniors, millennials and the special needs population.

“People live longer now, and they want to age in a healthy manner,” Ferrante said. New Hampshire is one of the top three states for a median age of 50 or better, she said.

“They really want to get active, so we’re giving them more options for fitness and wellness,” Ferrante said.

And they’re seeking out new ways to do it, from Tai Chi to Reiki to acupuncture, Ferrante observed.

On the opposite end of the exercise spectrum, millennials don’t want to drive or even own cars, and she’s seen more young people biking to work or biking for fun, as well as jogging and running Ferrante has also seen more people getting involved with Special Olympics and what she calls “unified programs,” where special needs people play a sport alongside their normally-developing peers. A cause close to her heart is the Timberwolves, Derry Rec’s sports program for special-needs adults.

The Byway Intended to Highlight States Historic Sites

KATHLEEN D. BAILEY
NUTFIELD NEWS

Methot, a Chester resident and chairman of the Robert Frost/Old Stagecoach Scenic Byway Committee, is trying to blanket his town with thousands of daffodils to bloom next spring. It’s one of the many ways residents of the towns of Atkinson, Hampstead, Chester, Auburn and Derry are using to make their towns attractive to tourists and residents alike.

According to a Web site, the Robert Frost/Old Stagecoach Scenic Byway connects the towns of Atkinson, Hampstead, Chester, Auburn and Derry. Its purpose is to celebrate and interpret the historic Boston-Haverhill-Concord Stage Coach route that followed what is today Route 121, as well as the New England landscape featured in much of Robert Frost’s work, including the settings of some of his most famous poems

The Byway is intended to highlight historic sites, scenic views, outdoor recreational opportunities, and other attractions that the region has to offer, raising awareness among local residents and promoting visitation for economic development.

A Scenic Byway is a road recognized by the State of New Hampshire and the U.S. Department of Transportation for its scenic, historic, recreational, natural, cultural and/or archaeological qualities. The National Scenic Byways program was established by Congress in 1991 to preserve and protect the nation’s scenic but often less-traveled roads and promote tourism and economic development. In New Hampshire the program is administered by the New Hampshire Department of Transportation.

The 45-mile route begins at NH Route 121 in Atkinson, traversing 22 miles through the village centers of Atkinson, Hampstead, Chester and Auburn, and ending at Massabesic Lake in Auburn. From there the Robert Frost Byway segment proceeds southerly along the Route 28 Bypass through the Massabesic Lake recreation area, connecting via Auburn Road, Old Derry Road, English Range Road, and Chester Road to arrive in downtown Derry. The route then continues south of Derry village, reconnecting to NH Route 121 in Hampstead via Rockingham Road, Island Pond Road, and North Shore Road.

Methot said he got the flower idea from Atkinson, where the town planted 18,000 daffodils last year. Both Auburn and Chester are doing it this year, in preparation for a riot of spring flowers next year.

People are invited to order their bulbs, pre-pay, and pick them up and plant them in October, he said.

For Chester, part of the attraction on the Byway will be the four corners/town center, which has historic Stevens Hall, an historic church and the town cemetery. Other towns like Auburn don’t really have a “center,” but it does have Massabesic Lake, he said.

“Each town will concentrate on its own attractions,” Methot said.

The group meets every three months and the next meeting is May 15 at 7 p.m. in the Auburn Safety Complex, he said.

years ago,” Fowlers said, adding that there aren’t too many items that can be purchased for the same price as 12 years ago.”

The net expense in FY 2006 was $6,418,000, he said. He also mentioned that, as administrators have maintained the line on spending, the Consumer Price Index has regularly risen over the about the past decade.

The CPI is up about 27 percent.

“So all of that is still being covered within our budget, we’ve been able to absorb those year over year,” Fowler said

If the budget trended with CPI for those 12 years, it would be about $8.5 million, Fowler said.

“I believe we can take pride in being fiscally prudent and delivering a high level of services at a reasonable cost,” Fowler said.

Also in the presentation, Fowler discussed the proposed highway maintenance budget.

Winter maintenance was a relevant topic up until about a week ago with the return of warmer temperatures. The project is at about $260,000, with the roadway maintenance paving program staying stable at $1,449,000.

On the Hood Pond Dam project, officials are waiting for a final response back from the New Hampshire Department of Environmental Services.

There is currently a $400,000 expenditure on the project, according to officials.

The work on the dam must be done, after the New Hampshire Department of Environmental Services changed the hazard classification of Hood Pond dam, requiring the structure to meet a higher standard.

Hundreds Turn Out For Pinkerton Academy College Fair

HUNTER MCGEE
NUTFIELD NEWS

With more than 120 colleges and universities on hand, hundreds of people turned out for the Southern New Hampshire College Fair in Pinkerton Academy's Hackler Gymnasium on April 13.

Booths were set up throughout the gymnasium as students and their parents stopped by to get information and ask representatives about their schools.

Tammy Craft, school counseling office manager, said there were about 124 colleges and universities at the fair.

There were a variety of schools, from small colleges to four-year universities, attending. Some schools came from as far away as Alabama and Florida, with the University of Tampa attending, she said.

Along with a number of colleges and universities, all of the service branches, except for the Marines, were in attendance this year, Craft said. In addition, there were representatives from vocational schools and industry on hand, Craft said, including representatives from the Paul Mitchell School in Portsmouth.

"There's all kinds of different things available if kids don't want to go to a four-year or junior school, there's other options," she said.

As the internet has become more popular and students can go online to explore higher education options after high school, attendance from colleges and universities at the fair has gone down in recent years, Craft said. So to help increase attendance, organizers are trying new approaches, she said.

Students attending this year were asked to take a survey on how the college fair helped them in their search, Craft said.

"We want to know the kids' feedback; we haven't really asked them before," she said.

Walking through the gym during the fair, Pinkerton junior Dylan Durazzano stopped by the Emerson College Booth with his mother Shari Durazzano. Dylan said he liked what Emerson has to offer and is considering the video production program. He is also considering the business side as a major.

Shari Durazzano said her son is keeping an open mind as he explores his options for college.

"I think he's kind of keeping it open for now," she said. "He likes video production; he likes the business side so being able to combine two majors to be more marketable in the work force would be good. Getting a job after college would be good."

She added, "We're going to look at all of them - universities, colleges - it's just the beginning of the search."

Over at the Emerson College booth, the school's representative Michael Brosseau said a lot of students were stopping by to ask about programs at the Boston school.

"There's a lot interest in Emerson and the programs we offer related to communications and the arts; that's kind of what we are known for academically," Brosseau said.

Students were also interested in video production, which is part of the school's visual and media arts program.

"It's a really popular program for our students," Brosseau said. "We offer them the opportunity to create film, to edit film - really anything that's related to film and editing and production they have an opportunity to get involved in."

He added, "We have a lot of students that have a passion for film and video in the program so they really take advantage of the resources we have here."

For Pinkerton Junior Tyler Adams, the fair offered a chance to learn more about possibly pursuing majors in engineering and architecture.

Adams who went to the fair with his mother Doreen, said engineering appeals to him because "it's about how to problem solve and fix things."

Doreen Adams said they are considering colleges that offer majors in architecture and engineering.

"We are thinking in broader terms so we are looking at schools that have both of them as majors," she said.

Lifeguards

"really difficult to get the numbers," Fowler said.

"For whatever reason Hood Park attendance has started to subside, particularly during the day time," Fowler said.

He added, "It's our prediction that we may just have enough to do Gallien's Beach; Hood may not be open for us this year as a result."

During the discussion, Councilor Brian Chirichiello said he has been in the community for a number of years and his children regularly enjoyed the activities at Hood Park. He said a lot of families used to go to Hood Park to enjoy swimming and other activities at the waterfront area.

But the area seems to have been taken over by a lot of teenagers "hanging out and doing whatever teenagers do," he said, adding that he would like to see the once popular programs return.

"I'm hoping that we can relook at that and maybe hopefully bring some programs back for the younger kids because it's really quite a shame that we don't have that any more, those programs," Chirichiello said.

Fowler said he has had a number of discussions with Bodenrader and to some extent there has been some momentum in collaborating with Derry Public Library, and the Taylor Library on other locations in town. In addition, some programs have moved to Don Ball Park, he said.

"So we are trying to stretch our existing staff and the life guard part of it it is probably the most limiting factor for us," Fowler said, adding, "It has been brutal for us."

As incentive, Fowler said administrators have increased the pay rates and even paid an incentive if a lifeguard stays with the town for 240 hours in the summer.

But still he said, "We didn't have that many new lifeguards joining us."

He added, "It literally is a supply and demand issue and this all the way across the state. So unfortunately if you don't open the beach at Hood it does have a detrimental value but unfortunately we just don't have a way to staff that. So that's something Eric and I are struggling with."

Busy Pinkerton Baseball Crew Takes its First Three Contests

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

Baseball teams in the Northeastern United States know that there's only one thing they can count on regarding the spring weather each year, and that's that they simply can't count on the weather cooperating.

With that being the case, Pinkerton Academy hardball coach Steve Campo and his Astro charges weren't at all surprised that they had to play their first three games of the 2017 season in just four days last week. And the locals ended up at a perfect 3-0 once those games were done.

Campo's crew took care of business against the Merrimack High Tomahawks on the road on Wednesday, April 12, the Nashua High South Purple Panthers in Derry on Friday the 14th, and then the arch-rival Londonderry High Lancers in a barn-burner at LHS the next day in starting out unbeaten.

The Astros put the 10-run rule into effect in their first game of the season, which turned out to be an 18-3 win over Merrimack.

The only inning in which the locals didn't score a run was the first, with the Tomahawks starting with a 1-0 lead in the latter half of that frame.

The Astros then plated three runs in the top of the second to claim a 3-1 lead, but Merrimack answered with two runs in the bottom of the second to make it a 3-3 game.

But the game wouldn't be close again as the academy bunch scored four times in the third, once in the fourth, three times in the fifth, and then some seven times in the top of the sixth to pull the 10-run rule into the picture.

Pinkerton bashed out 14 hits in the win in support of winning pitcher Rich Marique, who tossed a complete game four-hitter with five strikeouts.

The victors had Mike Jellison smack out four hits, drive in three runs, and score three runs on the highly-productive day. Matt Clark and Norm Kerman each throttled three hits, with Clark driving in three runs and Kerman driving in two and scoring two. And freshman Asa Runge started his high school career by smacking two hits, driving in two runs, and scoring three times.

The Astros' run output was cut in half in the home game against Nashua South two days later, but nine runs were still plenty for the PA crew in a 9-6 victory.

The hosts rushed out to a

3-0 lead in the bottom of the first, but the Purple Panthers responded with three runs of their own in the top of the second to knot the score.

Pinkerton reclaimed the lead at 4-3 with one run in the bottom of the third, and bounced its lead up to 6-3 by scoring twice in the bottom of the fifth.

South got two of those runs back in the top of the sixth to make it a 6-5 contest, but the Astros scored three times in the latter half of that inning to go up 9-5.

Jellison went 3-for-3 with four runs batted in, and he launched a home run in the first frame. David Currier also had three hits in three official trips to the dish and scored four times. Runge whacked two hits and drove in a run, and pitchers David Unkles and Matt Albetski each made a bit of personal history with the former claiming his first varsity win and the latter collecting his first varsity save.

Then over in Londonderry on Saturday April 15, Pinkerton required extra innings to claim the 7-6 victory over the host Lancers which made the Astros 3-0.

The academy jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first for first-time starting pitcher Runge, with the hurler helping his own cause by thumping a two-run double to center field.

Londonderry responded for four runs on three hits and two Pinkerton errors in the bottom of the third to snag a 4-2 lead, but that advantage would be short-lived as the Astros scored three times on three hits and one LHS defensive miscue in the top of the fourth.

In collecting the 5-4 lead in that frame, the visitors had Jake McGill smack an RBI single and Clark crush a two-run double.

That was it on the scoring until the bottom of the sixth when Londonderry scored once to knot the score at 5-5. And the score would stay right there until the top half of the eighth when the academy crew tallied twice on two hits and one LHS error.

Currier drove in the go-ahead run with a single and an insurance marker scored moments later on a wild pitch as Pinkerton notched a 7-5 lead.

Londonderry battled hard to come back in the bottom of the eighth and got one run back on a wild pitch, but Pinkerton reliever Albetski got the save by leaving two LHS runners stranded on bases.

The two teams combined to leave 23 runners on base, with Londonderry stranding 13 and Pinkerton leaving a total of 10. The PA offense collected 10 total hits, with superb lead-off man Clark knocking three of them and driving in two runs. Astro relief hurler Matt Hiscox earned the victory and Albetski notched the save.

Astro Spikers Ground Blackbirds, Lay LHS Lancers Low

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Pinkerton Academy boys' volleyball squad kept its record perfect through its first three matches of the 2017 season and rolled into this week with a glittering 3-0 record of which it could be proud.

The Astros performed quite effectively on the road last week in shutting out the host Keene High Blackbirds in the western part of the state on Wednesday, April 12, and then handing the arch-rival Londonderry High Lancers a 3-1 defeat in the LHS gymnasium two days later.

In coach Colin Walker's Pinkerton crew's 3-0 victory in Keene, the locals bagged individual game victories of 25-18, 25-12, and 25-22 to advance to 2-0 on the young campaign.

Brian Castle dished out 13 assists for the victors, veteran standout Cobi Moore was good for eight assists, seven kills, and six service points with four aces, Tyler Behsman bagged six kills, and Matt Fabrizio notched five blocks and four kills.

Coach Walker wasn't exactly overjoyed with his team's performance in its 3-1 defeat of Londonderry on Friday the 14th, but he continued to see glimpses of what his undefeated contingent can perhaps be this season in notching its third match win in three tries.

Pinkerton won game one by a 25-19 tally, saw Londonderry gut out a 27-25 success in game two, but then put the match away with pretty lopsided wins of 25-9 and 25-16 in games three and four.

Moore was simply immense for the academy side, tallying 19 assists, 11 kills, eight service points with four aces, and two blocked shots in leading his crew to victory.

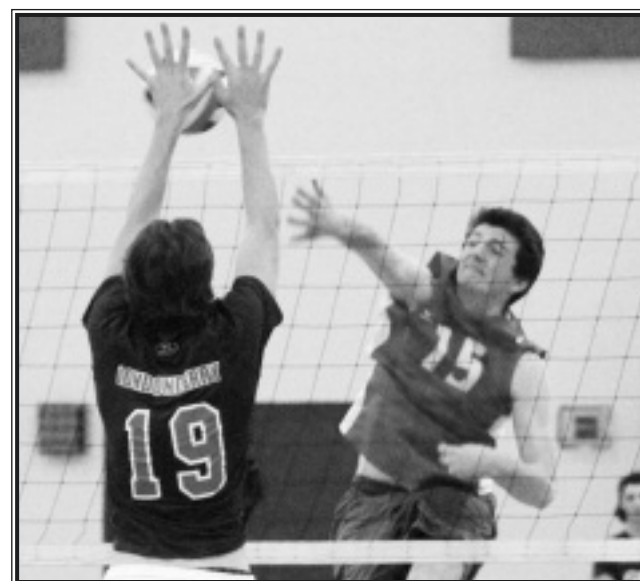

Castle contributed 10

assists and eight service points, Behsman was good for eight kills, and Fabrizio was a monster at the net in collecting some seven shot blocks.

However, despite some pretty impressive numbers, coach Walker felt there were holes in his team's effort.

"We were inconsistent," said the coach. "It was our worst serving night thus far with 14 missed serves, after we missed a combined four in our first two matches. We are still trying to find our rhythm and trust one another. But when we are on we are pretty good. Londonderry is well coached and rebuilding, and we were a little too comfortable tonight and it cost us a set."

The academy side then got the chance to play a match at home this past Monday, April 17, when the Astros hosted the winless

Goffstown High Grizzlies.

The Astros clawed up the Grizzlies in a 3-0 shutout, winning games by 25-17, 26-24, and 25-16 tallies.

Moore collected 10 service points with four aces, 12 assists, and three kills, Castle had nine assists, Behsman was good for seven kills and two assists, and Austin Penland claimed three blocks.

Boy Tracksters Win at Haverhill Meet

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Pinkerton Academy boys' outdoor track and field team was all kinds of impressive in winning the title at the 40th Annual Ottaviani Invitational Meet in Haverhill, Mass. last Saturday, April 15.

The locals tallied a team score of 109 to best the field of opposing teams, with Lawrence Central Catholic finishing some 18 points behind in the runner-up position.

"It turned out to be a great meet," said proud PA coach Carol Quarles.

Academy athletes bagged no less than eight first places on the day, with Jadyn Ruimwijk collecting the event's "Outstanding Male Performer" honors in helping his team to its major success.

Ruimwijk proved unbeatable in the 200-meter dash, which he won in 22.45 seconds. And the Astros won other sprints as well, with Nico Buccieri taking the top spot in the 100 (11.06) and Noah Woodman bagging the first in the 400 (50.73).

Other individual victories were claimed by Colin

Bigelow in the javelin (165 feet, 7 inches), Joron Harrell in the triple jump (40'10"), and Ethan Desmarais in the freshman/sophomore mile.

Coach Quarles' crew was also excellent in the relays, with the 4x100 quartet of Evan Rodgers, Ruimwijk, Kayden Baillargeon, and Buccieri notching a win (43.60) and the 4x400 crew of Matt Anzivino, Kyle Hajj, Calvin Graves, and Woodman proving unstoppable (3 minutes, 32.31 seconds).

Lady Astro Softball Side Deals With Ups and Downs Early

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

A huge and decisive victory followed by a somewhat frustrating loss was the way in which the Pinkerton Academy softball squad began its 2017 season last week.

The Nashua South Lady Purple Panthers were no match for the Astros in the Gate City last Thursday, Aug. 13, with the academy crew rolling home celebrating a 23-4 blowout victory. But two afternoons later the Lady Astros only had to endure a short trip over to Londonderry to take on the host Lady Lancers, with the result being far less pleasing than had been the case 48 hours earlier.

In the pummeling of the Purple Panthers, Pinkerton hammered out some 22 hits and zipped out to a 7-0 lead before the game was even two full innings old.

South worked hard to battle back and did so, partially, by scoring once in the fourth and three more times in the fifth to make it a 7-4 game.

The Astros plated seven more runs in the sixth and nine in the seventh to reach the 23-4 final score.

"Our bats were alive," said the coach Kristen Abbott. "A great start to the season. (Pitcher) Carrie St. Peter only let up five hits for the day, and she and (catcher Makayla) Bolduc worked well as the battery. Offensively, the bats were alive early on. Nicole Gonya was our leader going 4-for-5."

All but one Lady Astro smacked out multiple hits in the blowout, with St. Peter, Bolduc, and Alyssa Di-

Mauro each lacing three, and Jess Nardoza, Abby Amato, Briahna Janulewicz, and Hannah Frazier all smacking two.

But the Pinkerton bats were far quieter in the 7-2 loss to the rival Londonderry crew on Saturday, April 15.

The Astros, who tallied eight hits in the defeat, snared a 1-0 lead in the top half of the second inning but struggled badly on defense in the bottom of that frame as Londonderry scored five times, with four of the runs unearned due to errors.

The academy side got one of those markers back in the top of the third to make it a 5-2 contest, but the hosts added single insurance runs in the fourth and sixth to win pretty comfortably.

Amato was the only Astro to collect multiple hits, managing a pair.

The 1-1 Pinkerton crew then stepped into this week looking at a busy schedule of three games in three days, starting with its home-opener against Salem on Monday April 17.

The Astros climbed back on the winning track with a 7-6 edging of the Blue Devils.

Salem snared a 1-0 lead in the top of the first, but Pinkerton responded with two runs in the latter half of the second to notch a lead.

That lead grew to 3-1 with a single run in the latter half of the third, but the Lady Devils sliced their deficit down to 3-2 by scoring once in the fourth.

Pinkerton fortified its lead by scoring three times in the bottom of the fifth in making it a 6-2 game, but Salem got one of those markers back in the top of the sixth.

PA responded by getting that run back in the bottom of the frame in making it a 7-3 game before the Lady Blue Devils fell just short of a full comeback by scoring three times in the top of the seventh.

Both sides smacked out 11 hits in the contest, with Caitlin Hogan thumping three and driving in two runs for the winning side.

Pinkerton Girls' Lacrosse Squad Starts Out at a Perfect 2-0

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

The defending Division I champion Pinkerton Academy girls' lacrosse squad started its defense of its 2016 crown by winning its first two matches. But the Lady Astros' first victory was far more convincing than the second one.

Veteran coach Rob Daziel's academy team was certainly chomping at the bit to finally get its 2017 season rolling when it faced off against the visiting Nashua South Lady Purple Panthers last Wednesday, April 12. And the D-I champs powered their way to a lopsided 13-3 victory.

The hosts held a modest, 3-1 lead at halftime, but then the floodgates opened wide as the Lady Astros outscored their guests by a huge 10-2 margin in half number two.

Dani Tompkins led the potent PA offense with four goals, and freshman Madison Daziel made her coach and dad all kinds of proud by potting three shots in her first official high school varsity match.

Single tallies were potted by Avery Drouin - the 100th of her excellent PA lax career - as well as Lauren Lissauskas, Meaghan Michaud, Madison Peredna, face-off specialist Megan Jarvis, and Kiley Davis. Drouin also dished out two assists and Davis claimed one.

"We maintained 70 percent possession to open up a lead in the second half after South's zone defense kept us from getting good opportunities in the first half," said coach Daziel. "After some halftime adjustments and very good execution by the offensive unit, the goals started to happen. Thanks to very good defensive play, South's offensive attack was limited to very few opportunities."

The locals received four saves from goalie Dani Martineau, and Jarvis led the team in draw-controls with five as the Lady Astros won 13 of the 18 draws. Emily Sharrets led the academy side in turnovers caused.

But PA faced a far more intense challenge from the host Portsmouth High Lady Clippers on Saturday, April 15, escaping from that match with a 10-9 victory.

The locals led 7-3 at the half, but their hosts netted six goals to Pinkerton's three in the second half to make the match almost too close for comfort from the PA standpoint.

"Portsmouth is a solid team with an aggressive defense, but we were able to leverage their aggressiveness to our advantage early by scoring when they over-committed," said coach Daziel. "But then we started to turn the ball over too frequently, giving them too many opportunities at the end of the game. We played well enough to win the game, but need to put an entire game together against the tough opponents going forward."

The locals sprinted out to a 6-0 lead in the match, but the Lady Clippers then responded with three markers of their own to slice their deficit in half.

However, Pinkerton netted the last goal of the half and headed to the break up by four.

"Early in the second half they scored two to close the gap to 7-5. Then we scored three to bring our lead to 10-5 with 9:40 remaining," said Daziel. "They scored their sixth goal with seven minutes remaining, and it was 10-6 until 1:52 remaining when they scored number seven. Then their eighth came at 1:04, then they got one more with 47 seconds left. We won the last draw and then turned it over, but due to some solid defensive play we turned them away from tying the game for the win."

The Astros got two goals and an assist from Davis, a goal and two helpers from Madison Daziel, two tallies each from Tompkins and Michaud, and single goals from the Peredna girls, Madison and Hailey.

Astro Laxmen Best Teams From Both NH and Massachusetts

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

Two victories against New Hampshire opponents and one over a

Massachusetts team recently enabled the Pinkerton Academy boys' lacrosse squad to roll into its 2017 campaign with a perfect 3-0 record.

The locals bumped their season record up to 2-0 with a 10-2 trouncing of the visiting Exeter High Blue Hawks in Derry last Thursday, April 13.

The hosts had bounded out to a 4-0 lead by the end of the first quarter, but the second period was scoreless as the score remained right there at 4-0.

It was still a competitive battle at the close of three periods as both teams managed to pot one tally in the third stanza, leaving the score at 5-1. But the hosts outscored their guests by a 5-1 margin in the fourth period to get to the final, lopsided tally of 10-2.

The victorious locals received three goals and four assists for seven big points from Ryan Auger, three goals from Chad Teresky, two goals and one helper from Chris Valentine, single markers from Nate Laliberte and Owen McCormack, two assists from Nick Coombs, and one helper from Mason Drouin. Goalie Alex Sturges made four saves his contribution to the noteworthy PA success.

The Astros then returned to action two days later by playing host to the Massachusetts squad from Cohasset High School in a non-league match. And the result was a 19-10 PA success.

The Astros led 4-2 after one quarter, 8-6 at the half, and 11-7 heading into the fourth period.

Auger collected eight points on four goals and four assists, Valentine amassed four goals and two helpers, Tom Sweeney managed three goals and an assist,

Laliberte was good for two goals and an assist, Drouin scored twice, Teresky bagged a goal and four assists, and McCormack, Connor Delea, and Shawn Tewksbury all scored once. Sturges made eight saves in the PA net, and then Jack Sweeney contributed two.

The Astros then resumed their schedule Monday April 17 when they hosted the 2-1 Salem High Blue Devils.

The Salem side didn't end up being any kind of challenge for the academy side in suffering a 16-0 shutout loss.

The locals potted four goals in the first period, led 10-0 at the half, and enjoyed a 14-0 advantage heading into the final period.

PA Boys' Tennis Crew Keeps its Record Unblemished

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Salem High Blue Devils were virtually no challenge for the undefeated Pinkerton Academy boys' tennis team on the New Hampshire/ Massachusetts border last Friday, April 14.

The Astros absolutely overpowered the host Blue Devils by a 9-0 tally that afternoon in pushing their season record to a glittering 3-0.

The academy side swept singles thanks to the performances of Seb Tonini (8-2 victory), Henry Su (8-3), John Marineau (8-1), Henry Andrews (8-4), Jeff Marquis (8-0), and Tate Pinyochon (8-5).

With the match victory already in the bag, doubles victories were delivered by the tandems of Tonini and Marineau (9-8, 7-1 tiebreaker), Su and Pinyochon (8-3), and Andrews and Derek Wilson (8-1).

The team then strode into this week with a short road trip to Hudson to play a host Alvirne contingent which went 0-3 in its first three matches of the spring.

The Astros had very little trouble with the Broncos, tallying an 8-1 victory behind the strength of singles successes from Tonini (8-1), Su (8-2), Marineau (8-0), Andrews (8-3), Marquis (8-5), and Pinyochon (8-3), and doubles wins from the teams of Tonini and Marineau (8-2) and Andrews and Wilson (8-3) in rolling to a lopsided success.

Lady Astro Racketeers Dealt Their First Defeat of 2017

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

After starting the 2017 season with a pair of match victories, the Pinkerton Academy girls' tennis contingent was dealt its first loss of the new campaign in the form of a 5-4 edging at the hands of the Salem High Lady Blue Devils late last week.

The two talented teams split the six singles battles in the match at Pinkerton last Friday, April 14, with the Lady Astros receiving wins from Zoe Freedman (8-4 score), Riley Reinert (8-5), and Michaela Forand (8-6). Chloe Freedman and Julia Farnum narrowly lost their singles matches.

But the visiting Salem side managed 8-5 victories at both second and third doubles to bag the 5-4 match victory after Pinkerton had received an 8-2 doubles win from its number one tandem of Zoe Freedman and Reinert.

Now carrying a 2-1 season record following the Salem match, the Lady Astros stepped into this week by playing host to the Alvirne High Lady Broncos of Hudson on Monday.

And the Pinkerton crew returned to its winning ways with a 9-0 white-washing of Alvirne, with singles successes coming from Zoe Freedman (8-0), Reinert (8-2), Samantha Donahue (9-8, 7-3), Forand (8-1), Chloe Freedman (8-3), and Julia Farnum (8-7).

Doubles wins were bagged by the skilled and determined duos of Zoe Freedman and Reinert (8-2), Forand and Donahue (8-1), and Chloe Freedman and Farnum (8-2).

Busy Pinkerton Baseball Crew Takes its First Three Contests

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

Baseball teams in the Northeastern United States know that there's only one thing they can count on regarding the spring weather each year, and that's that they simply can't count on the weather cooperating.

With that being the case, Pinkerton Academy hardball coach Steve Campo and his Astro charges weren't at all surprised that they had to play their first three games of the 2017 season in just four days last week. And the locals ended up at a perfect 3-0 once those games were done.

Campo's crew took care of business against the Merrimack High Tomahawks on the road on Wednesday, April 12, the Nashua High South Purple Panthers in Derry on Friday the 14th, and then the arch-rival Londonderry High Lancers in a barn-burner at LHS the next day in starting out unbeaten.

The Astros put the 10-run rule into effect in their first game of the season, which turned out to be an 18-3 win over Merrimack.

The only inning in which the locals didn't score a run was the first, with the Tomahawks starting with a 1-0 lead in the latter half of that frame.

The Astros then plated three runs in the top of the second to claim a 3-1 lead, but Merrimack answered with two runs in the bottom of the second to make it a 3-3 game.

But the game wouldn't be close again as the academy bunch scored four times in the third, once in the fourth, three times in the fifth, and then some seven times in the top of the sixth to pull the 10-run rule into the picture.

Pinkerton bashed out 14 hits in the win in support of winning pitcher Rich Marique, who tossed a complete game four-hitter with five strikeouts.

The victors had Mike Jellison smack out four hits, drive in three runs, and score three runs on the highly-productive day. Matt Clark and Norm Kerman each throttled three hits, with Clark driving in three runs and Kerman driving in two and scoring two. And freshman Asa Runge started his high school career by smacking two hits, driving in two runs, and scoring three times.

The Astros' run output was cut in half in the home game against Nashua South two days later, but nine runs were still plenty for the PA crew in a 9-6 victory.

The hosts rushed out to a

3-0 lead in the bottom of the first, but the Purple Panthers responded with three runs of their own in the top of the second to knot the score.

Pinkerton reclaimed the lead at 4-3 with one run in the bottom of the third, and bounced its lead up to 6-3 by scoring twice in the bottom of the fifth.

South got two of those runs back in the top of the sixth to make it a 6-5 contest, but the Astros scored three times in the latter half of that inning to go up 9-5.

Jellison went 3-for-3 with four runs batted in, and he launched a home run in the first frame. David Currier also had three hits in three official trips to the dish and scored four times. Runge whacked two hits and drove in a run, and pitchers David Unkles and Matt Albetski each made a bit of personal history with the former claiming his first varsity win and the latter collecting his first varsity save.

Then over in Londonderry on Saturday April 15, Pinkerton required extra innings to claim the 7-6 victory over the host Lancers which made the Astros 3-0.

The academy jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first for first-time starting pitcher Runge, with the hurler helping his own cause by thumping a two-run double to center field.

Londonderry responded for four runs on three hits and two Pinkerton errors in the bottom of the third to snag a 4-2 lead, but that advantage would be short-lived as the Astros scored three times on three hits and one LHS defensive miscue in the top of the fourth.

In collecting the 5-4 lead in that frame, the visitors had Jake McGill smack an RBI single and Clark crush a two-run double.

That was it on the scoring until the bottom of the sixth when Londonderry scored once to knot the score at 5-5. And the score would stay right there until the top half of the eighth when the academy crew tallied twice on two hits and one LHS error.

Currier drove in the go-ahead run with a single and an insurance marker scored moments later on a wild pitch as Pinkerton notched a 7-5 lead.

Londonderry battled hard to come back in the bottom of the eighth and got one run back on a wild pitch, but Pinkerton reliever Albetski got the save by leaving two LHS runners stranded on bases.

The two teams combined to leave 23 runners on base, with Londonderry stranding 13 and Pinkerton leaving a total of 10. The PA offense collected 10 total hits, with superb lead-off man Clark knocking three of them and driving in two runs. Astro relief hurler Matt Hiscox earned the victory and Albetski notched the save.

Astro Spikers Ground Blackbirds, Lay LHS Lancers Low

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Pinkerton Academy boys' volleyball squad kept its record perfect through its first three matches of the 2017 season and rolled into this week with a glittering 3-0 record of which it could be proud.

The Astros performed quite effectively on the road last week in shutting out the host Keene High Blackbirds in the western part of the state on Wednesday, April 12, and then handing the arch-rival Londonderry High Lancers a 3-1 defeat in the LHS gymnasium two days later.

In coach Colin Walker's Pinkerton crew's 3-0 victory in Keene, the locals bagged individual game victories of 25-18, 25-12, and 25-22 to advance to 2-0 on the young campaign.

Brian Castle dished out 13 assists for the victors, veteran standout Cobi Moore was good for eight assists, seven kills, and six service points with four aces, Tyler Behsman bagged six kills, and Matt Fabrizio notched five blocks and four kills.

Coach Walker wasn't exactly overjoyed with his team's performance in its 3-1 defeat of Londonderry on Friday the 14th, but he continued to see glimpses of what his undefeated contingent can perhaps be this season in notching its third match win in three tries.

Pinkerton won game one by a 25-19 tally, saw Londonderry gut out a 27-25 success in game two, but then put the match away with pretty lopsided wins of 25-9 and 25-16 in games three and four.

Moore was simply immense for the academy side, tallying 19 assists, 11 kills, eight service points with four aces, and two blocked shots in leading his crew to victory.

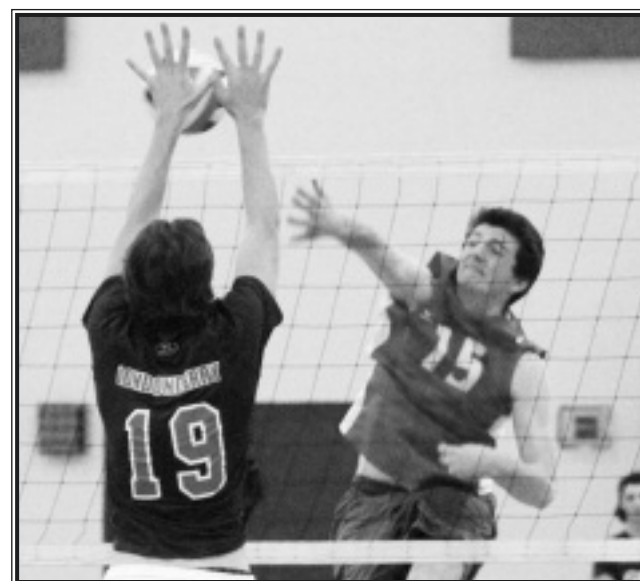

Castle contributed 10

assists and eight service points, Behsman was good for eight kills, and Fabrizio was a monster at the net in collecting some seven shot blocks.

However, despite some pretty impressive numbers, coach Walker felt there were holes in his team's effort.

"We were inconsistent," said the coach. "It was our worst serving night thus far with 14 missed serves, after we missed a combined four in our first two matches. We are still trying to find our rhythm and trust one another. But when we are on we are pretty good. Londonderry is well coached and rebuilding, and we were a little too comfortable tonight and it cost us a set."

The academy side then got the chance to play a match at home this past Monday, April 17, when the Astros hosted the winless

Goffstown High Grizzlies.

The Astros clawed up the Grizzlies in a 3-0 shutout, winning games by 25-17, 26-24, and 25-16 tallies.

Moore collected 10 service points with four aces, 12 assists, and three kills, Castle had nine assists, Behsman was good for seven kills and two assists, and Austin Penland claimed three blocks.

Boy Tracksters Win at Haverhill Meet

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Pinkerton Academy boys' outdoor track and field team was all kinds of impressive in winning the title at the 40th Annual Ottaviani Invitational Meet in Haverhill, Mass. last Saturday, April 15.

The locals tallied a team

score of 109 to best the field of opposing teams, with Lawrence Central Catholic finishing some 18 points behind in the runner-up position.

"It turned out to be a great meet," said proud PA coach Carol Quarles.

Academy athletes bagged no less than eight first places on the day, with Jadyn Ruimwijk collecting the event's "Outstanding Male Performer" honors in helping his team to its major success.

Ruimwijk proved unbeatable in the 200-meter dash, which he won in 22.45 seconds. And the Astros won other sprints as well, with Nico Buccieri taking the top spot in the 100 (11.06) and Noah Woodman bagging the first in the 400 (50.73).

Other individual victories were claimed by Colin

Bigelow in the javelin (165 feet, 7 inches), Joron Harrell in the triple jump (40'10"), and Ethan Desmarais in the freshman/sophomore mile.

Coach Quarles' crew was also excellent in the relays, with the 4x100 quartet of Evan Rodgers, Ruimwijk, Kayden Baillargeon, and Buccieri notching a win (43.60) and the 4x400 crew of Matt Anzivino, Kyle Hajj, Calvin Graves, and Woodman proving unstoppable (3 minutes, 32.31 seconds).

Lady Astro Softball Side Deals With Ups and Downs Early

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

A huge and decisive victory followed by a somewhat frustrating loss was the way in which the Pinkerton Academy softball squad began its 2017 season last week.

The Nashua South Lady Purple Panthers were no match for the Astros in the Gate City last Thursday, Aug. 13, with the academy crew rolling home celebrating a 23-4 blowout victory. But two afternoons later the Lady Astros only had to endure a short trip over to Londonderry to take on the host Lady Lancers, with the result being far less pleasing than had been the case 48 hours earlier.

In the pummeling of the Purple Panthers, Pinkerton hammered out some 22 hits and zipped out to a 7-0 lead before the game was even two full innings old.

South worked hard to battle back and did so, partially, by scoring once in the fourth and three more times in the fifth to make it a 7-4 game.

The Astros plated seven more runs in the sixth and nine in the seventh to reach the 23-4 final score.

"Our bats were alive," said the coach Kristen Abbott. "A great start to the season. (Pitcher) Carrie St. Peter only let up five hits for the day, and she and (catcher Makayla) Bolduc worked well as the battery. Offensively, the bats were alive early on. Nicole Gonya was our leader going 4-for-5."

All but one Lady Astro smacked out multiple hits in the blowout, with St. Peter, Bolduc, and Alyssa Di-

Mauro each lacing three, and Jess Nardoza, Abby Amato, Briahna Janulewicz, and Hannah Frazier all smacking two.

But the Pinkerton bats were far quieter in the 7-2 loss to the rival Londonderry crew on Saturday, April 15.

The Astros, who tallied eight hits in the defeat, snared a 1-0 lead in the top half of the second inning but struggled badly on defense in the bottom of that frame as Londonderry scored five times, with four of the runs unearned due to errors.

The academy side got one of those markers back in the top of the third to make it a 5-2 contest, but the hosts added single insurance runs in the fourth and sixth to win pretty comfortably.

Amato was the only Astro to collect multiple hits, managing a pair.

The 1-1 Pinkerton crew then stepped into this week looking at a busy schedule of three games in three days, starting with its home-opener against Salem on Monday April 17.

The Astros climbed back on the winning track with a 7-6 edging of the Blue Devils.

Salem snared a 1-0 lead in the top of the first, but Pinkerton responded with two runs in the latter half of the second to notch a lead.

That lead grew to 3-1 with a single run in the latter half of the third, but the Lady Devils sliced their deficit down to 3-2 by scoring once in the fourth.

Pinkerton fortified its lead by scoring three times in the bottom of the fifth in making it a 6-2 game, but Salem got one of those markers back in the top of the sixth.

PA responded by getting that run back in the bottom of the frame in making it a 7-3 game before the Lady Blue Devils fell just short of a full comeback by scoring three times in the top of the seventh.

Both sides smacked out 11 hits in the contest, with Caitlin Hogan thumping three and driving in two runs for the winning side.

Pinkerton Girls' Lacrosse Squad Starts Out at a Perfect 2-0

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

The defending Division I champion Pinkerton Academy girls' lacrosse squad started its defense of its 2016 crown by winning its first two matches. But the Lady Astros' first victory was far more convincing than the second one.

Veteran coach Rob Daziel's academy team was certainly chomping at the bit to finally get its 2017 season rolling when it faced off against the visiting Nashua South Lady Purple Panthers last Wednesday, April 12. And the D-I champs powered their way to a lopsided 13-3 victory.

The hosts held a modest, 3-1 lead at halftime, but then the floodgates opened wide as the Lady Astros outscored their guests by a huge 10-2 margin in half number two.

Dani Tompkins led the potent PA offense with four goals, and freshman Madison Daziel made her coach and dad all kinds of proud by potting three shots in her first official high school varsity match.

Single tallies were potted by Avery Drouin - the 100th of her excellent PA lax career - as well as Lauren Lissauskas, Meaghan Michaud, Madison Peredna, face-off specialist Megan Jarvis, and Kiley Davis. Drouin also dished out two assists and Davis claimed one.

"We maintained 70 percent possession to open up a lead in the second half after South's zone defense kept us from getting good opportunities in the first half," said coach Daziel. "After some halftime adjustments and very good execution by the offensive unit, the goals started to happen. Thanks to very good defensive play, South's offensive attack was limited to very few opportunities."

The locals received four saves from goalie Dani Martineau, and Jarvis led the team in draw-controls with five as the Lady Astros won 13 of the 18 draws. Emily Sharrets led the academy side in turnovers caused.

But PA faced a far more intense challenge from the host Portsmouth High Lady Clippers on Saturday, April 15, escaping from that match with a 10-9 victory.

The locals led 7-3 at the half, but their hosts netted six goals to Pinkerton's three in the second half to make the match almost too close for comfort from the PA standpoint.

"Portsmouth is a solid team with an aggressive defense, but we were able to leverage their aggressiveness to our advantage early by scoring when they over-committed," said coach Daziel. "But then we started to turn the ball over too frequently, giving them too many opportunities at the end of the game. We played well enough to win the game, but need to put an entire game together against the tough opponents going forward."

The locals sprinted out to a 6-0 lead in the match, but the Lady Clippers then responded with three markers of their own to slice their deficit in half.

However, Pinkerton netted the last goal of the half and headed to the break up by four.

"Early in the second half they scored two to close the gap to 7-5. Then we scored three to bring our lead to 10-5 with 9:40 remaining," said Daziel. "They scored their sixth goal with seven minutes remaining, and it was 10-6 until 1:52 remaining when they scored number seven. Then their eighth came at 1:04, then they got one more with 47 seconds left. We won the last draw and then turned it over, but due to some solid defensive play we turned them away from tying the game for the win."

The Astros got two goals and an assist from Davis, a goal and two helpers from Madison Daziel, two tallies each from Tompkins and Michaud, and single goals from the Peredna girls, Madison and Hailey.

Astro Laxmen Best Teams From Both NH and Massachusetts

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

Two victories against New Hampshire opponents and one over a

Massachusetts team recently enabled the Pinkerton Academy boys' lacrosse squad to roll into its 2017 campaign with a perfect 3-0 record.

The locals bumped their season record up to 2-0 with a 10-2 trouncing of the visiting Exeter High Blue Hawks in Derry last Thursday, April 13.

The hosts had bounded out to a 4-0 lead by the end of the first quarter, but the second period was scoreless as the score remained right there at 4-0.

It was still a competitive battle at the close of three periods as both teams managed to pot one tally in the third stanza, leaving the score at 5-1. But the hosts outscored their guests by a 5-1 margin in the fourth period to get to the final, lopsided tally of 10-2.

The victorious locals received three goals and four assists for seven big points from Ryan Auger, three goals from Chad Teresky, two goals and one helper from Chris Valentine, single markers from Nate Laliberte and Owen McCormack, two assists from Nick Coombs, and one helper from Mason Drouin. Goalie Alex Sturges made four saves his contribution to the noteworthy PA success.

The Astros then returned to action two days later by playing host to the Massachusetts squad from Cohasset High School in a non-league match. And the result was a 19-10 PA success.

The Astros led 4-2 after one quarter, 8-6 at the half, and 11-7 heading into the fourth period.

Auger collected eight points on four goals and four assists, Valentine amassed four goals and two helpers, Tom Sweeney managed three goals and an assist,

Laliberte was good for two goals and an assist, Drouin scored twice, Teresky bagged a goal and four assists, and McCormack, Connor Delea, and Shawn Tewksbury all scored once. Sturges made eight saves in the PA net, and then Jack Sweeney contributed two.

The Astros then resumed their schedule Monday April 17 when they hosted the 2-1 Salem High Blue Devils.

The Salem side didn't end up being any kind of challenge for the academy side in suffering a 16-0 shutout loss.

The locals potted four goals in the first period, led 10-0 at the half, and enjoyed a 14-0 advantage heading into the final period.

PA Boys' Tennis Crew Keeps its Record Unblemished

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Salem High Blue Devils were virtually no challenge for the undefeated Pinkerton Academy boys' tennis team on the New Hampshire/ Massachusetts border last Friday, April 14.

The Astros absolutely overpowered the host Blue Devils by a 9-0 tally that afternoon in pushing their season record to a glittering 3-0.

The academy side swept singles thanks to the performances of Seb Tonini (8-2 victory), Henry Su (8-3), John Marineau (8-1), Henry Andrews (8-4), Jeff Marquis (8-0), and Tate Pinyochon (8-5).

With the match victory already in the bag, doubles victories were delivered by the tandems of Tonini and Marineau (9-8, 7-1 tiebreaker), Su and Pinyochon (8-3), and Andrews and Derek Wilson (8-1).

The team then strode into this week with a short road trip to Hudson to play a host Alvirne contingent which went 0-3 in its first three matches of the spring.

The Astros had very little trouble with the Broncos, tallying an 8-1 victory behind the strength of singles successes from Tonini (8-1), Su (8-2), Marineau (8-0), Andrews (8-3), Marquis (8-5), and Pinyochon (8-3), and doubles wins from the teams of Tonini and Marineau (8-2) and Andrews and Wilson (8-3) in rolling to a lopsided success.

Lady Astro Racketeers Dealt Their First Defeat of 2017

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

After starting the 2017 season with a pair of match victories, the Pinkerton Academy girls' tennis contingent was dealt its first loss of the new campaign in the form of a 5-4 edging at the hands of the Salem High Lady Blue Devils late last week.

The two talented teams split the six singles battles in the match at Pinkerton last Friday, April 14, with the Lady Astros receiving wins from Zoe Freedman (8-4 score), Riley Reinert (8-5), and Michaela Forand (8-6). Chloe Freedman and Julia Farnum narrowly lost their singles matches.

But the visiting Salem side managed 8-5 victories at both second and third doubles to bag the 5-4 match victory after Pinkerton had received an 8-2 doubles win from its number one tandem of Zoe Freedman and Reinert.

Now carrying a 2-1 season record following the Salem match, the Lady Astros stepped into this week by playing host to the Alvirne High Lady Broncos of Hudson on Monday.

And the Pinkerton crew returned to its winning ways with a 9-0 white-washing of Alvirne, with singles successes coming from Zoe Freedman (8-0), Reinert (8-2), Samantha Donahue (9-8, 7-3), Forand (8-1), Chloe Freedman (8-3), and Julia Farnum (8-7).

Doubles wins were bagged by the skilled and determined duos of Zoe Freedman and Reinert (8-2), Forand and Donahue (8-1), and Chloe Freedman and Farnum (8-2).
