Town Council Cements Priority Goals for Fiscal Year 2019

ALEX GUITTARR
NUTFIELD NEWS

It is never too early to start thinking about plans for the next year, and that goes double for the Town Council. For the summer, the council took on a lighter meeting schedule by holding only one a month instead of the standard two. During that break, the councilors took that extra time to establish what the most significant goals were that they wanted to tackle for the 2019 fiscal year. After much deliberation, these goals were confirmed and approved during the council's Aug. 24 meeting via the FY19 Action Plan.

Councilors would rank their top ten goals in terms of priority from 1 to 10, with 10 being the highest priority. Those ranks would then be tallied together as overall scores for each item and determine which goals would be tackled first. Goals with identical scores would be prioritized by the number of councilors who voted for them. There were also three sections for goals to be placed in depending on the number of points they received, with Tertiary Action Items receiving less than 10 points, Secondary Action Items receiving between 10 and 19, and Priority Action Items receiving 20 or more points.

For Tertiary Action Items, an ordinance to allow tiny houses with foundations in Derry received 1 point from 1 councilor and will be adapted to the latest version of the town Master Plan. Creating a letter for non-profit building owners who do not pay real estate taxes to educate them on what "in-lieu" of taxes are, and how they can help offset the costs of services to the general taxpayers received 2 points from one councilor. Improving the disposition of town-owned properties received 5 points from 1 councilor. Both funding a traffic study to analyze the idea of making Broadway a

Voters Will Head to the Polls on Sept. 11 for State Primary

CHRIS PAUL
NUTFIELD NEWS

On Sept. 11 voters in Derry will head to the polls for this term's primary. There are a number of positions being voted on, but only a few of them will be contested. Derry voters in Districts One and Four will cast their votes at Gilbert H. Hood Middle School, while voters in Districts Two and Three will report to West Running Brook Middle School.

Republican Ballot

For Governor, republicans only have one choice. Chris Sununu is running for a second two-year term.

For Representative in Congress there are six candidates running for the one two-year term seat: Michael Callis, Bruce Crochetiere, Jeffery Denaro, Eddie Edwards, Andy Martin and Andy Sanborn.

The Executive Councilor position being sought by Russell Prescott.

The Republicans also have only one choice on the ballot for State Senate, incumbent Regina Birdsell is looking to retain her seat.

There are 10 State Representative seats on the ballot with 16 contenders looking to fill them. They are: David Milz, Katherine Prudhomme O'Brien, John T. O'Connor, Stephen Pearson, John Potucek, Kevin Reichard, Frank V. Sapareto, Richard Tripp, James Webb, Brenda Willis, G. Thomas Cardon, Brian Chirichiello, Patricia A Dowling, Daniel Healey, Phyllis Katsakiores, and David Love. Anne Copp is also trying to make it to the general election with a write in campaign.

Another contested race is the County Sheriff. The republicans will choose from Bill Baldwin, Chuck Massahos and Barry Newcomb.

Patricia Conway will look to remain the County Attorney and the same is true of the County Treasurer, Scott Priestley.

The County Commissioner only has Kevin Coyle listed. He currently holds that position.

Cathy Stacey is running for Register of Deeds and Ray Tweedie is on the ballot for Register of Probate.

The effects of the opioid crisis in New Hampshire are still be felt by citizens from all walks of life. The epidemic has shattered families and relationships, and taken the lives of hundreds of people including 437 in 2016 alone. Friends and loved ones of these victims still feel the pain from losing them to drugs. These individuals come together every year around this time for the International Overdose Awareness Day (IOAD). Held since 2012, it was created by the non-profit Australian public health organization Penington Institute. The purpose is to help bring together those who have lost anyone to overdoses. Derry is yet another town to participate in this effort, as Macgregor Park hosted a

Future Farmers of America Prepare For Fall Pumpkin Festival 5K

ALEX GUITTARR
NUTFIELD NEWS

As harvest season goes on all around us this time of year, we must be mindful of the individuals who make the growth of our crops possible. Farmers all across the country work endlessly year after year to help produce many of the foods that we take for granted. It is extremely important to remember our currently active farmers. We must also remember to prepare our next generation of farmers so that his grand tradition can continue into the future. This is where groups like Future Farmers of America (FFA) come into play. Created back in 1925 at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, the FFA serves to help introduce the youth to an exciting array of careers revolving around both agriculture and animals. Managing an organization such as this does not come cheaply. This is why on Sept. 22; the New Hampshire (NH) branch of FFA will be holding a fundraising 5K at J&F Farms.

Dianne Howes, the vice president for the NH FFA branch, noted that this year's event, also known as the Fall Pumpkin Fest, will serve as the sixth time the local FFA will hold it. With the optimal weather and scenery helping make it most appropriate. Roughly fifty to one hundred people participate each year. "This seems to be a popular time for the event", Howes noted.

The funds received from the event will all go towards the students involved with the NH FFA, which has fourteen courses in schools across the state. The money raised will assist with their travel expenses when going to meetings for the FFA and various trips across the country. Other educational purposes will receive money as well. Howes was adamant to note that just because the group is called Future Farmers of America, it does not mean that all students involved with the group are limited to farming as their future career.

"This encompasses anything that involves animals or plants," She stated.

Although the race is labeled as a 5K, a variety of racing styles are made available to participants. These include timed races for the professional runners and more relaxed paces for those who simply want to enjoy their time at J&F Farms. The first fifty registered runners will get a free t-shirt. For those looking for an added challenge, participants can opt to carry a five pound pumpkin across the entire track, which will win them a special prize; should they complete the journey. Anyone who completes this race will receive a pumpkin and medallion for their efforts. Overall winners across each group of "racers" will receive a black pumpkin which contains twenty five dollars. For those who may not be interested in anything like this and simply want to enjoy the beautiful farm, J&F will also be offering a corn maze to explore and an assortment of chili, chowders, soups and other foods. There will also be several raffles. Race registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. while the race will start at 10 a.m. Registration is $25 for adults and $15 for anyone under eighteen years old. Animals are welcome to accompany participants, so long as they are on leashes. For more information, please visit: 5K For FFA - RunSignUp.

Lachance, Erica Layon, Michael Layon, David Love, James MacEachern, Andrew J. Manuse, David Milz, Jodi Nelson, Katherine Prudhomme O'Brien, John Potucek and Danielle Rieger will be looking to fill those seats.

Democratic Ballot

On the Democratic side of the ballot in Derry there will be two choices for Governor. Molly Kelly and Steve Marchand look to make to the general election to run against Sununu.

There are no less than eleven people hoping to fill the Representative to Congress seat currently being held by Carol Shea Porter. Naomi Andrews, Paul Cardinal, Mark MacKenzie, William Martin, Deaglan McEachern, Mindi Messmer, Terence O'Rourke, Chris Pappas, Levi Sanders, Lincoln Soldati and Maura Sullivan are all running in the primary.

The Dems only have one choice for Executive Councilor. Joe Pace on the ticket.

Kristina Durocher is running unopposed for State Senator.

There six people running for the 10 State Representative seats. Mary Eisner, Owen Ingram, Micelle Sawyer Moge, Fred Bates, Sean Cohen and Ronald Cooper III will move forward to the general election.

Joshua Bourdin is looking to be a County Commissioner, and Bob Davidson is on the ballot for Register of Probate.

Libertarian Ballot

There are a total of three candidates running on the Libertarian ballot with only the Governor race being contested.

Aaron Day and Jillette Jarvis look to advance in the race for Governor.

Dan Belforti is running unopposed for Congress.

Be Prepared to Vote

The focus of activity this week is likely to be Labor Day and the approaching end of summer, as well as the start of a new school year; there's something else looming large in the days ahead the Primary Election on Sept. 11. The national conventions are upon us, but just as importantly, the state elections are almost here.

Locally, the focus of the primary is the Republican side, with plenty of candidates seeking a seat in the State House, as well as a contested race for Governor. The gubernatorial race has attracted more than one candidate on the Democratic ticket as well. While the big decisions are made at the November election, don't downplay the primary, especially in local races. Take advantage of the opportunity to get to know your candidates in this small state. Call them up, send them emails, ask them questions that matter to you. If you don't get an answer, that's answer enough.

The time is now to learn about the candidates, get behind the rhetoric, and decide which hopefuls merit your vote. And remember, a promise to cut taxes or to support seniors or to take care of children is not a realistic roadmap for action. Every candidate is going to smile broadly, shake as many hands as possible, and promise wonderful things. Don't get sidetracked by the packaging.

Be specific in your queries, and with luck, you just might receive specific responses. Then you can base your vote on substance. But if what you get are platitudes, you may want to look elsewhere. The candidates' responses offer a glimpse at whether they answered the question or chose to offer pat generalities or personal agendas. That, too, says something. It's become a cliché that voting is a right and a privilege, that people in other countries fight and die for a right that we often ignore. Our chance is coming up to show that we've changed our lackadaisical ways, and we've committed to getting off the couch and into the voting booth.

Your vote counts, but it means so much more if you cast it after making a studied, educated decision, not one based on inflammatory rhetoric. You all say you want to make a difference and you want change this is your time to shine. We're in the center of political campaigns that can change the face of our state and our nation. And there's no excuse good enough to justify sitting this one out, go vote.

candlelight vigil for the IOAD on Aug. 31.

Last year a group of mothers who had all lost a son to overdoses, Lisa Walsh, Cyndi Wood, Lila Mazzola, and Susan Markievitz announced to the Town Council that they would be holding the vigil. Their intent was to give those who have also lost a loved one to drug overdoses a sense of hope in these trying times. Walsh had noticed that although the IOAD had proven to be immensely popular throughout the country, New Hampshire was another story. "There really wasn't much for International Awareness Day in New Hampshire," Walsh noted.

After only two years of putting the event together, it has already proven to be a massive success, bringing in hundreds of people to connect and heal with. It took place from 6 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., and drew support from local groups in Derry like the Derry Friendship Center, and the Derry Town Council, as well as groups like South Central New Hampshire Public Health Network, and Lighting the Path For Support. As the various speakers and performers took the stage throughout the night, there were also several stations set up for supporters of the vigil. Hope For New Hampshire Recovery offered free Narcan kits; which can be used to save the lives of overdose victims. There was also a booth for Angels of Addiction, which was created by Anne Marie Farley Zanfagna, who paints portraits of overdose victims after her daughter, Jacqueline, died of one herself.

The main focus of the night was on the stage of MacGregor Park. The event officially started with Town Councilor Joshua Bourdon, who has been a vocal supporter of the vigil since its inception last year. He noted that although it was depressing; the somber event needed to take place, and he was grateful to see so many people supporting the cause. "It's impressive to see the community together", Bourdon stated.

Throughout the night, a series of other guests took the stage, including Reverend Tara Olsen Allen with the Pilgrim United Church of Christ who offered a prayer, singer and songwriter Scott Plant sang throughout the night, about addiction; which he has personally suffered through himself.

The Derry Director of EMS Services, Chuck

Hemeon, spoke to the gathering about the experiences he has had over the years in Derry.

Finally, the event was capped off with a silent candlelight vigil, allowing those in attendance to pay tribute to the ones that they have lost.

One of the evenings guest speakers, Chris Jenco, who currently resides at the Granite House in Derry, gave a heartfelt talk to those who gathered. "I had to go through a tremendous amount of pain before looking to get better" Jenco said, "i will never fully recover, but I'm on the right path, right now."

Jenco also shared one of his lowest points, when he stole $12,000 from his employer, Tuscan Kitchen, in Salem, whom after Jenco went through recovery, gave him his job back.

Also speaking to the crowd was a Londonderry mom, Rachel Behrens, who lost her 17-year-old son to a fentanyl overdose. She thanked everyone that helped her through the trauma including local police, first responders, Lisa Walsh and many others.

She taken by surprise when her son overdosed, "The last thing I said to him was make sure you wear your seatbelt." She had no idea of her sons addiction.

Derry Village Rotary Club to Host Oktoberfest at Boys & Girls Club

ALEX GUITARR
NUTFIELD NEWS

Beer lovers and party goers both hold the annual Oktoberfest with great reverence; for its energetic atmosphere and amazing food and drinks. The event has been regularly recreated all across the world. They can never recreate the size and scale of the original; which regularly brings in roughly six million people. The original event got its start back in 1810 when Crown Prince

Ludwig, or King Ludwig I, married Princess Therese of Saxony-Hildburghausen and invited the citizens of Munich to partake in a wedding celebration on the fields of the city. The festival itself featured horse races; which continued into the following years. This in turn initiated the tradition of Oktoberfest, eventually developing into the juggernaut that it is today. Derry will be getting its own Oktoberfest later this month. The Derry Village Rotary Club will be bringing the world-renowned festival to the Boys & Girls Club of Greater Derry on Sept. 29 from 12 p.m. to 6 p.m. in the field at the Boys & Girls Club of Greater Derry.

According to Kevin Olson; who will be chairing the event for the Rotary, the idea for this event came about from his time in Florida. Another Rotary Club that he was a part of put on an Oktoberfest.

The Derry Village Rotary regularly puts on events throughout the year to help bring the community together. Olson wanted to introduce something new and fresh to the mix, while also potentially attracting new members to the Derry chapter of the Rotary. Olson is excited to put this event together; he recognizes that there will be some challenges since they are doing this for the first time. "It's tough the first year," Olson noted.

Regardless, there will still be plenty of fun and food on the day of the festival. As this is a recreation of Oktoberfest, there will be official Oktoberfest beer on tap, including Spaten Oktoberfest and Weiherstephaner Oktoberfest. Many food trucks will also be present, providing refreshments from The Prime Butcher, Hickory Stix BBQ, Kerry's Culinary Creations & Curb Appeal Meals, Just Chill'n Cool Treats and Beverages, and the East Derry General Store. There will also be lots of activities for the kids in the "Kinderfest" area of the festival. Children will be able to take cooking classes, visit a petting zoo, play in several bounce houses, get their faces painted, and build bird houses provided by The Home Depot. There will be several contests throughout the day, including wife carrying, keg tossing, stein hoisting, and a tug-of-war between the Derry Police and Fire departments. See oktoberfest 2018 derry nh in your browser.

Fire Department Offers Safety Advice With Risk Reduction Program

ALEX GUITARR
NUTFIELD NEWS

Residents often look to emergency services like the police and fire departments to keep them safe in the event of an incident. It can be just as important for residents to be ready to either prevent or personally handle an emergency situation in the event that these departments cannot arrive soon enough. For this reason, the Derry Fire Department offers residents the Community Risk Reduction (CRR) program. Said program offers up a series of training exercises and services that can help residents be to prevent a worst case scenario from happening in the first place, and be prepared in the event something does happen.

Some of the most basic training includes helping residents understand how to perform CPR and how to use Narcan, a nasal medication that reverses the affects of an overdose. Training is regularly held on the third Wednesday of each month from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Hampstead Road Fire Station, also known as Station 4. To register for training, call 603-845-5438. The CRR program also suggests that residents set up a fire escape plan in the event of a fire in their home. Amongst the rules for such a plan include mapping out all doors and windows in the house, and selecting a meeting place outside.

Elderly residents are much more susceptible to emergencies in or out of the home, especially when it comes to falls. Injuries from falls are the second most common cause of traumatic injuries and the most preventable. The Derry Fire Department currently partners with the Rockingham Visiting Nurse Association to provide residents with, nurses who visit a resident's home and review it for fall risks. They can also provide tools and resources for how to prevent them in the future. Those interested can contact Firefighter Jason Case at 603-432-6751. The CRR program also offers a Life Jacket Loaner program that allows residents to loan out life jackets of all sizes from one day up to one week at no charge.

Of course, one of the biggest medical emergencies plaguing New Hampshire at the moment is Opioid overdoses. Derry is no exception to this issue and the Fire Department has been working with local substance abuse professionals on how to prevent overdose-related fatalities, while improving the community's ability to respond to said emergencies. On top of training on how to use Narcan kits, the CRR program also advises residents to take advantage of other recovery groups in and around Derry.

Amongst these groups are the New Hampshire Addiction Hotline Services, the Community Alliance for Teen Safety, the Center for Life Management, and the Derry Friendship Center. Finally, for residents who use portable oxygen tanks for oxygen therapy, the CRR program advises that they take into account a number of safety precautions, including avoiding smokers, keeping tanks away from car trunks, direct sunlight, or intense heat, and making sure you have enough tanks before you travel anywhere. This is only a small summary of what is offered by the CRR. For more information on this program, go to derry nh.org, select "Fire Department" on the "Departments" tab, and then choose "Community Risk Reduction" on the left side of the screen.

Seasonal Safety Guidelines for Hunters and Hikers

MELISSA BETH RUIZ
NUTFIELD NEWS

The end of summer is upon the Granite State, and soon groups of residents will be trading in their swimming trunks and bathing suits for bright orange vests and camouflage.

Hunting season officially kicks off in New Hampshire on September 1st, with the opening of the black bear and small game seasons. Archery seasons for turkey and white-tailed deer go underway beginning September 15. Waterfowl hunting begins in September, with dates varying by species and zone.

In order to take part in any hunting season, a hunter must obtain a New Hampshire hunting license. Licenses may be purchased online, by mailing in an application, or by visiting a local licensing agent (a list by town available at wildlife.state.nh.us/licensing/agents.html). A valid state-issued ID must be presented in order to obtain a hunting license.

By state law, anyone who plans to buy a hunting, archery, or trapping license must complete the respective hunter, bowhunter, or trapper education course, or show a previously issued license of the same type. For more information on how to enroll in a hunter education course, visit wildlife.state.nh.us/hunting/hunter-ed.html.

Whenever firearms and archery are involved, safety measures must be taken seriously. The following are some safety tips for hunters to keep in mind:

For firearm hunters, follow these best practices: Treat every firearm as if it were loaded, unload firearms when not in use, never climb a fence or tree or jump over a ditch or log with a loaded firearm, only point at what you intend to shoot, never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or water, keep fingers off of the trigger until ready to shoot, clearly identify a target and what is beyond it before shooting, make certain that the gun barrel and action are clear of obstructions, store firearms and ammunition separately, know where your hunting partner is at all times, if you are accompanied by a hunting dog, always keep him or her under control, and perhaps most importantly for all types of hunting, avoid alcoholic beverages or other mood-altering drugs before or while on the hunt. These same guidelines can be applied to bowhunters, as well.

Planning for the weather behooves any type of hunter. Hunters can be at risk for hypothermia in cold, wet conditions, and even in temperatures as high as 50 degrees. To reduce risk of hypothermia, dress in warm layers, avoiding moisture-retaining cotton and opting for a water-repelling outer layer. Before going out, be sure to check the weather report for inclement weather so as not to be caught off guard by an unexpected storm.

It is never advised to head out on a hunting trip without letting a friend, relative, or neighbor about where you will be and when you expect to return. Should the unexpected happen, this person can alert authorities of your absence and help can be sent out to you as soon as possible.

Outdoor safety is not limited to hunters. Those who prefer to simply enjoy the beauty of the woods are advised to take their own safety precautions.

Sight-seers are urged to avoid colors and patterns that blend into the surroundings, such as white, black, brown, earth tones, animal patterns, and camouflage. Bright orange, red, or bright green clothing is best for visibility, especially for vests and hats. These bright colors will help you stand out to hunters so that they will be better able to avoid accidentally hitting you.

Making your presence known is a great way to ensure your safety. Talking loudly to a companion, whistling or singing, or even taking a portable music-playing device will help nearby hunters acknowledge your location. However, for common courtesy, noise should be reduced once safety is established so as not to scare away any potential game from the hunters.

Hikers with four-legged walking companions should not let their dogs walk off-leash in an area that allows hunting, especially in areas with game the dog may want to chase.

To avoid encountering hunters altogether, there are plenty of locations where hunting is prohibited. Most state and national parks do not allow hunting, and Sundays are often hunting-free days.

Regarding any hunting lures, the NH Fish and Game department urges hunters not to use natural urine-based deer lures as fall hunting seasons begin. These products can potentially spread Chronic Wasting Disease, a fatal neurological disorder in white-tailed deer and moose. Synthetic lures are permitted for New Hampshire hunting.

Hunting and fishing in

New Hampshire can both be enjoyable activities, but they both involve rules and regulations in the interest of safety and ethics. For a complete explanation of all types of hunting, fishing and trapping and their rules and regulations in New Hampshire, as well as answers to frequently asked questions, visit wildlife.state.nh.us

Republicans Host Forum

A small gathering of republicans running for Derry State Representative hosted a community forum at the Derry Public Library on Thursday evening, Aug. 30.

David Love, John Potucek, Stephen Pearson, Katherine Prudhomme O'Brien and Brenda Willis invited community members to ask questions on why they should be chosen to represent Derry at the State House.

Each candidate introduced themselves, and gave a brief statement. Questions from the audience ranged from how to combat the opioid crisis, how they would go about changing the VA Hospital structure, where they stood on the state of education funding and many health and human services issues.

All the republican candidates were invited to participate in the event.

There are 16 candidates on the primary ballot running for the 10 state representative seats.

Astros Band Rocks Out During Halftime Show

The Pinkerton Academy Marching Band performed its halftime show at the football teams home opener on Friday night, Aug. 31. The “Blast from the Past” show features rock songs from the 70s and 80s. They will be performing during each of the school’s home games and at Londonderry High School on Mack Plaque weekend which is scheduled for Sept. 22. The football game wasn’t quite as interesting as the halftime show, as the Astros beat Spaulding High quite handily. See story next page.

PA Football Routes Red Raiders in its 2018 Season-Opener

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Pinkerton Academy football squad didn't really face much of a challenge in its 2018 season-opener in Derry last Friday night, absolutely hammering the young Spaulding High Red Raiders from Rochester by a score of 48-0 to get the new campaign rolling with an exclamation point.

Longtime coach Brian O'Reilly and his PA staff saw their charges need just one play to collect their first touchdown and a mere two to bag their second as they raced out to a fast 14-0 lead which would bulge to 41-0 by the time the first half was complete.

And there was no shortage of excitement for the Astros on opening night as they were cheered on at every step by a big crowd which jammed the bleachers on the PA side of the grid.

"(Spaulding's) a young team and inexperienced and they were overmatched," said coach O'Reilly. "We're a senior-laden team and experienced. But they made us earn it."

Pinkerton pounded its way to nearly 400 offensive yards, tallying some 300 via the running game and 77 with one touchdown on a pair of successful passes. Spaulding finished up with 195 total offensive yards, with 127 of those coming on the ground. Senior running back Gannon Fast was the top PA rusher, but he only carried the football twice in gaining a big 87 yards. Some 79 of those came on one long touchdown sprint.

A successful first offensive series of the evening would end up providing the hosts with all of the points they'd require to bag this win. After Spaulding went three plays and out with a punt on its first series, PA senior quarterback Aiden Goujon and his offense set up on the Red Raiders' 39-yard line.

And on play number one of that series Goujon lofted a pass to senior wide receiver Ryan Auger which covered all 39 yards and finished with a Pinkerton celebration in the end zone.

Every single one of the Astros' offensive series during that first half ended up producing points, and the hosts' defense also tallied more points through a fumble recovery and runback to pay-dirt in carrying the insurmountable 41-0 lead to halftime.

Other offensive scores were collected via an 8-yard scoring run from Nick Lombard, a 41-yard jaunt by Evan Wilson, a 32-yard sprint by Gennaro Marra, Fast's aforementioned 79-yard run, and a 35-yard fumble return for points by Jon Cooper.

With the clock set on running-time for the second half with PA grasping its lead of 35 points or more, the hosts put their second units in and still managed to plow to another touchdown while also limiting Spaulding's chances to score.

It became a 48-0 game with a little less than three minutes gone in the third period when the Astros reeled off a four-play series which consisted of big runs of 17, 16, 11, and finally 14 yards to the end zone on a sprint by Brady Day.

"This was a good start. Now we get ready for Dover," said PA coach O'Reilly of his squad's forthcoming second 2018 game, which will take place on the seacoast this Friday night. The Green Wave kicked off its 2018 campaign by trouncing Timberlane in Plaistow.

Pinkerton Fall Spirit Squad Aims To Get The D-I Title Back

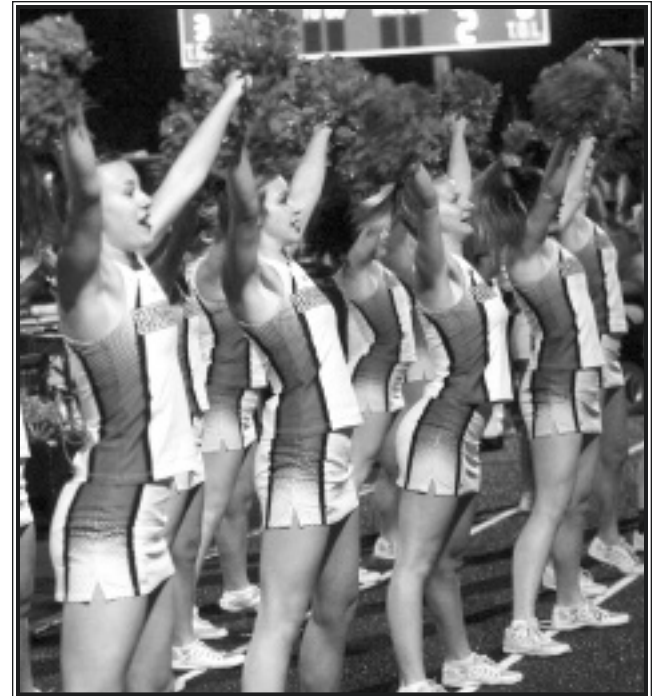

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

Mere percentage points wound up making the difference between an eighth consecutive Division I fall championship and an extremely unfamiliar stint as the division's runner-up last autumn for the 2017 Pinkerton Academy spirit squad. But the Lady Astros will be fully intent on returning to the very top of D-I at the 2018 state championships in a few months.

The arch-rival Londonderry High Lady Lancers notched a team score of 103 to narrowly defeat the academy side's tally of 102.6 at the 2017 fall championships. But it's fair to expect that coach Michelle McCarty and her PA charges will be especially driven this autumn.

The present team's seniors include Ariana Boudreau, Kristen Bukunt, Allison Connell, Grace Daniele, Jacie Harlow, Kacie Rizzo, and Lauren

Lady Astro Soccer Squad Starts With One-Goal Win

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

After its scheduled season-opening game against Alvirne of Hudson was postponed due to withering hot weather last Tuesday, Aug. 28, the Pinkerton Academy girls' soccer squad got its 2018 campaign off and rolling on its home field last Friday the 31st with a 2-1 defeat of the Timberlane

Regional Lady Owls.

The contest was still scoreless after one half had been completed, but the hosts received a goal and an assist from Enya Vanasse-Lageaux and a tally from Sam Franks in starting the campaign with a success.

Pinkerton goalie Reagan Kolinski turned aside nine of the 10 Timberlane shots she faced, and her offense put a total of 15 shots on the Lady Owls' cage. Timberlane bagged its lone goal on a penalty kick.

The academy side then forged into this week looking at a slate of games which included a Tuesday, Sept. 4 ride to Hampton to play the host Winnacunnet Lady Warriors - after Nutfield News press time - followed by a home match against the Spaulding High Red Raiders from Rochester Fiday.

Tellier.

The juniors are Hailey Blackman, Genna Dellisola, Jenna Desrochers, Ashley Hebert, Hunter Mullane, and Julia Saab, and the sophomores include Haylee Apostoloff, Ashlee Goodridge, Garyn Hobbs, Talen Letoile, Harper Lewis, Alanna Murphy, and Chloe Sanders. The freshmen on this year's contingent are Lydia Bowen, Amanda Bryson, Skylar Neilson, and Kylie Souza.

Astro Volleyball Squad Starts With a Win Over Memorial

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Pinkerton Academy girls' volleyball squad got its 2018 season rolling in a most auspicious manner on its home turf last Friday night, Aug. 31 by handing the visiting Manchester Memorial Lady Crusaders a humbling 3-0 defeat.

Veteran coach Todd

Royce watched his Lady Astros dominate much of the action en route to individual set successes of 25-13, 25-13, and 25-6.

The winning side received some 13 digs and eight kills from Amelia Graves, 15 service points with eight aces from Ella Koelb, 13 assists from Ella Dandrade, eight service points with six aces from Leya Wang, and five kills from Brooke Kane.

Coach Royce's roster then strode into this week facing a couple of short road trips to Hudson to the play Alvirne High ladies this Wednesday, Sept. 5 (after Nutfield News press time) and then over to Plaistow to battle the host Timberlane Regional Lady Owls on Friday.

Astro Golfers Move to 4-2 With a Split on Hanover Links

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

Pinkerton Academy cancelled its two scheduled varsity soccer matches and all practices last Tuesday, Aug. 28 due to the raging heat and humidity gripping most of New Hampshire. But the PA golf team still made its lengthy bus ride over to Hanover that day to play a three-team match at the Hanover Country Club.

And coach Jeff Sojka's Astros wound up right in the middle of the pack on those Hanover links that day, tallying a team score of 202 to end up behind the undefeated host Hanover High Marauders (194) but seven strokes ahead of the winless Nashua North side (209). And that outcome left the academy bunch with a 4-2 season record.

"It was much cooler in Hanover. There was a nice breeze and it was a beautiful day for golf," said coach Sojka.

Pinkerton was paced by Jacob Tinker with his individual score of 37, which was good for a second place tie overall. Cam Leppert contributed a 40, Kyle Raspuzzi was good for a 41, and Nick Tufts, P.J. Daniele, and Zak Kuhn each notched a 42.

"I'm happy with how they're playing because they are going out and putting up good scores," said the PA coach. "But there is still a lot of room for improvement regarding how we approach our rounds and course-management decisions we have been making."

Sojka's squad then had a full week to work and fine-tune some things before returning to its home links at the Hoodcroft Country Club in Derry this past Tuesday, Sept. 4 - after Nutfield News press time - when it battled Salem High's Blue Devil contingent, Nashua South, and Manchester Central in a quad match.

Astro Boys' Soccer Starts Out With Blanking of Timberlane

CHRIS PANTAZIS
NUTFIELD NEWS

After having its first scheduled match of the 2018 season cancelled due to extreme heat last Tuesday, Aug. 28, the Pinkerton Academy boys' soccer squad was ready and raring to roll at Timberlane Regional in Plaistow on Friday the 31st.

And even though long-time coach Kerry Boles wasn't entirely thrilled with the way his Astro charges played, Boles and his bunch had distinct reasons to be pleased with their 4-0 shutout of the host Owls in the season-opener for both sides.

Pinkerton potted two goals in each half with four different players doing the honors.

Michael Curtin netted the only goal the Astros would end up needing when he tickled the twine of the Timberlane net in the seventh minute of play. Will D'Amico notched the assist. Eight minutes later the academy side was celebrating Henry Andrews' tally on a penalty kick which made it a 2-0 game.

The visiting side then built on its lead with Alex Rust's goal (from Nate Polyukhovich) 15 minutes into the second half and Conrad Demers' marker (from Andrews) 15 minutes later.

Goalie Max Fairbank made six saves his contribution to the season-starting shutout, and the PA offense put a total of 14 shots on the Timberlane cage.

Coach Boles was particularly happy with the work of his seniors Jon Tremblay, Mac Johnson, Rob Douglas, and Rust.

"This was not an ideal performance, but it was enough to get by today. Our defenders played excellent. They blocked about 15 shots today. If that happens each game, I like our chances to win. We have some messes to clean up, but for opening day I'm very pleased with this result," said the coach. The academy side looked to make its record a perfect 2-0 this past Tuesday, Sept. 4 when it played host to the Winnacunnet High Warriors from Hampton. Then this Friday it'll be a lengthy bus ride out to Rochester for the local booters to face the host Spaulding High Red Raiders.

Pinkerton Field Hockey Squad Enjoys a 2-0 Start to Campaign

Pinkerton senior field hockey forward Taylor Marchman scored on this shot against some tight Merrimack defense. Photo by Chris Pantazis

NUTFIELD NEWS

A dominant victory over Merrimack to start the season followed by a rather harrowing 1-0 overtime win over Timberlane last week left the Pinkerton field hockey squad grasping a perfect 2-0 record after one week of 2018 action.

The Lady Astros began their new season with a very solid, 4-2 defeat of the visiting Merrimack High Lady Tomahawks in raging heat in Derry last Wednesday, Aug. 29.

Pinkerton potted three unanswered goals in the first period in dominating PA grad Ann MacLean's Merrimack mob. And the Lady Astros held off the visitors' second half comeback attempts enough to still win by two tallies.

Lauren Lisauskas netted two of the winning side's goals and Taylor Marchman and Ava Dorci each potted one. Justine Doyle and Dorci each dished out one assist, and PA goalie Khaliyah Ellis contributed one save to her team's season-starting success.

Coach Katie Van Nostrand's academy squad then leaped into the proverbial fire by making the relatively short bus trip over to Plaistow to take on the two-time defending Division I champions of Timberlane Regional High on their home field on Friday the 31st.

Thankfully the weather was considerably cooler for the Lady Astros' first road match because the locals and their hosts would have to play extra time to decide their 1-0 match.

Pinkerton's Emma Johnston busted a scoreless deadlock just 1:12 into overtime to lead her Lady Astros past the reigning champs.

Goalies Ellis of Pinkerton and Sydney Cochrane of Timberlane were the story through regulation time, with Ellis turning aside five shots and Cochrane refusing to allow eight PA scoring chances through.

PA defensive stalwart Lily Auger also played a vital role in keeping the defending state champions scoreless, and she notched an assist on the winning goal.

Coach Van Nostrand and her charges then stepped into this week looking at a pair of matches with opponents from Manchester. The Lady Astros were home against Memorial's Lady Crusaders this Wednesday, Sept. 5 - after Nutfield News press time - and they'll be in the Queen City to face Central's Little Green crew this Friday.

Classified Advertising

READERS ARE CAUTIONED that we occasionally run ads that require an initial investment or money in advance. We urge our readers to "do their homework" before responding to any ad, check out the advertiser thoroughly and verify their claims to your total satisfaction. Only then should you proceed at your own risk. We try to screen ads that require you to send money before receiving a product or service. But these efforts are no substitute for your own investigation, and we don't endorse or guarantee any claims made in any of the ads we publish. If you want more information about claims made in ads on subjects such as work at home opportunities, travel or vacation specials, purchasing land or vehicles from government surplus or below wholesale, loans or other credit opportunities (including credit repair), or weight loss and other health products and services, we urge you to contact the Office of Attorney General, Consumer Protection Bureau, 33 Capitol Street, Concord, NH 03301 (603-271-3641) or the Better Business Bureau at 603-224-1991. Publisher is not responsible for any loss of business if an ad does not run, and we reserve the right to revoke any ad if deemed necessary. No refunds will be given for prepaid ads.
