Town Administrator Overviews FY20 Budget Plans to the Town Council

MACK LEATHURBY
NUTFIELD NEWS

At the April 2 Derry Town Council meeting, Town Administrator, Dave Caron overviews the current status of the Town's Budget. Caron presented key metrics and plans for the upcoming year.

Caron began, "The FY20 Fiscal Budget for Derry fully funds the fourth year of collective bargaining that was approved by the Town Council in Fiscal year 2017, and the new budget adds one position to DPW building maintenance with an immediate focus on five facilities."

"The budget expands the Route 28 North TIF District to the Derry Commerce Corridor to support economic development and downtown revitalization growth. The budget reallocates expenses in key functional areas including downtown capital project TIF districts."

TIF stands for Tax Increment Financing, which is a public financing method, used as a subsidy for redevelopment, infrastructure, and other community improvement projects. Through TIF, a municipality typically diverts future property tax revenue increases from a defined district toward an economic development or public improvement project in the community.

Caron reported the new budget maintains Capital Improvement Project (CIP) funding transition from a fund balance to a blend of fund balance and budget support.

The gross budget for Derry is about $48.5 million and estimated revenues are within $20,000 dollars of what was previously forecast, with veteran's credits added in, plus an amount budgeted in for an overlay.

The estimated value of the community is $3.205 billion and that has been increased by about $32 million for this year with $17 million expected to come from new construction and $15 million of this number is from transfer of the Route 28 North TIF District.

The outcome of these numbers is that the projected tax rate is now recommended to be $7.72 which is a 1.6%

Planning Assessment for Housing and Business Reveals Opportunity

MACK LEATHURBY
NUTFIELD NEWS

Recently the Master Plan team has put together a summary of the current status and conditions of Derry, which is contained in a document available from the town web site that is called: Inventory and Assessment of Existing Conditions.

Some of the findings about town housing and economic opportunities are divulged in the study.

Housing conditions for Derry is steady at this time. Derry is a residential town, where housing will continue to be the primary land use and primary component of the Town's tax base. Today, half of all housing units in Derry are detached single-family homes and the other half include a mix of everything from two-family residences to large multi-family apartments.

Renters currently comprise almost 40 percent of all households and Derry has many young householders because its housing is fairly affordable and offers many choices. Twenty-two percent of the town's renter households are under 35 years old.

While Derry satisfies its legal "fair share" of regional housing needs compared to surrounding towns, there is a significant amount of lower-income people living in housing they cannot afford. Approximately 44 percent of all households in Derry have low or moderate incomes and according to estimates from HUD, 72 percent of those residents are paying more for housing than they can actually afford.

While the population in Derry grew substantially over the past 20 years, regional planners estimate that population growth in the Derry area will now grow at a slower pace going forward. The current regional forecast offers that by 2050, Derry's population will be about a thousand more residents than it is today due to certain economic and population growth factors currently in place.

Approximately 70 percent of Derry's 12,500 town households are families, which is a lower rate of fam-

Derry's Re-Imagine Downtown Workshop held on Saturday April 6, kicked up a lot of interest and a good turnout, including some new residents.

The multiple Master Plan events in Derry first kicked off late last fall. George Sioras, Town Planning Director, and Elizabeth Robidoux, Planning and Economic Development Assistant are leading the Master Plan team effort. Community Circle in association with Martha Lyon Landscape Architecture, LLC, the Barret Planning Group, LLC, and the BETA Group are assisting with the Master Plan to develop a dynamic living document that will provide the basis for decision making for town planning over the next decade

So far in 2019 the Master Plan team has gathered information from individuals, businesses and Town officials to construct a practical yet creative plan. Planning phases will continue through-

Resident Denied Rezoning Multi-Family Building Development Variance

MACK LEATHURBY
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Zoning Board of Authority (ZBA) met on April 4 to discuss a variance request case 19-109 from Steven and Shannon Vadney. Several members of the ZBA had to recuse themselves from this discussion, including Chair, Lynn Perkins and Vice Chairman, Heather Evans, so, Stephen Coppolo, Secretary, conducted the discussion. Three alternate members of the ZBA sat in to provide necessary council support.

The Vadney's lawyer, Mr. Brian Germain said, "The variance will not be a problem for public interest because the lot was newly created in the MHDR II zone. The lot was purchased several years ago for developing the property for multi-family buildings and consists of 3.5 acres for construction of four units of multi-family housing. Granting the variance will provide the community with additional housing in the area."

"The spirit of the ordinance will be met, because the variance proposal exceeds the requirements for intended use, including that the units will provide safe, attractive housing. A cul-de-sac was developed by the applicants to properly support building four units."

"If there were only two units, then this cul-de-sac would not have been required. The cul-de-sac was created and transferred to the town through an easement process, in anticipation of building more than 2 units. The easement to the town was allowed to enable the property to have up to 6 units.

Germain further stated, "Substantial justice is done because the applicants purchased the property in 2014 with the purpose of developing multi-family units. The applicants have put forward considerable funds that will be otherwise lost, if the variance for building 4 units is not granted."

"The applicants previously purchased a water-line easement and provided the town with a warranty deed for the cul-de-sac. The applicants also paid for significant amount of site work on the property. The property value of the surrounding properties will not be diminished. The properties in the area currently consist of two 4-unit buildings, a large multi-unit townhouse condominium complex and an existing duplex. The addition of the 4-unit multi family will fit the area properly and not adversely affect property values.

Derry recently changed the ordinance from MHDR to MHDR II, which places limits on multifamily buildings. Germain said the recent zoning change created a hardship for the applicants. It was pointed out that additional costs were incurred, included excavating, land clearance and grading of the lot. The applicants also purchased a water line easement in anticipation of building 4-units.

Shortly after the property lot was purchased, the town approved a budget including an updated water line for this area. However, though the water line was approved, the town's actions to upgrade it, was delayed. The Vadneys reported this issue caused them to delay further unit development. In the meantime, the town made a zoning change.

The applicants believe their variance request is reasonable in this area with similar abutting lots and this change in zoning has created a hardship for them. The Vadneys also had wetlands engineers consulted about the project and the wetlands study came before this board previously, with wetlands issues to overcome.

Steven Vadney said to the board, "Imagine if this was you. We bought a property zoned for multi-family units and spent a lot of time, money and energy to develop this property. Not too long ago, we got a letter saying there was a possibility of changing the zoning ordinances. We attended the meeting and found this change was likely to go through. The next morning, we called the planning department to see if there was anything we could do."

Vadney said they were told to get an application to the town for consideration. Additionally, the application, the plans, and any survey work done would have to be submitted that very day, leaving them with five hours to submit everything.

Vadney said, "It was impossible to meet that deadline. At the meeting we attended, we were told a site visit was to be made and the circumstances around our property would be taken into consideration when applying for a variance. I think our circumstances are such that we should be granted a variance."

The Zoning board members engaged in discussion about the distance from the wetlands being changed from 150 feet to 75 feet. There were also questions about the water line upgrade and if this was adequate reason for delaying the project.

The board pointed out that the rezoning is a pure change in usage and that wetlands involved are prime wetlands, which must also have a 150 foot buffer. The board suggested the applicants could develop single or two residential properties on the property that would not require a variance.

Acting Chair Coppolo said, "The bottom line is to look at the 5 criteria guidelines for a variance. The applicants have in their favor a large complex right in the same neighborhood. Is a variance here in the public interest? No, as the exit 4a project will dump more cars into this area with an existing traffic problem. Is the spirit of the ordinance observed? No. Would this not granting a variance result in an unnecessary hardship? No, the applicants could still build lesser units and satisfy the ordinance."

In voting, the variance was denied 5-0, for the following reasons: no hardship was established, a concern of traffic, and that the applicant did not show substantial justice would be done. The Vadney's have 30 days to make an application for a rehearing.

Derry Amends Residential Provision in Business Districts

MACK LEATHURBY
NUTFIELD NEWS

The third-floor hall of the Derry Municipal Center is set up so the Town Council can purposefully conduct town and public business for such things as attracting revenue and investment for the town. The Town Council met on April 2 in the chamber to consider amending the Town's Article VI, District Provisions, with regard to both the Central Business District and the Traditional Business Overlay District.

Specifically, the Council was discussing enabling property owners in these districts to provided residential usage in their buildings above the first floor level. Currently there is no residential housing allowed for the second floor of the buildings located in these districts.

The Derry Town Administrator had encouraged the Town Council to schedule this public hearing and recommended adoption of ordinance #2019-002, to allow the highest and best use of properties within these districts to facilitate further economic development in the downtown area. Over the past months, town officials reviewed the permitted uses in both the Central Business District and Traditional Business Overlay District to determine the best ways to reach this goal.

Chairman Neil Wetherbee called upon George Sioras, Town Planning Director, to provide an overview of the matter prior to the public discussion. Sioras said, "I think this amendment is mostly straightforward. For several years now, we have been discussing the restriction and prohibition of residential uses, below the third floor, in these downtown business districts. The current commercial zoning allows you retail or office uses on the first floor and residential only from the third floor up. Many years ago, the town thought this would be the best mixed-use for the area. However, over time, the idea of not allowing residential use on the second floor has changed."

"Some developers have asked the town to be more flexible about allowing residential housing on the second floor of the buildings in these areas. Changing this amendment is literally easy, as all we need to do is delete the provision that does not allow housing below the third-floor and allow for housing on the second floor. Making this change will likely encourage redevelopment. In the event this change is made to the ordinance, there are currently business people looking at opportunities to develop the downtown area."

After the public discussion portion of the meeting the board was in agreement that taking this action is overdue and will be a positive move for the town. Josh Bourdon, Town Council member, said he has been asked by owners of storefront businesses in the community to please bring this about.

He said, "This will bring more people into the downtown area to shop, which can only be good news. These business owners said they needed that shopping downtown now, as they fear that with the exit 4a project, they could lose shopping traffic in the area. The change will likely bring more foot traffic to the downtown area."

Wetherbee said, "In the right circumstances, the potential for more residents living in the downtown area can be a very good economic driver. I am very glad the Town Council is now considering this amendment. We need to take advantage and move quickly when these types of opportunities are presented, that have a positive fiscal impact for the town."

Jim Morgan, council member said, "We want the public to know that these opportunities have a limited optimal timeframe within town budgeting and investor actions."

In that regard, with analysis of both business and residential considerations, the town has verified that increasing residential housing availability will likely be beneficial to the downtown area. At this time, there are also cost prohibitive housing shortages in the town, that impact those who might be attracted to work in Derry, but can't find suitable housing.

The purpose of the amendment is to allow for the best and highest use of properties and to spur economic development in the downtown. This amendment will encourage mixed-use development and allow for new housing options in the downtown areas. With this amendment, the Planning Board, and the Town would promote a positive fiscal impact, that would lead to reinvestment in properties in the downtown area.

The Council passed the amendment with a 7-0 vote and the changes to the ordinance will be adopted.

or a $.12 per $1000 property valuation rate increase vs. the previous tax rate.

The prior town tax bill rate for the 2018 was $7.60 with a County rate at $.96 and a State Education rate at $2.04 plus a Local Education rate of $15.43 for a total tax rate of $26.03 per $1,000 of net assessed property valuation.

The Town Council is now wrapping up items from Fiscal 2018. And there are multiple items from that time that will need to tie into the current action plan. The Master Plan was primarily funded in FY2019, though there will be an additional $5,000 for consulting work and printing costs that will need to be funded. The Town's Cable Division overhaul continues to upgrade council and group meeting room audio, along with a high definition broadcast conversion, and the cable division is working on support for recreational facilities that was approved several years ago.

Council action items for FY19 include support for the Derry Commerce Corridor

TIF, including that Route 28 North TIF. There will be a Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program study related to the Abbott Court Development. In addition, there are efforts involved with Downtown redevelopment, the Downtown Vision and Fund-it programs as well as support needed to upgrade Hood Pond infrastructure.

Actions will support the Southern N.H. Water Project, with potential revenues deferred to FY21. There was a Bond issue for projects that will have FY19 issuance and a FY20 implementation.

The Net Zero Solar Project at the Town Transfer Station/Landfill is in review and an RFP has been started as per authorization of the Town. This project is not yet in budget proposals, though likely to go through budget this year.

Town Council action items also include Financial Planning and Fiscal Transparency for budgeting including support for proper funds allocations.

Caron outlined two Revenue buckets - Sustainable Revenues and Situational

Revenues. Caron said, "Sustainable Revenues are recurring revenues established by law, regulation etc. and are relatively stable through varying economic conditions." Derry expects to see $13,560,810 revenues in FY19 with an expectation of a revenue growth of an additional $686,132 in FY20.

"Situational Revenues are associated with a project, policy, grants, etc. such as fund balance, capital reserves, sale of town property." Derry expects to see $5,441,049 in situational revenues for FY19 and $4,566,461 in situational revenues in FY20.

Caron explained possible revenue variances including interest rate changes, town property sales, motor vehicle fees, bonding projects, and the Unallocated Fund Balance, which currently has $650,000, budgeted to promote tax rate stabilization, by returning excess revenues to the tax payers.

Major projects on the horizon for FY20 include the replacement of Police Department cruisers, Fire Department cardiac monitoring equipment, the Roadway Management program, and replacement of Fire Department mobile radios, building improvements, and cable access updates.

FY20 will continue structural changes for the TIF district and Commerce Corridor, and a redevelopment/ Trust Fund for the Commerce Corridor as well as transparency enhancements to General Fund, Capital Projects. Caron outlined several budget forecasting strategies and a Capital Improvements plan, he felt could help the town.

After the report Caron, The Town Council and the Town Administrator entered into an interactive discussion about the presentation. The newly reelected Town Council now Chaired by Neil Wetherbee, has a lot on their plate and the community will be able to monitor actions, budgets and next steps through public participation.

Earth Day Every Day

April 22 is Earth Day, the annual event when we're reminded to think about where we live. Not our town or even our country, but the Planet Earth.

Outdoor celebrations and political speeches all have their place, but the message we should have taken to heart by now, 48 years after Earth Day started, is that caring for the only home we have is not something we can do just one day a year.

By now, we should have incorporated earth-saving measures into our daily lives. Preserving our environment has taken on more emphasis lately as global change continues to make headlines, but like most things, change really does begin at home. Much of that change involves simple things. Here are a few. When you shop, bring along cloth or paper bags, rather than using plastic to cart home your groceries, [if you do use plastic reuse them].

When your meals are done, recycle and compost to minimize the trash going into landfills. Instead of buying water in plastic bottles, use your tap water filtered if you choose and take it with you in a non-plastic container. You'll keep the chemicals in plastic from building up in our landfills and in our bodies, you'll save money, and you won't have to worry about the latest horror stories over what we might be ingesting along with the water.

Plant a garden, and consider raising it organically. Not only will you have fresh food, but you're more likely to eat in a more healthy way. If a garden is not possible because of time or living arrangements, shop at farmers' markets. Food sold close to where it's grown, in season, usually means fewer chemicals are used in processing, and less fuel is used to get it to you.

Our towns have clean-up days scheduled, whether it's Beautify Londonderry effort or the roadside cleanups in most communities. Spend a little time picking up litter and keeping our roadsides tidy, and our towns really will be prettier places.

We can all do our part, whether it's by using energy saving light bulbs, reducing air conditioner use in summer, getting all your errands done in one trip to save gas, and driving the speed limit for fuel efficiency.

Making these small changes will do far more than attending a rally on Earth Day can accomplish.

all that's really what all the Earth Day celebrations are about making such reminders unnecessary because they've already become part of our daily lives. We cannot depend on the government or others to do it for us. "Lead by example".

Pinkerton Academy Hosting Annual Easter Egg Hunt

IDAN VINITSKY
NUTFIELD NEWS

Pinkerton Academy's annual Easter Egg Hunt will be hosted this year by the school's Class of 2021. The event is scheduled for Saturday, Apr. 13 in the Shepard Auditorium at the Pinkerton campus.

The event is free for all ages and the egg hunts will happen every hour. In addition, the kids (and adults) that arrive will have the opportunity to take a picture with the Easter Bunny, play games and enjoy different activities. This year's Easter will be celebrated on Sunday, Apr. 21.

The event, as mentioned, is organized by the school's current sophomore's class with the guidance of two of Pinkerton Academy's teachers: Beth McGarty and Nichola Iacuzio. Both McGarty and Icauzio work at the school as Social Studies teachers as well as advisor to the Class of 2021. This year, the Easter Egg Hunt event will be run by the class officers as well as by a group of volunteers from the Class of 2021. The annual Easter event, who already became a long running tradition at Pinkerton Academy, will be inherited by the incoming freshman class when the Class of 2021 graduates. It has become a school tradition to pass the Easter Egg Hunt event from class to class and keep it going.

The Easter Egg Hunt has been an annual event at Pinkerton Academy ever since McGarty and another teacher, Jonathan Alizio (a Spanish teacher) initiated it back in 2006, with the Class of 2009. McGarty says that as part of the event, the organizing class tries to invite children from Pinkerton Academy's sending schools to come and enjoy some fun time and play games at the Shepard Auditorium. Every class in Pinkerton hosts an annual community service event and its goal is to try and reach out to the local community, and forge ties with it.

As the event includes multiple rounds of hunting for eggs, the children and their parents who decide to attend have the option to come and go as they please, which is most important for the younger kids, who do not have to stay in the event for its full two hours.

McGarty says that the total amount of participants from the local community, who attend the annual Easter Egg Hunt, varies from year to year and mainly depends on how hard the students who lead and organize the event work to publicize it. Most years, around 200 and 250 people, including both the children and their accompanying adults attend, but McGarty remembers years with closer to 700 people that showed up. Since the event is free and no tickets are sold, there is no way to know the exact number every year.

Preperation Efforts Continue in Derry for Nutfield 300th Celebration

Derry Heritage Commission member TJ Cullinane and Keith Racine of Cornerstone Cemetery Services were putting the finishing touches on the railing that surrounds the MacGregor family grave site in the East Derry Cemetery on Saturday, April 6. Racine had sand-blasted and re-painted the posts, as well as replacing the marker at the site last fall and this spring. The work is just in time for the guided tour that Cullinane will be giving this weekend on Saturday and Sunday during the town's celebration of Nutfield's 300th Anniversary, and Founders Weekend. A group of Founders Potato Heads were also displayed in front of the First Parish Church in East Derry where much of the celebration will take place.

Planning Board Looks Safety of Pinkerton's New Access Road

MACK LEATHURBY
NUTFIELD NEWS

At their meeting April 3, the Derry Planning Board met with Pinkerton Academy Headmaster Timothy Powers, and Brian Pratt, an engineer with Fuss & O'Neill, Inc. which is a civil engineering company located in Manchester to discuss a road project on the Pinkerton campus.

Pratt and his engineering team are working directly with Pinkerton to provide engineering and survey team support, as well as to manage site development for a planned road project. Specifically, the Planning Board discussion was a plan review for the Pinkerton Academy Access Road project.

Powers and Pratt presented Pinkerton's plan to extend the existing access roadway through Pinkerton Academy near the football fields and other athletic fields out to Tsienneto Road. The idea of this road project is to provide access for students, faculty and visitors from two entrances and exits from two sides of the campus. This second roadway would access Tsienneto Road from Pinkerton-owned property.

Powers explained, "The project would offer a second point of egress for students and others to enter and exit campus from the side where the fields and student parking lot are located. Right now, entrances and exits are on the Bypass 28 side only. And the road would open up that side of campus in a better way."

Powers said, "The trustees have looked at different options for many years, and if a second road is made available, that could also support big events held at the campus when traffic is high."

Recently the Derry Conservation Commission members conducted a site walkthrough to understand the updated plan that had evolved from the initial engineering design. As a result of improvements and recommendations, some of the new plan design has been updated to deal with culvert issues and other wetland issues. The development updates include the addition of a larger 24 in. pipe that will provide better water flow.

The Derry Zoning Board of authority (ZBA) approved a variance in 2018 that enables Pinkerton to house a high school ombudsman program at 31 Tsienneto Road near this proposed project area. Pinkerton has purchased that 6-acre property, previously owned by the Daily family.

Powers pointed out during the discussion with the Board, that the new access road was all about safety and security.

During the discussion about the project, Planning Board member Mark Connors expressed concern though about not having a crosswalk with adjacent sidewalks included in the Pinkerton plan. Planning Board members were also apprehensive about students walking to their cars at the parking lot located near the corner of Bypass 28. The members discussed that the Tsienneto roadway area that would then add traffic from this additional new road that was coming from Pinkerton onto Tsienneto.

"Let's be real about what's going to happen here," Connors said. "If you are really talking safety, let's put up a sidewalk, and a crosswalk."

"Safety is a priority," Powers answered as he further articulated that safety is always paramount.

Jim MacEachern, Planning Board Member was looking toward finding more information from a site walk, so board members and the Pinkerton team could better visualize and discuss how the Pinkerton project might look, so the board could further evaluate traffic issues.

Planning Board members made no decision about the project at this meeting, and will further consider Pinkerton Academy's access road plan at a future meeting, but the members will take time to walk the site first before the members finalize a Planning Board decision.

MacEachern told Powers that Derry is going through its 2019 Master Plan update process that only happens once a decade and it will be useful for the town to understand what Pinkerton is planning for the next five or 10 years to insure optimization for the planning process. And the Planning Board looks forward to next steps with Pinkerton.

ZBA Grants Zoning Variances for Residential Garage and Pizza Sign

MAC K LEATHURBY
NUTFIELD NEWS

Scott Ryan appeared in front of the Zone Board of Authority (ZBA) to request a variance to build a garage on his property to replace what he called an ugly carport.

Ryan noted to the Board he was without a lawyer, and he would do his best to insure he provided all the information in proper detail for the board. Chairman, Lynn Perkins put Ryan at ease as he and the other board members assured him that he was doing just fine to represent himself.

The Chair asked Ryan to provide an overview of his answers in his application. Ryan went through the five primary questions included on the application. Ryan said, "The new garage to be built, will not be contrary to public interest because the new construction will be more eye-appealing, as the current carport on the property is not in good shape. It will also alleviate my need to park on the street.

The spirit of the ordinance is to be observed because there is a viable location for the garage and the desired spot will be set back from the road and non-obtrusive to neighbors in the area."

Ryan further stated, "Substantial justice will be done because the garage will provide more curb appeal for my property. The values of the surrounding properties will not be diminished, because the ugly carport will be destroyed, and the new garage will be much more useful, appealing and will add to the property value. This variance for the new garage will alleviate the hardship of dealing with the carport."

As the discussion proceeded, there was concern the garage would need to be built within 3 to 5 feet of his neighbor's property line. However, Ryan's neighbor came to the meeting and testified he had no opposition to Ryan's new garage, even though the garage itself would be located close to his property line. The testimony seemed to provide the board with the necessary comfort for a positive consideration for the project. The board further verified that even with the new construction, there would not be a problem for emergency access to and from area buildings.

The Zoning Board decided to grant the variance, which was approved in a 5-0 board member decision. The board put forward conditions for the new garage project to meet all town permits and requested that a certified plot plan be properly filed with the town.

The next variance matter was brought before the board by Phil McCabe of Lupoli Companies/Sal's Pizza. In concise hearing time, various ZBA members started a discussion about the pizza restaurant that has been a town institution for over 20 years. The old Sal's Pizza restaurant at the corner of Crystal Avenue and Lenox Road was demolished last year to make way for a brand new larger restaurant at the same location. The new location is still in process of being finished for a future opening.

The first question by the board to McCabe was "Where's the Pizza?" One of the board members also jokingly posed that without this pizza restaurant, perhaps there was a zoning hardship.

McCabe was at the ZBA meeting to request a variance for the new signage that would adorn the new larger restaurant and parking area. There are going to be five new signs, all with exterior lights, if the variance is granted.

In his request for the variance, McCabe pointed out substantive reasons the request met all the criteria including that the signs were in proper scale to the building, while keeping the signage design simplistic and in the spirit of the signage ordinance.

McCabe said, "The new restaurant facility would be best served with new signs, which will fit our new corporate branding and would be in keeping with the spirit of Derry's signage guidelines. The signage would not diminish property values around the area because the signs suit the look of our nice new building."

McCabe pointed out that the planning board had previously approved the construction and new branding of the business. This variance was specially requested, as Derry's guidelines for the commercial business district allow only three signs rather than the five he is seeking. The design of the new Sal's Pizza building with its new branding scheme would be better suited to the five signs he is requesting in the variance. Also a couple of the signs are smaller button type signs.

The board discussed this issue and contrasted the signage request with another restaurant outside the commercial zone that was restricted by literal interpretation of the ordinance to one sign and further discussed this variance would be inside the commercial zone. After discussion, no one from the public came forward opposed to the variance request.

The board granted the variance request by unanimous approval with a 5-0 vote, upon the condition that the signs would only be illuminated during normal hours of the business operation. The final word from McCabe was good, for those interested in Sal's pizza. He said, "We are hoping to be open in only a couple more weeks time."

Master Plan

out the year with the goal of having a recommended plan, along with implementation priorities by October of 2019.

Sioras introduced Daphane Politis, Lead Project Consultant from Community Circle, to provide an overview of the current status of the project. Politis assured everyone involved, that their ideas and feedback were heard and taken into consideration after the last meeting. Those ideas will be carried forward and considered along with all new ideas and feedback that come to the attention of the Master Plan team, before moving forward on the implementation phase.

Politis said, "We want to briefly give you an update regarding what we've been doing since the last workshops. The goal of the Master Plan team is to learn from each of these workshops what you want Derry to be in the future."

Politis updated the process for the Master Plan in a similar manner to the first Master Plan meeting held in November 2018.

After the overview of the process, attendees were directed to use post it notes to write ideas and actions and stick them on large sheets of papers at six different stations within the meeting area. The posters at these stations already had ideas from prior workshops, such as solutions for parking and more downtown revitalization. At each station everyone attending the workshop had an opportunity to provide and discuss these written ideas.

Politis then asked the participants in the workshop to indicate which items they felt were the most important items that were listed among the different stations, which were then narrowed further to the five most important items. This would provide the Master Plan team with the ideas and actions that were important.

After the strategy portions of the workshop the Master Plan team held a raffle for the attendees that included gift cards and tokens to be used at various restaurants and businesses in Derry.

The Master Plan team will compile the results from the Master Plan workshops. Politis said the complete list would soon be available and posted online. All interested residents will be able to view the list of ideas and that the Master Plan is ready for move on to the next phase.

Politis said, "The next phase will be to analyze the prioritized ideas and actions and determine a strategy on how they will be implemented. We need to consider, who's going to do it, when will they do it, who should they work with, and where will the money come from."

"The implementation and strategy will be developed around the goals and vision of the plan that has been developed from the community-based actions. Each goal will have action items and the team will assign and monitor the responsibilities for completions of each item as needed."

She also said, "We will look for the ripe apples which are the 'low hanging fruit' that are relatively easy, low cost actions that will make a difference in the community and can be started now."

Politis urged the community to stay informed. She said, "What we really need from you is for you to check on the website for all updated information, next steps and times and dates for further meetings."

"In October, we are going again to call the community to action. At that time we will present the initial implementation plan to everyone. This plan will take into account the vision and goals, the inventory and assessment of existing conditions, and the trends we have found."

She closed the meeting saying, "And then we will have discussion about what you think of the plan. Thank you for all of your efforts."

Back and Forth Battle Ends in PA Baseball Loss to Start

NUTFIELD NEWS

It might be odd to declare after only one game, but the first game of the season, may also be the wildest for the Pinkerton Academy's Varsity Baseball team. The season opener was certainly a very wild game, but unfortunately for the Astros, they were on the wrong side of it, losing to Alvirne High School 14-13 at home.

The Astros were scheduled to open their season on Monday, April 8, with an road game against Alvirne High School, but soggy field conditions caused by a few hours of rain during the day made the Broncos' field unplayable, and the game was moved to Pinkerton Academy.

Alvirne remained the home team and started the game hot, scoring four first-inning runs against the Astros pitcher Asa Runge and adding two more in the second. Runge had 63 pitches before leaving the mound with six earned runs and four walks.

The Broncos continued to play well and after Pinkerton finally got on the board, the "home" team scored three more runs in the third inning, to take a 9-1 lead.

But Steve Campo's players refused to give up. They scored four runs in a big fourth inning, to trim Alvirne lead to only four runs, they added another run in the fifth and exploded with seven runs in the seventh inning, to take their first lead of the game.

Leading 13-9 after six and a half innings, Pinkerton looked to be on its way to a great comeback win, but that idea fell apart at exactly the wrong time. A five-run Alvirne inning in the bottom of the seventh gave the Broncos the walk-off victory.

Pinkerton had ten hits, three of them belonged to third baseman Frank Gulezian, who finished with two runs batted in. Kameron Levesque had a two-hits game, while Jacob McGill had one hit, but led the team nevertheless, with four runs batted in. Brady Day had one hit and batted in three runs. Connor Jenkins and JD Normand finished without a hit, but each of them drew three walks. Runge, Richard Marique and Jagger Bell had one hit each for the Astros.

Pinkerton used a total of four pitchers that afternoon. Runge was replaced by Mat Albetski, who played one inning and gave up three runs. Derek Hiscox threw three scoreless innings, striking out three players and Marique played two-thirds of an inning in the seventh, were only one of the five runs scored against him was an earned run. Jake Hobart led the Alvirne side with three runs batted in, while Jake Dufour had a four-hit match.

Campo said after the game, "We just did not play a complete game, we did not perform. We needed guys to step up in spots and they didn't. I am happy with the way we fought and we didn't give up and kept playing, but overall we just did not

Astro pitcher Derek Hiscox had three strikeouts and did not allow a run in three innings during the Pinkerton Academy tough loss to Alvirne at Pinkerton on Monday afternoon.

Astro Turf Work Work on the Pinkerton Memorial Field continues. The field has been under renovations and closed for almost six months, since the end of last year's football season. Last Fall, the school said it anticipates the facility to be ready for the spring season, but the Pinkerton Track and Field Boys team practiced at the Londonderry High School track last weekend and will not be hosting a home meet this season. The Memorial Field project is funded through a private donation. Official school statement said: "Progress has been made on the field through the winter and continues into the spring with the hope that we will be able to play games there before the end of the spring season."

PA Softball Team Suffers Dramatic, Heartbreaking Loss

NUTFIELD NEWS

As is typical, start to a New Hampshire spring sports season, the Pinkerton Academy's Varsity Softball team began their quest for a Division I title during a cold, and rainy afternoon Monday, April 8.

The Lady Astros had their first victory of the season slip away with a heartbreaking final inning. That inning ruined all the hard work that been had accomplished to begin the game, and the Lady Astros suffered a tough 14-11 loss to the visting Alvirne High School squad.

The opening inning was scoreless, but the rest of the game saw the lead change sides constantly. Alvirne was the first team to get on the board, with two second-inning runs, which were answered by three Pinkerton runs in the bottom of the same inning, as juniors Alyssa DiMauro, Mattie Sullivan and Dannielle St. Peter all reached home plate.

Alvirne had a run in the next inning, which tied the game at three all, but Pinkerton quickly scored two more times. Scoring that inning was sophomore Ellie Cashman and DiMauro once again came across the plate. Alvirne tied it again in the next inning, before Pinkerton regained the lead with runs in the fourth (Jackie Cerri) and the fifth (Sullivan).

The Lady Astros opened the sixth inning with a two-run 7-5 lead, but Alvirne scored four times in that inning.

In the bottom of the inning, with the bases loaded, DiMauro's base-clearing double gave Pinkerton the lead again and another run put the locals in a good spot, but Alvirne scored five unanswered runs in the seventh and final inning, to shock the home team.

Coach Kristen Abbott said after the game, "It was a back and forth game. We had momentum one inning and they had it in the next one. At this point it is perseverance through the game and who makes the fewest errors. I want to make sure that our pitchers are coming in successfully and making adjustments to the striking zone and situations. We executed a few plays really well, so we need more intensity at this level. We try to make this a learning experience."

The teams next scheduled game will be a road game on Friday, April 12, against the Merrimack Tomahawks, followed by a home stand game against Windham High School on Monday, April 15.

IDAN VINITSKY
NUTFIELD NEWS

Pinkerton Academy's Boys' Varsity Tennis team was sharp and focused in its season opener on Friday, April 5. The Astros, who were only stopped by Bedford last year in the State Finals from winning a state title, and have great hopes again this year, and began their journey with an 8-1 home win over Derryfield High School.

The visitors lost their own season opener two days prior to their meet with Pinkerton and were not able to give the strong Astros team much of a contest.

Pinkerton's successful day started with an 8-1 win by senior Seb Tonini over Derryfield's Tyler Critz. In the second match, PA senior John Marineau defeated Max Smith, 8-0, and Pinkerton took a 2-0 lead from that point in the meeting.

Senior Henry Andrews gave Pinkerton the third point of the match, with an eight games to one win over Brady McGinley and senior Jeff Marquis got an 8-2 victory over Chris Lynch. In the fifth game, senior Alex Tveter beat David Doan 8-1 and Derryfield's only point of the day came in the sixth game, the final single game, when Derryfield's Chris Can Natta got an 8-5 win over Pinkerton's sophomore, Anthony Walters.

Pinkerton entered the doubles matches with a 5-1 lead and was able to get three more victories. First, Tonini and Marineau easily handled Critz and Smith, winning eight games to none. Andrews and Marquis had an 8-1 win over McGinley and Doan and the final match of the day saw Tveter and junior Colby Day winning 8-6 against Lynch and Natta.

Pinkerton's scheduled second meet of the season, a home meet against Nashua High School North, was postponed from Monday (Apr. 8) to Thursday (Apr. 11), due to rain. The Astros also hosted Merrimack on Wednesday (Apr. 10), after the Nutfield News went to print and play a home meet against Winnacunnet High School on Friday (Apr. 12), finishing a busy week for them.

Senior Pinkerton Academy Tennis player had successful day with an 8-1 win by over Derryfield's Tyler Critz during the teams win to start the season.

Astro Girls Lacrosse Team Wins Big in Season's First Game

NUTFIELD NEWS

After posting the best record in school history, and suffering a disappointing semifinals loss last season, Pinkerton Academy's Girls' Varsity Lacrosse team absolutely dominated their opponent in the team's first game of the season, Monday, April 8.

The Lady Astros traveled across the Merrimack River to Stellos Stadium in Nashua that afternoon, and left with a strong 17-4 season-opening victory.

Nashua North got off to the better start during the first three minutes of the Monday game, scoring twice, and taking a quick 2-0 lead.

Astro, Abby Jowett scored at 21:20 PA's first goal of the season, and from that moment on, things went much easier for the visiting team. The Astros scored three more unanswered goals and after Nashua found the net and made it a one-goal game (4-3) at 10:13, Pinkerton scored three more times, to lead 7-3 as they left the field for the half.

The Lady Astros opened the second half by scoring four times in just three minutes, and then added five goals to lead 16-4, before Nashua broke a 12-0, 30-minute Pinkerton run. With 3:15 minutes to go, Pinkerton scored the final goal of the competition. Astros' goalie Lauren Sweeney made six saves and Dani Martineau one.

Zoe Howe led the winning squad with four goals. Lilly Auger had three goals and one assist and Lauren Lisauskas finished with three goals as well, and added two assists. Abby Jowett had two goals and an assist, Madison Daziel scored twice and Caitlin Seleny, Hailey Peredna and Kiley Davis scored one goal each, with Davis also contributing a single assist.

The Astro squad will play three more road games this week. Starting on Thursday, April 11, at 4 p.m. at Exeter High School, followed by a Monday afternoon game on April 15, with rival squad Londonderry starting at 4 p.m. On Tuesday, April 16, the team is scheduled to face Bishop Guertin, the team that knocked them out of the playoffs last season.

NUTFIELD NEWS

The Pinkerton Academy's Girls' Varsity Tennis team's season started on Friday, April 5, with a tough loss at the Southern New Hampshire University tennis courts, 8-1 to the 2017 Division I champion, Derryfield High School. The Lady Astros' hopes for a quick turnaround were put on hold, as their next match, scheduled at home against Nashua High School South, had to be postponed on Monday, April 8, due to the rainy weather.

In the Friday match, Derryfield controlled the meeting against Pinkerton from the get-go and Abbie Leonardi defeated the Astros' junior Chloe Freedman, eight games to none. The next game ended in the same score, as senior Julia Farnum fell to Emma Place. Senior Katie Allen fought hard, but loss game three, 8-5 to Miranda Shilling. Senior Leah Sears also had a good game, but suffered an 8-3 loss to Paige Grondin. Pinkerton junior Victoria Hodosi was also defeated 8-3 in her match against Julia Hardy.

In the meetings first doubles match, Leonardi and Place control Freedman and Farnum with an 8-0 win. Shilling and Grondin got an 8-1 victory over senior Madison Aleen and Sears and in the last match of the day, Hardy and Desmarais were able to beat Frank and Annabelle Zvagelsky, eight games to two.

The meeting against Nashua South High School was rescheduled to this Thursday, April 11, at 4 p.m., which creating a tight schedule for coach Gerald Rosado and his team, as they will also have traveled to Merrimack High the day before, on Wednesday, April 10, and to Winnacunnet High School on Friday, April 12.

Derry Lions Prepare for Annual Fish Derby at Hood Pond

IDAN VINITSKY
NUTFIELD NEWS

For well over two decades, the Derry Lions Kids Fish Derby has been a staple of each spring in Derry and this year will not be different. The Derry Lions' annual event will be held at Hood Pond on Rollins Street in Derry on Saturday, May 4 and the club leaders are already excited and hoping for a sunny morning.

The event was created when one of the Derry Lions members suggested the idea in a club meeting and each of the other members at present felt it can be a great event. Over the years, the Kids Fish Derby evolved and was upgraded, but its basic idea remains the same: Providing the local kids, all 15 years old and under, with the opportunity to enjoy some quality time with their parents, in the fresh air and the wished sunshine: "We have had our share of spring showers", says Pete Marcotte, Secretary and Co-chair of Fish Derby at the Derry Lions, "But it rarely dampens the spirit of the youngsters, often fishing for the first time".

To help defray the cost of the fish, the Derry Lions have a new Ad Book, supported by generous local merchants. The club purchase 200 trout from a hatchery and the state of New Hampshire matches that number and adds 200 fish. Last year, 125 children participated in the fish derby and the Derry Lions are expecting a similar amount of fishers this year. The first 100 participants are guaranteed to receive a participant ribbon and trophies are awarded at the end of the day in various categories, including for the catchers of the largest and smallest fish during the event. The Derry Lions also hold a 50/50 raffle and several donated fish related items are given away, while the fish tally is finalized.

Marcotte says that the Derry Lions always welcome new members to help them continue the fish derby tradition, "The fish derby is a service project to benefit the kids of greater Derry. The Derry Lions have sponsored this event for several decades. We have even had some second generations participate with their parents", adds Marcotte, whose grandson first attended the fish derby while still in preschool and is now a senior at Pinkerton Academy and an avid fisherman, who helps organizing the fish derby each year.

Registrations for the event will begin at 7:30 a.m., followed by the beginning of the actual fishing, at 8 a.m. The fishing will continue until noon for a total of four hours and fishing is free for kids who are 15 years old and under. Also taking place that day, the Destination Derry group will be holding a Truck Festival at Downton Derry Derby Day. On Saturday, May 4, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. the group will ly households than any of the surrounding Derry communities. This is due, at least in part, to the range of housing types and price points of housing available in Derry. However, compared with all the surrounding towns, Derry has one of the highest rates (47%) of families with dependent children under 18 years of age.

As Derry has grown, the Town has experienced positive economic growth trends that have diversified the workforce, attracted new types of businesses to the town, and decreased the unemployment rate. The town is undergoing several initiatives to continue these positive trends including periodical master plan updates, rezoning and district provision adjustments, participation in SNHPC's Regional Economic Development Plan, transportation improvements and an Opportunity Zone (OZ).

The OZ in Derry is enclosed by Broadway and East Derry Road to the north, Cemetery Road to the east, Humphrey and Kendall Pond Roads to the south and the Londonderry town line to the west. Investors can invest in a Qualified Opportunity Fund to help support small businesses in the town – a previously unavailable funding source. OZ investments can range from infrastructure and preservation of cultural assets, to creation of affordable housing. This can be helpful when working to bridge the existing jobs to housing ratio gap in Derry.

This Opportunity Zone

allows private investors to defer capital gains taxes until 2026, if they invest within 180 days. At that time, they can either sell their property or collect. Other options in the OZ are 10% reduced capital gains taxes for a 5-year investment or 15% for a 7-year investment. There will be no taxes on future capital gains if they have the property for an additional 10 years or sell by 2048. 90% of assets must stay in the Opportunity Zone.

In addition to the OZ, other opportunities are being considered for further commercial zoning development in areas such as the West Running Brook District that is in the process of being rezoned to GC IV, as well as nearby areas that are being rezoned GC III.

The Economic Development and Planning Department are pursuing proactive coalitions with local/state organizations, nonprofits, business owners, and community leaders to make Derry a destination that affirms an "open for business" attitude.
