

Town Council Reaches Contract Agreement With Police Union

ALEX MALM
NUTFIELD NEWS

DERRY - During the Derry Town Council bi-monthly meeting on May 18 one of the items that was discussed was in regards to pride month which is celebrated across the country in June.

Derry Town Council Chairman James Morgan said that he wanted members of the Council to support a proclamation for the month, saying that they are the fourth largest community in New Hampshire and that the other three largest communities, Nashua, Concord, and Manchester all celebrate it.

"I would really like support from the council to do a proclamation on June 1 recognizing pride month and struggles that the LGBT community has and the benefit of diversity and the benefit of inclusion," said Morgan. "I think that given some of the problems that have happened over the last year in town we could use a little of this, and a little remembrance of that."

Morgan asked that a pride flag be hung up in the lobby in the Municipal Center and that the proclamation be on display there as well starting on June 1.

The other members of the Council were in agreement that they should do it.

In other news, Derry Town Administrator David Caron said that during the last meeting the Council requested an update about the status of the recreation programs in Derry which he provided.

"I'm pleased to report that I believe virtually all of the events are being planned and are ongoing," he said.

He said that the recreation leagues are in season right now and the tennis courts, pickleball courts, playgrounds, and parks are all open right now.

Caron also asked Derry Parks and Recreation Director Kim Walsh if there are any events that they normally sponsor that aren't being planned for this year.

Walsh said that they are planning on having all of their normal events pending any issues with any vendors not wanting to participate due to the pandemic.

Terrilyn Cheney Picked As New Hampstead Principal

ALEX MALM
NUTFIELD NEWS

HAMPSTEAD - The Hampstead Central School will have a new principal and superintendent when students return to school this fall.

After recently hiring Robert Thompson to be the next superintendent earlier this year, the Hampstead School Board recently announced the hiring of its next principal Dr. Terrilyn D. Cheney.

Cheney is currently serving as the assistant principal for the Hampstead Central School. She has served in that role since

"This well-deserved promotion will allow her the opportunity to continue supporting school culture and climate conducive to the educational experience of each of our students," a press release from the school district stated.

Cheney's credentials include collegiate degrees in Elementary Education, Literacy Education, a Doctorate of Educational Leadership; and a National Board Certification for Professional Teaching Standards.

"Additionally, she has an established track record as an effective leader and instructional strategist as demonstrated throughout her eighteen years of dedication in the field of elementary education, literacy, curriculum, and assessment," the press release stated.

The search committee for the next principal was led by Hampstead School District Executive Director Mike Flynn.

Flynn said that he is completely confident in Cheney as being the right choice for the position.

"Not only am I completely confident that Dr. Cheney will perform with the maturity of a leader prepared for a new chal-

Zoning Board Approves Ordinance Special Exception

KAITLIN BEDELL
NUTFIELD NEWS

HAMPSTEAD - The Hampstead Zoning Board of Adjustments came together for their May 5 meeting to consider a request brought forth by Hampstead Resident Gerard Campbell.

The proposal was for a special exception to the zoning ordinance to alter his house as well as a variance.

The house located on 20 Shore Drive in a recreational zone currently resides as a non-conforming lot.

Campbell has come to the board hoping to tear down the existing structure and rebuild the house with a new septic.

Representing the applicant, Tim Lavelle gave the board more insight as to what the project would consist of.

"The variance would not be contrary to the public interest," Lavelle said. "In this case value of surrounding properties will be improved with a vastly structure, therefore it would not diminish surrounding property values."

Lavelle also said that the existing building is on a lot that was created before the wetland and street setbacks, meaning the situation will be improved in relation to the intent of the ordinance.

"Denial of the variance would result in unnecessary hardship to the owner," Lavelle said. "It would keep the property which is non-conforming now more non-conforming than in the proposal."

Since the existing situation is already not in compliance with guidelines, the layout of this project would follow the guidelines better.

"Substantial justice would be served if this was granted for the property," Lavelle said. "It would allow for an upgrade."

Although the house would be set closer to the street, it would be set back a few feet from the lake.

"We're getting further from the lake but closer to the street, so I guess the question is which is more important to preserve," One Board Member said. "For me it's the lake so in essence I think it's a reasonable and responsible proposal."

In addition to where the structure would be located on the property, it would also differ in size. On the right side it would remain the same, but it would cut in five feet on the left side. This would allow a few extra feet of lake view for neighboring houses.

Campbell's next door neighbor Scott Spicer came up during the meeting's public forum to voice his support for the project.

"I have no issues honestly I like the idea that it [the house] is coming back a little bit further from the lake so there will be more of a view," Spicer said. "I'm definitely not worried about any devalue of my house, if anything it's going to go up."

After reviewing the plan and determining that the new structure will not diminish property values of any neighboring properties, the board approved of both the variance and the special exception for Campbell's proposal.

Campbell and Lavelle now have permission from the Chester Zoning Board of Adjustments to move forward with their project.

The next Hampstead Board of Adjustments meeting will take place on June 2 and those who wish to attend can do so virtually though the town website.

Also during the meeting, Acting Chester Fire Chief Philip Gladu announced the hiring of new firefighters.

One of the firefighters that attended the virtual meeting was Abigail Richards.

Gladu said that she lives just over the line in Derry and that she was very excited and very anxious to start with the department.

"I think she completed her paperwork in record time," Gladu said.

Gladu said that she currently is an EMT basic.

"We are very happy to have her on our team," he said.

Gladu said that they also had a couple members who have recently returned back to the department.

"A lot of action is happening," he said.

Alexander Hodosi was also announced as the new full-time firefighter with the department.

"We're very happy to have him on board," Gladu said, saying that he has already filled in for many shifts with the department.

"He's going to be a welcome addition to the department as a full-time member," he said.

"We really appreciate all the hard work you're all doing down there," Myette said.

Also during the meeting the Board discussed the possibility of going back to in person meetings, after their meetings being virtual since the beginning of the pandemic.

D'Angelo said that he thinks they are ready to have meetings noting that all the Selectmen have been vaccinated.

"I think we should start transitioning as soon as we can. I just think that it's time," he said.

Couture said that he is okay with having the meetings in person again but was concerned about public participation.

"As long as we are prepared to ensure that we have good participation options for people then I'm completely onboard with transitioning as quickly as everyone else on the board would like to," he said.

Myette said that they will have to decide if they will lift the mask mandate or not for the Town Hall and if they will still continue to have a zoom format option as well for public participation in case members of the public want to participate but don't feel comfortable with being in person.

The Board voted in favor of having the first in person meeting at Chester Town Hall be on June 10.

It Is Time to think About Lyme Disease

Are you like me? You enjoy outdoor quality of life, to have a relationship with the outdoors this has all changed since having Lyme disease.

I still love the outdoors, but I check for ticks every time I go outside.

Ticks can be found almost every month of the year, one should be especially aware of the risk of tick bites from early spring until late fall.

If you find a tick attached remove it as soon as possible. You should put the tick into a sandwich bag with a small piece of damp paper towel and mark the date and the person who was bitten on the bag. Then, the tick can be identified by someone knowledgeable in tick appearance or be sent to a lab to see if it was a carrier of Lyme disease or other infections such as Bartonella, Ehrlichia, Babesia or Anaplasma.

Most people feel that you need to have a bull's eye rash (erythema migrans rash) to develop to be diagnosis with Lyme disease Not True, but rather have an even red appearance across the entire area.

Typically when a person first contracts Lyme disease, he or she will develop flu-like symptoms about 7 to 21 days after the tick bite. However, this is not necessarily the case. Sometimes the onset is quite insidious and may take years to show.

Lyme disease can spread to most organ systems, including the heart and the central nervous system. More than a decade ago, Syphilis was nicknamed "the great masquerader" since it could develop symptoms that mimicked most any other disease. Today, Lyme disease is the great masquerader, since it may appear to be like other illnesses, like cardiac arrhythmias causing sudden death, neurologic symptoms that often appear like Multiple Sclerosis or Parkinson's disease.

There is often a buzzing or tingling sensation of the skin, burning neurologic pain, and a great amount of joint pain, muscle pain and incredible muscle stiffness. A lot of "brain fog" resulting in poor memory, difficulty with language skills and even out right dementia, chronic sinus infections, migraines, Lyme rage as well. I do not have the space to go on as what it can look like.

As with most diseases the best "treatment" is prevention. Permethrin, a common synthetic insecticide, can be applied to clothing to make them tick resistant. DEET, Lemon Eucalyptus Oil to name a few, can be used as insect repellent for the skin. Wearing light clothing makes it easier for you to spot ticks. Clothes should be put in a dryer for 10 minutes on high heat after coming in from outside to kill ticks. Tucking pants into socks can prevent the ticks from climbing up the leg.

Enjoy the outdoors and protect yourself from Lyme disease by taking preventative measures from tick bites and seek treatment if necessary.

Pinkerton Students Participate in Youth Day of Giving Back

DERRY - Each year Pinkerton Academy's Citizenship Committee solicits student volunteers to participate in the Youth Day of Giving Back. The day focuses on volunteerism, matching students to sites in the community. Sometimes these initial connections lead to long-standing volunteer opportunities for students.

This year on Wednesday, May 19, 50 students volunteered at 5 different sites in the broader community including 2 houses for Community Caregivers, the Nutfield YMCA in Londonderry, Camp Carpenter in Manchester, and the Upper Room in Derry.

Hannah Bernard, '24 participated for the first time this year. She welcomed the chance to get out in the community and volunteer after a year of COVID-19 restrictions.

"I participated in the Youth Day of Giving Back because I wanted to volunteer. This past year has been crazy, and there were not many opportunities to volunteer because of COVID restrictions," she said. "Youth Day of Giving Back seemed like a great opportunity to get out there and do some good work!"

Junior Kristina Packowski has participated freshman year and returned this year after last year's was cancelled due to the pandemic. She encourages other students who might be interested to join next year.

"Youth Day of Giving Back is such a fun experience! You get to make friendships with people you didn't even know and make relationships with the agencies in order to volunteer in the future. If you want to know that you are doing something good in the world," she said. "I would recommend participating in Youth Day of Giving Back! I love this day every year and look forward to it. By participating in this event, you are able to help the community that has given so much back to the school, family, and friends."

Hampstead School District Executive Consultant Earl Metzler, was also part of the search committee.

He said that Cheney

Terrilyn D. Cheney

has proven to be an educational leader.

"Terrilyn's proven success as an educational leader is exactly what brought her onboard with Hampstead's administrators in the summer of 2018. That quality, coupled with her unwavering commitment to the District is indicative of her readiness for Principalship."

Cheney is expected to begin her new role starting on July 1.

School Board Discusses District's Educational and Facilities Assessment

KAITLIN BEDELL
NUTFIELD NEWS

DERRY - Following last meeting's discussion on the request for a proposal, the Derry Cooperative School Board meeting met on April 19 to further review their plan.

The request for a proposal is in regards to assessing facilities on things such as plumbing and HVAC as well as the maintenance of the school. In total, the process is estimated to take less than six months.

Director of Facilities Jeremy Lamothe had drafted a document based off of similar districts in the area that the board had looked at. After being reviewed by the District's Attorney, the proposal was returned to the board with suggested changes to their planned proposal.

Ms. Simard said that all seven schools under the Derry Cooperative School Board would be included. The proposal would also include as the Superintendent's building and the Facilities building.

At the Board's last meeting, facilities were the only component included in the assessment. The board now aims to expand what they review as a District.

The plan looks at three different assessments including the state of the district's facilities, an educational assessment, and a space plan.

The board reached an agreement that the due date for the facilities assessment will be Oct. 1 while the space and educational component will be due in January of 2022.

Member Brenda Willis had some concern regarding who would monitor the education component. She noted that a facilities person would not know what this portion of the assessment would consist of.

Dr. Connors-Krikorian said Willis's question was "two-tiered" and that educational adequacy can be looked at in two ways. According to Connors-Krikorian, they can be looked at as minimum standards, or as what the district's educational plan is over the period of time that the proposal asks for.

Connors-Krikorian also said the District Administration team can begin to look at this and plan accordingly in the coming weeks.

"With COVID-19 and all the challenges and how education has changed it has given insight on how space attaches to each student," Connors-Krikorian said.

By breaking the students' needs down into components, Connors-Krikorian said it will help the District plan better. This will also allow the quality of each school district's overall maintained and education be improved.

"Looking at all three components will give the District a picture of what is required, how things are impacted, and what the District needs to build off of those things in the report," Connors-Krikorian said.

After further discussion, Willis motioned to begin the process of educational assessment and also move forward with the already existing facilities component. The motion was seconded by Vice Chair Derick Anderson, and the board held a unanimous six-yes vote.

Then Derry Cooperative School Board will continue to review and assess their seven districts and create a plan which will improve their overall needs for each student.

The next public School District Board meeting is set to take place on May 25 and those who wish to attend can do so virtually through the link on the board's website/.

Designate a Non-drinking Driver for a Safe Memorial Day Weekend

Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) New England urges everyone to designate a non-drinking driver if their Memorial Day weekend plans include alcohol and to remember that boating and drinking never mix.

Drunk driving is completely preventable yet claimed 172 lives nationwide from 6 p.m. Friday to 5:59 a.m. Monday during the 2019 Memorial Day weekend, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. Additionally, alcohol use is the leading known contributing factor in fatal boating crashes, accounting for nearly a quarter of these deaths, according to a 2019 report on recreational boating by the U.S. Coast Guard.

"This Memorial Day

weekend, as we honor our nation's heroes who sacrificed their lives to protect ours, please remember to keep yourselves and those around you safe. Choose a non-drinking driver to get you to and from your destination and never use alcohol while on the water," said MADD New England Executive Director Bob Garguilo.

"If you're getting out of the house or traveling over the weekend, do so in a way that ensures you and everyone around you gets home in one piece," Garguilo continued. "That means planning ahead for a safe and sober ride home if your plans include alcohol and remembering that alcohol use while on or near water does not mix."

People are just as impaired at a .03 blood alcohol concentration (BAC) on the water as a .08 BAC on land, according to research by the National Association of State Boating Law Administrators, or NASBLA, a nonprofit that develops public policy for recreational boating safety. That's due to environmental factors such as the motion of the water, the weather, the sun, the cold water and other factors that increase impairment.

"Prior to 1980, people drove with a beer in their cupholder. Today, you would never watch someone get in a car with alcohol in their hand and drive away," said MADD National President Alex Otte, who was severely injured when she was struck by a drunk boater at age 13. "But that happens every single day on our nation's waterways. This is a culture shift that has yet to happen, but it must, if we're going to save more lives."

Memorial Day weekend is an unofficial kickoff to summer as well as boating season. Travel typically increases and the risk of crashes, injuries and deaths increases on both land and water. In 2019, 37 percent of traffic deaths during Memorial Day weekend were alcohol related. Memorial Day also falls during the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's Click it or Ticket campaign, when law enforcement reminds motorists to buckle up. MADD reminds everyone to wear their seatbelts because this remains a great defense against drunk drivers.

ward as we did two years ago before COVID. We're looking to move forward with everything we can," she said.

She noted that this also includes the concert schedule and that they are planning on going forward with the town fireworks this summer.

Caron also announced during the meeting that they reached a contract agreement with the Derry Police Patrolman's Association.

He said that all seven of their collective bargaining agreement units expire on June 30.

"This is the first unit that we reached an agreement with," Caron said.

Caron said that the main change to the contract compared to the previous agreement was in regards to the wages. He said that for the first year they would receive a 1.5 percent bonus. For the second and third year they will receive a 2 percent increase for their base of pay.

He said that there weren't any other major changes to the contract.

Before casting his vote Derry Town Councilor Joshua Bourdon said that he was thankful for the hardwork from the staff in order to make the deal happen.

"I want to thank Dave Caron and our lawyers as well as the police. I think by agreeing to this it shows that they care about the taxpayers," he said.

The Board voted in favor of the contract agreement with a vote of 7-0.

The next Derry Town Council meeting is slated for July 1 at 7 p.m.

Derry Planning Board Approves Changes For Signage

ALEX MALM
NUTFIELD NEWS

DERRY - During the May 19 Derry Planning Board Meeting one of the main agenda items was in regards to changes to rules in town for signs.

It was explained by Derry Planning Director George Sioras that this was the fifth workshop that they had in regards to signs.

One of the changes was in regards to sign banners. The proposed amendment would add a definition for it.

"A temporary sign of lightweight material (paper, plastic or fabric) hung either with or without frames, including inflatable "tube men" or other inflatable type signs. Flags and insignias containing only markings of any government, corporation or business are not considered to be banners," the amendment stated.

Another proposed change that was in regards to signs on premises.

"A sign that advertises products, services, or activities that are produced, available, conducted or performed on the property where the sign is located," the proposed amendment stated.

The Board also discussed a new section of the rules in regards to signs for the West Running Brook District.

"The purpose of this subsection is to promote the health, safety and general welfare in accordance with the future and continuing development of the West Running Brook District and to protect important views, create a quality village-style image, and to prevent visual clutter in the district," the proposed rules section stated.

"The sign regulations for the West Running Brook District concerning size, placement, and certain aspects of design, have been developed to integrate signs with the visual environment and to improve the effectiveness of individual signs through emphasis on appropriate design. It is the intent to encourage signs which will be compatible with the buildings and their surroundings, be informative, legible and provide examples of quality graphics, appropriate to the spirit of the District."

The rules for the signs in the District include:

- Any sign located within a public right-of-way is subject to town approval.

- In the West Running Brook District, there shall be a fifteen (15) foot setback requirement for permanent signage.

- No sign shall be placed upon a marquee.

- Signs shall not be permitted to be painted upon or affixed to any object within a public right-of-way, community facility or public recreation area, except signs essential for the public safety and welfare.

- No roof signs shall be permitted.

- Directional Signs for events, or Sandwich Board signs for events, are not subject to the fifteen (15) foot setback, provided the sign does not impede line of sight.

- All projecting signs shall be located in such a manner so as not to block line of sight from motor vehicle or from pedestrian foot traffic and no portion of the sign shall be located less than eight (8) feet from the grade.

- Banner signs are prohibited.

- No neon, argon or krypton shall be permitted.

- In no case shall an internally illuminated sign or a sign that utilizes internally illuminated lettering be erected or affixed to a building without first obtaining Planning Board review of the proposed sign.

- Low profile monument signs will be permitted at the main entrance to the property. The style of the sign must compliment the architectural design of the buildings and surroundings.

- Signs shall be proportionate to the size of the building.

- All signs in the West Running Brook district are subject to Planning Board administrative review and approval prior to the issuance of a sign permit.

- Temporary signs are allowed in the District provided they meet applicable setback requirements. Temporary signs are not subject to Administrative review by the Planning Board

The Board voted in favor of recommending that the town approve all of the proposed amendments.

The next Derry Planning Board meeting is slated for June 2 at 7 p.m.

Pinkerton Baseball Leads the Division in the Home Stretch

CHRIS PAUL
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Pinkerton Academy Baseball squad headed into the final week of the regular season with three more convincing wins to top the Division I standings at 14-1.

That one blemish came in the first week of the season, and was a close, 2-1 loss to Alvirne High School.

The Astros had three games last week, winning all three with two of them being shutouts.

In the first game, the Astros hosted the Goffstown High School and handed the Grizzlies a lopsided 12-2 loss. Those two runs were the only two runs the PA boys would give up during the three-game stretch.

Astros pitchers Tom Rioux, Jake Cooper and Max Lukeman combined for the win four strikeouts, two walks and seven hits.

Rioux went four-for-four in the game with two doubles and four runs batted in to help with the win.

The Astros got off to a quick five run lead in the first inning due to solid hitting and some Goffstown mistakes and never looked back in this one.

The Grizzlies answered with two runs in the second, but PA maintained the five-run lead with two more of their own in that inning.

Pinkerton batters had a total of 10 hits for the 12 run victory.

In the second game between the two teams on Wednesday, May 19, junior Liam Doyle added another win by pitching a seven-inning shutout.

Doyle struck out nine and only gave up three hits for the 4-0 win.

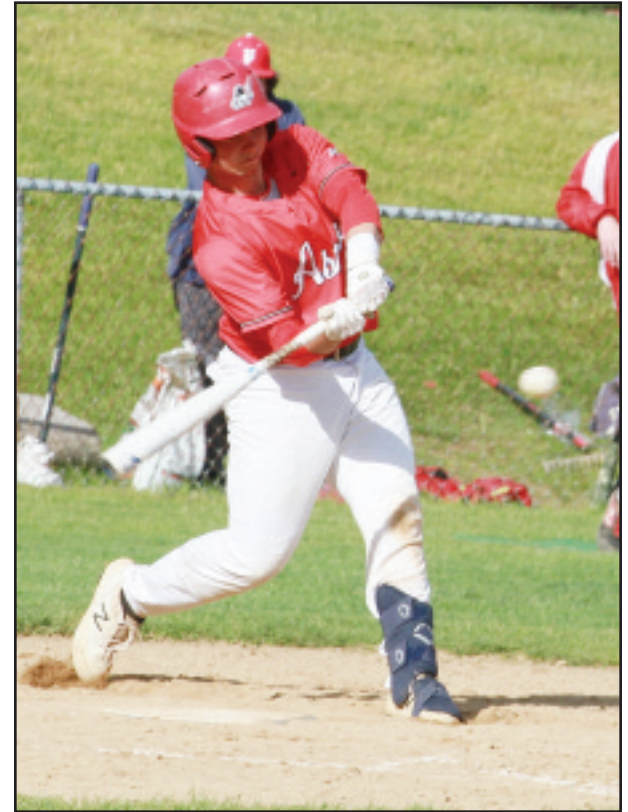

Sophomore Lorenzo Corsetto had two hits with a double to help out on offense.

Pinkerton batters finished with nine hits and only struck out once in the win.

In the Astros third game of the week, on Friday, May 21, Rioux five shutout innings for a 10-0 rout of the Concord Crimson Tide.

Rioux only gave up three hits, striking out four for the Astros fourteenth win of the season.

Rioux helped himself at the plate also, going two for three. Jacob Albert had three RBIs with a triple and four RBIs, Cole Yannaco went two for four with a double and two RBIs in the victory.

Cole Yannaco went two for four with a double and two RBIs last week against Concord.

Pinkerton Softball Squad Wins Two, But Drops Third

CHRIS PAUL
NUTFIELD NEWS

The Pinkerton Academy Astros Softball team picked up their eleventh and twelfth games of the season, but then lost their third game to start the final week at 12-3.

The Lady Astros started the week with a road trip to Goffstown, where they came away with a final-inning 7-4 win against the Lady Grizzlies.

In that game, the two teams were knotted at three each going into the seventh, when PA scored four times for the win.

Senior Emma Hodgkins and freshman Adi Runge combined efforts for the win with the senior pitching five innings and Runge adding two. Each girl gave up three hits and both struck out two in the victory.

Runge and junior Olivia Mason hit homeruns in the contest and Mason added a double in the final inning to add a run. Lilly Mason went two for three at the plate and scored a run. Paige Ouelette had two hits and two RBIs in the win.

In the second game against the Lady Grizzlies, at home on Wednesday, May 19, the Lady Astros got four runs in the sixth inning to secure an 11-7 win.

Senior Emiline Wood and Hodgkins combined in the pitching circle for the win.

Wood pitched two and two thirds while Hodgkins pitched the remaining four and a third.

The two girls only gave up three walks and eight hits, striking out eight for the win.

Astros senior Anna Dunton was three for four at the plate with three RBI.

Dunton and Runge both had doubles in the game.

Unfortunately the week ended on a rather sour note for the Lady Astros when they spotted the Concord Crimson Tide tow four runs in the first inning and were never able to recover, dropping just their third game of the season 7-5.

Runge was the losing pitcher, as she was in the circle for the entire game with five strikeouts, one walk and seven hits.

Rachel Kiesling had three hits in the game with a triple and a double, batting in three runs. Ouelette also had a double in the loss.

The Astros will take on the Lady Lancers for two games to finish up the final week of the season this week.

Adi Rudge has been a huge asset from the circle and at the plate this season. Photo by Chris Paul
